Introduction.

Changes in legislation and more improved forms of contract drafted by a large number of life insurance companies have involved the preparation of a large amount of new data for this edition (the twenty-first annual) of The Handy Guide to Premium Rates, Applications and Policies. Several companies have also revised their premium rates, surrender values and policy forms, either voluntarily or in compliance with legislative enactments, so that a very large proportion of the data herein presented is new, to say nothing of the extensive variety of information given concerning companies now listed for the first time, twenty-six in number. By including all available new data The Handy Guide is brought fully up to date, and thereby rendered an invaluable compendium of information regarding rates, values and policy forms.

In compiling this thoroughly exhaustive work the utmost care has been exercised in order that the high standard of previous years may be fully maintained, while the vast amount of new material presented makes it an absolute necessity for the equipment of every agent. By the use of a fine quality of imported Bible paper the size of this work has been kept down in spite of an increased number of pages, thereby naturally adding to its usefulness as a work for the pocket.

Owing to the continued increase in the number of companies engaging in the life insurance business, the publishers have included several new organizations, so that the agents throughout the field may be supplied with detailed information concerning every possible competitor. The Handy Guide for 1912 therefore contains particulars relating to 178 companies (including four Canadian organizations). This is a much larger number than has ever before been presented, and includes practically every company active in the campaign for business in this country.

During the twenty years in which this work has been before the insurance field workers its advantages have been highly appreciated, its arrangement and contents having been found admirably adapted to the purpose for which the book is intended. The twenty-first edition is, therefore, presented in the full confidence that it surpasses its predecessors in all respects and continues to be the leading and most reliable work for the use of the active life insurance agent.

Notice to Subscribers.

During 1912 the publishers of The Handy Guide will issue, at intervals of three months, three supplements, embracing all the latest policy forms, premium rates and surrender values issued by the various companies during the year, thus keeping this work fully up to date in every particular.

These supplements will be supplied to all subscribers at the rate of twenty-five cents each, and in order to insure prompt delivery when issued remittances of seventy-five cents, in addition to the price of single copies of the work, may be forwarded to the publishers. The price of single copies of the supplement to non-subscribers (whose names do not appear on our books as orderers of the publication) will be fifty cents.

The first supplement will be issued early in July.

Aetna Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $373.30. AGE, 35.

The Ætna Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office, the sum of ten thousand dollars (herein called the sum insured) upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard X. Roe, of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut, (herein called the insured), during the continuance of this policy; or the company will pay the said sum at the end of the policy year falling nearest to age eighty-five, if the insured is then living.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said Ætna Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary), signed this contract in the city of Hartford, State of Connecticut, this first day of February, 1911.

1. CONSIDERATION. 2. PREMIUMS, WHEN PAYABLE.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract, and in further consideration of the annual premium of three hundred, seventy-three and $^{30}/_{100}$ dollars, to be paid to the company in advance at its home office, or to its agent at or before five o'clock P. M. of the first day of February in each and every year during the life of the insured, but not exceeding twenty years from the date hereof.

3. DEATH BENEFICIARY. 4. LIFE BENEFICIARY.—The amount becoming due from the company by reason of the death of the insured, shall be payable to the death beneficiary as follows: Mary Z. Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid premium for the current policy year; and the amount due from the company by reason of the maturity of the endowment or the cash value or the loan value, or the dividends if paid during the lifetime of the insured, shall be payable to the party herein called the life beneficiary as follows: Richard X. Roe of Windsor, Conn., and all such payments shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy, and to all loans made by the company as herein provided and to any other indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

5. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary above designated may be changed before this policy matures as an endowment, provided the policy is not then assigned by the life beneficiary and is then returned to said company with a request for such change duly signed by the life beneficiary alone, and such change shall take effect on endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

6. PREMIUMS MAY BE PAID ANNUALLY, SEMI-ANNUALLY, OR QUARTERLY.—The company will accept the premium payable for annual, semi-annual or quarterly periods, according to the published rates for such at the time this policy is issued, provided that before any change is made from the method of payment herein stipulated the policy shall be forwarded to the home office of the company for proper endorsement.

7. CONDITIONS REGARDING PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured, a receipt for which payment shall be the delivery of the policy. If any subsequent premium be not paid when due then this policy shall cease, subject to the values and privileges hereinafter described; except that a grace of thirty-one days, during which time the policy remains in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, provided that with the payment of such premium interest at the rate of six per cent per annum is also paid thereon for the days of grace taken; but for any reckoning herein named the time when a premium becomes due shall be the day herein stipulated therefor without grace. No renewal premium shall be considered paid, except by the automatic premium loan hereinafter described, unless a receipt shall be given therefor bearing the original or lithographed signature of the secretary or assistant secretary of this company and countersigned by the agent.

8. INCONTESTABLE AFTER ONE YEAR.—This policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto and shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium; but if the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such an amount as the premium paid would have purchased at this company's published rate now in use for the correct age.

9. STATEMENTS OF INSURED NOT WARRANTIES.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim under it unless it is contained in the written application herefor and a copy of such application is endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued.

10. SUICIDE.—If the insured shall commit suicide within one year from the date hereof, while sane or insane, this policy shall be null and void.

11. DIVIDENDS.—While this policy is in full force and no required premium is unpaid it shall share in the divisible surplus of the participating business of the company until it becomes a claim, and the amount of the surplus accruing on the policy shall be determined and accounted for annually.

12. APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS.—Such dividends shall be payable at the option of the life beneficiary by one of the following methods, provided that if no election is made the dividends will be applied in reduction of premium, or paid in cash if no premium is paid.

First method: In reduction of the premium on this policy if the remainder of such premium is paid as herein required. Second method: In cash. Third method: In paid-up additions to the insurance for an amount in each case bearing the same proportion to the amount of the dividend that the paid-up policy at that time shown in Table A bears to the corresponding cash value. Fourth method: In being left with the company to accumulate at a rate of interest not less than three per cent per annum. The dividends so accumulated, or any portion thereof, will be paid to the life beneficiary when desired during the lifetime of the insured, or, after the death of the insured, will be paid to the payee of the policy in addition to the sum insured; but no premium shall be construed as paid either wholly or in part by reason of dividends remaining with the company.

13. DIVIDENDS MAY REDUCE THE NUMBER OF PREMIUMS OR HASTEN THE MATURITY OF THE POLICY.—When such accumulated dividends and the cash value of dividend additions, if any, together with the cash value of this policy shown by Table A, equal or exceed the single premium then required for a full-paid policy of the same amount on the same life and due at the same time, if this policy is surrendered to the company a paid-up participating policy will be issued for the full sum insured, and said single premium shall be the same proportion of the sum insured that the cash value at that time bears to the corresponding paid-up policy, as shown in Table A herein; or, when such dividend values and cash value shown by Table A together equal or exceed the sum insured hereby, the said sum insured shall then be payable.

14. LOANS.—After two full years' premiums have been paid hereon before default in the payment of premium, and before the policy becomes a claim, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy at six per cent interest payable annually in advance the whole, or, at the option of the borrower, any part of the cash value shown by Table A at the end of the current policy year and the cash value of dividend additions, if any, less all indebtedness to the company hereon and less also any unpaid portion of the premium and interest on the loan for the remainder of the current policy year. For the purpose of such loan the policy shall be returned to the company together with a proper assignment of the same and said assignment may be executed by the life beneficiary alone, provided the interest of such beneficiary is not then assigned.

15. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If a request for the automatic premium loan privilege has been signed by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, and is received at the company's home office together with this policy before default in the payment of premiums, such privilege will be endorsed hereon by the company, and thereafter until a written revocation of said request has been duly filed with the company the amount of any premium not paid in cash when due or within the days of grace less any dividend applicable thereon, will, without further action by the owners, be loaned by the company in payment of such premium and charged as an indebtedness secured by this policy, subject to interest at the rate of six per cent per annum as above described for loans provided that the net loan value as above described is sufficient to pay the premium and interest then due.

16. WHEN INSURANCE WILL TERMINATE FOR NON-PAYMENT OF INTEREST.—Interest on any indebtedness hereon not paid when due shall be charged annually in advance as an indebtedness against the policy. Failure to pay any loan or interest due thereon will avoid this policy when the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, but not before that time, nor until one month after notice of the same has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the person to whom the loan was made and of the insured, and assignee, if any.

17. VALUES WHEN NO INDEBTEDNESS, EXTENSION, PAID-UP POLICY, CASH VALUE.—After two full years' premiums have been paid hereon and default occurs in the payment of any subsequent premium if there is no indebtedness to the company hereon the reserve under the sum insured hereby according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three per cent interest less not more than two and one-half per cent of the sum insured will be applied, without action by the owner, to extend the sum insured as non-participating temporary insurance, but without the right to loans, during the time shown in the following Table A, and at maturity of the endowment term if the insured is then living, the company will also pay in cash the amount, if any, shown by said table under the title of pure endowment and the amount of dividend additions if any. Or if requested by the life beneficiary and if this policy is surrendered to the company within two months after the first unpaid premium becomes due the same part of the reserve will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up non-participating stock policy for the amount shown by

Table A. Or under the conditions applicable to the issue of the paid-up policy above described, or after all premiums required hereon have been paid, the company will pay for the surrender hereof a cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be applicable to the purchase of the extended or paid-up insurance above provided, the amount of which is also shown by Table A. The paid-up policy or the extended insurance above provided, after having been in force two months or more, will be entitled to a cash value of as large a percentage of the reserve then existing as is herein provided for the cash value of this policy at time of default in premium payments and the paid-up policy will be entitled to a loan equal to the cash value upon the conditions herein prescribed for a loan under this policy.

18. Values when Indebtedness Exists.—If there is an indebtedness hereon to the company when default occurs in the payment of any premium, the cash value above described will be reduced by the amount of such indebtedness; or the sum insured extended and the pure endowment, if any, or the paid-up policy which may be issued, and the dividend additions, if any, will each be reduced in the proportion which such indebtedness bears to the total cash value.

Table A.—Table of Values per $1000 of Insurance. Life (Death or 85); Premiums, 20 Years; Issued at Age 35.

The values shown in this table are for one thousand dollars of insurance at the end of the year for which the premium is paid when there is no indebtedness against the policy. The entire loan value for the end of any policy year may be available during the same year if the premium for that year has been paid. The cash value of dividend additions, if any, will be the same proportion of such additions that the cash value shown in this table at that time bears to the corresponding paid-up policy and will be paid as herein provided for the payment of dividends. The cash values shown in this table will be increased by the cash value of the dividend additions. The amount of dividend additions, if any, will be added to the tabular amount of the paid-up policy, or to the amount extended as temporary insurance, and at the expiration of the extension term the cash value of the additions will be paid on surrender of the policy. Semi-annual or quarterly premiums paid in addition to payments for entire years will increase the cash value or the paid-up policy value or change the term of the extended insurance and the pure endowment if any, all shown in this table, in the same proportion as an entire year's premium.

Values provided for in the policy and not shown in this table will be computed upon the same basis as those given.

19. Cash Value in Event of Permanent Total Disability.—Twelve months after proof is received by the company that from causes originating after the delivery of this policy, the insured has become wholly continuously and permanently disabled and will for life be unable to perform any work or conduct any business for compensation or profit, then in lieu of all other values, benefits or privileges herein provided, without further payment of premium, all premiums previously due having been paid, the company will pay in full settlement of this policy upon request duly executed by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, one-twentieth of the sum insured and dividend additions, if any, and will pay the same amount annually thereafter until twenty such payments in all have been made; or will pay the amount of annuity shown by the following table of annuities for the age of the insured at the last birthday preceding the receipt of such proof and the same amount annually thereafter during the lifetime of the insured provided that at every such annuity payment satisfactory proof is furnished that the insured is then living. Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will reduce the amount of either of said annual payments in the same proportion that said indebtedness bears to three-fourths of the sum insured and dividend additions if any.

The company will extend the privileges and benefits for permanent total disability above described to cover the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or of both feet or of such loss of one hand and one foot all from causes originating after the delivery of this policy and before default in the payment of premium. Any benefit for disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured when desired within one year after the receipt of the proof, and such benefit will not be included in the paid-up policy herein provided to be issued on default in payment of premium.

20. REINSTATEMENT.—Within five years after default in payment of premium, unless a cash value has been paid for the policy or the extension period has expired, or, if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be reinstated upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent ber annum and by reinstatement of whatever indebtedness to the company existed hereon at the date of default with interest from that date.

21. MODES OF PAYING THE INSURANCE.—If the policy is not assigned by the life beneficiary the life beneficiary may elect, or the payee after the death of the insured without such election may elect, by written notice filed with the home office of the company, before any payment on the sum insured has been made, to have the net sum payable by the company under this policy either as a death claim, matured endowment or as a cash surrender value paid by one of the following modes in lieu of payment in one sum, provided the one sum to which every such payee would otherwise be entitled amounts to five hundred dollars or more. Any mode of payment involving life instalments shall apply only to personal payees, the right of any payee contingent upon the death of a previous payee after the death of the insured shall be only such of the instalments certain as remain unpaid at the death of the last previous payee, and any election shall take effect only upon an endorsement of the same hereon by the company. The first instalment or annuity by either of these modes will be paid when the one sum becomes payable as hereinbefore provided, and the remaining instalments will be payable annually thereafter on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment. Under the third, fourth and fifth modes the attained age of any payee will be reckoned, under a death claim, as that of the last birthday of such payee preceding the death of the insured; or in case of a matured endowment, or cash surrender value, as that of the last birthday preceding the time when the sum insured or the value first became payable by the company, and satisfactory evidence of the date of birth of the payee, or payees, must be furnished before the instalment payments commence.

22. SUM MAY REMAIN WITH COMPANY AT INTEREST.—First: The payment annually in advance of three per cent interest on the net sum payable, and the payment of the said sum at the death of the payee, less the unearned part of said interest, if any; and unless otherwise elected the payee may at the end of any interest year require the payment of the principal sum or any portion thereof.

23. INSTALMENTS FOR LIMITED PERIOD.—Second: The payment of equal annual instalments for a limited number of years. The amount of instalment for each one thousand dollars in the net sum payable is shown in Table B.

26. Instalments During Life of Either the Insured or Beneficiary.—Fifth: If this policy becomes a claim as a matured endowment or for its cash value, the payment on the request of the life beneficiary to the insured and one beneficiary jointly, and to the survivor, of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty-five years and for so many full years longer as they, or either of them shall survive. The amount of instalment for each one thousand dollars in the net sum payable is shown in Table F at the intersection of the figures for the attained ages of the insured and beneficiary. (Table F shows the amounts payable at all ages of insured and beneficiary.)

27. Instalments Increased by Dividends.—Under the above modes of paying the insurance all annual payments required by the first and second modes and the first twenty-five instalments stipulated in the third and fifth modes will be increased by such dividends as may thereafter be declared by the company.

28. How Payable After Death of Payee.—Unless otherwise provided, any sum payable by the company after the death of a payee under the first, second, third and fifth modes shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

29. Supplementary Contract.—When this policy becomes a claim, if an election has been made requiring payment by annual instalments, the policy shall, if required by the company, be surrendered and a supplementary contract issued for the mode of payment elected.

30. Commutation of Instalments.—Unless otherwise elected the payee or payees under the second, third and fifth modes, may at any time surrender the contract for the commuted value of the instalment payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as the computations in the second mode, provided that no such commutation will be made under the third and fifth modes except after the death of the payee or payees occurring within the aforesaid twenty-five years.

31. Assignments.—A duplicate of any assignment of this policy shall be filed at the home office of the company, but in no case does the company guarantee the validity of an assignment; and any claim against the company arising under this policy, made by an assignee, shall be subject to proof of interest and to any indebtedness to the company hereon.

32. All Agreements Must be Signed by an Executive Officer.—All agreements made by the company are signed by its president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary or treasurer. No other person can alter or waive any of the conditions of this policy or make any agreement binding upon the company.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby apply to the Ætna Life Insurance Company for a contract of insurance upon my life, and I do hereby declare that I am in sound health and have no disease or ailment not fully set forth herein; that the statements and answers herein made (including those on the second page hereof) and signed by me, are complete and true, and I agree that they shall form a part of the contract or policy issued by said company upon my life. I also acknowledge that all policies and agreements made by said Ætna Life Insurance Company are signed by one or more of its executive officers, and that no agent or other person not an executive officer can grant insurance or waive any condition of its policies, or make any agreement binding upon said company.

Seven-Year Convertible Term Non-Participating.

Amount, $10,000. Annual Premium, $110.80. Age, 35.

The Ætna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office the sum of ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard X. Roe of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut (herein called the insured), during the continuance of this policy within the term of seven years from the date hereof, ending on the twenty-third day of January, 1918, at five o'clock p. m.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said Ætna Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary) signed this contract in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut this twenty-third day of January, 1911.

1. Consideration. 2. Premiums when Payable.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract, and in further consideration of the annual premium of one hundred, ten and $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars to be paid to the company in advance at its home office or to its agent at or before five o'clock p. m. of the twenty-third day of January in each and every year for the term of seven years from the date hereof or until the prior death of the insured.

3. To Whom Payable at Death.—The said sum insured shall be payable to Mary X. Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured; otherwise, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year; and such payment shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy, and to any indebtedness to the company on account hereof.

4. Change of Beneficiary.—The beneficiary above designated may be changed at any time, provided the policy is not then assigned by the insured and is then returned to said company with a request for such change duly signed by the insured alone, and such change shall take effect on endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

For conditions 5, 7, 8, 9, 13, 14, 15, 16, 18 and 22 see 6, 8, 9, 10, 22, 23, 24, 25, 29 and 32 of twenty-payment life policy.

6. Conditions Regarding Payment of Premiums.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured, a receipt for which payment shall be the delivery of the policy. If any subsequent premium be not paid when due then this policy shall absolutely cease; except that a grace of thirty-one days, during which time the policy remains in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, provided that with the payment of such premium interest at the rate of six per cent per annum is also paid thereon for the days of grace taken. No renewal premium shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor bearing the original or lithographed signature of the secretary or assistant secretary of this company and countersigned by the agent.

10. May be Exchanged for Insurance of Another Kind.—This policy may upon any anniversary of its date be exchanged without medical re-examination for any level premium life or endowment policy then being issued by the company at the attained insuring age of the insured covering any hazard covered by this policy on payment of the premium required for such policy at the advanced age of the insured; or it may be exchanged for such a policy now issued by said company, which shall bear the same date as this policy and be issued at the same age, on payment of the difference between the premiums already paid hereon for an amount of insurance equalling that of the new policy and those that would have been required under the new policy with six per cent interest, provided in either case that the premiums required by such new policy shall be paid at the times stipulated for payment of premiums under this policy, that the issue of the new policy will not violate any law, that application for such new policy be made and this policy returned to the home office of said company before default in the payment of premium and within five years from its date, that the amount of insurance shall not be increased or the premium rate per $1,000 of insurance be less than that required by this policy, and that if such new policy is on the instalment plan, the present value at the beginning of the instalment period of all the instalment payments required of the company shall be considered the amount of insurance under such policy.

11. Reinstatement.—If default occurs in payment of any premium hereon, and if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be reinstated in the same position as if such default had not occurred upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

12. Modes of Paying the Insurance.—If the policy is not assigned by the insured the insured may elect, or the payee (after the death of the insured without such election) may elect, by written notice filed with the home office of the company, before any payment on the sum insured has been made, to have the net sum payable by the company under this policy paid by one of the following modes in lieu of payment in one sum, provided the one sum to which every such payee would otherwise be entitled amounts to five hundred dollars or more. Any mode of payment involving life instalments shall apply only to personal payees, the right of any payee contingent upon the death of a previous payee after the death of the insured, shall be only such of the instalments certain as remain unpaid at the death of the last previous payee, and any election shall take effect only upon an endorsement of the same hereon by the company. The first instalment or annuity by either of these modes will be paid when the one sum becomes payable as hereinbefore provided, and the remaining instalments will be payable annually thereafter on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment. Under the third and fourth modes the attained age of any payee will be reckoned as that of the last birthday of such payee preceding the death of the insured and satisfactory evidence of the date of birth of the payee, or payees, must be furnished before the instalment payments commence.

17. How Payable After Death of Payee.—Unless otherwise provided, any sum payable by the company after the death of a payee under the first, second and third modes shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

19. Commutation of Instalments.—Unless otherwise elected the payee or payees under the second and third modes, may at any time surrender the contract for the commuted value of the instalment payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as the computations in the second mode, provided that no such commutation will be made under the third mode except after the death of the payee or payees occurring within the aforesaid twenty-five years.

20. Does Not Participate.—This policy shall not be entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

21. Assignments.—A duplicate of any assignment of this policy shall be filed at the home office of the company, but in no case does the company guarantee the validity of an assignment, and any claim against said company arising under this policy, made by an assignee, shall be subject to proof of interest.

Commercial Premium Reduction Policy.

Ordinary Life—Non-Participating.

Amount, $10,000. Age, 35.

Annual Premium, 1st Year, $226. Subsequent Years, $197.50.

The Ætna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office the sum of ten thousand dollars (herein called the sum insured) upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard X. Roe, of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut (herein called the insured).

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said Ætna Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary) signed this contract in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut this first day of November, 1909.

1. Consideration. 2. Premiums when Payable.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy which application is hereby made a part of this contract and in further consideration of the payment to said company in advance at its home office or to its agent of the annual premium hereinafter described at or before five o'clock P. M. of the first day of November in each and every year during the life of the insured. The amount of each premium hereon, as above required, for the period of one year from this date, shall be two hundred twenty-six and $^{00}/_{100}$ dollars, and each premium required after the expiration of said period shall be one hundred ninety-seven and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars.

3. Death Beneficiary. 4. Life Beneficiary.—The said sum insured shall be payable to the death beneficiary as follows: Mary Z. Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year; the cash surrender value or the loan value hereinafter described shall be payable to Richard X. Roe (herein called the life beneficiary), and all such payments shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy and to any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including all loans made by the company as herein provided.

5. Change of Beneficiary.—The beneficiary above designated may be changed to a new beneficiary having a proper insurable interest, provided the policy is not then assigned by the life beneficiary and is then returned to said company with a request for such change duly signed by the life beneficiary alone, and such change shall take effect on endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

6. Premiums May be Paid Annually, Semi-Annually or Quarterly.—After the premium for one full year has been paid in cash the company will accept the premium payable thereafter for annual, semi-annual or quarterly periods, according to its published rates for such at the time this policy is issued, provided that any request for change from the method of payment herein provided is signed by any beneficiary and is forwarded to the home office of the company with this policy for proper endorsement.

For conditions 7, 8 and 10 see twenty-payment life policy, also for 12 and 13, 19 to 24, 27 and 28, see 15, 16, 20 to 29, 30, 31 and 32 of same policy.

9. Statements of Insured Not Warranties.—All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defence to a claim under it unless it is contained in the written application herefor and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued.

11. Loans.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon before default in the payment of premium and before the policy becomes a claim, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy the whole, or, at the option of the borrower, any part of the cash value shown by Table A at the end of the current policy year, less all indebtedness to the company hereon and any unpaid portion of the premium and interest on the loan for the remainder of the current policy year, provided the policy is returned to the company together with a loan note bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum payable annually in advance. Said loan will be made on a loan not signed by the life beneficiary alone provided the interest of such beneficiary is not then assigned.

14. Non-Forfeiting Values When No Indebtedness.—The reserve under t[illegible] policy shall be calculated by the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. When the premiums have been paid hereon for three full years or more and default occurs in the payment of any subsequent premium, if there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, the amount of said reserve, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the sum insured hereby, will be applied to extend the full sum insured as temporary insurance, but without the right to loans, during the time shown in the following Table A; or if this policy is surrendered to the company within two months after the first unpaid premium becomes due the same part of the reserve will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up policy for the amount shown in Table A, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, with cash and loan values, or; under the circumstances applicable to the issue of the paid-up policy above described the company will pay a cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be applicable to the purchase of the extended or paid-up insurance above provided, the amount of which is also shown in Table A.

15. Non-Forfeiting Values When Indebtedness Exists.—If there is an indebtedness hereon to the company when such default occurs in the payment of any premium, the cash value hereof will be reduced by the amount of such indebtedness; or the paid-up or extended insurance will be reduced in the proportion which such indebtedness bears to the tabular cash value.

Table A.

This table shows the various values per thousand dollars of the sum insured at the end of the year for which the premium is paid when there is no indebtedness against the policy. Semi-annual or quarterly premiums paid in addition to payments for entire years will increase the tabular cash value or the paid-up insurance value in the same proportion as an entire year's premium. Values provided in the policy for years not shown in this table shall be the whole of the reserve above described.

17. Reinstatement.—Within five years after default in payment of premium, unless the extension period has expired or if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be reinstated upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, and by reinstatement of whatever indebtedness to the company existed hereon at the date of default with interest at the same rate from that date.

18. Modes of Paying the Insurance.—If the policy is not assigned by the life beneficiary the life beneficiary may elect, or the payee after the death of the insured without such election may elect by written notice filed with the home office of the company, before any payment on the sum insured has been made, to have the net sum payable under this policy either as a death claim or as a cash surrender value paid by one of the following modes in lieu of payment in one sum, provided the one sum to which every such payee would otherwise be entitled amounts to five hundred dollars or more. Any mode of payment involving life instalments shall apply only to personal payees, the right of any payee contingent upon the death of a previous payee after the death of the insured, shall be only such of the instalments certain as remain unpaid at the death of the last previous payee, and any election shall take effect only upon an endorsement of the same hereon by the company. The first instalment or annuity by either of these modes will be paid when the one sum would become payable as hereinbefore provided, and the remaining instalments will be payable annually thereafter on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment.

25. Commutation of Instalments.—Unless otherwise elected the payee or payees under the second and third modes, may at any time surrender the contract for the commuted value of the instalment payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as the computation in the second mode, provided that no such commutation will be made under the third mode except after the death of the payee or payees occurring within the aforesaid twenty-five years.

26. Non-Participating.—This policy shall not be entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5,000.

American Bankers Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $300. AGE, 35.

The American Bankers Insurance Company, Chicago, Ill., in consideration of three hundred dollars, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and of the payment of a like amount on the first day of August in each year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured. (first year's premium being for term insurance), promises to pay immediately, upon receipt at the home office of the company in Chicago, Ill., of due proof of the death of Harry S. Wisdom, of Chicago, county of Cook, State of Illinois, herein called the insured, to Mary E. Wisdom (wife), beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

By this certificate the American Bankers Insurance Company guarantees to pay the beneficiary under policy No. , issued by said company, the sum of one hundred dollars immediately upon receipt of this certificate, in the event of the death of the insured while said policy is in force; provided said certificate is accompanied by an affidavit, stating the fact of the death of the insured thereunder, and the time, place and cause thereof, duly executed by said beneficiary and by the judge or clerk of any court of record of the county in which the insured resided at the time of his death, or by any reputable physician, clergyman, or postmaster residing in said county. The said payment shall apply on account of any amount due under said policy and, being made in advance of the receipt of the customary detailed proofs of death satisfactory to the company, is made and accepted without any admission by the company of its liability against said policy.

PRIVILEGES AND BENEFITS.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon. Such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above, as follows: One hundred and fifty-six dollars on the first day of August and February, or seventy-nine and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars on the first day of August, November, February and May, except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of thirty-one days subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

CONDITIONS.—The insured is privileged to travel or reside in any part of the world, and may engage in any occupation. This policy does not insure against the death of the insured caused by self-destruction, while sane or insane, during the first year from the date hereof.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy together with the application for this insurance, copy of which application is attached hereto constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, on the execution of a proper loan agreement and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than the cash value at the end of said year; any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of said current policy year's premium shall be paid out of such advance. Said cash value shall be equal to the reserve under this policy at the end of said year, computed according to the American Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a surrender charge which shall be not greater than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable at the end of each policy year, and this interest if not paid annually shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate.

Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of the policy shall be binding upon the company until it is filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the owner, within three months after any default, may elect (a) to surrender this policy for cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, and without the right to loans, for its face amount, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy—as written in the table below. Value of each of said options shall be equal to the reserve under this policy at date of default computed according to the American Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a surrender charge which shall be not greater than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by the policy, and said cash value shall be at least equal to the sum which would be the purchase price of the insurance under option (b). If the owner shall not, within three months from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or for paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b). The figures in the following table are computed upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy; and if there be any indebtedness the values will be reduced or modified after the same manner and on the same basis as originally computed.

This policy is non-forfeitable after three full annual premiums have been paid.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of a continued temporary insurance under the provisions contained herein, this policy, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of the arrears of premiums with interest at five per cent per annum.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. Instalments payable under Options 2 or 3 which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under Option 1, and may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3 except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Cash value end twenty-fifth year, $6,269.20; end thirtieth year, $6,882.40; end thirty-fifth year, $7,469.80; end fortieth year, $8,004.80. The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table with three and one-half per cent interest, the surrender charge in no case exceeding two and one-half per cent of the amount insured under this policy. For fractional parts of a year in addition thereto the values shall be proportionately increased. Values after years shown in table shall be equivalent to the full reserve on this policy. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

NON-FORFEITABLE.—After this policy shall have been in force three years it shall be non-forfeitable, as hereinafter provided.

SELF-ACTING EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid, if default be made in the payment of any subsequent premium, this policy, without action by the insured, will become a policy for paid-up term insurance for the number of years and months stated in the table above, subject to all of the conditions of this policy except the further payment of premiums; provided, that any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, if not paid in cash, shall be deducted from the net value of such paid-up term insurance and the difference shall be applied to purchase paid-up term insurance for such term as this difference, considered as a net single premium upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, will buy.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three or more full annual premiums shall have been paid, if default be made in the payment of any subsequent premium, upon written request by the insured within sixty days (including the days of grace) of such default, the company will, upon surrender of this policy, issue a paid-up life policy for the amount stated in the table above for the last year for which complete annual premiums shall have been paid; provided, that any existing indebtedness on account of this policy, if not paid in cash, shall be deducted from the net value of such paid-up life insurance and the difference shall be applied to purchase paid-up life insurance for such an amount as this difference, considered as a net single premium upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, will buy.

CASH VALUE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, should the holder hereof so elect in writing within sixty days (including the days of grace) after default in the payment of any premium, the company will, upon surrender of this policy, pay to the insured within six months of date of such default, the cash value specified in the table above, which shall not, in any event, be less than the sum available for the purchase of extended insurance, as above.

CASH LOANS.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid, no default having been made in the payment of any premium hereunder, the company will loan, within six months after written request, upon the sole security of this policy, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table above to be loaned during the last year for which complete annual premiums have been paid; provided (1) that this policy be duly assigned to the company as security for such loan; (2) that interest at the rate of six per cent per annum shall be paid in advance for the remainder of the current policy year; (3) that in determining the loan available there shall be deducted from the loan value herein specified all existing policy indebtedness; (4) that failure to repay said loan or interest thereon when due shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, or to the assignee, if any.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured at any time, this policy being in force, may elect by written request on the company's form that each $1,000 of insurance due upon maturity of this policy by death shall be paid to the beneficiary in accordance with either of the instalment options printed on the fourth page of this policy.

DEATH CLAIMS.—When this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement shall be made at the home office of the company immediately following receipt of due proof of death and the interest of the claimant.

PRIOR DEATH OF BENEFICIARY.—If the beneficiary be not living when this policy becomes a claim, payment shall be made to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, which is made a part hereof and a copy of which is attached hereto, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto and shall be incontestable after premiums for two years have been paid hereon, except for non-payment of premiums and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military and naval service in time of war, and except as to suicide or death in consequence of violation of law within two years of the date hereof. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it be contained in the written and printed application therefor. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the insured's age.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, during which time the policy shall remain in full force. Should the death of the insured occur during the period of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated on written application therefor, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and payment of unpaid premiums to date of reinstatement, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, with the consent of the company, and provided this policy has not been assigned, and subject to the rules of the company regarding beneficiaries, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time during the continuance of this policy, by filing with the company a written request, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, in which case it is understood that such change will take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.

The payment of the first annual premium hereon is a condition precedent to the taking effect hereof, and this policy shall not become binding upon the company until said premium is actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured; and the delivery of this policy without such payment shall not be a waiver of such precedent condition.

No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise or making or receiving any representation or information. These powers can be exercised only by the president, or the vice-president, and actuary or secretary of the company, and cannot be delegated.

All premiums are due and payable annually in advance at the home office, but for the convenience of policyholders, may be paid to an agent producing a receipt signed by the president, the vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by such agent. After the first year, premiums may be paid semi-annually or quarterly in advance at the company's rate therefor. If any premium be not paid on or before the day when due, this policy shall become void and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company except as herein provided.

Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement thereof or any benefit thereunder. In the event of a claim by the death of the insured, any unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deemed a policy indebtedness.

Self-destruction, the insured being sane or insane, or death in consequence of violation of law, within two years from the date hereof, are risks not assumed by the company in this contract, but in such case only the full reserve for this policy at the time of such death will be paid.

Any assignment of this policy must be duly witnessed and made in duplicate, and both sent to the home office, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

In case of death from service in war without permission from the company, only the full reserve for this policy at the time of such death will be paid.

Instalment Options.

The insured at any time, this policy being in force, may elect by written request on the company's form that each $1000 of insurance due upon maturity of this policy by death shall be paid to the beneficiary in accordance with either of the following instalment options; the first instalment being due in each case upon receipt and approval of proof of the death of the insured while this policy is in force:

Option 1. In ten annual instalments of $113.82 each, amounting to $1138.20.

Option 2. In fifteen annual instalments of $81.33 each, amounting to $1219.95.

Option 3. In twenty annual instalments of $65.26 each, amounting to $1305.20.

Option 4. In annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the schedule below for this option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured. In case of the death of the beneficiary before twenty annual instalments have been paid, the company will pay the balance of said twenty instalments to the estate of the beneficiary.

Option 5. In annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the schedule below for this option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured.

Agreement in Application.

I Abner Alston, apply to the American Central Life Insurance Company, of Indianapolis, Ind., to insure my life in the amount of ten thousand dollars on the ordinary life non-participating plan, the annual premium to be payable in advance and each insurance year to end on the first day of April and, as an inducement to said company to make said insurance and as a consideration therefor, I agree: 1. That this application will be completed by submitting to a medical examination. 2. That there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been delivered to me and the premium paid to said company, or its duly authorized agent, during my lifetime and good health. 3. That no action shall be brought against said company under said contract after the lapse of six years from the time when the cause of such action shall accrue. 4. That, if any premium on any policy issued on this application shall not be paid when due, all previous payments shall be forfeited to the company except as provided in the policy. 5. That active service in the army or navy, in time of war, shall invalidate said contract of insurance, unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for in writing and endorsed upon the policy by the company, and such extra premium paid therefor upon notification as the then rules of the company may provide. 6. That I will not, within one year from the date of the policy, travel or reside north of the sixtieth degree of north latitude, or in the Torrid Zone, or engage in any of the following occupations or employments: Handling electric wires or dynamos, making or using explosives, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, service as an employee on any railroad train or engine or in coupling or switching cars, or on a steam or sailing vessel; and that any such travel or employment or labor or occupation, within said year, shall work a forfeiture of all rights under any policy issued hereon, unless the written consent of the company shall be first obtained upon a written application therefor, and such extra premium as the then rules of the company may provide shall be paid. 7. That the company may furnish blank proofs of death to, or may require due proofs of death from my beneficiary or representative without incurring any liability or waiving any of its rights. 8. That any physician may disclose to the American Central Life Insurance Company, its successors or assigns, any facts or information communicated to, or acquired by, him as my physician, and I waive any and all provisions of law which now, or may hereafter, exist exempting or prohibiting any physician from disclosing any facts acquired in any professional capacity or rendering such physician incompetent as a witness. 9. That I have read a sample blank form of the policy applied for, to be issued on the above named plan, which policy I agree to accept; and I agree that no statements, promises or information made or given by the person soliciting or taking this application, shall be binding on the company, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office, in this application, and this application and the policy hereby applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto.

AMERICAN NATIONAL LIFE OF VIRGINIA.

Warranty in Application.

Part I.—I hereby declare and warrant that I am in good health, and of sober and temperate habits, and that all the statements and answers to above questions are complete and true, and are made with the intention that they shall be relied upon by the company as the basis of its action in issuing its contract of insurance hereby applied for, and that the foregoing, together with this declaration, shall constitute the application, and become a part of the said contract of insurance. I hereby agree to submit to examination by the company's examiner when called upon to do so, and that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application.

Part II.—I hereby declare that I am the person who made and signed the accompanying application for insurance in the American National Life Insurance Company, Inc., dated June 1, 1910; that all the foregoing statements and answers, as well as those contained in said application with which this report is deemed to be incorporated, are true and material to the proposed contract for insurance, and shall form the basis thereof, and that I am temperate in my habits and am, to the best of my knowledge and belief, in sound physical condition and a proper subject for life insurance.

AMERICAN HOME LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby covenant and agree that all the foregoing statements and answers and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application, are complete, true and correct. I hereby covenant and agree as follows: (1) That, if this application is accepted, the policy issued hereunder shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been paid to and accepted by said company or its authorized agent, and such policy delivered to and accepted by me, and all during my continuance and while I am in good health. (2) If during the first year following date of said policy I commit suicide, sane or insane, or die in consequence of any unlawful act or engage in any of the extra hazardous occupations or employments specified below (unless written permission is first expressly granted by the company), then the only liability of the company shall be for a sum equivalent to the premiums actually received by the company; the extra hazardous occupations referred to above being specified as follows: Handling dynamos or live electric wires, blasting, mining, submarine labor, æronautic ascensions, manufacture or handling of any highly explosive substance, service upon any railroad train or track as engineer, fireman, brakeman, freight conductor, or track man, or in switching or in coupling or uncoupling cars, or as a seaman on any steam or other vessels. (3) That any physician may, at any and all times, disclose any information, heretofore or hereafter, in any way acquired, concerning any question arising under any of my statements or answers or such contract of insurance. (4) That only the officers of the company, at the home office, can accept or reject this or any application, and that no knowledge of any person and no statement made or given by or to any person shall bind the company or in any manner affect its rights unless such knowledge and statement are set forth in writing in this application.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

American Home Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $307.80. AGE, 35.

The American Home Life Insurance Company of Fort Worth, Texas (hereinafter called the company), hereby insures the life of John Doe, (hereinafter called the insured,) of Fort Worth, Tarrant County, Texas, in the amount of ten thousand dollars and, on receipt of due proofs of the death of the said insured during the continuance of this contract, promises to pay the said amount at its home office in Fort Worth, Texas, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and less any unpaid premium or portion of premium for the current policy year, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, if surviving, otherwise to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured, subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided and subject to the privileges and conditions recited below.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto and which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred seven dollars and eighty cents on or before the first day of January, 1911, as the premium for term insurance for one year from said date, and may be continued in force as limited payment life insurance by the further payment in advance of the annual premium of three hundred seven dollars and eighty cents on or before the first day of January in each and every year thereafter during the lifetime of the insured until twenty full annual premiums in all have been paid.

This policy contains no restrictions as to travel, residence, occupation or place of death, and shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, adjustment in case of misstatement of age, or violation of the conditions as to military or naval service in time of war.

DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE AND BANKING, AUSTIN, TEXAS

This policy is registered and approved securities equal in value to the legal reserve hereon are held in trust by the commissioner of insurance and banking of the State of Texas.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

I. POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder unless it be contained in the written application, a copy of which is hereunto attached. No person shall have the power to make or modify this contract or to extend the time for payment of any premium except the president, vice-president, secretary or actuary, and they only by written instrument executed at the home office.

II. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of the premiums required under this policy in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, and upon receipt of written request at its home office will re-adjust the mode of payment at the end of any policy year. The policy shall not take effect unless nor until the first premium or instalment thereof is actually paid while the insured is in the same state of health as described in the application herefor. If any premium or instalment, or any note given on account thereof, be not fully paid when due or within the time allowed by this contract, the insurance under this policy shall cease and determine and all premiums paid hereunder shall be forfeited to the company, except as provided in the non-forfeiture provisions hereinbelow. All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in Fort Worth, Tex., the company may at its pleasure appoint collectors to receive such payments at other places, but only in exchange for its regular receipt signed by its president or secretary and countersigned by the collector designated thereon.

III. GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days (without interest) will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time this policy shall remain in full force and effect.

IV. CASH LOANS.—At any time after the expiration of the second policy year the company will, on receipt of written request at its home office, loan on the sole security of this policy an amount not greater than the cash surrender value at the end of the current policy year as specified in Column 3 of Table 1, provided that a proper assignment of this policy to the company shall be executed by all parties in benefit hereunder, and further provided that the premiums to the end of the current policy year shall have been paid in full, or if not so paid shall be deducted in adjustment of the loan, and that any existing indebtedness hereon to the company be adjusted. At the time of making the loan interest will be deducted for the unpaid portion of the current policy year at the rate of five per cent per annum, and will thereafter be payable annually in advance at the same rate. Any interest not paid when due shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Such loan, or any portion thereof, may be repaid at any time, but failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the cash value.

V. Non-Forfeiture Provisions and Guaranteed Surrender Values.—If, after three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, default is made in payment of any premium or premium note.

Paid-up Term Insurance.—(1) The company, will, on the receipt, during the days of grace, of written request from the policyholder, accompanied by this policy for endorsement, extend this policy for its full face value less any indebtedness hereon to the company as paid-up non-participating term insurance but without the privileges of loan or cash surrender values, or, on legal surrender of this policy within the same limits of time, the company

Paid-up Life Insurance.—(2) Will issue in the place hereof a paid-up non-participating life policy, payable at a like time and in like manner with the original, or Cash Surrender Value.—(3) Will pay in cash the cash surrender value specified in Column 3 of Table 1, less any indebtedness hereon to the company. The duration of the paid-up term insurance, to be reckoned from the date of default in premium payment, and the amount of the paid-up life policy under the above options, provided there be no indebtedness hereon, are shown for the end of each successive year in Columns 1 and 2, respectively, of Table 1. The payment of any semi-annual or quarterly instalment will proportionately increase all the values shown in this table. If there be any indebtedness hereon the net value of the paid-up term insurance or paid-up life policy granted hereunder will be equal to the corresponding value obtained from the table less the indebtedness.

Automatic Premium Loan.—If this policy be not lapsed or surrendered as above provided, the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, apply the cash surrender value of this policy as shown in Column 3 of Table 1 to the payment of premiums falling due hereunder, so long as the said cash surrender values will pay the overdue premiums and all other indebtedness hereon with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum payable annually in advance. This policy shall not lapse so long as the said cash value so applied will pay for one month's insurance on a pro rata basis, but shall be continued in full force and effect in all respects as though the premiums had been paid in cash. At any time while the policy is being continued in force under this benefit the policyholder may resume the payment of premiums without medical re-examination. In such event the indebtedness accumulated hereon, or any part thereof, may be paid in cash or allowed to remain as a loan on the policy. Such indebtedness shall at all times constitute a first lien on the policy.

The reserve held against this policy will be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, and the net value of any guaranteed surrender value granted hereunder shall be equal to the entire reserve at the date of default in premium payment, less any outstanding indebtedness hereon to the company, and less a charge not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy. The cash or loan value at the end of any year after the twentieth will be equal to the entire reserve held against this policy less any outstanding indebtedness hereon. Table of such values will be furnished by the home office upon request.

VI. Change of Beneficiary.—The right to change the beneficiary under this policy, provided it be not assigned, is reserved by the insured, but such change shall only be made by the return of the policy to the company, with written request therefor, and no change will take effect until endorsed on the policy by the company.

VII. Assignments.—The company will not be bound nor in any way affected by any assignment of this policy or of any interest thereunder until the original assignment or a certified copy thereof shall be filed at the home office of the company. The company will not assume any responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

VIII. Reinstatement.—This policy, if not surrendered, will, on written application therefor, be reinstated at any time, provided evidence of good health of the insured satisfactory to the company be furnished, and premiums to date of reinstatement and any other indebtedness to the company be paid with interest compounded at the rate of five per cent per annum.

IX. Payment of Claims Arising Hereunder.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be only such as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured and under the same table of rates. If the insured shall commit suicide, while sane or insane, within one year from date hereof, the amount payable under this policy shall be limited to the premiums actually received by the company. Military or naval service in time of war is not a risk assumed under this policy, and if the insured shall enter or engage in such service without written permit from the company no claim shall exist under this policy except for the net reserve held against it.

X. Instalment Benefits.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim in accordance with the provisions endorsed on the fourth page hereof.

In witness whereof the American Home Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its home office in the city of Fort Worth, Tex., as of the first day of January, 1911.

Instalment Benefits.—At any time while this policy is in force and not assigned, the insured may select any one of the following instalment options and direct that the proceeds of this policy, when payable as a claim, be paid as provided thereunder, provided the said proceeds be not less than $1000:

Option 1. Limited Instalments.—For each $1000 payable hereunder the company will pay 5 instalments of $214 each, or 10 instalments of $116 each, or 15 instalments of $84 each, or 20 instalments of $68 each, or 25 instalments of $58 each. Illustration: If payment is to be made in twenty-five instalments, the amount of each will be $58 for each $1000 of insurance; total amount payable, $1450.

Option 2. Limited Instalments with Terminal Benefit.—For each $1000 payable here under, the company will pay 20 instalments of $50 each, and $525 at the end of twenty years, total payable $1,525, or 25 instalments of $40 each, and $750 at the end of twenty five years, total payable $1750.

Option 3. Continuous Instalments.—Twenty-five annual instalments guaranteed; the instalments to be continued annually thereafter during the lifetime of the beneficiary.

Note.—This option may not be chosen if there be more than one party in benefit hereunder.

The amount of each instalment corresponding to a single payment of $1000 is shown in the table below.

Age of beneficiary at death of insured..	16 to 20	21 to 24	25 to 27	28 to 30
Amount of each instalment.....	$ 40	$ 41	$ 42	$ 43
Age of beneficiary at death of insured..	31 and 32	33 to 35	36 and 37	38 and 39
Amount of each instalment.....	$ 44	$ 45	$ 46	$ 47
Age of beneficiary at death of insured..	40 and 41	42 to 44	45 and 46	47 and 48
Amount of each instalment.....	$ 48	$ 49	$ 50	$ 51
Age of beneficiary at death of insured..	49 to 51	52 and 53	54 to 57	58 & over.
Amount of each instalment.....	$ 52	$ 53	$ 54	$ 55

The first instalment under any option shall be payable immediately upon receipt by the company, at its home office, of due proofs of the death of the insured and the subsequent instalments annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right be expressly given by the insured to the beneficiary in his written direction for payment by instalments. Any instalment maturing after the death of the beneficiary will be payable to the administrators, executors or assigns of the beneficiary. At any time while this policy is in force and not assigned the insured may change or revoke any selection of instalment benefits already made. No selection, change or revocation shall be made except by written instructions of the insured or take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office; except that, in case no selection shall have been made by the insured, the beneficiary may at his death make such selection.

American Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $368. AGE, 35.

The American Life Insurance Company of Des Moines, Ia. hereby promises and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Roe, of Des Moines, Ia., the insured, to Mary Roe, wife of the insured, subject to the terms and provisions of this contract.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the written application of the insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred sixty-eight dollars, being the premium to provide term insurance for one year from September 1st, 1910, to September 1st, 1911, which is the first policy year, and of the further payment in advance of the renewal premium of three hundred sixty-eight dollars on or before the first day of September in every year thereafter until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

A grace of thirty-one days (without interest charge) will be allowed for the payment of renewal premiums, during which time this policy will remain in force.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Renewal premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable thereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company in the city of Des Moines, Ia., or at the pleasure of the company, to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary, auditor or cashier and countersigned by such collector. If any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall be ipso facto null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

ANNUAL DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—This policy participates in the surplus of the company as hereinafter provided: At the end of the second policy year and annually thereafter, if premiums shall have been duly paid to the end of such year, the company will notify the insured in writing at his postoffice address, as shown by the books of the company, of the amount of surplus which has been apportioned to this policy and the insured shall be entitled to exercise one of the following dividend options: (1) Receive the dividend in cash, or, (2) apply the dividend to the reduction of any premium or premiums or, (3) convert the dividend to the purchase of paid-up participating insurance additions to this policy at the company's rates then in force, evidence of insurability will not be required, or, (4) leave the dividend to accumulate to the credit of this policy with three and one-half per cent annual compound interest, said accumulation or any part thereof, to be payable at the death of the insured, and to be subject to withdrawal within thirty-one days after any anniversary of this policy, or upon surrender of this policy for its cash value after three years; or without evidence of insurability converted into participating paid-up insurance additions to this policy. If the insured shall fail to notify the company which option has been selected within thirty-one days after any premium shall become due, the company will pay the dividend in cash or apply the same as required by the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered.

NON-FORFEITURE CONDITIONS.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable after premiums have been paid for three full years. If any renewal premium thereafter is not paid before the expiration of the period of grace herein allowed, this policy will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values, as follows: (1) If there is no indebtedness to the company, and if there are no dividends or insurance additions the insurance will be for the term specified in Column (3) of the table on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium.

In lieu of such term insurance upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in Column (2) of said table, or (b) pay the guaranteed cash value specified in Column (1) of said table, or policy may be continued and the company will grant an automatic premium loan, as follows: (c) Upon the written request of the insured and his assigns, if any, made prior to default in premium payment, the company will charge as an indebtedness against this policy, the premium or premiums thereafter falling due during the time any such request shall remain unrevoked, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided the then maximum cash surrender value stipulated in this policy less five per cent annual interest shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium loan may be repaid at any time and the policy continued without furnishing evidence of insurability. The said non-forfeiture benefits shall be increased by the net value of any dividend accumulations or paid-up insurance additions or shall be decreased proportionately by any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy on the same basis used in the calculation of the said benefits. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value of this policy after three or more annual premiums have been paid, shall be equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder and shall be at least equal to the present value of the automatic extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options shall be equal to the said reserve at the time when either of the said options shall become effective, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. In case of default in the payment of a semi-annual, quarterly, bi-monthly, or monthly premium, the said reserve shall be computed so as to include the fractional part of the current year for which premiums have been paid and the non-forfeiture values shall be correspondingly increased over the values for the end of the policy year last expired.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.—This policy is issued without restrictions as to the residence, travel and occupation of the insured, and except for non-payment of premiums, is incontestable after one year, subject to the following conditions: In event of the death of the insured while engaged in military or naval service in time of war without previously having obtained from the company a permit therefor, the company's liability shall be only the premiums paid hereon for the first two years from date hereof, and thereafter only the legal reserve on this policy. The death of the insured by self destruction, sane or insane, or death resulting directly or indirectly from the use of alcoholic stimulants or narcotics are risks not assumed by the company within one year from the issuance of this policy, and if the death of the insured shall result from any of said causes during the first policy year, the company shall be liable only for the premiums actually paid hereon; and if obtained by fraudulent statements or concealments made in the application or in the answers to the medical examiner, this policy shall be void, if the death of the insured occurs within one year from the issuance of this policy. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement made by the insured shall void this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed on or attached to this policy when issued. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If more than one beneficiary is named, this policy shall be payable to the survivors, share and share alike, or the full amount to a single survivor, unless the insured shall otherwise direct in the application for a policy. Any change in the amounts payable to the beneficiaries after the issuance of this policy shall be made only on the written request of the insured accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

* Loan and cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy and any existing additions thereto.

If all the premiums shall have been duly paid and if this policy shall be continued after twenty years under a paid-up insurance option the policy shall continue to participate annually in the surplus of the company during the life of the insured.

CASH LOANS ON SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force and on the sole security thereof, the company will loan on the proper assignment of this policy, a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year plus the net value of any existing additions thereto computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, at five per cent interest payable annually in advance, which interest, if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear the same rate of interest. The company will deduct, however, from said loan value any existing indebtedness on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any loan or pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy and any existing additions thereto at the time of said failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. A copy of the loan agreement which is also a receipt for the policy will be furnished to the insured.

Optional Life Annuity.—On the anniversary nearest the age of sixty-five of the insured, this policy may be surrendered, and the reserve will then purchase an annuity of $820 payable annually during the life of the insured, the first payment to be deferred one year.

Reinstatement Privilege.—This policy may be reinstated (unless previously surrendered) at any time after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor on the company's form and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due; and provided also, that any indebtedness to the company at date of default with interest thereon to date of reinstatement shall be a first lien against this policy. In event of such reinstatement the insured may execute a loan agreement for all or part of the maximum loan value of this policy at the date of reinstatement which will be accepted by the company in lieu of a like amount in cash if all past due premiums, interest or other indebtedness in excess thereof shall have been paid in cash.

Instalment Payment Privilege.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment in a single sum to payment by limited or continuous annual instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof, or may provide that the amount of this policy, or any portion thereof, may remain with the company until withdrawn by the beneficiary, who shall receive annually from the company three and one-half per cent interest on the said amount or the portion thereof remaining with the company from the time of the death of the insured until such withdrawal. Unless the privilege shall have been given in writing by the insured and endorsed on this policy by the company, the beneficiary shall not have the right to commute or assign any instalment payments hereunder.

General Provisions

1. Powers Not Delegated.—Only the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary, auditor or cashier has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.

2. Misstatement of Age.—If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount of insurance payable hereunder shall be adjusted either by crediting the company or the insured with the difference in premiums with three and one-half per cent annual compound interest according to the company's published rate at date of issue, or by the payment of the amount of insurance which the premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured, such adjustment to be made in accordance with the law relating thereto in the state where this policy is delivered. But the Iowa law applicable to such cases shall govern in any state which has no legal provision relating thereto.

3. Assignment of Policy.—Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

4. Conditions of Payment.—This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Des Moines, Ia. Due proofs of death must be furnished to the company at the home office, which proofs shall comprise satisfactory statements establishing the claim. No action shall be maintainable on this policy unless brought within six years from the time that the beneficiary or claimant shall have had knowledge of the death of the insured. Any indebtedness to the company hereon including any balance of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder.

5. Reserve Valuation and Deposit.—The reserve on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method with any modification thereof required by the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered, and all calculations hereunder for the ascertainment of reserve, paid-up insurance, loan and surrender values shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. The legal reserve on this policy shall be invested in approved securities and deposited with the State of Iowa as required by law.

6. The Contract.—This policy and the application herefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

7. Reservations to Insured.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

In witness whereof, TheAmerican Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary, executed this policy at Des Moines, Ia., this first day of September, 1910.

Instalment Benefits.—The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable as provided on page (1) hereof.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43.91 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary.

The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable as provided on page (1) hereof. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE, DECREASING PREMIUM—NON-PARTICIPATING

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369. AGE, 35.

The American Life Insurance Company of Des Moines, Ia. hereby promises and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Roe, of Des Moines, Ia., the insured, to Mary Roe, wife of the insured, subject to the terms and provisions of this contract.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the written application of the insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred sixty-nine dollars, being the premium to provide term insurance for one year from September 1st, 1910, to September 1st, 1911, which is the first policy year, and of the further payment in advance of the renewal premium specified in the marginal table on this page on or before the first day of September in every year thereafter until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

NOTE.—For provisions relating to grace, payment of premiums, reinstatement, privileges and conditions, change of beneficiary, optional life annuity, general provisions and instalment benefits, see preceding policy.

NON-FORFEITURE CONDITIONS.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable after premiums have been paid for three full years. If any renewal premium thereafter is not paid before the expiration of the period of grace herein allowed, this policy will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values as follows: (1) If there is no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will be for the term specified in Column (3) of Table A on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium.

In lieu of such term insurance upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of any unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in Column 2 of said Table A, or (b) pay the guaranteed cash value specified in Column (1) of said Table A, or policy may be continued and the company will grant an automatic premium loan, as follows: (c) Upon the written request of the insured and his assigns, if any, made prior to default in premium payment, the company will charge as an indebtedness against this policy, the premium or premiums thereafter falling due during the time any such request shall remain unrevoked, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided the then maximum cash surrender value stipulated in said Table A less five per cent annual interest shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium loan may be repaid at any time and the policy continued without furnishing evidence of insurability. The said non-forfeiture benefits shall be decreased proportionately by any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy on the same basis used in the calculation of the said benefits. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value of this policy after three or more annual premiums have been paid, shall be equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder and shall be at least equal to the present value of the automatic extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options shall be equal to the said reserve at the time when either of the said options shall become effective, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. In case of default in the payment of a semi-annual, quarterly, bi-monthly, or monthly premium, the said reserve shall be computed so as to include the fractional part of the current year for which premiums have been paid and the non-forfeiture values shall be correspondingly increased over the values for the end of the policy year last expired.

OPTIONS WHEN FULL PREMIUMS ARE PAID.—The option is hereby given to the insured to continue to pay the full premium rate provided for the first and second years of this policy, in which event the values named in Table A of page (3) hereof will be increased by pure endowment additions to those named in Table B of page (3) hereof, and the guaranteed values and options shown in said Table B, shall then be available to the insured under the same conditions as those provided for Table A of page (3) hereof. The automatic premium loan option provided in non-forfeiture conditions shall also be applicable if full premiums are paid. If the premiums on this policy be paid without reduction for at least three full years, the insured may at any time thereafter reduce his premium payments to those stipulated on the first page hereof, in which event the company will pay the insured immediately in cash, the difference between the decreasing premiums stipulated on said first page and the actual premiums paid with four per cent annual compound interest, provided, however, that if a loan shall have been granted under Table B, the amount thereof, if any, in excess of the loan value under Table A at the time of such refund shall be deducted from the amount payable to the insured and credited to such loan. If premiums shall be paid without reduction for twenty years, the company guarantees that the paid-up endowment addition at the end of the twentieth year will purchase $3040 additional paid-up insurance, subject however, to satisfactory evidence of insurability, or if policy is then surrendered the cash value shall be equal to twenty full annual premiums hereon, or policy may be continued as paid-up insurance for its face value and the pure endowment addition will be paid in cash.

INSTALMENT PAYMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment by limited or continuous annual instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof, or may provide that the amount of this policy, or any portion thereof, may remain with the company until withdrawn by the beneficiary, who shall receive annually from the company three and one-half per cent interest on the said amount or the portion thereof remaining with the company from the time of the death of the insured until such withdrawal.

CASH LOANS ON SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY.—At any time after three full years premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force and on the sole security thereof, the company will loan on the proper assignment of this policy, a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum notmore than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, at five per cent interest payable annually in advance, which interest, if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear the same rate of interest. The company will deduct, however, from said loan value any existing indebtedness on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any loan or pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of said failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. A copy of the loan agreement which is also a receipt for the policy will be furnished to the insured.

Twenty-Year Endowment—Monthly Instalments—Non-Participating.

Amount, $12,000 (Commuted, $8.650).

Annual Premium, $392.50. Age, 35.

The American Life Insurance Company of Des Moines, Ia., hereby promises and agrees to pay twelve thousand dollars in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments of fifty dollars, each; the first instalment to be paid upon the receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Roe, of Des Moines, Ia., the insured, and a like amount on the same date in each succeeding month until two hundred and forty instaments shall have been paid to Mary Roe, wife of the insured, subject to the terms and provisions of this contract.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the written application of the insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred ninety-two dollars and fifty cents, being the premium to provide the legal reserve and term insurance for one year from September 1st, 1910, to September 1st, 1911, which is the first policy year, and of the further payment in advance of the renewal premium of three hundred ninety-two dollars and fifty cents on or before the first day of September in every year thereafter until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall ahve been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

Options of Settlement.—If the insured is living on the first day of September, 1930, which is the end of the endowment period of this policy, and if all premiums have been paid to said date, the insured may then surrender this policy under one of the following options of settlement:

(1) Receive the guaranteed cash value equal to commuted value of this policy, $8650; or (2) leave with the company the said guaranteed cash value of $8650 upon which the company agrees to pay three and one-half per cent annual interest, or on the portion thereof remaining with the company until the full amount shall have been withdrawn; or (3) receive a paid-up life policy payable in a single sum for $15,276 or (4) receive a paid-up life policy payable in a single sum for $8650, also receive in cash, $3754, or (5) continue this policy and receive payment in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments, the first instalment of $50 to be paid to the insured at the maturity of this policy and a like amount on the same date in each succeeding month, until two hundred and forty instalments shall have been paid to the insured, his executors, adminisitrators or assigns, with the privilege of commutation as hereinafter provided. Or (6) Receive the guaranteed cash value, equal to commuted value of this policy, converted into an annuity upon the life of the insured, or upon the life of any person designated by the insured.

Any annuity granted pursuant to the provisions hereof shall be based on the annuity rates of the company then in force, and any paid-up life insurance, in excess of the principal sum insured shall be subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company.

Note.—For provisions relating to grace, payment of premiums, privileges and conditions, change of beneficiary, reinstatement privilege, general provisions and instalment benefits, see first policy given.

Non-Forfeiture Conditions.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable after premiums have been paid for three full years. If any renewal premium thereafter is not paid before the expiration of the period of grace herein allowed, this policy will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values, as follows: (1) If there is no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will be for the term specified in Column 3 of the table on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium, and a pure endowment of the amount specified in the same column will be paid in cash to the insured if living at the end of such term. In lieu of such term insurance and pure endowment upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up endowment policy for the amount specified in Column 2 of said table payable in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments at the end of the endowment period of this policy, or at the death of the insured if it occurs during such period, or (b) pay the guaranteed cash value specified in Column 1 of said table, or the insured may continue the policy and the company will grant an automatic premium loan, as follows: (c) Upon the written request of the insured and his assigns, if any, made prior to default in premium payment, the company will charge as an indebtedness against this policy, the premium or premiums thereafter falling due during the time any such request shall remain unrevoked, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided the then maximum cash surrender value stipulated in this policy less five per cent annual interest shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium loan may be repaid at any time and the policy continued without furnishing evidence of insurability.

(2) If there is any indebtedness to the company, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the net value of the term insurance and pure endowment provided for in Column 3 of the table on page (3) hereof, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, and the insurance will be for such term, reckoning from the due date of the unpaid premium, within the endowment period of this policy, as the excess of such net value over the indebtedness will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid. Should such excess be more than sufficient to provide such insurance to the end of the endowment period, the balance after providing such insurance shall be applied at net single premium rates by the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid to the purchase of a pure endowment payable to the insured if living at the end of such period. In lieu of such term insurance and pure endowment, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of any unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up endowment policy payable in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments at the end of the endowment period of this policy, or at the death of the insured if it occurs during such period, for such amount as the excess above referred to will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid, or (b) pay the guaranteed cash value specified in Column 1 of the table on the third page hereof less such indebtedness. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value of this policy after three or more annual premiums have been paid, shall be equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder and shall be at least equal to the present value of the automatic extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options shall be equal to the said reserve at the time when either of the said options shall become effective, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. In case of default in the payment of a semi-annual, quarterly, bi-monthly or monthly premium, the said reserve shall be computed so as to include the fractional part of the current year for which premiums have been paid and the non-forfeiture values shall be correspondingly increased over the values for the end of the policy year last expired.

Instalment Payment Privilege.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment as provided on page (1) hereof to payment by limited or continuous annual instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof, or may provide that the commuted value of this policy, or any portion thereof, may remain with the company until withdrawn by the beneficiary, who shall receive annually from the company three and one-half per cent interest on the said amount or the portion thereof remaining with the company from the time of the death of the insured until such withdrawal. Unless the privilege shall have been given in writing by the insured and endorsed on this policy by the company, the beneficiary shall not have the right to commute or assign any instalment payments hereunder. At the maturity of this policy the insured may substitute any instalment payment option on page (4) hereof in lieu of the options on the first page of this policy, any continuous instalment payment to be based on the attained age of the insured; and if any instalment payment option provided in this policy is selected the insured shall have the right at any time to surrender the policy and receive in cash the full reserve or commuted value of any fixed instalments remaining unpaid, computed on the basis of three and one-half per cent annual interest, and the said commutation privilege shall also be vested in the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

Cash Loans on Sole Security of this Policy.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force and on the sole security thereof, the company will loan on the proper assignment of this policy, a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, at five per cent interest payable annually in advance, which interest, if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear the same rate of interest. The company will deduct however, from said loan value any existing indebtedness on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any loan or pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of said failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. A copy of the loan agreement which is also a receipt for the policy will be furnished to the insured.

* The guaranteed paid-up endowment insurance provided in Column 2 of the above table will be paid in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments at the death of the insured or to the insured if living at the end of the endowment period. The extended insurance provided in Column 3 of said table will be paid in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments at the death of the insured, and the pure endowment provided in the same column will be paid in a single sum to the insured if living at the end of the endowment period. The loan or cash value provided in Column 1 of said table will be paid in a single sum subject to the provisions of this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: (1) That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company at the home office, and the premium has actually been paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agents during my lifetime and good health. (2) That no statements made by or to the person soliciting or taking this application or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless the same shall be reduced to writing and submitted to the officers of the company at the home office in this application. (3) That the restrictions upon the insured, and the limitation of the company's liability contained in any policy issued on this application are hereby ratified and accepted and shall be conclusive upon the insured and on all persons who may have or claim any interest in the said policy. (4) That I reserve the right to change the beneficiary at any time if a policy is issued subject to the regulations of the company. (5) That the contract contained in any policy that may be issued shall be construed according to the laws of the State of Iowa, the place of said contract being agreed to be at the home office of the company. (6) That all premiums shall be paid at the home office of the company at Des Moines, Ia. (7) That any policy that may be issued in pursuance of this application shall be in consideration of the agreements herein contained.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000

American National Insurance Company.

Twenty-Payment Life Guaranteed Option Policy.

Amount, $10,000. Annual Premium, $383.40. Age, 35.

American National Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand ($10,000) dollars to his sister Mary Austin, beneficiary, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured as hereinafter provided, at the home office of the company, immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of Stephen F. Austin, the insured, while this policy is in force:

And further agrees to pay ten thousand ($10,000) dollars in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred ($500) dollars each, in the event of the total and permanent loss of sight of both eyes, or loss of both arms, or both legs, or one arm and one leg, or one eye and one limb, of the insured, or if the insured should become totally and permanently disabled to such an extent as to render it impossible for him to engage in any gainful occupation whatever, such total and permanent disability occurring before the insured has reached the age of sixty years, and this payment being in lieu of all other benefits designated in this policy, the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred ($500) dollars each, the first instalment being payable immediately after receipt by the company of due and satisfactory proofs of such total and permanent disability, or such injuries as above defined. If the insured should die before all of the said twenty instalments have been fully paid, then in such case the remaining instalments may be continued to the beneficiary hereunder or may be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to said beneficiary.

The above disability benefits are payable as hereinafter provided.

Guaranteed Options at the End of Twenty Years.—If all the coupons attached to this policy are returned intact and unused: (1) Guaranteed cash payment, $7,720. (2) Paid-up insurance for life, $13,640, subject to evidence of insurability for any excess over the face amount of the policy. (3) Guaranteed annual income for life, $580, first payment at the end of one year.

If all or any of the coupons attached to this policy have been used: (1) Guaranteed cash payment, $5,660. (2) Paid-up insurance for life, $10,000. (3) Guaranteed annual income for life, $420, first payment at the end of one year. The cash value of any coupons then remaining to the credit of this policy may be applied to increase the amount payable under options one or three, if either of said options are chosen, and will require evidence of insurability for any increase, if option two is chosen.

Additional Death Benefit.—If any or all of the coupons attached hereto are allowed to remain with the company at three and one-half per cent compound interest per annum, the value of said coupons with interest to date of death will be paid to the beneficiary, in case of the death of the insured under this policy, in addition to the face amount hereby insured.

Fully Paid-up Benefit.—If all of the first fourteen coupons attached to this policy are allowed to remain with the company at compound interest, the company will, upon request of the insured hereunder, issue in lieu of this policy a fully paid-up policy for life of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars at the end of fifteen years from date of the policy, with no further payments to the company hereon. If this benefit is selected, the remaining coupons attached hereto shall be delivered to the company and be null and void.

Savings Fund Benefit.—If any or all of the attached coupons are left to remain with the company and the premium hereon as stated on page three is paid in full in cash, the company agrees to credit to the insured hereunder the face amount of each individual coupon so left with the company, as and when said coupon becomes due according to the terms thereof, and to pay compound interest on said coupons at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, thereby creating a fund to the credit of this policy, which fund may be applied to the payment of premiums or withdrawn in cash at any time by the insured.

Decreasing Premiums.—At the option of the insured the amounts shown on any or all of the coupons hereto attached may be applied by the insured to reduce the premiums due and payable hereunder as the premiums and coupons become due. If the insured shall avail himself of this option, the amount due the company in any policy year will be the premium shown on page three hereof, less the amount of the coupon due on the same date as the premium from which it is to be deducted. The balance shall be due the company in cash, and the coupon then due must be returned for cancellation. If the premiums hereunder are paid semi-annually or quarterly, the pro-rata value of any coupon shall be applied as said premiums are paid.

Payment of Premiums.—All premiums under this policy are payable in advance either at the home office or to an agent upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company. No officer other than those stated, and no agent, has the power to make or to modify this or any other contract of the company in any respect whatever, and the company is not responsible for, and shall not be bound by, any promises or representations made by any person other than the officers named, and then not unless said promises or representations are in writing and signed by one of the officers stated. If any premium or note or other obligation given for all or a part of any premium or other indebtedness is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall cease, except as otherwise provided in this policy. The company will accept the payment of premiums hereon in the amount of $197.40 semi-annually on the twelfth days of January and July, or $101.60 quarterly on the twelfth days of January, April, July and October in each policy year. The method of payment of premiums hereon may be changed at any time after the first policy year upon application to the home office before the end of the month of grace, on the form prescribed by the company.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A period of grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium hereunder after the first, without any interest charge therefor during which month the full insurance hereunder shall continue in force; if however, the insured shall die within said period of grace, the unpaid balance of the premium or premiums for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company, and shall be incontestable for any cause whatever after one year from the date of issue, provided premiums are duly paid. If during the first policy year the insured shall suicide, whether sane or insane, or die as a consequence of the violation of law, the company shall be liable only for the premium actually paid hereon. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations, and not warranties. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon the company at any time while this policy is in force will loan upon the proper assignment of said policy, and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest which will not exceed six per cent per annum, a sum equal to or at the option of the owner hereof, less than, the reserve hereon at the end of the current policy year. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and will collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year; said loan may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days after application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at date of default.

LOANS WITHOUT REQUEST OF INSURED.—If any premium hereon shall not be paid when due, and if no other surrender option has been chosen by the insured within the month of grace, the company will, without request on the part of the insured, charge the amount then due hereunder as a loan against the policy, with interest in advance at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, if the loan hereon at date of default is sufficient to secure all indebtedness hereunder with interest. If the premium is so charged, this policy will be continued in force the same in all respects as though said loan had been requested by the insured. The same benefit will be applied from time to time as the premiums become due hereunder and are not paid, as long as the balance of the loan value hereon at the last date of default is sufficient to pay for one day's insurance on a pro-rata basis. Notice of such loans will be mailed to the insured when made, and said insured may resume the payment of premiums hereon at any time without medical re-examination while the policy is so continued in force. The indebtedness hereon may be repaid wholly or in part in cash, or may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy. In any settlement of the policy the indebtedness to the company hereon shall be a first lien in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy may be surrendered to the company within the month of grace, and the insured shall upon request be entitled to one of the following options:

(1) CASH.—A cash payment equal to the loan value hereon at the date of default, and said cash payment shall be equal to the amount otherwise applicable to the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance.

(2) PAID-UP INSURANCE.—A paid-up policy payable at the same time, and under the same conditions as this policy.

(3) EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Extended insurance for the full amount of this policy. The amounts of the loan or cash values and paid-up insurance and the term of the extended insurance are shown in column one, two and three, respectively, of the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values shown herein and are equal or equivalent to the full reserve hereon at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The value of any overdue and unpaid coupons with interest thereon, to the credit of this policy at date of default, will be paid to the insured in cash upon selection by said insured of one of the above three options, and will be applied to increase the loan value hereon if loans are made by the company without the request of the insured. Additional values not shown in the table will be allowed for parts of a policy year's premiums paid for, and the values for later years not shown in the table will be equal or equivalent to the full reserve on the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—If, in event of default in any premium payments hereon, the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance or extended insurance, and if such paid-up insurance or extended insurance shall be in force and this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company for its cash surrender value and been canceled, the policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premiums with compound interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. The indebtedness hereon if not greater than the loan at the date of reinstatement may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy.

METHOD OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face amount of this policy unless otherwise requested by the insured will be payable in one sum immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of said insured. The insured may, however, change the method of payment to annual instalments for a limited term of years, or during the lifetime of the beneficiary, as explained in the table shown on the fourth page hereof.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—The benefits provided on page one hereof for disability shall become null and void after the period for the payment of premiums hereunder, or if upon default in the payment of any premium, paid-up insurance or extended insurance has been requested by the insured and is in force. The total and permanent disability referred to must be such that there is neither then nor at any time thereafter any work, occupation or profession that the insured can sufficiently do or follow to earn or obtain any wages, compensation or profit. The insured must furnish from time to time evidence satisfactory to the company of continued total and permanent disability, and if the insured shall recover from such total disability sufficiently to earn or obtain any wages, compensation or profit, the insured shall resume payment of premiums on the next succeeding due date of premium. The instalments already paid shall not in such case be an indebtedness against the policy.

METHOD OF CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—At any time while this policy is in force, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy filed at the home office of the company as herein provided, may designate a new beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy by filing such request at the home office upon the form of the company for this purpose, accompanied by the policy for endorsement thereon. Such change shall become effective only when said endorsement is made on the policy by the company, whereon the rights of any former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If no beneficiary hereunder is living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of the policy will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—This policy may be assigned by the insured, but no such assignment shall be binding upon the company until a duplicate copy therefor has been filed at the home office of the company, which shall not be responsible for the legality of any assignment, and any claim hereunder by an assignee shall be subject to proof of assignment and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company hereon will be deducted in any settlement hereunder upon the death of the insured or in the payment of any other benefit. If this policy shall lapse and there shall be an indebtedness hereon, the said indebtedness will be deducted from the cash value of the policy at date of default, and the balance will be (a) paid to the insured in cash, or (b) applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance, or (c) applied to extend the face amount of the insurance hereunder, at the option of said insured, and said values shall be calculated upon the same basis as the values herein shown in the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values.

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—It is understood and agreed that the insured may obtain every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon said insured by this policy, without the consent of the beneficiary.

CONSIDERATION.—The consideration for this policy is the application herefor, which is made a part of this contract and a copy of which application is attached hereto or endorsed thereon, and the payment in advance of an annual premium of three hundred eighty-three dollars and forty cents for term insurance for the year ending on the twelfth day of January, 1911, and the payment of a like sum on or before the twelfth day of January in every year thereafter until full premiums have been duly paid for twenty years from the date hereof, or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, the American National Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary, this twelfth day of January, 1910.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured. The amount of each instalment will be increased by such profits as the company may assign to policies of this class.

Number of instalments	25	*20	19	18	17	16	15	14	13	12

* ILLUSTRATION.—If payment is to be made by twenty instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $68 for each $1000 of proceeds.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—Twenty annual instalments at least to be paid, but instalments to continue during entire lifetime of beneficiary. The amount of each instalment will be increased by such profits as the company may assign to policies ofthis class. (Payments by continuous instalments cannot be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy.)

Amount of each instalment	$64	$65	$66	$67

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $48 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt and approval of the proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office, during the lifetime of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that, if I shall die outside the limits of the United States or Europe, during the first year of any policy issued by the company on this application as a basis therefor, that the liability of the company on any such policy shall be restricted to the amount of premium paid thereon. I hereby further represent and agree that the statements made by me in this application are full, complete and literally true. I hereby also agree that any policy issued hereon shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my insurability. I have not been declined or postponed, or been refused reinstatement of a lapsed policy, by any life company or been limited to a policy different in form, premium rate, or any other respect whatever, from the one originally applied for, nor have I been intemperate, or had any serious illness or disease, except diseases incident to childhood, and there is no history of consumption or insanity or other hereditary disease in my family, i. e., among parents, brothers or sisters, uncles or aunts, except as herein stated.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

American National Life of Virginia.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—TWENTY YEAR DISTRIBUTION.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $367.30. AGE, 35.

American National Life Insurance Company of Lynchburg, Va., hereby insures the life of Thomas Jefferson (hereinafter called the insured), and upon receipt of due proof of death of the said insured, while this policy is in force, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Martha Skelton Jefferson, his wife, if living, if not living, to the insured's executors, administrators or approved assigns, at its home office in the city of Lynchburg, Va., subject to the privileges and conditions stated on the succeeding pages hereof, which shall form a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be signed by its authorized officers at Lynchburg, Va., this first day of June, A.D., 1910.

STATE OF VIRGINIA.—State treasurer's office. I do hereby certify, that the American National Life Insurance Company, Inc., of Lynchburg, Va., has deposited with me, as treasurer, securities the market value of which is in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), for the protection of its policyholders throughout the United States.

This policy is non-forfeitable, without the consent of the insured, except as herein provided.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

APPLICATION AND PREMIUM.—This policy is issued in consideration of the written and printed application therefor, and of the sum of three hundred and sixty-seven and $^{30}/_{100}$ dollars, constituting the premium hereon for the period terminating on the first day of June, 1911, payable annually on the first day of June, and this policy will be renewed and extended thereafter as a limited payment life policy upon the further payment of three hundred and sixty-seven and $^{30}/_{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of June in each year thereafter until premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years from date hereof.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable except for fraud.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—One month's grace, without interest, will be allowed for the payment of all premiums under this policy, after the first, during which time this policy will continue in force.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums under this policy, whether payable annually, or as semi-annual or quarterly instalments thereof, shall be due and payable at the home office in the city of Lynchburg, Va., but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for the official receipt, signed by the secretary and countersigned by such agent.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is in force and not then assigned, the insured may, at any time, change the beneficiary by filing at the home office of the company a written request accompanied by this policy; such change shall take effect upon its endorsement hereon by the company, whereupon the policy will be returned to the insured.

OCCUPATION, RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy is absolutely free of conditions as to residence, occupation and travel, habits of life or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

ASSIGNMENTS.—This policy may be assigned by the insured, subject to an insurable interest of the proposed assignee in the life of the insured. Any assignment under this policy must be made in writing in duplicate, upon blanks to be furnished by the company, and both copies sent to the home office of the company. After registration, one copy will be returned to the insured. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within five years after lapse for non-payment of premiums, by the payment of overdue premiums with simple interest at six per cent and upon the insured's furnishing evidence of health satisfactory to the company; except, that within the last two years of any dividend accumulation period, this policy will not be restored if it has then been continued as "optional extended insurance" or as "paid up insurance" for a period of more than three years.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE.—This policy shall not lapse for the non-payment of any premium after it has been in force two full years if at the due date of such premium the loan value of this policy shall exceed the amount of said premium. In such event, provided the insured has not made written request within one month of the default in payment of any premium for one of the options set forth in "table of guarantees" on third page hereof, the company without request will treat the premium then due as paid, unless any indebtedness already against the policy, together with the premium, shall exceed the said loan value, and the amount of such premium with compound interest from its actual due date at five per cent per annum shall be a first lien in the company's favor upon the value of this policy, or the loan with accrued interest may be allowed to stand as a lien against a final settlement and the insured again take up his premium-payments without medical re-examination. If the accumulated indebtedness at any time exceeds the loan value as above, then this policy shall lapse and become void but may be reinstated as per "reinstatement" clause next above.

SPECIAL DISABILITY CLAUSE.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured shall become wholly and permanently disabled by reason of bodily injury or disease, so as to be prevented thereby, for life, from pursuing any and all occupations, and shall furnish satisfactory proof of the fact to the company, then the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, all values herein shall increase in like manner as if premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured should eventually recover, so as to be able to engage in any occupation for wages or profit, the obligation on his part to make payment of premiums in accordance with this contract shall be revived, but only from date of recovery, with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained herein.

GUARANTEES.

LOANS.—At any time after this policy has been in force one full year, the company will advance upon the security of this policy alone the sum specified in column "loan values" in table of guarantees hereunder. Application for any loan must be made in writing to the home office of the company; the amount of loan available at any time must include premiums for the succeeding policy year, and any other indebtedness to the company then unpaid. Interest will be charged at the rate of five per cent per annum in advance. Failure to repay any such advance or interest shall not make this policy void, unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value* of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

CASH VALUE.—At the end of the third or any subsequent policy year, and within one month after default in payment of any premium in accordance with the terms hereof upon written request to the company this policy, if not then assigned, may be surrendered and the insured shall receive in cash the amount set forth in column "cash values" in table of guarantees hereunder, opposite the number of full years paid; less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon.

PAID UP INSURANCE.—At the end of the third or any subsequent policy year, and within one month after default in payment of any premium in accordance with the terms hereof, upon written request to the company, this policy, if not then assigned, will be endorsed for the amount of paid-up insurance* (non-participating) specified in the column "paid-up insurance" in table of guarantees hereunder opposite the number of full years paid: if there be any existing indebtedness hereunder the paid-up insurance will be reduced in the proportion that said indebtedness bears to the cash value of this policy.

OPTIONAL NON-FORFEITURE.—At the end of the third or any subsequent policy year, and within one month after default in payment of any premium in accordance with the terms hereof, upon written request of the insured, the company will grant term insurance* (non-participating) for the full amount insured under this policy, for the number of years and months specified in the table of guarantees hereunder, opposite the number of full years paid. If there be any outstanding indebtedness hereunder the term insurance will be reduced in the proportion said indebtedness bears to the cash value of this policy.

DIVIDEND ACCUMULATION BENEFITS.—This policy participates in the surplus of the company. If the insured be living and this policy in force on the first day of June 1930, the company will pay to the insured, or his assigns, a cash dividend consisting of the policy's full share of divisible surplus, as may be determined by the company, and this policy may then be continued or surrendered by the insured or his assigns under one of the following options: (1) Receive the entire cash value, consisting of the guaranteed cash value as shown in the table above, and in addition thereto the accumulated dividends apportioned by the company, and discontinue the policy; or (2) receive the entire cash value, converted into a policy paid-up for life (subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company for any excess in paid-up insurance over the amount of the original policy), and discontinue the policy; or (3) receive the accumulated dividends, converted into a paid-up addition to the policy (subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company) and continue the policy; or (4) receive the accumulated dividends converted into equal annual reductions of succeeding premiums, and continue the policy; or (5) receive the accumulated dividends in cash, and continue the policy in accordance with the terms of the contract. If the insured or the legal holder of this policy does not make a choice and notify the company within sixty days after the completion of the accumulation period, the company may apply the surplus in accordance with either of the above options. If this policy is continued beyond the accumulation period the divisible surplus will be apportioned every five years thereafter during the entire lifetime of the insured, or so long as this contract is in force.

General Conditions.—(1) This policy and the application therefor, together with the written declarations made by the applicant, shall constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company, which cannot be varied except by endorsement on the policy, signed by the president, secretary or actuary of the company. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. (2) Any lien or indebtedness to the company, including any unpaid premium or instalments of premiums for the current policy year, shall be deducted in making any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder. (3) Due proof of death of the insured shall be furnished the company at its home office on forms furnished by the company, upon receipt of which or within two months thereafter, settlement shall be made. (4) The principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for any distribution of surplus and its determination of the amount apportioned to this policy, shall be accepted by every person who shall have any interest in this policy. (5) Self-destruction by the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract. In the event of such self-destruction the company will pay to the beneficiary any unearned premium hereon. (6) If the age of the insured is incorrectly stated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the insurance which the actual premium would have purchased at the true age of the insured. (7) It is agreed that the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and a half per cent per annum shall be used in computing the net value of this policy, and the paid-up insurance and optional term insurance referred to above. (8) The failure to pay any premium, or any note, or interest upon any note given for any premium or part of a premium, on or before the day upon which such premium note or interest becomes due, shall avoid and nullify this policy without action on the part of the company, or notice to the insured or beneficiary, and all payments made upon this policy shall be deemed earned as premiums during its currency, except as provided in the automatic non-forfeiture clause on second page hereof.

Instalment Privileges.—The insured may, during his lifetime, and if this policy be not then assigned, change the method in which payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim shall be made to the beneficiary from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page hereof, to payment by annual instalments, as here stated, provided the amount of such proceeds is one thousand dollars or more If the amount is less than one thousand dollars, the proceeds will be paid in one sum only. The table opposite is based on proceeds of $1000, and will apply pro rata to this policy. The insured may subsequently change his selection under the instalment privileges at his option; or he may revoke any previous selection and again make the policy payable in one sum. Any selection, change or revocation must be requested in writing by the insured, and shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt and approval of proofs of death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter on succeeding anniversaries. If the beneficiary should die before all instalments have been duly paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. At the time any instalment is due, if the company shall have been so instructed in writing by the insured the remaining instalments, if any, may be commuted at the rate of three per cent per annum, compound interest, and the equivalent value withdrawn in one sum.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

Amicable Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $318.60. AGE, 35.

Amicable Life Insurance Company, of Waco, Tex., promises to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company, in Waco, Tex., as follows: To beneficiary Mary Doe, wife of the insured, with right of revocation, immediately upon receipt of due proof of death, during the continuance of this policy, of insured John Doe, of Waco, State of Texas.

This insurance is granted in consideration of three hundred eighteen and $^{6}/_{100}$ dollars, being the first premium for insurance to May 16, 1912, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and in further consideration of three hundred eighteen and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars, to be paid on May 16, 1912, and of a like amount on the sixteenth day of May in each year until the death of the insured, or until premiums, including the first, shall have been paid for twenty full years; or, the insured may at the time any premium falls due pay, in lieu of an annual premium, a semi-annual premium of one hundred sixty-five and $^{74}/_{100}$ dollars, or a quarterly premium of eighty-four and $^{43}/_{100}$ dollars, and such premium will continue the insurance in force for the time for which paid. This policy takes effect on May 16, 1911, and the insurance years, and all subsequent provisions for cash loans, cash values, paid-up and automatic extended insurance are computed from that date.

This insurance is granted in further consideration of the agreements and provisions written and printed by the company on the following pages which are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Amicable Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, this sixteenth day of May, 1911.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, and at the end of the tenth year and thereafter are equal to the full reserve according to the foregoing standard. The values for the succeeding years will be extended upon request, and will be the full reserve according to said standard.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, at any time while this policy is in force, the company will loan, upon execution of a proper loan agreement by the insured, and on a proper assignment and delivery of this policy to the company, and on the sole security thereof, a sum not exceeding the amount at the end of the current contract year named in the above table under the head of "cash or loan value," at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum payable in advance. The company may deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness against the policy, and may defer such loan for not exceeding six months after application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value, as shown in the table above named.

NON-FORFEITURE.—In event of default of any premium payment, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the company will, subject to the other conditions of this policy, grant the following option:

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Extend automatically as a term policy the amount insured by this policy for the time named in the above table under the head of "extended insurance." In lieu of such extended insurance, in event of default of any premium payment, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, this policy being in force and all premiums having been duly paid, the company will, upon surrender to it of this policy at its home office within one month from date of such default in premium payment, grant one of the following options:

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Paid-up insurance payable at death for the sum named in the above table under the head of "paid-up life insurance," the policyholder releasing any further claims hereunder; or,

CASH VALUE.—Cash surrender value for the amount named in the above table under the head of "cash or loan value," the policyholder releasing any further claims hereunder, and payment of such cash surrender value may be deferred by the company for not more than six months after application therefor has been made. Any indebtedness existing against this policy at date of such default, shall correspondingly reduce all values given in the table above.

DISABILITY.—If after two annual premiums have been fully paid in cash and while there is and has been no default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof, subsequently becoming due, the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall and whenever required furnish proofs satisfactory to the company that he has been, prior to attaining the age of sixty, totally disabled and that he probably will be permanently and continuously totally disabled for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations by reason of bodily injuries or disease, the company will agree in writing endorsed on this policy to pay all the premiums of the insured during the continuance of such total disability, and in such event the cash loan and surrender values as given above shall increase in like manner as if the premiums were paid in cash by the insured. If, however, the insured shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation for wages or profit during the premium paying period, the obligation on his part to pay the premiums in accordance with this policy shall immediately recommence, but only from the date of such recovery, with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained herein. The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the insured's person in case of injury or disease and so often as it requires.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest and extent thereof.

AUTHORITY.—No one on behalf of the company has any power or authority to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, to grant credit, or to extend the time for paying any premium, or to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or by making or receiving any representation or information, as such powers can only be exercised in writing by the president or secretary of the company at its home office, and shall not be delegated.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured has the right, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, to receive any benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. The right of revocation having been reserved, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy made as herein provided, may, while this policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

CONTRACT.—This contract shall, at all times and places, be held to have been made at Waco, Texas, and shall in all respects be determined in accordance with the laws of said State.

GRACE.—A grace of one month, during which this policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum; and if death occurs within the one month of grace, the overdue premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. This policy shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums if two years shall have elapsed from its date, provided, that in case of the death of the insured by his own hand while sane or insane within one year from the date of this policy, the company's liability shall be limited to the amount of the premiums paid hereon; and provided further, that if the insured shall enter or be engaged in any military or naval service in time of war, without a written permit therefor issued by the company, no claim shall exist under this policy, except for the net premiums paid hereunder as calculated according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including loans and interest accumulation, and any balance of the policy year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder.

PREMIUMS.—The first year's premium only may be paid to the agent. All subsequent premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company without notice. However, such subsequent premiums may be paid to an authorized agent of the company before the date when due, but only in exchange for an official receipt signed by the secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated on such receipt. Upon failure to pay a premium on or before the date when due, or any note or other obligation given therefor this policy shall thereupon cease without any action or notice by the company, and all rights shall be forfeited to the company, except as herein provided. Notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereon, is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Notice of premiums becoming due is sent to the insured as a matter of accommodation, but the company assumes no responsibility for the failure to send or the miscarriage or non-delivery of any notice.

PROOFS OF DEATH.—Proofs of death and validity of the claim must be furnished the company at its home office on the company's forms, within one year after the death of the insured. No suit or action under this policy against the company shall be valid unless brought within two years from the time when the right of action first accrues.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—If in the event of default in premium payments, the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of other insurance, and if such other insurance shall be in force and this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, this policy may be re-instated within three years from the date of such default, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured in the application for this policy and to the medical examiner shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance. The reserve on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method, with any modification thereof required by the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered, and the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, for purposes of policy valuation and calculation of premiums and loans and surrender value benefits.

INSTALMENTS.—The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust to secure a guaranteed annual income. The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust with the company for one of the following purposes: (1) To pay to the insured as annuitant if the proceeds become payable during his lifetime, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years according to the accompanying tables; or, (2) to pay to the insured as annuitant during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum; such proceeds or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant; or, (3) to pay the beneficiary as annuitant, from the time when the proceeds are payable, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (4) to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant.

If the trust is created by the insured for the benefit of the beneficiary, the beneficiary cannot assign or commute the payments of life or limited income, nor, if the proceeds are placed in trust subject to interest, withdraw such proceeds or anticipate the interest unless such right is given by the insured in writing and is indorsed upon this policy by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. If the trust is created by the insured for his own benefit, the insured may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. If the trust is created by the beneficiary, the beneficiary may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest.

No trust agreement shall be created or take effect other than by a writing subscribed by the company at its home office and by the person creating such trust. Where a trust is revoked and a new one is not created, and no other provision is made for the proceeds of the insurance, payment shall be made as directed in the contract.

LIMITED INCOME.—Annual income limited to one of the number stated below; any number from five to thirty may be selected.

If the annuitant shall die before receiving all of the payments of life or limited income the remainder thereof shall be made thereafter to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the annuitant; or if the proceeds are subject to an annual interest only such proceeds or any part thereof remaining with the company shall be paid to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the annuitant.

The first payment of life or limited income shall be made as follows: Upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or upon the creation of the trust where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or where the trust is created by the beneficiary. The first payment of interest shall be made one year from the date of the receipt of due proof of death, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or one year from the date of the creation of the trust, where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or the trust is created by the beneficiary.

LIFE INCOME.—Annual income to be paid for at least twenty-five years, but to continue during entire lifetime ot insured or beneficiary as the case may be.

* If the annuitant is thirty years of age, last birthday, when the proceeds of the policy are payable, the amount of each annual income will be $47 for each $1,000 of the proceeds of the policy, payable during the entire lifetime of the annuitant; but if the annuitant should die before at least twenty-five annual incomes shall have been paid, the remainder of such twenty-five annual incomes will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree as follows: (1) That I will accept the policy if issued as applied for, but the same shall not take effect until this application, which I agree to complete by submitting promptly to such medical examination as is required by the company, has been accepted by the company at its home office, and the first premium shall have been paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent during my lifetime and continued good health. (2) That no contract of insurance shall be valid if, during the first year following its date, I engage in any of the following extra hazardous occupations: Handling dynamos or live electric light wires, blasting, mining, sub-marine operations, æronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of highly inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or track as fireman, brakeman, freight conductor or trackman, or in switching, or in coupling or uncoupling cars, or as seaman on any steam or other vessel, unless written permission is first expressly granted by the company. (3) That any physician may, at any and all times, disclose any information heretofore or hereafter in any way acquired concerning any question arising under any of my statements or answers for such contract of insurance. I have read the above questions and answers of this application, also the conditions of a sample policy of the kind above described for which I am hereby applying, and I agree that inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of the company have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to the authorized agent soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be in writing upon this application in the space below following "special instructions."

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5000.

Anchor Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.50. AGE, 35.

The Anchor Life Insurance Company by this contract of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars and in addition thereto the cash value of any coupons due and unpaid, at the home office of the company, in Indianapolis, Ind., as follows: To the beneficiary, Mary Doe, wife of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured and of the interest of the claimant, during the continuance of this contract The insured, William Doe, of Indianapolis, county of Marion, State of Indiana.

GUARANTEED ANNUAL REDUCTION IN PREMIUMS.—Upon the payment of the second and each succeeding annual premium, the company guarantees to credit to this policy an amount as evidenced by the attached coupons. These amounts may, as they fall due, be used in accordance with any one of the following options: (1) Withdrawn in cash. (2) Used in the payment of premiums. (3) Used to purchase paid-up additions to this policy. This option is subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company for any paid-up additions which will cause the amount payable at death to exceed the face of this policy. (4) Remain attached to this policy. In which case they shall improve at three and one-half per cent interest for each full year compounded annually and shall be withdrawable on demand. After the payment of fifteen full years' premiums in cash, the company guarantees, upon surrender of this policy, to deliver to the insured a fully paid-up policy for an amount equal to the face of this policy, provided all coupons remain attached under option four and are surrendered with the policy.

PREMIUMS ON THIS POLICY WILL BE PAID BY THE COMPANY IF THE INSURED IS PERMANENTLY DISABLED:—After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has been wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this contract, and the cash, loan and other values of this contract in the schedule as given hereinafter shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. In the event of total and permanent disability, as above, the insured may elect, in lieu of the option above mentioned, to receive one year from the receipt of satisfactory proofs of such total and permanent disability, one twentieth of the face of this contract in cash, and the further payment of a like amout upon each succeeding anniversary, until twenty annual instalments shall have been paid. Should the insured die during the period mentioned, the remainder of the instalments shall be payable in like manner to the beneficiary named herein. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums or the remainder of the annual instalments of the face of this contract shall cease, and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums on the first premium due date following such recovery.

STATE OF INDIANA.—OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE.

I, , auditor of State of the State of Indiana, do hereby certify that the Anchor Life Insurance Company, with principal office at Indianapolis Ind., has fully complie with the provisions of an act of the general assembly of the State of Indiana, entitled "an act for the incorporation of life insurance companies on either the stock or mutual plan * * *," approved March 10, 1899, and is duly incorporated under said act, as a stock company with $100,000 capital stock. I further certify that said company has now on deposit with my office, securities as prescribed by said act for the security and benefit of its policyholders. I further certify that said company is authorized to transact the business of life insurance in this State.

This policy contains the standard provisions required by the law of the State of Indiana.

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS CONTRACT.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which this contract shall remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy, which, with the application therefor, constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue for the amount due, provided premiums have been duly paid, and there has been no violation of provisions relating to suicide or military and naval service in time of war. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be that which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—Should the insured fail to pay the second or any subsequent premium hereon without having exercised any of the several options set forth below, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, gran the third option (extended insurance) as set forth below.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time upon application of the insured, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, the approval of the president, and the payment of all arrears due, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may at any time, and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are endorsed upon the policy, at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured.

LOANS.—After this policy shall have been in force one full year, the company will, within six months after written request, loan up to the amount stated in the cash loan column of the table endorsed hereon for the end of the last preceding year for which complete annual premiums have been paid, with interest in advance at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum; provided: (1) That this policy be duly assigned to the company as collateral security for such loan; (2) that the amount of loan availableshall include any previous loan or other unpaid indebtedness; (3) that the premiums must be fully paid to the end of the current policy year; (4) failure to repay such loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such default nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignees, if any.

YEARLY SURRENDER OPTIONS.—All premiums having been fully paid in cash, and this policy being free from indebtedness, the insured, upon surrender and cancellation thereof within thirty days after the second or any subsequent anniversary of its date of issue, will be entitled to one of the following options, the respective values and extensions thereof being shown in the table of values given below. The cash values shown herein are at least equal to the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance. Provided: That in any settlement hereunder any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall first be deducted from the net value of the option selected and the balance paid in cash or applied as a net single premium upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, to purchase paid-up or extended insurance. First option: Cash. Second option: Paid-up insurance. Third opiton: Extended insurance. The election of the second or third option will be evidenced by the issuance of a new policy in lieu of this policy.

This policy is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and the reserve computed upon that basis. Values for years subsequent to the twentieth shall be the full reserve. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

SETTLEMENT OPTIONS.—If this policy is in full force twenty years from date hereof, the insured may take in settlement thereof any one of the following options: If all coupons remain attached under option four: (1) A paid-up policy for $13,480, or (2) a cash payment of $7,638 $^{10}/_{100}$, or (3) an annuity of $594 $^{70}/_{100}$, or (4) a paid-up policy for $10,000, and a cash payment of $1,978 $^{10}/_{100}$. The first option is subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company.

If coupons have been withdrawn: (1) A paid-up policy for $10,000, or (2) a cash payment of $5,660, or (3) an annuity of $441 $^{30}/_{100}$. If a part of the coupons remain attached and a part are withdrawn, the above values will be proportionately increased.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, by written request on the company's form, may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim, provided the policy is in force and has not been assigned, from payment in one sum as provided on the first page hereof, to payment by annual instalments as provided in the following table: For each $1000 payable in one sum, $1,059.95 will be paid in 5 instalments of $211.99 each, or $1,138.20 will be paid in 10 instalments of $113.82 each, or $1,219.95 will be paid in 15 instalments of $81.33 each, or $1,305.20 will be paid in 20 instalments of $65.26 each, or $1,394 will be paid in 25 instalments of $55.76 each, or any of the above annual instalments will be paid in monthly instalments if desired.

General Provisions.—(1) Premiums are due and payable annually in advance, but after the first year may be paid semi-annually or quarterly, at the home office of the company, or may be paid to an agent of the company upon delivery of receipts signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent. If any premium, cash loan or interest thereon be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company except as herein provided. (2) Proof of the fact and cause of death must be furnished to the company at its home office not later than three years after the death of the insured, on the company's blanks furnished for that purpose, which proofs shall comprise satisfactory statements establishing the claim. (3) In case of death from service in war without permission from the company, the full reserve for this policy at the time of such death only will be paid. (4) Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder. (5) This policy may be assigned upon written approval of the president or secretary, but the company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment. (6) Only the president, vice-president or secretary has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time of paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above. (7) All statements made by the insured in the application herefor shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.]

This policy is issued in consideration of the printed and written application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and the payment in advance of three hundred eighty-three and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars, for one year's term insurance, and will be renewed upon the further payment of a like amount at the home office of the company, on or before the nineteenth day of December in every year thereafter, until twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid.

In witness whereof, the Anchor Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its duly authorized officers, at its home office in the city of Indianapolis, Ind., this nineteenth day of December, 1910.

Coupons provide for reduction of premiums in successive years as follows: $39.10; $43.20; $47.40; $51.60; $55.80; $60; $64.20; $68.40; $72.60; $76.80; $81; $85.10; $89.30; $93.50; $97.70; $101.90; $106.10; $110.30 and $114.50.

Agreement in Application.

As a further consideration for the issuance of this insurance, I represent and agree that the statements, answers and agreements stated herein, and the statements, answers and agreements made in Part 2 of this application, all of which shall be a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, are full, true and complete, otherwise this insurance shall be void. For myself and all persons who shall have any interest therein, I agree that the policy shall be construed as a contract made and to be performed in the State of Indiana; that there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been issued and delivered to me when in good health, and the first premium then paid to said company; that engaging in handling electric wires or dynamos, making or using explosives, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, coupling or switching cars, employment on any steam or sailing vessel, or railroad train or engine, except as passenger or sleeping-car conductor, within one year from the date of the policy, without the written consent of the company, shall work a forfeiture of all rights under the policy issued hereon; that all premiums due on the policy are payable annually in advance, but may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance, according to the company's rate therefor; that self-destruction sane or insane, or death in the violation of a law, within one year from date of policy, are risks not assumed by the company in the contract, but in such cases the company will pay the amount of the premium actually paid hereon; that the delivery and acceptance of the policy herein applied for, and the payment of the first premium thereon, shall constitute an acceptance of the contract and of all its conditions.

* Adopted January 1, 1912.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5000.

Baltimore Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $350. AGE, 35.

Twenty-four hours after death and upon receipt by it, at its home office, of due proof of said death of George Dalton, hereinafter called "the insured," the Baltimore Life Insurance Company of Baltimore, Md., hereinafter called "the company," promises, subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, to pay to Louise Dalton (wife), hereinafter called "the beneficiary," or to whomsoever may be designated as such in accordance with the conditions hereof the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Provided, the company receives on account hereof the annual premium in advance of three hundred and fifty dollars on or before the first day of January in every year for twenty full years from the date hereof or until the death of the insured, should the insured die within twenty years from said date, the first of said premiums being due on the date hereof.

The conditions set forth on the reverse side hereof are the conditions above referred to, subject to which the above contract is made, and are a part of this contract as fully as if herein again set forth.

In testimony whereof, the said The Baltimore Life Insurance Company of Baltimore, Md., has hereto affixed its corporate seal and the president and secretary thereof have signed and delivered this policy.

CONDITIONS REFERRED TO AS A PART OF THE WITHIN CONTRACT.

1. After one year, this policy is incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums but in case of misstatement of age it is subject to adjustment as hereinafter provided.

2. During the continuance of this policy the insured may reside anywhere, travel anywhere, and engage in any peaceful and legal occupation, without permit from the company, and without affecting his rights hereunder.

3. A grace of thirty days, during which the policy remains in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums. No interest upon such overdue payments will be charged, if payment be made within the thirty days aforesaid.

4. This policy, together with the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, is the entire contract between the company and the insured hereunder, and the truth of each of the statements in said application is a condition precedent to the liability of the company hereunder.

5. The death of the insured by his or her own hand, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, is not within the risk covered by this policy, and in case thereof nothing shall be due the beneficiary hereunder.

6. This policy shall not be forfeited by any misrepresentation as to the age of insured, but the burden of proving said age shall be upon the beneficiary, and the amount payable under this policy shall be such amount as the premium charged would have purchased according to the company's rates in use at the date hereof for the insured's true age. The age of the insured will, however, be admitted by the company in writing, upon request, and upon due proof furnished by the insured during his or her lifetime.

7. The insured may at any time change the beneficiary hereunder by designating the substituted beneficiary upon the company's form of change of beneficiary and filing the same at their home office, and having the name of such substituted beneficiary entered as such upon the books of the company and endorsed upon this policy, whereupon the rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease, or if the beneficiary under this policy shall die before the insured, the interest of the beneficiary hereunder shall cease immediately, and the amount of this policy will be paid to the estate of the insured.

8. All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Baltimore, Md., but will be accepted when paid to agents of the company in exchange for its receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the agent. Such receipts only will be recognized as evidence of payment of premium, and oral evidence of such payments is not admissible in any case.

9. Proofs of death must be furnished upon the forms prescribed by the company and accompanied by such affidavits as may by said company be deemed necessary.

10. No suit or action at law or in equity shall be maintained to enforce the performance of this contract until thirty days shall have expired after the filing in the principal office of the company of the proof of death, nor unless such suit or action be commenced within two years next after the decease of the insured, and it is expressly agreed that should any such suit or action be commenced after the expiration of said two years the lapse of time shall be deemed conclusive evidence against the validity of such claim, the benefit of any statute of limitation to the contrary being hereby expressly waived.

11. From the amount due under this policy all indebtedness due the company, together with the balance, if any, of the year's premiums, and any premiums overdue in accordance with clause 3 hereof, shall be first deducted.

12. Assignments hereof will only be recognized when properly executed upon blanks furnished by the company, signed by the insured and the beneficiary, and filed prior to the death of the insured in the company's home office.

13. This contract cannot be altered except by endorsement hereon in writing signed by the president or vice-president of the company.

14. After the premiums upon this policy have been promptly paid for three successive years, the insured may borrow the full amount of the cash value of this policy at the end of the year to which premiums are paid by assigning this policy (the beneficiary joining in such assignment) to the company as collateral, and paying interest upon the amount of the loan, in advance, at the rate of six per cent per annum.

15. If after premiums for three full years shall have been promptly paid to the company there shall be default in the payment of any premium, the company agrees and guarantees the insured the following options based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. Paid-up additions on the same basis will increase the said values, either

16. If this policy should default in premium payments it may be reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default unless the cash value has been duly paid either to the insured or to liquidate a loan hereon or unless the extension period has expired, upon production of evidence of insurability of the insured hereunder satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy with interest for the full time of default at six per cent per annum.

17. After the expiration of two years from the date hereof, providing this policy is continued in force, the board of directors of the company will pay the insured such dividends as in their judgment shall be justified by the profits made by the company upon its policies in this class, and further dividends will thereafter be paid annually as declared, while the policy is in force. The insured has the option of drawing said dividends in cash, or applying them on account of premium payments, or he may use them for the purchase of paid-up additions hereto.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby certify that I have read all the statements and answers in this application, and warrant and agree that no circumstance or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers, together with this declaration, as well as those made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, are true and shall be the basis of the contract applied for which shall not take effect till the first premium shall have been actually paid on delivery of contract during my life and good health; I further agree that said contract if issued, shall at all times and places be held and construed to have been made at Baltimore, Md.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5,000.

Bankers International Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $319.90. AGE, 35.

The Bankers International Life Assurance Company of Denver, Colo., hereby assures the life of John Doe (the assured) and, upon the receipt of due proofs of the death of said assured while this policy is in force, agrees to pay at its home office in the city of Denver and State of Colorado, ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, unto Mary E. Doe, wife of the assured (the beneficiary), if living, or if no beneficiary is then living, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the assured, subject to the right of the assured to change the beneficiary and subject to the privileges and provisions stated on the following pages hereof, which are hereby made a part of this contract.

DOUBLE INDEMNITY.—The company will pay twenty thousand ($20,000) dollars, in lieu of the sum named above, in the event that the death of the assured under this policy is caused by bodily injuries effected exclusively and wholly by external, violent and accidental means, said death occurring within forty-eight hours after such bodily injuries hereinbefore defined have been received, and during the period for the payment of premiums hereunder.

CONSIDERATION.—This assurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy of which application is either attached hereto or endorsed hereon at date of issue, and the payment to the company in advance of three hundred nineteen dollars and ninety cents for term assurance for one year, beginning on the second day of January, 1912, and ending on the second day of January, 1913, and the payment of an equal amount on or before the second day of January, in every year thereafter, until twenty such annual premiums in all shall have been fully paid, or until the death of the assured.

Denver, Colo., January 2, 1912.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

(Referred to on Page One of this Policy)

LOANS WITHOUT REQUEST OF THE ASSURED.—If any premium hereunder shall not be paid when due, and if no surrender value has been chosen by the assured within the month of grace, the company will, without request on the part of the assured, charge the amount then due hereunder as a loan against the policy, with interest in advance thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, if the loan value hereon at date such premium was due, is sufficient to secure all indebtedness hereunder, with interest. If the premium is so charged this policy will be continued in force the same in all respects as though said loan had been requested by the assured. The same benefit will be applied from time to time as the premiums become due hereunder and are not paid, as long as the balance of the loan value hereunder at the last date of non-payment of premium is sufficient to pay for one day's assurance on a pro rata basis. Notice of such loans will be mailed to the assured when made, and to the assignee, if any is recorded on this policy, and said assured may resume the payment of premiums hereunder at any time, without medical re-examination, while the policy is so continued in force. The indebtedness hereon may be repaid wholly or in part in cash or may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy.

INDEBTEDNESS.—In any settlement under this policy any indebtedness to the company shall be a first lien in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid hereon the company will loan, upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof, a sum not greater than the reserve hereon at the end of the then current policy year, upon payment of premiums to the end of the then current policy year. The total amount of loan available at any time is specified in Column 1 of the table of loan and surrender values herein. Interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum will be payable in advance to the next anniversary of the policy and annually in advance on that date and thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at date of such failure, nor until at least one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the assured and of the assignee, if any is recorded on this policy.

CASH VALUES—PAID-UP ASSURANCE—EXTENDED ASSURANCE.—In case of default in the payment of any premium hereon after three full years' premiums have been paid the assured shall, upon request and surrender of this policy within one month after such default, be entitled, subject to any indebtedness to the company hereon, to (1) a cash value, or (2) paid-up assurance, or (3) extended assurance. The cash values, paid-up assurance and extended assurance are shown in Columns 1, 2 and 3 of the table of loan and surrender values herein, and said values shall be, without exception, equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy at the date of default in payment of any such premium, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

Values for later years not included above will be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve hereon.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from date hereof this policy shall become incontestable. If the age of the assured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age. This policy and the application herefor constitute the entire contract between the company and the assured. All statements made by the assured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used as a defense to a claim hereunder, unless such statement is contained in the written application herefor. If the assured, whether sane or insane, shall suicide during the first policy year, the amount payable hereunder shall be the amount of premiums actually paid hereon.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of all premiums hereunder after the first policy year there will be allowed a grace of one month, without interest, during which time this policy shall remain in full force and effect. If the assured shall die any unpaid premiums for the then current policy year will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After the first policy year premiums hereunder are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in Denver, Colo., but may be paid to agents of the company producing receipts signed by the secretary of the company and countersigned by such agents. On any anniversary of this policy the mode of premium payment will be changed by the company, upon request, from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice-versa, at the premium rates in use by the company at the date of issue hereof. No premium or part thereof shall have the effect of continuing this policy in force longer than for the period covered by such payment, except as otherwise provided herein.

RIGHTS OF THE ASSURED.—The assured may, without the consent of any beneficiary hereunder, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the assured herein.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The assured may, at any time while this policy is in force, without the consent of any beneficiary hereunder, upon written request, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, provided such request is made upon the company's form for this purpose, and is accompanied by this policy and said policy is not then assigned. Such change shall not take effect until the endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if previously surrendered to the company for paid-up or extended assurance as provided herein, may be reinstated at any time, upon written application to the home office at Denver, Colo., and the payment of all indebtedness of the assured to the company, with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, provided proof of assurability satisfactory to the company is forwarded with such application. The company will loan to the assured an amount equal to the free loan value hereon at date of reinstatement.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The assured or the owner or the beneficiary after the death of the assured, in case the assured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the amount payable under this policy upon the death of the assured, paid in accord with one of the benefits shown on page four hereof.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until a duplicate copy thereof upon the company's form has been filed with the company and receipt thereof acknowledged. The company does not assume any responsibility for the legality of any assignment.

ALTERATIONS.—No alterations of any of the privileges and provisions of this policy will be valid unless made in writing and signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the company. No officer other than those stated, and no agent, has the power to make or to modify this or any other contract of assurance of the company, and the company shall not be bound by, nor is it responsible for, any promises or representations made by any person other than the officers named, and then only as stated.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—If the assured, before attaining the age of sixty years and before default in the payment of any renewal premium hereunder, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for profit or from carrying on any gainful occupation, the company will pay for the assured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become due hereon during the continuance of such disability; provided in any such event premiums so paid by the company shall not become an indebtedness on this contract and the cash loans and other values hereof in the table as shown herein shall increase in the same manner as though the premiums were being paid by the assured. The assured shall, however, at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the assured shall fail to furnish such proof, or it shall appear to the company that the assured is able to perform any work or to follow any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the assured shall resume payment of premiums hereon in cash on the first premium due date following such recovery.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—As stated on page three hereof, this policy may be made payable as follows: (1) By the payment of interest equal to three and one-half per cent of such amount, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said amount, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment to be payable immediately, in accordance with the table herewith for each $1000 of said amount.

Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity by the death of the assured. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the assured in making such election, the beneficiary may at any time commute the balance of the unpaid instalments, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the table herewith; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option (3) except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that if, within one year from the date of any policy issued by the Bankers International Life Assurance Company, as a result of this application, I shall travel or reside outside of the Temperate Zone without the written consent of the company or be personally engaged in blasting, mining, submarine operations or aeronautic ascensions, or in the production of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or in handling electric conductors, apparatus or dynamo-electric machinery, or in handling liquors in any way, either as employer or employee, or in switching or coupling or uncoupling cars, or be employed in any capacity on the trains of a railroad, except as passenger or sleeping-car conductor, mail agent, express messenger, or baggage master, or on any steam or other vessel, then and in every such case any policy issued on this application shall be null and void. I also agree that death by my own hand or act, whether sane or insane, or in violation of law, or as a result thereof within one year from the date of any policy issued hereon shall not be a risk assumed by the company for a greater amount than the premium actually paid to the company on said policy. I also agree that any policy issued hereon shall not be binding upon the company until said policy shall have been delivered to me during my lifetime and good health and the amount of premium thereon has been received by said company or its authorized agent. I also further agree that if the answers as written to the questions on this page are or shall hereafter become in any respect untrue the company may at its option cancel the policy hereby applied for within one year from its date by mailing written notice thereof to me or my personal representatives and to the beneficiaries under said policy at their addresses last known to the company and upon condition that the company in such written notice shall offer to repay to me or my personal representatives in trust for the person or persons making the same, all premiums that have been paid upon said policy. I also represent and agree that all the preceding statements and answers are true, full and complete, and are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract to be issued hereon. I also agree that the company may reassure all or any part of any policy issued hereon.

CALIFORNIA NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Agreement in Application.

All the following statements and answers, and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner, in continuation of this application, are true, and are offered to the company as an inducement to issue the proposed policy, which shall not take effect unless and until the first premium shall have been paid, during my continuance in good health, and unless also the policy shall have been issued during my continuance in good health; except in case a binding receipt shall have been issued as hereinafter provided. During the period of one year following the date of issue of the policy of insurance for which application is hereby made, I will not engage in any of the following extra hazardous occupations or employments: retailing intoxicating liquors, handling electric wires or dynamos, blasting, mining, sub-marine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture of highly explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or track or in switching or in coupling cars, or on any steam or other vessel, unless written permission is expressly granted by the company. It is understood and agreed that the risk of death for any amount greater than the premium paid hereon, will not be covered by the policy, provided such death occur by my own act, whether sane or insane, during the period of one year next following the date of issue.

Bankers Life Company (Ia.)

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $349.70. AGE, 35.

Bankers Life Company, of Des Moines, Ia., agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars, upon the surrender of this policy at its home office in the city of Des Moines, Ia., and on receipt of due proof of death of Edward J. Doe, the insured, of Des Moines, county of Polk, State of Iowa, while this policy is in full force to Mary Ann Doe, wife of the insured, if living; otherwise as hereinafter designated with the right of the insured to change the beneficiary.

This policy is issued in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application therefor, and of the payment of three hundred forty-nine and $^{70}/_{100}$ dollars, in advance, and the further payment in advance of the annual premium of three hundred forty-nine and $^{70}/_{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of November, in each year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

The full amount of reserve on this policy, which shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, shall be secured by deposits with the insurance department of the State of Iowa, of interest bearing securities as required by law.

TABLE OF GUARANTEES.

Showing minimum non-forfeiture values at the end of years stated for which premiums shall have been paid in full and in case there be no indebtedness on this policy. Loans may also be obtained during the policy year as set forth in loan clause on page two hereof.

The above named guarantees beyond the twentieth year, if this policy be continued in force, will be based upon the full reserve without any deduction for a surrender charge. If the sum insured is increased by surplus accumulations, the above guarantees will be increased, but any indebtedness placed upon this policy will operate to reduce said guarantees.

This policy is subject to the provisions set forth on the following pages hereof, which form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

Dated at Des Moines, Ia., the first day of November, 1911.

PROVISIONS.

POLICY CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no statement of the insured shall void this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder, unless it is material and is contained in said application. No modification of this contract shall be valid unless signed by the president, vice-president secretary or assistant secretary of the company.

INCONTESTABILITY AGE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, provided however, that if the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age, unless the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered shall prescribe another method of settlement.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof is a risk not assumed by this company, but in such case it will return the premiums actually received on this policy.

OCCUPATION, ETC.—If the death of the insured shall occur within one year from the date of this policy while or as a result of being south of the Tropic of Cancer, or engaged in military or naval service in time of war, without permission of the company, or while or as a result of being personally engaged in retailing intoxicating liquors, blasting, mining, submarine operations, the producing or handling of highly explosive substances, electrical work where the voltage used is over 600, making aerial voyages, switching, coupling or uncoupling cars or working in any capacity, (except as passenger or sleeping car conductor, mail agent, express messenger or baggage-master) on railway trains or on any steamer or any vessel, then in every such case the sum payable under this policy shall be the amount of the premiums received.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Des Moines, Ia., but will be accepted elsewhere if paid to a duly authorized collecting agent in exchange for the company's receipt signed by the president, secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by such agent. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is actually paid and the policy delivered while the insured is in good health and shall then become effective from its date. In case any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy shall cease and determine and all payments made hereon shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise agreed. The premiums are payable annually in advance, but subject to the company's written approval, and not otherwise, may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly payments. The payment of a premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next payment is due, except as hereinafter provided. Any unpaid premiums required to complete the payments for the current policy year in which death occurs, shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

GRACE.—Thirty-one days of grace without interest will be allowed in payment of any premium after the first; the policy to remain in force for its full amount during such period. If death occurs within the period of grace, the unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The original assignment and due proof of interest must be produced when the policy is presented for payment. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy, may while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall pass equally to the survivor or survivors, unless otherwise provided in the policy. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, then payment shall be made to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time within three years after default in payment of any premium, or thereafter by special arrangement, if this policy has not been surrendered to the company, it may be reinstated upon presentation at the home office of evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to and approved by the company, and the payment of all premium arrears with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum and payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness which existed at the time of such default with interest not to exceed six per cent per annum.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of the second policy year if the third annual premium is paid in cash and at the end of each subsequent policy year this policy, while in force, (except as extended insurance) shall be credited with its portion of the divisible surplus as annually determined by the company. Such annual dividend may be used by the insured for any one of the following purposes: (First) Withdrawn in cash or applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (Second) applied to the purchase of participating paid-up additions to the policy; or (Third) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy; or (Fourth) used to convert this policy into a paid-up life policy for its face amount whenever the reserve on this policy, together with the cash value of any dividend additions thereto, less any outstanding indebtedness, shall equal the net single life premium for the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Mortality Table with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; or (Fifth) used to mature this policy, provided there is no indebtedness thereon to the company, as an endowment for its face amount whenever the reserve on this policy together with the cash value of any dividend additions thereto shall equal said amount. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after any dividend is due, the same shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or under such other automatic option as may be required by the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

In event of default in premium payments after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the insured shall have the following options:

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(a) Extended insurance. Without any action on the part of the insured, the insurance will be automatically extended from date of default in premium payments, without participation in surplus, for a sum equal to the face amount of the policy and existing dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The term of extended insurance will be such as the cash surrender value hereinafter provided for will purchase at net single premium rates, according to the attained age of the insured. (See table of guarantees on the first page hereof.)

PAID-UP VALUE.—(b) Paid-up insurance. Upon the written request of the insured and assigns, if any, prior to the expiration of the thirty-one days' grace and the surrender of this policy to the company, it will issue a paid-up participating policy, payable as herein provided. The amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash surrender value, hereinafter provided for, will purchase at net single premium rates, according to the attained age of the insured. (See table of guarantees on first page hereof.) The extended insurance or the paid-up policy will be entitled to cash surrender values according to the reserve thereon at the time of surrender, computed upon the basis hereinafter mentioned, less any indebtedness to the company.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE. SURRENDER CHARGE.—(c) Cash value. Within one month from date of default in premium payment, to surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash surrender value, which shall be equal to the entire net reserve on this policy, and dividend additions thereto, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less any indebtedness on the policy and a surrender charge as follows: During the third, fourth and fifth policy years, one per cent of the amount of insurance, and decreasing one-tenth of one per cent annually thereafter until the end of the fourteenth year, after which no surrender charge is made. The payment of such cash value may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made, should the company deem such action necessary. (See table of guarantees on the first page hereof.)

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, except as extended insurance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, will advance at a rate of interest not to exceed six per cent per annum, a sum equal to or at the option of the insured, less than the cash surrender value at the end of the then current policy year as shown in column four of the table of guarantees on the first page hereof, deducting therefrom all indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year and interest in advance to the end of such year on the amount of the loan. Such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or interest shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee if any, on record at the home office of the company.

POLICY CLAIMS.—No action shall be brought against the company under this policy unless proofs of death or application for any other settlement hereunder shall be furnished to the company at its home office not later than one year after the beneficiary has knowledge of such death, nor unless such action is commenced within one year from the time when the right of action accrues. All proofs must be furnished upon blanks supplied by the company. Upon maturity of this policy its legal surrender will be required, and any indebtedness of the insured to the company under this policy will be deducted in any settlement thereunder.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.

AGREEMENT.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force for an amount not less than one thousand dollars and not then assigned, upon request in writing to the home office of the company, may in lieu of payment upon maturity of this policy, of its net proceeds in one sum, substitute payment by instalments as stated under any one of the following options, provided there shall be but one beneficiary hereunder.

OPTION 1.—Payment of the face amount of this policy $10,000 in twenty equal annual instalments, (the first instalment payable immediately on due proof of death of the insured) and a further payment of one-half the face amount of the policy $5,000, twenty years after the payment of the first instalment. Any dividend additions in force will increase, and any indebtedness will decrease said instalments.

OPTION 2.—Payment immediately on due proof of the death of the insured, of any part of the net proceeds of the policy, and commencing one year thereafter, payment of the remainder (if not less than $1,000) in 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 equal annual instalments as shown in the following table:

Number of instalments.....	30	25	20	15	10	5
Amount of instalments for each $1,000 remaining....	$ 54.37	$ 60.67	$ 70.36	$ 86.83	$ 120.24	$ 221.48

OPTION 3.—Payment of the net proceeds of the policy in a limited number of instalments (the first instalment payable immediately on due proof of the death of the insured), for the number of years chosen, as shown in the following table:

Number of years chosen.....	30	25	20	15	10	5
Amount of instalments for each $1,000 of net proceeds of the policy.....	$ 52.53	$ 58.62	$ 67.98	$ 83.88	$ 116.17	$ 213.99

UNDER OPTIONS 1, 2 AND 3.—Should the beneficiary die before all instalments are paid, the company will pay the remaining unpaid instalments to the executor, or administrator of said beneficiary as they mature, or, if so directed by said beneficiary in writing, will pay to said executor or administrator the amount unpaid in one sum discounted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

OPTION 4.—Payment of continuous annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary (the first instalment payable immediately on due proof of the death of the insured), of an amount to be determined by the age of the beneficiary at last birthday preceding the death of the insured, as shown by the following table, for each $1,000 of net proceeds of the policy:

Age of beneficiary	10 and 11	12 to 16	17 to 19	20 to 23	24 to 27
Amount of instalment	$ 38	$ 39	$ 40	$ 41	$ 42
Age of beneficiary	28 and 29	30 to 33	34 and 35	36	37 to 40
Amount of instalment	$ 43	$ 44	$ 45	$ 46	$ 47
Age of beneficiary	41 and 42	43 and 44	45 and 46	47 and 48	49 and 50
Amount of instalment	$ 48	$ 49	$ 50	$ 51	$ 52
Age of beneficiary	51 to 53	54 to 56	57 to 60	61 or over.
Amount of instalment	$ 53	$ 54	$ 55	$ 56	$

UNDER OPTION 4.—Should the beneficiary die before twenty-five instalments have been paid, the balance of the twenty-five instalments, remaining unpaid, will be commuted and their present value paid to the executor or administrator of said beneficiary.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments so as to effect payment hereunder during the life of the beneficiary, unless such right is given by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office during the life of the insured.

Should this policy mature as an endowment for not less than $1,000, the insured may, upon written notice as hereinbefore provided, elect to receive the amount in instalments as provided in any one of the foregoing instalment options, subject to their respective terms.

When any option calling for annual payments is elected, a supplementary contract will be issued for the option elected.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby represent that I am temperate in habits, am now in good health and ordinarily have good health; that my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner are true and complete, and correctly recorded; that the statements and answers to the printed questions above, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and be the basis of this contract. I agree that self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one year from the date of the policy, is a risk not assumed by this company, but in such case it will return the premiums actually received. It is agreed that the company shall incur no liability until this application has been received, approved, and the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered and paid for during my lifetime and good health, and shall then take effect from its date, and that the policy shall be in the form now in use by the company.

Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska.

TWENTY-YEAR INDEMNITY AND INVESTMENT BOND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $342. AGE, 35.

The Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska hereby grants an insurance for ten thousand dollars on the life of Robert Roosvelt, of Nebraska City, county of Oku, State of Nebraska, payable to Rebecca Roosvelt, or in the event of her prior death, to her executors, administrators or assigns immediately after the receipt of satisfactory proof of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this contract, at the office of the company in Lincoln, Neb.

This bond is issued in consideration of the representations and agreements made in the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and in the further consideration of the payment of three hundred and forty-two dollars, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, and of the payment of a like sum, on or before the first day of March in each and every year during the continuance of this contract, until payments for twenty full years have been made.

This bond is delivered and accepted subject to the express conditions and mutual agreements printed on the back hereof which are hereby made a part of this contract.

CONDITIONS AND AGREEMENTS REFERRED TO AS A PART OF THIS CONTRACT.

NOTICE.—No person has authority to erase, waive, or modify in any way any of the terms or conditions of this bond.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable at the home office of the company, in Lincoln, Neb., but will be accepted elsewhere, when made in exchange for the company's receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer. The delivery and acceptance of this bond is notice that each and every premium is due and payable at the date named in this bond, and any other or further notice is expressly waived. This policy shall not be in force until the first premium shall be paid, while the insured is in good health, to the company, or to some person authorized by the company to receive it. A failure to pay premiums, or any indebtedness to the company, when due, shall render this contract void, and all payments previously made shall be forfeited to the company, except as hereinafter provided.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three full annual premiums have been paid on this bond, the company will, upon legal surrender thereof by the insured, before default in the payment of any premium, or within three months thereafter, issue a non-participating bond for paid-up insurance, payable as herein provided, for as many twentieths of the amount of this bond, as there shall have been annual premiums paid, provided there is no indebtedness to the company under this contract.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—At the end of five years from the date of this bond, and at the end of any five-year period thereafter, the company will, upon legal surrender thereof, pay to the insured, in cash on demand the full cash value of this bond; which cash value will be the reserve computed on American tables at four per cent interest. Provided that this bond shall be in force and application be made for such cash value within thirty days from the expiration of such period.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If, after three full annual premiums shall have been paid on this contract, and during the lifetime of the insured, it shall cease and become void by the non-payment of any premium when due, the company will, upon the surrender of this bond by the insured within three months after the date of such default, issue a bond for the full amount of this contract for the term shown by the table hereon. No part, however, of such "term insurance" shall be due or payable, unless satisfactory proof of the death of the insured shall be furnished to the company within one year after such death; and if death shall occur during such term, there shall be deducted from the amount payable the sum of all the premiums that would have become due on this bond if it had continued in force.

LOANS.—After the third year, if the premiums have been paid on this bond, the company will loan to the legal holder, at the interest rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance, any amount not exceeding the amount for the corresponding year as shown on the table herein. A proper note or loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured on forms provided by the company, and the policy deposited with the company.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.—If this bond has not been terminated by death, lapse, or surrender, the legal holder shall, at the expiration of twenty years from the date hereof, be entitled to either of the following options of settlement: (First). To surrender this bond and withdraw, in cash, the full cash value, which shall be the full reserve and all accumulated surplus apportioned to this bond, which cash value the company guarantees will not be less than the entire reserve computed on the American tables and four per cent interest. (Second). To withdraw the surplus in cash and continue this bond as a paid-up participating bond for the full face value, entitled to annual cash dividends. (Third). To convert this bond into a paid-up non-forfeitable bond, without participation in profits, payable at death of the insured; provided, that as the amount of the paid-up bond will exceed the amount of this bond, the insured will be required to furnish a satisfactory certificate of good health from one of the company's medical examiners, subject to the approval of the company. (Fourth). To convert the entire cash value into an annuity upon the life of the insured. If no election is made by the holder of this bond, on or before the expiration of the term as above stated, then and in that event this bond will continue as a paid-up participating bond for the amount as stated herein. Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this bond.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this bond will be recognized by the company unless it shall be in writing, and assented to by the company. The insured shall have the right to dispose of this bond to the company without the consent of the person or persons named as beneficiary, if any, and shall also have the right at any time during his lifetime, to change the beneficiary with the consent of the company.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty days will be allowed in payment of subsequent premiums after this bond shall have been in force three months, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, for the number of days during which the premium remains due and unpaid. During the month of grace, this bond remains in force, and the unpaid premium, with interest as above, remains an indebtedness to the company, which will be deducted from the amount payable under this bond if the death of the insured shall occur during the month.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After two years from date of issue, the only conditions which shall be binding upon the holder of this bond are, that the premiums shall be paid when due, and that the requirements of the company, as to military and naval service in time of war, shall be observed.

VALUATIONS.—During the first year succeeding the date of this bond the reserve shall be computed upon the actuary's table of mortality with four per cent interest for the term rate, and for subsequent years such a valuation shall be made, according to said table, as will provide for the benefits and guarantees stipulated in this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby expressly stipulated and agreed: (1) That the above application, together with the statement made to the examining physician, and the report of the examining physician and this declaration, and the policy that may be issued to me, shall be the contract between me and The Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska; and I hereby warrant the same to be full, complete and true, whether written by my own hand or not; this warranty being a condition precedent to, and a consideration for the policy which may be issued hereon. And it is fully understood and agreed, that if any untrue or fraudulent or misleading answers shall be or shall have been made, or if I should neglect or refuse to pay any premium on or before the dates when they shall become due, then, and in that event, the said policy shall become null and void, and all money which shall have been paid shall be forfeited to the company, except as provided in the policy. (2) That said company shall not be liable, under the policy hereby applied for, if my death shall be the result or consequence of violation of law, or while I am resisting or attempting to escape arrest therefor. It is also understood and agreed, that if I shall engage in blasting, submarine labor, aeronautic travel, the manufacture or handling of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or service upon any vessel or railroad, or in any military or naval service in the time of war, without first obtaining the consent of said company in writing, then the policy shall be null and void, and of no effect, except as provided int he policy. (3) That inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of said company, in the city of Lincoln, Neb., have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, and as they act on the written statements and representations referred to, no statements, representations, promises, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on said company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, representations, promises, or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of said company, at the home office, in this application. (4) That in any distribution of surplus or profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by said company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy. (5) And it is agreed that there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium thereon paid while the person proposed for insurance is living and in the same condition of health described in this application.

The provisions and conditions hereinafter stated are hereby made a part of this contract.

Signed and dated at the home office of The Bankers Reserve Life Company in the city of Omaha, this first day of February, 1908.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS
Referred to on the First Page of this Policy.

1. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company and shall be incontestable after one year from date hereof, except for non-payment of premiums or for military or naval services in time of war without the written consent of the company. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

2. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per centum per annum, shall be granted for payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

3. VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

4. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided said policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary, upon written request to the home office of the company, together with a surrender of the policy.

5. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums hereon after the first are due and payable in advance, either at the home office or to an agent of the company, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer. Except as herein otherwise provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. This policy is based upon premiums payable annually in advance, but upon written notice to the company the insured shall have the option at the time any premium falls due of paying an annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium, according to the company's schedule for this kind of policy, and the same will continue this policy in force for the time paid for, the receipt for which must be signed as aforesaid.

6. DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and beginning at the end of the third policy year the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon. Dividends accrued as above may, at the option of the insured, be either (1) paid in cash, or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per centum per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary thereof. When at the end of any policy year the dividends so accumulated, plus the cash surrender value hereon, shall equal or exceed the net single premium for a whole life policy at the attained age, the company will at the option of the insured issue, in lieu of this policy, a paid-up, non-participating whole life policy for the face amount hereof. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months from the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

7. AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE. FIRST OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon default in the payment of any premium, if the insured has selected no other option, the company, without action on the part of the insured, will continue this policy as a paid-up non-participating whole life policy for the amount stated in the table on the first page hereof, plus any outstanding dividend additions, purchasable by the reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon.

8. EXTENDED INSURANCE. SECOND OPTION.—If after three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, this policy shall lapse by default in the payment of any premium when due, then, upon surrender of this policy within one month after such default, the reserve hereon and on any existing dividend additions hereto, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon, shall be applied to the extension of this policy for its face amount and any outstanding dividend additions, for the term stated in the second option in the table on the first page hereof, without further payment of premiums, but without future participation or the right to loans.

9. CASH SURRENDER VALUE. THIRD OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if this policy is surrendered to the company within one month after the non-payment of any premium when due, the company will pay therefor, within sixty days from the date of such surrender, the amount stated in the table on the first page hereof, plus the reserve on any existing dividend additions, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon. The cash value hereby available is at least equal to the amount otherwise applicable to the purchase of paid-up insurance and is greater than the amount applicable to the purchase of extended insurance.

10. LOANS. FOURTH OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, and while this policy is in force, the company, upon written application, will loan, within sixty days after such application is received, an amount not to exceed the loan value of the policy being the reserve on this policy at end of current policy year plus the reserve on any outstanding dividend additions, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent, less one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of the dividend additions hereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon. At the time of making such loan the policy shall be duly assigned and surrendered to the company as sole security therefor. Interest in advance at six per cent to the end of the current policy year, and any unpaid premium for the current policy year shall first be deducted. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest, shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

11. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it is filed with and approved by the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

12. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated within three years from default in the payment of any premium hereon, upon proof of good health satisfactory to the company and the payment of all defaulted premiums with interest thereon at six per cent per annum. This privilege shall not apply if the policy has been surrendered to the company for its cash surrender value and been canceled.

13. PERMANENT DISABILITY OPTION.—Should the insured hereunder become totally and permanently disabled from accident, and while this policy is in full force and effect, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of such disability, the company will pay to said insured, on surrender of this policy duly receipted, one-half of the principal sum named on the face of this policy, at the place and within the time thereinbefore mentioned, deducting from the amount thereof any unpaid indebtedness thereunder. Provided in the event the cash value of the policy and the additions thereto exceed fifty per cent of the face of the policy, such cash value will be available at due proof of disability and approval of said disability claim.

15. Proof of Loss.—If this policy while in force shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement thereof, less any indebtedness thereon, will be made upon receipt of due proof of death, and upon due notice of death, blanks will be furnished on which to submit proof.

16. Options at Maturity.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy at the death of said insured paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end or each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice; (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Agreement in Application.

It is hereby agreed, on behalf of myself and of any person or persons who may have or claim any interest in any policy that may be issued under this application, as follows: (1) That the answers and statements contained in Part I and in Part II, in continuation of and forming a part of this application, shall be a consideration for, and the basis of, the contract of The Bankers Reserve Life Company under any policy issued under this application; and the said answers and statements printed and written therein by whomsoever made, are represented to be full, complete and true, and this agreement, together with this application, are hereby made part of any policy that may be issued hereon. (2) That in any distribution of surplus, profits, or apportionment of dividend, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution or apportionment, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted. (3) That the whole or any part of the risk herein proposed may be reinsured. (4) That the applicant further promises and agrees not to use alcoholic or malt liquors to excess, or habitually use opium, hydrate of chloral, or other narcotics (tobacco excepted), for one year from date of policy. (5) That under no circumstances shall the insurance hereby applied for be in force until payment in cash of the first premium, while the applicant is in good health, and delivery of the policy to the applicant in person, during his lifetime and while in good health. (6) That no recovery shall be had against this company if the applicant suicides within one year from date of policy. (7) That I will promptly submit to a regular medical examination by an authorized examining physician appointed by the said company.

Berkshire Life Insurance Company.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $263.50. AGE, 35.

The insured, John Doe of New York, N. Y.; the beneficiary, Jane Doe, wife of the insured; sum insured, ten thousand dollars, payable at death of the insured; the premium, two hundred sixty-three and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars, payable upon the delivery of this policy in accordance with the provisions of the application therefor, and a like sum payable on or before the first day of each January succeeding the first day of January, 1910 (which last named date shall be taken as the beginning of the policy year and of the insurance hereunder), during the continuance of this policy.

In consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy of which application is hereto annexed, and of the payment of premiums as above described the Berkshire Life Insurance Company promises to pay the sum insured, at its home office in Pittsfield, Mass., to the beneficiary herein named, upon receipt at its said home office of due proof of the death of the insured occurring during the continuance of this policy and on its surrender; the balance of the premium, if any, for the then current policy year, and any other indebtedness on account of or secured by this policy, being first deducted therefrom; subject, however, to the insured's right, if any, to change the beneficial interest hereunder, as hereinafter specified, and provided that if no beneficiary shall survive the insured, such payment shall be made to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the said insured.

This policy will be incontestable after one year from the date of its issue, except for non-payment of premium.

The provisions, requirements, and benefits hereinafter stated are hereby referred to and made a part of this policy.

In witness whereof, the said company has, by its president and its secretary, executed this contract at Pittsfield, Mass., this first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and ten.

PROVISIONS, REQUIREMENTS AND BENEFITS.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—This policy while in force shall not be modified or altered, except upon the request in writing of the insured, and of other parties in interest, if any, and the approval on behalf of the company of the president, a vice-president, or the secretary. All modifications and alterations shall comply with the legal requirements of the State within which the policy is issued.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the applicant shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defence to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the application, and a copy of the application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto when the policy is issued.

PREMIUMS.—Premiums are payable, in advance, at the home office, but will be accepted elsewhere, on or before the date when due, in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by the president, or a vice-president, or the secretary, and countersigned by the agent authorized to deliver the same. In case of failure to pay any premium when due, or within the grace period, if any, or to pay when due the interest on any premium obligation, the company's only liability shall be such, if any, as is set forth hereinunder. (See "Non-Forfeiture Benefits.") Subject to the grace provisions of this policy, no premium payment shall continue it in force beyond the date on which the next premium will become due by the terms of this policy or amendments thereto.

GRACE.—After this policy has been in force one year, overdue premiums will be accepted within thirty-one days from the date the premium is due, the policy meantime being continued in force, and the premium unpaid being a lien upon the policy.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy, while in force, will participate each year in the distribution of the surplus funds of the company. At the option of the holder of the policy, dividends will (a) be payable in cash, or (b) be applied in reduction of premiums, or (c) be used to purchase paid-up additions to this policy, or (d), they may be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, payable at the maturity thereof or withdrawable in cash on demand by the holder of the policy. If no election is made by the holder of the policy prior to any anniversary thereof the dividend for that anniversary shall be held by the company as provided in option (d).

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At the end of any policy year while this policy is in full force, it may be changed without medical examination, to any other plan in use by the company at the time this policy was issued, except the continuous instalment plan, provided the rate of premium be not diminished thereby, upon the payment of such an amount and the execution of such papers as the company may require. The new policy shall be for the same amount, bear the same number and date, and written at the same age as this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The company shall not be held to have notice of any assignment of this policy until the original assignment, or a duplicate thereof, is filed in the company's home office, the company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and before payment of the policy the claim of an assignee shall be subject to proof to the satisfaction of the company.

APPOINTING OR CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—The insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, may, if the right to do so has been reserved in the application for this policy, appoint a beneficiary or beneficiaries, provided none be herein named, and also from time to time during the continuance of this policy, may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, whether named in the policy or not, by filing with the company a written and duly acknowledged instrument of appointment. Such appointments shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company at its home office. And also may appoint a beneficiary or beneficiaries in succession, hereinafter designated as contingent beneficiary or beneficiaries. In the event of the failure so to appoint, the beneficiary or beneficiaries if of lawful age may make such appointment, subordinate to the power or powers of the insured. This appointment shall be subject to change by the person or persons appointing, in the manner hereinbefore stated.

LOANS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, and on proper assignment of this policy, upon its prescribed form, the company will, within thirty days of the application therefor, loan on the sole security of this policy, with interest at five per cent per annum, the whole or any part of the cash value of the policy, and all paid up additions thereto, at the end of the policy year during which application for the loan is made, provided that from such loan the company will deduct any existing indebtedness on account of or secured by the policy and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

TRAVEL, RESIDENCE.—This policy is free from any restriction as to travel or residence.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—The insured shall not, within one year after the date of this policy, without the consent of the company in writing, engage as an occupation, in blasting mining, submarine labor, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, in service upon any railroad or any steamboat or other vessel, make aeronautic ascensions, or engage in military or naval service of any kind in time of war.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated in the application for this policy, the amount payable shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS FROM DIVIDEND ACCUMULATIONS.—If any premium on this policy is not paid at the expiration of the days of grace, the company will keep the policy in force by applying the dividend accumulations to the payment due on the policy, if such accumulations are sufficient to make said payment in full.

OPTIONS IN CASE OF DEFAULT.—Upon default in the payment of any premium, after two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, this policy will be binding upon the company as participating paid-up insurance of a reduced amount, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as in the original contract, but at any time within thirty days from the date of such default, the insured may elect in lieu of such paid-up insurance, by a writing filed with the company at its home office, to have the insurance continued in force as participating extended term insurance, from the due date of the premium in default, for its original amount and any outstanding paid-up additions, less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, but without the right to loans, or may surrender the policy and, with the written assent of the person to whom it is made payable, receive in cash its value at the time of default, within thirty days of the application therefor.

The values stated in the accompanying table are for even years and apply to this policy, except that if there are outstanding paid-up additions to the policy, the values will be increased in consequence, but if there is any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, the said values will be diminished. If the default occurs after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid, the values will be proportionately adjusted.

If this policy becomes paid-up for a reduced amount by operation of law, or if extended term insurance is taken hereunder, the insurance will have a cash surrender value which will be its legal net value available within thirty days of the application therefor on legal surrender of the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time after the date of default in the payment of any premium (unless the cash value has been paid, or the extension period has expired), upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums, and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by said policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum. No deduction has been made from the reserve in computing the values for the tenth and subsequent years, nor will any deduction be made in computing the values for years not shown in the table. The paid-up value, or extended insurance value, at the end of any policy year, is the mathematical equivalent of the cash value. The amount deducted from the reserves in computing these values is in no case more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured, and none of such values is less than that fixed by the laws of Massachusetts. Loan values are available at any time after two full years' premiums have been paid.

Instalment Options.

Instalment Agreement.—The insured, with the power of revocation, shall have the right to elect that the payment of this policy when due shall be in instalments rather than in one sum. Each instalment after the first will be increased by such share of the surplus interest as may be allotted thereto by the directors. The company will, on the surrender of this policy when due, give in exchange an agreement to pay in accordance with the way elected by the insured under either Option A or Option B hereinafter stated. Said agreement when issued by the company, shall be in conformity with the terms of the option elected and with such of the provisions following, as may be applicable at the time of its execution. Provided the insured shall not otherwise have directed, the beneficiary or beneficiaries, when this policy becomes payable, shall have this right of election. It is expressly agreed and understood that any election, revocation or appointment made by the insured, to be valid, must be in writing duly executed and acknowledged in form satisfactory to the company, and this policy returned to the home office of the company for appropriate endorsement.

Option A. Limited Instalments.—At the death of the insured, or at the maturity of this policy, to have the whole, or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy, including any dividend additions then in force, paid in a specified number of annual instalments, as per table below, which shall apply pro rata per $1000 for the amount so paid, the first instalment being payable upon the issue of the agreement. The number of instalments under this option may be changed at any time by the insured. Unpaid instalments will be commuted on the basis of three per cent compound interest and paid in one sum at any time when an instalment is due, upon the written request of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, if of lawful age, provided the insured shall not otherwise have directed in writing

Option B. Continuous Instalments.—At the death of the insured, or at the maturity of this policy, to have the whole, or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy, including any dividend additions then in force, paid in annual instalments, continuous during the lifetime of any beneficiary, of an amount corresponding to that stated in the table below for the age of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, at the date of death of the insured, which table shall apply pro rata per $1000 for the amount to be so paid, the first instalment being payable upon the issue of the agreement. If there be more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined pro rata for the age attained.

General Provisions to Govern and to be Incorporated in Agreement as may be Applicable.

1. Contingent Beneficiary.—That any contingent beneficiary or beneficiaries shall, upon satisfactory proof of the death of the last surviving beneficiary, succeed to all the rights and privileges possessed by said beneficiary at the time of such death except that under Option B the rights of any contingent beneficiary shall be limited to such of the first twenty instalments, if any, as remain unpaid at the death of the last surviving beneficiary.

2. Surviving Beneficiary.—That if there be more than one beneficiary, the rights of any deceased beneficiary shall pass to the surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries upon satisfactory proof of such decease, except that under Option B the rights of the surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries shall be limited to such of the first twenty (20) instalments, if any, as remain unpaid at the death of such beneficiary.

3. Commutation of Instalments.—That at the death of the last surviving beneficiary, if there be no contingent beneficiary then living, or at the death of the last surviving contingent beneficiary occurring subsequently thereto, any of the stipulated instalments under Option A, or any of the first twenty instalments under Option B then remaining unpaid, will be commuted on the basis of three per cent compound interest and paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of such last surviving beneficiary or contingent beneficiary.

Agreement in Application.

Part I.—This application, made to the Berkshire Life Insurance Company, of Pittsfield Mass., is the basis and a part of the proposed contract for insurance. I agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not be in force until the acceptance and approval of this application by the company at its home office, the delivery of the policy to me or my agent, and the payment of the first premium as required therein during the condition of my health described and certified to in this application, and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted as having become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins.

Part II.—I hereby declare, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued upon this application, that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, each of the foregoing answers in Parts I. and II. of this application is full, complete, and true, and that I am in sound physical condition, and a proper subject for life insurance.

NOTE.—Limited payment life and endowment policies provide for a return of premiums paid in excess of ordinary life rate in the event of death during the premium-paying period.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-YEAR ENDOWMENT POLICY—RETURN PREMIUM—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $540. AGE, 35.

Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston, Mass., in consideration of the statements and declarations contained in the application for this policy, a copy of which application is hereto attached, hereby referred to and made a material part of this contract, and which statements and declarations the insured reaffirms by the acceptance of this policy, and in further consideration of the payment to it in advance of five hundred and forty dollars, on or before the first day of January of each year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, does hereby insure the life of Benjamin Mudd, of Boston, in the county of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, herein referred to as the insured, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and does hereby agree to pay said amount, provided this policy shall then be in force, at its home office in Boston, to the insured, if living, on the first day of January, 1928, or in the event of his death prior to said date, to pay said amount, upon satisfactory proof of the death of said insured during the continuance in force of said policy, to Bertha Mudd, if then living, if not, to the executors, administrators or assigns of said insured, after deducting therefrom the premiums, if any, for the balance of the policy year and all indebtedness of the parties to this contract to the company.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved and no assignment of this policy exists, the insured may from time to time change the beneficiary named herein, whether original or substituted, without his or her consent, provided that any proposed beneficiary shall have an insurable interest in the life of the insured. The right, however, is given the insured to surrender said power and to declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable, in which event said insured shall not have the right to change that beneficiary without his or her consent. Every change or irrevocable designation must be made by filing a written notice of the same at the home office of the company and shall not take effect until endorsed upon this policy by the president or secretary of the company.

The conditions, benefits and privileges contained on the reverse of this page are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

In witness whereof, the said Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed and executed this contract at Boston, Mass., this first day of January, 1908.

CONDITIONS, BENEFITS AND PRIVILEGES.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium shall not be paid when due or within the grace per od hereinafter described, this policy shall thereupon lapse, and the only liability of said company hereunder shall be such as is hereinafter stated in this policy or is imposed by the laws of Massachusetts in force at the date of its issue.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of thirty days will be allowed within which the payment of any premium after the first year may be made, subject to an interest charge not in excess of six per cent per annum for the days of grace actually taken, during which period this policy shall continue in force. Should said policy become a claim during said period the amount of such premium shall be deducted in settlement from the amount due under said policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—The holder of this policy shall be entitled to have the same reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default of said policy, unless the cash value has been duly paid or the extension period has expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to said company and the payment of all ove due premiums and other indebtedness to said company upon said policy with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After the full premiums for three years have been paid, the holder of this policy shall be entitled, by a writing filed at the home office of said company within thirty days after default in the payment of a subsequent premium, to elect: (a) To surrender said policy, and, with the written consent of the beneficiary, receive its legal value in cash; or (b) to take paid-up insurance which shall be participating, to an amount such as said legal cash value would purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as in this contract; or (c) to have the insurance continued in force, on a participating basis, from the anniversary date last past for its full amount including any outstanding dividend additions but less any indebtedness thereon or secured thereby, for such period as said legal cash value would purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured.

The exact amount, extent and terms of said cash value, paid-up insurance and extended insurance shall be determined in accordance with Section 80 of Chapter 576 of the Acts and Resolves of Massachusetts of 1907.

If, however, the holder of this policy makes no election as above provided within thirty days from such a default, said policy shall become paid-up insurance from the date of said default as provided in said second option.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—Beginning at the end of the second policy year, the proportion of the divisible surplus of the company contributed by this policy shall be ascertained and distributed annually as dividends. The first distribution shall be contingent upon the payment of the premiums for the third policy year, but all subsequent distributions will not be contingent upon the payment of further premiums. Such dividends shall annually, at the option of the holder of this policy, (a) be payable in cash, or (b) be applied in reduction of premiums, or (c) be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition, or (b) be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of this policy and be payable at the maturity thereof or be withdrawable in cash on demand by the holder of said policy or be applied as hereinafter set forth. If no election is made by the holder prior to any anniversary of this policy, the dividends for that anniversary shall be held by the company, as provided in the last mentioned option, and if any premium on said policy is not paid at the expiration of the days of grace, the company will keep said policy in force by applying the dividend accumulations to the payment due on said policy, if such accumulations are sufficient to make said payment in full, provided that nothing herein contained shall operate to continue this policy beyond the period which any dividend accumulation so applied would carry the policy under its full premium rate, nor beyond the term for which the poli y was originally issued.

LOANS.—After three full annual premiums have been paid on this policy, if it is still in force and has not been converted into extended insurance, the holder thereof shall be entitled to borrow of the company at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum and on the sole security of said policy properly assigned to the company, a sum not exceeding ninety-five per cent of the cash surrender value of said policy at the end of the policy year during which the application for the loan is made, and of all dividend additions thereto, less any indebtedness to the company and any unpaid portion of the then current premium year.

INCONTESTABILITY AND LIMITATION OF ACTIONS.—This policy, if once in force, shall be incontestable after two years from the date of its issue, except for non-payment of premiums and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent in writing of an executive officer of said company. No suit, however, shall be brought on any claim under said policy unless commenced within two years from the time the right of action accrues.

MISTAKE IN AGE AND SUICIDE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be only such amount as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured. Self-destruction within two years from the date hereof, whether sane or insane, is not a risk assumed by said company hereunder, but in such event it will pay the amount of the net reserve required by law for this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Assignments of this policy must be made in duplicate and sent to the home office of said company, the original assignment to be retained by said company and the duplicate to be returned to the assignee, but no assignment shall be valid until assented to in writing by the president or secretary of said company. In no case will said company assume responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and the claim of any assignee shall always be subject to proof of interest.

POWERS OF OFFICERS AND AGENTS.—All agreements made by said company must be in writing and signed by the president or secretary; no agent or person other than said officers has authority to add to, alter or waive any of the provisions of this policy or to make any agreement or waiver that shall be binding on said company.

TERMS OF CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall be used in defence of a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to said policy when issued.

CONDITIONS.—Provided, however, that no obligation is assumed by said company prior to the date hereof, nor unless on said date the insured is alive, in sound health and actually under sixty-one years of age, nor until this policy is delivered and the first premium actually paid to said company and its official receipt signed by its president or secretary given therefor.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I declare, represent and agree that the statements contained in this application shall be the basis and become part of any policy of insurance the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company shall issue hereunder; that said statements are full and true, and are correctly recorded, and that no information or statement not contained in this application, received at any time by any person, shall be binding upon the company; that the persons who filled in said statements were and are my agents for the purpose and not the agents for the company, and that the company is not responsible for the preparation of this application or for anything contained therein or omitted therefrom; that, subject to the laws of Massachusetts, any distribution of surplus in apportionment of reduction of premiums, increase of insurance or surrender value, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount of surplus equitably belonging to such policy, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy; and a receipt of the person whose life is insured shall be in full surrender of all dividend additions to such policy; that in any suit on such policy, any physician who has attended me or who may hereafter attend me, may disclose any information acquired by him in any way affecting the statement made by me herein, I hereby waiving all provisions of law to the contrary

I further represent and declare that I am fully acquainted with and understand this application as above filled in, and that I made all the statements and declarations therein appearing, of my own accord.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All renewal premiums under this policy are payable in advance either at the home office or to an agent, upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, a vice-president or the secretary of the company. No officer other than those stated, and no agent, has the power to make or to modify this or any other contract of the company in any respect whatever, and the company is not responsible for, and shall not be bound by, any promises or representations made by any person other than the officers named, and then not unless the promises or representations are made in writing and signed by one or more of the officers stated. If any premium or note or other obligation given for all or a part of any premium or other indebtedness is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall cease, except as otherwise provided in this policy. After the first policy year the company will accept the payment of premiums hereon in the amount of $163.80 semi-annually on the first days of October and April, or $83.40 quarterly on the first days of October, January, April and July in each policy year. The method of payment of premiums hereon may be changed as above conditioned, upon application to the home office before the end of the month of grace, on the form prescribed by the company.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A period of grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium hereunder after the first, without any interest charge therefor, during which month the full insurance hereunder shall continue in force; if however, the insured shall die within said period of grace, the unpaid balance of the premium or premiums for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company, and shall be incontestable for any cause whatever after one year from the date of issue. If during the first policy year the insured shall suicide, whether sane or insane, or die as a consequence of the violation of law, the company shall be liable only for the premium actually paid hereon. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will loan, upon the proper assignment of said policy and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest which will not exceed six per cent per annum, a sum not greater than the reserve hereon at the end of the then current policy year. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and will collect interest in advance on the loan to the next succeeding anniversary of the policy and annually in advance on said anniversary and thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy, until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at date of default.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, providing there is no indebtedness to the company hereunder, if any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy may be surrendered to the company within three months from such non-payment of premium, and the insured shall, upon written request therefor, be entitled to one of the following options:

1. CASH.—A cash payment equal to the loan value hereon at the date of default, and said cash payment shall be equal to the amount otherwise applicable to the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance.

2. PAID-UP INSURANCE.—A paid-up policy payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy.

3. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Extended insurance for the full amount of this policy. The amounts of the loan or cash values and paid-up insurance and the term of the extended insurance are shown in columns one, two, and three, respectively, of the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values shown herein, and are equal or equivalent to the entire reserve hereon at the date of default, without any deduction, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. If no guaranteed surrender option has been chosen by the insured as above provided within three months after default in payment of any premium, the company will, without request on the part of the insured, apply to this policy the extended insurance option as provided in the paragraph numbered three, above. Additional values not shown in the table will be allowed for parts of a policy year's premium paid, and the values for later years not shown in the table will be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—If, in event of default in any premium payments hereon, the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance or extended insurance, and if such paid-up insurance or extended insurance shall be in force, this policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premiums, with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. The indebtedness hereon, if not greater than the loan value at the date of reinstatement, may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy, subject to interest.

METHOD OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face amount of this policy will be payable in one sum immediately after receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. The insured or the beneficiary after the insured's death may, however, change the method of payment to annual instalments for a limited term of years or during the lifetime of the beneficiary, as explained in the table hereinafter shown.

SPECIAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—In the event of the total and permanent loss of sight of both eyes, or loss of both arms, or both legs, or one arm and one leg, or one eye and one limb, of the insured, such payment being in lieu of all other benefits designated in this policy, the company agrees to pay ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred ($500) dollars each, the first instalment being payable immediately after receipt at the home office of the company of due proof of such disability. If the insured shall die before all of the stated twenty instalments have been fully paid, then, in such event, the remaining instalments, at the option of the beneficiary, may be continued to such beneficiary hereunder or may be commuted at three and one-half per cent (3½%) compound interest and paid to said beneficiary in one sum. The benefit above provided shall become null and void if such disability occurs after the period for the payment of premiums hereunder, or if, after default in the payment of any premium, paid-up insurance or extended insurance hereunder is in force.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium hereon, if the insured shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he is wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which thereafter shall become payable during the continuance of such disability, provided that the insured, whenever requested by the company, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company of the continuance of such disability. In any such event the premiums so paid shall not be an indebtedness on this policy, and the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values stated herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this policy, on the first premium due date following such recovery.

METHOD OF CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—At any time while this policy is in force, the insured, if there be no existing assignment hereof filed at the home office of the company as herein provided, may designate a new beneficiary under this policy, by filing such request at the home office upon the form of the company for this purpose, accompanied by the policy for endorsement thereon. Such change shall become effective only when said endorsement is made on the policy by the company, whereupon the rights of any former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If no beneficiary hereunder is living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of the policy will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—This policy may be assigned by the insured, but no such assignment shall be binding upon the company until a duplicate copy thereof has been filed at the home office, and the company shall not be responsible for the legality of any assignment. Any claim hereunder by an assignee shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company hereon will be deducted in any settlement hereunder upon the death of the insured or in the payment of any other benefit. If this policy shall lapse and there shall be an indebtedness hereon, the said indebtedness will be deducted from the cash value of the policy at date of default, and the balance will be (a) paid to the insured in cash, or (b) applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance, or (c) applied to extend the face amount of the insurance hereunder, at the option of said insured, and said values will be calculated upon the same basis as the values herein shown in the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values. If no option is selected by the insured within three months after default in payment of premium, option (c) will be applied by the company without the request of the insured.

CONSIDERATION.—The consideration for this policy is the application herefor, which is made a part of this contract, and the payment in advance of an annual premium of three hundred fourteen dollars and ninety cents for term insurance ending on the first day of October, 1911, and the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of October in every year hereafter until full premiums have been duly paid for twenty years from the date hereof, or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, the California National Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary, this first day of October, 1911.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured or the owner, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the amount payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of an annuity equal to three per cent of such amount, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said amount, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment to be payable immediately, in accordance with the table herewith for each $1000 of said amount. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments, payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the table herewith for each $1000 of said amount.

Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity by the death of the insured. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the insured in making such election, the beneficiary may at any time commute the balance of the unpaid instalments, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the table herewith; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option 3, except after the death of the beneficiary, occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $40,000.

Canada Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED OPTION CONTRACT QUINQUENNIAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $381.50. AGE, 35.

The Canada Life Assurance Company, in compliance with a written application which is made the basis of this contract, assures the life of William Henry Robertson, of Toronto, Can., (the assured), under this policy of assurance, the particulars of which are as follows:—(1) Plan of assurance, life, limited premiums. (2) Sum assured, ten thousand dollars. (3) Premium, $381.50, payable in advance, every twelve months from the first day of January, 1908, during the life of the assured, until twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid. (4) Sum assured payable, on receipt of due proofs of the death of the assured. (5) Dividends, payable quinquennially in accordance with the provisions on the second page. (6) Beneficiary, Mary Robertson.

This assurance is subject to the conditions, privileges and options hereon endorsed, which form a part of this contract as fully as if the same were stated over the seal and signatures hereto attached.

Signed and sealed at Toronto, Can., this first day of January, 1908.

Any dividend additions shall operate to increase the benefits in the above schedule of values. After the twentieth year, the minimum basis for values shall be the American Experience Table, with interest at three per cent, less an amount not exceeding one per cent upon the sum assured. The values in the above table are in no case less than those derived from the above-mentioned table of mortality and rate of interest, less an amount not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the sum assured.

DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in the distribution of surplus of the company at the end of the fifth policy year and quinquennially thereafter, and in the event of the death of the assured between two quinquennial distributions of surplus an interim dividend, as declared by the directors, shall be paid for the period elapsed since the last division. If no part of the current year's premium remains unpaid the assured may elect to apply his quinquennial dividends either (a) by purchasing paid-up addition to the policy, (b) by payment in cash, (c) by reduction of premiums for the ensuing five years, (d) by reduction of each future premium, or (e) by allowing the dividends to remain with the company and accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest (annually) at not less than three per cent per annum, and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on demand at the end of any policy year. If no other option is selected by the assured the dividend shall be paid in cash.

If the assured shall have selected option (e), the company will pay the sum assured hereunder as an endowment whenever the reserve on the policy, based upon the table of mortality and rate of interest previously mentioned, together with such accumulated dividends, shall amount to the sum assured; or such accumulated dividends may, if the assured so directs, be applied at any premium due-date as an annuity (computed by the company) towards cancelation of future premiums; or the declared accumulated dividends under option (e) shall be available in or towards payment of premiums under the automatic loan privilege (if uncancelled). No interest will be allowed if any dividend be withdrawn within one year of its declaration.

If option (e) has not been previously selected, any of the first four options may be chosen at the time of any quinquennial distribution except that to change from option (b), (c) or (d) to (a) the consent of the company shall be required.

Privileges.

1. No Restrictions.—No restrictions are placed upon the assured as to residence, travel or occupation.

2. Grace.—Thirty days' grace are allowed for the payment of renewal premiums.

3. Indisputability.—After being in force one full year this policy shall, subject to the payment of premiums, be indisputable.

4. Payable in Gold.—The sum assured shall be payable in gold coin of the present legal standard of weight and fineness. The premiums may be paid either in such gold coin, or its equivalent in currency of Canada or the United States, at the market value.

5. Surrender Values.—After premiums for three years have been paid the assured may (at any time within sixty days after the due date of a premium payment) upon legal surrender of this contract obtain a paid-up non-participating assurance, or receive the surrender value in cash. The amount of the surrender and paid-up values are stated in the above table. These options are to be construed agreeably to the automatic insurance privilege hereinafter provided.

6. Loans.—At any time after premiums for three full years have been paid the company will lend upon the sole security of this policy (in the absence of statutory restrictions and on execution of a proper loan agreement and delivery of this policy to the company) up to the loan value specified in the above table, at a rate of interest which may be, but shall not exceed, five and one-half per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year. The interest upon any such indebtedness, if not paid when due, shall be compounded yearly and if the accumulated indebtedness on this policy exceeds the entire cash surrender value hereof all liability of the company under this policy shall thereupon terminate, but such termination shall not take effect until at least one month after the company has mailed notice as to such termination to the last known address of the assured and assignee, if any.

7. Change of Beneficiary.—The assured may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, or declare that this policy shall be for the benefit of himself, or his estate, at any time during the continuance of this policy, by written notice to the company at its head office, accompanied by this policy, provided this policy has not then been assigned and notice thereof given to the company, and provided there is no absolute beneficiary then living. The assured may at any time, by written notice to the company, accompanied by this policy, declare the beneficiary then named to be the absolute beneficiary under this policy. Such a change of beneficiary, or declaration, shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its head office. During the lifetime of the absolute beneficiary the right to change the beneficiary will not exist in the assured. If any beneficiary die before the assured the interests of such beneficiary shall vest in the assured. Provided always that if the assured be domiciled in Canada, and if the sum assured be (under the policy or any declaration) for the benefit of such of the relatives of assured as by the law of such domicile to be free from the claim of creditors, then this privilege shall not apply or have any effect.

8. Automatic Premium Loan.—If in the application for this policy the assured shall have so requested, this policy shall not, after premiums for three years have been paid, lapse or become forfeited by reason only of the non-payment of the premium within the days of grace allowed herein provided the cash surrender value of the policy and of any dividend additions thereon, (less any indebtedness on the policy) is equal to or greater than the premium then due and unpaid. In such event the company will without further request treat the premium then due as paid and the amount of such premium (with interest as hereinafter provided) shall become a first lien upon the policy in the company's favor in priority to the claims of any assignee or of any other person. If the net available cash surrender value be less than the premium that is due, the company will, without further request, continue this insurance in force until such value is exhausted (that is, for a period which bears the same ratio to the full premium period then ensuing as such net value bears to the full premium then due) and if prior to the expiration of such reduced period the last due premium be not paid in full, all liability of the company on this policy shall thereupon terminate, subject to the right of the assured to revive the policy within three years by furnishing satisfactory evidence of insurability and upon payment of premiums overdue with interest thereon. The rate of interest chargeable under these automatic loans may be, but shall not exceed, five and one-half per cent per annum together with an expense fee of one per cent per annum upon the loan. The said interest and expense fee shall be payable annually on January first and if not then paid shall bear interest thereon, compounded yearly. If requested by the assured in writing, while this policy is in force, the company will cancel the further operations of this automatic loan privilege and thereafter the extended insurance privilege (No. 9) will become available automatically in lieu of this privilege, and the extended insurance shall be subject to any existing indebtedness under this privilege or otherwise.

9. Extended Insurance.—This policy, after premiums for three years have been paid, shall not lapse or become forfeited by reason only of non-payment of premiums, but in such event the insurance shall continue in force for the time and amount in this privilege mentioned and the company will grant in lieu of this policy and upon legal surrender thereof (provided there be no indebtedness thereon) a non-participating, paid-up term insurance for the sum assured, to run from the due date of the premium in default and to continue in force for the period stated in the table on page two hereof, (with adjustment for intermediate periods on the same basis, in the case of default of a half-yearly or quarterly premium). If there be any indebtedness on this policy, the amount of such term insurance shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of the indebtedness, and the period for which the said term insurance will run shall be that for which the cash surrender value of the policy, less such indebtedness, will carry such amount at single premium term rates, based on the American Experience Table, with interest at three per cent, which shall also be the basis for the calculation of the extended insurance value after the expiration of the period covered by the table hereon. Provided that such extended insurance may be surrendered to the company at its head office within one month from the date of default in payment of premium for a cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purpose of such extended insurance, and provided also that if the extended insurance be granted in lieu of this policy by way of endorsement thereon the original policy contract may be reinstated within three years of the granting of such extended insurance (if in force) upon satisfactory evidence of the assured's insurability and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at five and one-half per cent. Any dividend additions shall be added to the amount of extended insurance provided above and the cash value of such additions shall increase the period for which such insurance will be continued. This privilege is only to become operative when the assured has not made a request (either before or after the policy contract is made) for the automatic premium loan privilege and which request has not been cancelled.

10. OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The assured, by written notice to the company at its head office, and with written consent of the assignee and absolute beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the assured paid either in cash or as follows:

OPTION 1.—By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually, to the beneficiary under this policy during the life of the beneficiary and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

OPTION 2.—By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years (the first instalment being payable immediately) in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net insurance.

OPTION 3.—By the payment of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately) for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table, which is based on $1000 of net insurance.

Guaranteed instalments payable under Options 2 or 3, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If the assured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice and with the written consent of the assignee (if any), select any one of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the assured, the beneficiary may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under Option 1, and may at any time when a payment is due receive the commuted value of the guaranteed payments yet to be made under Option 2, computed upon an interest basis of three per cent, but under Option 3 commutation (on such basis) will only be made in event of the death of the beneficiary occurring within the said period of twenty years.

If the net sum to which a beneficiary is entitled under this policy be less than $1000 it shall be paid in one sum and not converted into instalments, and Option 3 shall not be available (without the permission of the company) if there be more than one beneficiary living.

CONDITIONS.

1. In the event of this policy becoming a claim, any loan or indebtedness to the company on the policy, and the unpaid balance (if any) of the current year's premium, will be deducted from the sum payable under the policy at settlement.

2. The age of the assured will be admitted at any time before the maturity of this policy, upon satisfactory evidence of such age being furnished to the company at its head office, but if not so admitted and if the age has been understated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age. If the age shall have been overstated, all excess premiums paid shall be refunded.

3. No agent has authority to put this policy in force by delivery thereof, without the payment of the premium and the delivery of the proper receipt therefor. If it goes into the possession of any interested party without such payment or receipt, it is only for examination, and it is not thereby put in force. No receipt for payment shall be valid or binding upon the company, except those issued from the head office in Toronto, upon the company's printed forms, and signed by the president or vice-president or general manager and secretary Premiums are payable at the head office, but, for the convenience of the assured, they may, when not overdue, be paid to an agent of the company in exchange for the official receipt, signed as above stated, and countersigned by the agent.

4. Self-destruction (whether the assured be sane or insane) during the first policy year, is a risk not assumed by the company under this policy.

5. This policy and the application therefor, contain the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements purporting to be made by the assured, shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. Provided that where the laws of the country of domicile of the assured at the issue of the policy so required, the application shall only form part of the contract when a copy of same has been endorsed on or attached to the policy. This contract cannot be varied except in writing hereon signed by one of the following executive officers of the head office of the company in Toronto, namely, the president, vice-president, general manager, secretary or actuary. Any such variation shall not contravene the law of the domicile of the assured.

6. If any premium due prior to the time when the automatic insurance privilege commences to operate, be not paid within the thirty days of grace, this policy shall ipso facto become void, but it may be revived within twelve months thereafter on production of evidence, satisfactory to the company, of continued good health, and the payment of overdue premiums, with an interest and expense charge not exceeding six and one-half per cent per annum thereon.

7. Before payment of the sum assured as a claim, the title of the person claiming the money shall be duly proven and this policy delivered to the company, with a valid discharge therefor.

8. The due date of a premium shall be that stipulated on the face hereof.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby declare and agree that to the best of my knowledge and belief, I am at present in good health, not being afflicted with any disease or disorder, external or internal, and that the answers to the above questions are, and that those to be given to the company's medical examiner shall, be full, complete and true; that I will accept and take up the policy hereby applied for when issued by the Canada Life Assurance Company, subject to the privileges and conditions contained in said policy; and, further, that the said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company and the first premium paid thereon in full, and head office receipt therefor be received by me, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application and in my answers to the company's medical examiner; and, further, that the principles and methods now or hereafter followed by the company in determining and allotting the surplus in connection with participating policies, shall be accepted by all parties.

I hereby request that the company's automatic premium loan privilege shall become operative, should that privilege be available under the policy hereby applied for.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Capitol Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $381.40. AGE, 35.

The Capitol Life Insurance Company of Colorado, home office, Denver, by this policy of insurance agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars at its home office in the city of Denver, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the fact and cause of death of John Doe, of Denver, county of Denver, State of Colorado, (the insured under this policy) to Mary Doe, wife, with the right of revocation subject to all the requirements, privileges and provisions stated on the following pages, which are conditions precedent, and are a material part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

This contract is made in consideration of the written application of the above-named insured, which is made a part hereof, a copy of which is hereto attached, and the payment in advance to said company on the delivery of this policy of three hundred eighty-one and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars, being the premium for term insurance ending on the twenty-fifth day of February, 1911, and the legal reserve required, and the further payment of a like sum annually thereafter upon the twenty-fifth day of the month of February in every year during the life of the said insured, until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been duly paid to the said company.

After delivery of this policy to the insured, it takes effect as of the twenty-fifth day of February, 1910.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, as herein provided.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of the third year and annually thereafter as long as this policy is maintained in full force and effect, the proportion of divisible surplus accumulated hereunder shall be ascertained and distributed, and, at the option of the insured, shall be either (a) paid in cash; or (b) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums or (c) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or (d) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at 3½ per cent per annum. Such accumulated dividends may be used for the purpose expressed in the special accelerating maturity clause, and if not so used, shall be paid at the maturity of the policy, but in any event may be withdrawn on any anniversary. Unless the owner of the policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends will be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions, option (c), which may be subsequently surrendered for a cash value which shall not be less than the original cash dividend. Any accumulated dividends, or the cash value of any dividends on this policy, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, shall be added to the reserve used in the calculation of the values specified in the table of loan and surrender values herein set forth and shall increase the said values accordingly.

SPECIAL ACCELERATING MATURITY CLAUSE.—When this policy's share of apportioned surplus, together with the reserve value hereunder, shall equal the cost, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, of paid-up life insurance, for the face amount of this policy at the attained age of the insured, premium payments may be discontinued and the policy endorsed as a fully paid-up participating policy for the face value.

The surrender values available on this policy will be the reserve at the date of default computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a surrender charge, which shall in no case exceed twenty-five dollars per thousand dollars of insurance. The cash surrender value shall at least equal the value of the paid-up or continued insurance. The above values apply only if the policy is free from indebtedness. If there be any indebtedness hereon and if paid-up or continued insurance be applied for within one month after default, such indebtedness will be deducted from the amount of reserve used in the calculation of the values above specified and will reduce said values in the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the amount of such reserve.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the company will advance, upon proper assignment of this policy, and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, a sum not exceeding the amount specified in the table of loan values herein set forth. The company will deduct from any loan made hereunder any existing indebtedness on the policy, any unpaid premium for the current policy year, and interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. If the interest on any loan be not paid when due it shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear interest at the same rate, provided the total indebtedness does not exceed the total loan value.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon the owner, on surrender of this policy within one month after any default, may elect, according to the table of surrender values herein set forth; (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash; or, (b) to receive non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or, (c) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without participation and without right to loans, for its face amount, less any indebtedness to the company hereon.

THIS POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE, AS FOLLOWS.—If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office, in accordance with one of the above provisions, and if any premium due hereon be not paid in accordance with the provisions of this contract, the amount of the premium, without any action on the part of the insured, shall be charged against the policy as a loan; provided the loan value on the premium due date, after deducting therefrom all existing loans and other indebtedness with accrued interest, be sufficient to permit of the advance of the premium and interest to the end of the current policy year. Interest on such loan shall be charged in advance at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, and unless paid in advance shall be added to and form a part of the principal of the loan, so long as the loan value of the policy will so permit. If the loan value, or the balance thereof, shall not be sufficient to permit of the advance of the premium and interest to the end of the policy year next succeeding the time when the loan is made, then it shall be used to continue this policy in force for such shorter period (even if it be but one day) as the said loan or balance thereof shall permit. Such loan and interest accumulations, if not paid in cash, shall constitute a first lien against the policy until repaid, in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee; and at any time while this policy is thus maintained in force, payment of premiums may be resumed.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—After one full year's premium has been paid and before default in the payment of a subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining age sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any gainful occupation or occupations, the company, by endorsement upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured, any premiums which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability; in such case, the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the loan and surrender values shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. So long as the company continues to pay the premiums under this agreement, it is understood that the insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of continued, total and permanent disability whenever called upon. If the insured shall recover so far as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay premiums shall cease and the insured shall re-commence payment of premiums in accordance with this contract on the first premium due date following such recovery.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before the due date, of a receipt signed by an executive officer (president, secretary or actuary) of the company, and countersigned by said agent. If any premium be not paid when due, or if any obligation given for a premium be dishonored or not paid when due, this policy shall be void, except as provided in the nonforfeiture clause, or under options on surrender. Renewal premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's Table of Rates applicable hereto and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. No person excepting an executive officer of the company, as aforesaid, has power to modify this policy or extend the time of paying a premium. Any such modification or extension must be in writing, and over the signature of an executive officer of the company as aforesaid.

GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), without any interest charge therefor, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy, together with the application therefor, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums, nor shall any statement made by the insured avoid this policy, nor be used in defense of a claim hereunder unless such statement is contained in the written application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, and if no new beneficiary be substituted, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured or in the estate of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this contract will be deducted in any settlement hereunder. Any unpaid portion of the premium for the policy year current at the date of death shall be considered an indebtedness to the company.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after lapse, if not surrendered for the cash value in accordance with option (a) of the options on surrender herein set forth, this policy, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of insurability, may be reinstated by payment of arrears of premium and all indebtedness hereon to the company existing at the date of default with interest to the date of reinstatement at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—This policy is issued upon the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows:

1. By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee at the end of each year during the life of the payee; and, by the payment upon the death of the payee, of the said net sum and accrued interest to the payee's executors, administrators, or assigns, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

LIMITED INSTALMENT OPTION.

2. By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum:

Number of instalments..	25	20	19	18	17	16	15	14	13	12

*Illustration: The amount of each instalment will be $65 for each $1000 of proceeds if payment is to be made by 20 instalments.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENT OPTION.

3. By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum:

*Illustration: The amount of each instalment will be $14 for each $1000 of proceeds, if the payee should be thirty years of age last birthday, when the policy becomes payable.

Payment by continuous instalments cannot be selected if there be more than one payee.

Any instalments payable under options 2 or 3, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid to the payee's executors, administrators or assigns, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under option 1, and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made under option 2, computed upon the same basis as option 2; but no such commutation will be made under option 3, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

If the insured shall not have directed otherwise, the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like notice, and with the consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options.

The insured having changed the mode of payment, may subsequently change the mode of payment or entirely revoke such change, thereby making the proceeds of this policy again payable in one sum. No change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at the home office.

ADDITIONAL SETTLEMENT OPTION, MONTHLY INCOME.—The insured or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office elect to have the net sum payable upon the death of the insured, paid in equal monthly intalments for a fixed period of twenty years (that is 240 monthly payments guaranteed) and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $5,000.

WARRANTY IN APPLICATION.

I hereby represent: (1) That all the statements and answers in this application are true, full and complete; that this application shall, with the policy herein applied for and the privileges and conditions contained therein, be the sole basis of the contract between me and the company, and shall be binding on all parties in interest under such policy; and that no information or statement, unless contained in this application, made, given, received or acquired by any person at any time, shall be binding on the company; and that the policy to be issued hereon shall take effect only upon the payment of the first premium during my lifetime, sound health, and insurable condition. (2) That during the first year following the date of issue of the policy for which application is hereby made, I will not engage in any extra hazardous occupation or employment; in the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors; in the handling of electric wires or dynamos with a voltage in excess of 600; in blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, or the manufacture or handling of highly explosive substances; in service upon any railroad, train or track, or in switching or coupling cars, or on any steam or other vessel, or travel or reside within the tropics or north of the parallel of sixty degrees north latitude, or engage in military or naval service, without the written consent of the company. (3) That in any distribution of dividend, bonus, profit or surplus, the company's method and determination of the amount to be apportioned to any policy issued hereon is hereby ratified and accepted. (4) I hereby expressly waive all provisions of law forbidding any physician or surgeon from disclosing any information acquired (or that may be acquired) while attending me in a professional capacity. (5) That self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year after date of any policy that may issue hereon, is a risk not assumed by the company, and the liability of the company shall be limited to the return of the premiums paid.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company.

PREMIUM REFUND POLICY—TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—NON-PARTICIPATING

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $381. AGE, 35.

The Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured at its home office in the city of Cedar Rapids, Ia., on receipt of due and satisfactory proofs of the fact and the cause of the death of John Doe (the insured) while this policy is in force.

This policy is granted in consideration of the statements, answers and warranties contained in or endorsed upon the application therefor, which application is hereby made a part of this contract and a copy endorsed hereon, and of the payment in advance of three hundred and eighty-one dollars, which sum consists of the initial reserve at the date of this policy and the term premium for the insurance hereunder for one year from said date.

In consideration of the payment of a like amount, at its home office in Cedar Rapids, Ia., on or before five o'clock P. M. of the seventeenth day of April in the succeeding nineteen years or until the prior death of the insured, this contract shall be renewed and continued until the death of the insured.

REFUND OF PREMIUMS.—Should this policy be in force at the end of the twenty full years and the insured be living at that time, the company will upon the written request of the insured and the surrender of this policy at its home office, refund in cash to the insured all premiums paid hereon, less any indebtedness which may exist against the policy at that time. The insured shall have the option, in lieu of the paid-up value at the end of the twentieth year, stated on the second page, of then taking a paid-up life policy of $10,000 and receiving in cash $1960.

FREEDOM FROM RESIDENCE, OCCUPATION AND TRAVEL.—This policy is absolutely free from conditions or restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death, from the date of its issue. Neither a permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy is incontestable from date of issue except as herein provided.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The insured shall be entitled to the total disability benefit hereinafter defined. After one full annual premium shall have been paid, and before default in payment of another premium, if due proofs shall be furnished to the company that the insured has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company will agree, by endorsement in writing on this contract, to pay two-thirds of the amount of insurance under this policy, in twenty annual instalments, to the insured or the executors of the insured, and will continue to make annual payments of the same amounts during the life of the insured after the said twenty instalments are paid; the said instalments and payments to be in lieu of all other benefits under this policy. The first instalment shall be paid immediately on acceptance by the company of due proofs of the said total disability. Payment of premiums on this policy shall cease when endorsement of the disability benefit has been made hereon. It is further agreed, that should the insured subsequently recover from the said disability, so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, payment of instalments shall immediately cease. This policy may then be reinstated for the full amount, and all the original benefits thereunder restored, without medical re-examination, on payment to the company of the total amount of instalments paid and of all arrears of premiums, with compound interest at five per cent per annum; the said payment to be made in cash, or, if not in excess of the reserve on the policy, the amount of the said payment may remain as a loan on the policy subject to other loan provisions herein. This benefit shall not be available if disability occurs after the insured shall have attained the age of fifty-five years.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy shall have been in force one year, thirty-one days of grace shall be allowed in payment of premiums, during which time the policy shall remain in force and the premium shall be subject to an interest charge at a yearly rate of six per cent. If death occurs during the said period, the amount of the unpaid premium with interest, shall be deducted from the amount of the claim.

NON-FORFEITABLE.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable from date of issue.

LOANS.—At any time after two full year's premiums shall have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, on the execution of a proper loan agreement and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security thereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the next succeeding policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than the cash value at the end of said year; any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of the premiums due or to become due, during the said policy year and interest on the said loan to the end of the said year, shall be paid out of such advance. Interest on a loan will be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable at the end of each policy year and this interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured or of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. Such loans may, at the option of the company, be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the full amount of insurance hereunder will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column four of the accompanying table, and a pure endowment of the amount specified, if any, in the same column, will be paid in cash to the insured if living at the end of such term.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—In lieu of such term insurance and pure endowment, the company will endorse on this policy the amount of paid-up life insurance, if any, specified in column three of the accompanying table, upon written request therefor made by the insured within six months from said due date; provided, that any excess of the said paid-up life insurance over the amount insured by this policy, shall be subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, failing which the net reserve value of such excess shall be paid to the insured in cash.

CASH VALUE.—Upon similar written request within said six months, and on surrender of this policy, the company will pay the cash value, if any, specified in column two of the accompanying table, which is the net value of the extended or paid-up insurance, stated above. The cash value, at the end of the twentieth year, shall be the total amount of all annual premiums paid. If any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy exists at the time the above values become available, such indebtedness shall reduce the amount of the said loan, cash, paid-up or pure endowment values, or shall shorten the extended insurance period, which values or period shall then be adjusted on the same basis originally used in their calculation. The term insurance and pure endowment and paid-up insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans. The cash value and the net value of the term insurance and pure endowment and paid-up insurance specified above shall not be less than the reserve on the policy at the end of the year for which premiums are paid, less a sum not greater than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured under this policy.

In case of default in payment of a premium due at an intermediate period, the above values will be computed on the same basis as the opposite values for the end of the policy year last expired. Loan and cash values for subsequent years not shown opposite will be the full reserve on this policy.

ANNUITY OPTIONS.—(1) At the end of twenty years from date hereof, or (2), on the anniversary nearest the age of sixty-five of the insured, if this policy be then in force, and no indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall exist, an annuity, in lieu of all other benefits hereunder, will be issued by the company on surrender of the policy, guaranteeing an income payable annually to the insured during his life, of the following amounts, the first payment thereof to be made on the following dates. (1) $590 on the seventeenth day of April, 1932, or (2) $1100 on the seventeenth day of April, 1947. No fractional part of any annuity payment hereunder shall be payable on the death of the insured.

REINSTATEMENT PRIVILEGE.—At any time after default in payment of any premium hereon, or after any non-forfeiture or surrender value option except cash surrender value herein given shall have been taken, this policy may be reinstated to its original form and amount on payment to the company of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum; provided, that such reinstatement shall require evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company.

The first year's insurance under this policy is modified term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time and from time to time, subject to any existing assignment of the policy and during its continuance, designate a new beneficiary with right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for payment of premiums, nor can the policy be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president or secretary, whose authority will not be delegated.

2. If the age of the insured shall have been incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured, unless a different method of adjustment be required by the laws of the State in which this policy shall be delivered.

3. If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall be only as hereinbefore provided.

4. No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

5. Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted at any settlement of this policy or of any benefit thereunder.

6. In case of sucide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the total amount of the premiums paid.

7. The reserve on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method, on the basis required by the law of the State in which this policy is delivered and the American Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, for purposes of policy valuation and calculation of premiums and loans and surrender value benefits.

8. This policy and application therefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto.

In witness whereof, the Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at the home office of the company at Cedar Rapids, Ia., this seventeenth day of April, 1912.

On the death of the insured policy may be paid in cash, or an income of three and one-half per cent paid to beneficiary with face value payable on demand, or may be paid in equal annual or monthly instalments or by continuous annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary with twenty instalments certain.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that in any distribution of the surplus or apportionment of profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such apportionment and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued upon this application, shall be conclusive upon the insured under said policy, and upon all parties having or claiming any interest thereunder. If within two years from this date, I become habitually intemperate in the use of intoxicating liquors, opiates or narcotic drugs, the company may cancel the policy hereby applied for by mailing written notice thereof to me at my last known residence, and upon condition that the company shall offer to re-pay the reserve value of said policy to me and thereupon said policy shall become and be absolutely void. I hereby declare and warrant that all my answers and statements herein contained and all those to be given by me in response to the questions asked me by the medical examiner in connection herewth are full correct and true.

Central Life Assurance Society of the U. S.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $318. AGE, 35.

The Central Life Assurance Society of the United States, Des Moines, Ia., in consideration of three hundred eighteen dollars, being the premium for one-year term insurance, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of January hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay upon receipt at the home office of the society in the city of Des Moines, Ia., of due proof of the death of John P. Doe, of Des Moines, county of Polk, State of Iowa, herein called the insured, to Margaret M. Doe, beneficiary with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the insured, his executors, administrators, or assigns.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The society will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above as follows: Semi-annually one hundred sixty-five $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars on first day of January and July or quarterly, eighty-four and $^{30}/_{100}$ dollars on first day of January, April, July, October. Except as herein provided the payment of premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, and countersigned by said agent.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—A grace of one month, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per centum per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—Death resulting from criminal violation of law or death resulting from being engaged in the following business or employment are risks not assumed by this company during the first two years of this contract: Blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacturing or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon railroad trains in switching or coupling cars, handling electric wires or dynamo. Inasmuch as the foregoing risks are not assumed by this company during the first two years of this contract, it is further provided that in event of the death of the assured occurring during the first two years from any of above causes, there shall be payable upon the surrender of this policy at the home office of the company properly receipted a sum only equal to the premiums actually paid thereon in cash. In case of death at any time from military or naval service in time of war the company shall pay on receipt of due proof of death the reserve on this policy only. Death resulting from suicide, whether sane or insane at the time, during the first year under this policy, is a risk not assumed by the society, and in event of death from said cause, during the first year, the only liability shall be the return of the premiums actually paid thereon upon the return of this policy at the home office, properly receipted.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of not greater than six per centum per annum, which interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy, as computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality three and one-half per centum basis, less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy. At the time of making such loan any existing indebtedness on account of this policy and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year, including the interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year will be deducted. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, of record at the home office of the company, if any.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTION ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without the right to loans for its face amount less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy computed according to American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, less not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured in this policy and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. The term for which the insurance will be continued, or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash surrender value or have paid-up insurance, as provided in options (a and c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b).

The figures in the following table are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance under the above provisions this policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at not more than six per centum per annum.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half per centum per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executor, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, for the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) and (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. Options (2) and (3) payable monthly if desired. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise, the beneficiary may after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of January, 1909.

TWENTY-YEAR ENDOWMENT POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $440.80. AGE, 30.

The Central Life Assurance Society of the United States, Des Moines, Ia., in consideration of four hundred forty and $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars, being the premium for one year's term insurance, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged and of the payment of a like amount, upon each first day of January, hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay at the home office of the society in the city of Des Moines, to John P. Doe, of Des Moines, county of Polk, State of Iowa, herein called the insured, on the first day of January, 1929, if the insured be then living, or upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the prior death of the insured to Margaret M. Doe, beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The society will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above as follows: semi-annually two hundred twenty-nine and $^{29}/_{100}$ dollars on first day of January and July, or quarterly, one hundred sixteen and $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars on first day of January, April, July, October.

Privileges and provisions are the same as for the preceding policy with the following additional paragraph under "options on surrender or lapse."

If the sum applicable to the purchase of temporary insurance shall be more than sufficient to continue the insurance to the end of the endowment term named in this policy, the excess shall be used to purchase in the same manner non-participating paid-up pure endowment payable at the end of the endowment term and on the same conditions.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application, the medical examination and the policy hereby applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and I hereby represent that all the answers made to the above questions and those that shall be made to the medical examiner are true and form the basis of an insurance contract, and that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. I also agree to have the required medical examination made at once by a physician acceptable to the society.

CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF ILLINOIS.

AGREEMENTS AND REPRESENTATIONS IN APPLICATION.

I agree, that I will not, within two years from the date of any policy issued hereon, indulge in the use of intoxicants, narcotics or other stimulants to excess; and that should I violate this agreement any policy issued hereon shall become null and void.

I further agree (1) that this application, parts one and two, shall form a part of and be the basis of any policy issued hereon and shall be construed with such policy, and that the contract of insurance (evidenced by such policy and application) shall be governed by and interpreted according to the laws of the State of Illinois; and (2) that the contract shall be considered as having been made at the home office of the company, Ottawa, Ill., and to accept said policy subject to all of its provisions; and (3) that in case of any default in payment of any premium on any policy of insurance issued on this application, the arrears, if any, shall be charged by this company as an indebtedness against such policy according to the loan provisions therein, unless hereafter otherwise directed by me; and (4) that all provisions of law prohibiting any physician or surgeon from disclosing any information herein or hereafter are hereby expressly waived.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Central Life Insurance Company of Illinois.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $356.50. AGE, 35.

Central Life Insurance Company of Illinois, Ottawa, Ill., will pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife (herein called the beneficiary), if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured, or duly substituted beneficiary, upon receipt at its home office in the city of Ottawa, Ill., of satisfactory proofs of the death of John Doe (herein called the insured) during the continuance of this policy, subject, however, to the conditions and privileges hereinafter set forth.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and which is made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of three hundred fifty-six and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars, being the premium for one year's term insurance, terminating on the fifth day of May, 1911, and of the further payment of a like amount on the fifth day of May in every year during the life of the insured, until twenty (20) annual premiums have been paid, whereupon all payment of premiums shall cease.

The cash value of this policy at the end of twenty years shall be five thousand six hundred sixty-one and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars, and, in addition thereto: (a) If dividends are used to purchase additions: The reserve on such additions, computed on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one half per cent per annum, or (b) if dividends are left with the company to accumulate. The amount of such accumulated dividends, with three and one-half per cent interest, compounded annually.

In the event this policy becomes a claim by death, all dividends provisionally apportioned hereto or accrued hereon shall be paid to the beneficiary, in addition to the face of this policy.

CONDITIONS AND PRIVILEGES.

CONTRACT.—This policy of insurance and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured, and in the absence of fraud the statements made in the application shall be deemed representations and not warranties.

CONTRACT TAKES EFFECT.—This policy of insurance shall not be binding on the company unless the same is delivered and the first premium hereon paid during the life and good health of the insured.

PREMIUM, TO WHOM PAYABLE.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Ottawa, Ill., or to the company's authorized agent, in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by the agent designated therein.

HOW PAYABLE.—Premiums are due and payable annually in advance, but may be paid semi-annually or quarterly, according to the company's table rates. Any unpaid part of a year's premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF.—A grace of one month, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, will be allowed on any premium except the first, and if payment be not then made, this policy shall become null and void, except as hereinafter provided in the non-forfeiture clause. In case the death of the insured should occur during said one month of grace, the premium then due, with all other indebtedness on account of, or secured by, this policy, will be deducted from any settlement on this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of any default of premium payments hereon, the arrears may be paid within the month of grace. If not so paid, and if requested by the insured prior to or within the said period of grace, the arrears will be charged as an indebtedness against this policy, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the loan value; or, the policy may be reinstated at any time after the said month of grace upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears thereon with interest at five per cent per annum, provided, in any case, the policy has not been surrendered to the company.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Subject to the rights of any assignee, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary by filing at the home office, on blanks furnished by the company, a written request therefor, together with this policy, such change to take effect when the company's acceptance shall be endorsed hereon; when all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If the beneficiary last designated shall not be living at the death of the insured the amount payable hereunder shall be paid to the estate of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after two years from its date, except for non-payment of premiums, but in the case of misstatement of age, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

SUICIDE.—If, within two years from the date hereof, the insured hereunder shall undertake an aerial voyage, or shall die in consequence of violation of law, or shall, whether sane or insane, die by his own hand, this policy shall be null and void.

OCCUPATION AND RESIDENCE.—This policy is free from conditions and restrictions as regards occupation, residence, travel, or place of death, from the date of its issue.

MILITARY AND NAVAL SERVICE.—Neither a special permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS.—Beginning on the second anniversary of this contract, the company will annually determine and apportion to this policy its equitable share of the divisible surplus, and, provided the premiums shall be duly paid as herein specified, the legal holder hereof shall be entitled to receive annually the dividend arising from such apportionment and it shall be either: (1) paid in cash; or (2) applied towards the payment of any premium; or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance; or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, and payable at maturity of this policy, but withdrawable at any time in cash. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a notice of such election, the dividend shall be paid to the legal holder of this policy in cash.

LOANS.—This company will at any time after two full annual premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in full force and effect, upon written request from the insured, loan according to law on the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum upon the execution of a note or loan agreement, any sum within the loan value specified in the table of loan values herein set forth, deducting therefrom five per cent interest for the remainder of the current policy year, together with any unpaid part of the then current year's premium and all other indebtedness hereon to the company. Failure to repay such loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness secured by this policy shall exceed the loan value hereon at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENT AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—(1) Continue this policy as a paid-up life policy for its full amount and receive any accumulated dividends in cash; or (2) surrender this policy and draw the entire cash value, as stated on page one hereof; or (3) surrender this policy and convert the entire cash value into a paid-up life policy, subject to evidence of good health, satisfactory to the company, for any paid-up insurance in excess of the face value of this policy.

OPTION OF SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years it may be surrendered by the owner at any time prior to any default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof, or within one month after such default. If there be no indebtedness hereon to the company, the owner may elect either. (1) To continue this insurance in force for the face amount of this policy, as non-participating term insurance, for the term specified in the table of extended insurance values herein set forth; or, (2) to purchase non-participating paid-up life insurance for the amount specified in the table of paid-up insurance values herein set forth payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or, (3) as provided by the laws of the State of Illinois, the insured may surrender this policy within one month after the date of default on any premium, and receive therefor the sum in cash which would have otherwise been available for the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance. In case no election is made by the insured within one month after default, this policy will automatically become a non-participating paid-up term policy, as provided in Option One (1) above.

PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTION.—Whenever the reserve at the end of any policy year, on the amount insured hereunder calculated on the basis herein named, shall equal or exceed the net single premium for the attained age of the insured (premium to be calculated on the same basis as the reserve) for an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy the company will upon written request of the insured, endorse the policy as participating paid-up insurance for such an amount as the said reserve will purchase at the premium named; or whenever the reserve shall equal or exceed the face amount of this policy, the company will upon a full and valid surrender of the policy and all claims thereunder pay as a matured endowment the amount of such reserve, provided, however, in each case there shall be no indebtedness hereon to the company.

VALUATION.—The reserve on this policy shall be calculated on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The values in the following table are based on the reserves at the end of the current year. These values will be increased by the equivalent of the full reserve on any paid-up additions hereto, and will be proportionately adjusted, if default occur after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid.

CASH VALUE.—The cash value of this policy at any time after twenty years shall be the full legal reserve (American Experience, three and one half per cent basis).

LOAN VALUE.—The loan value of this policy at any time after twenty years shall be the full legal reserve hereon (American Experience, three and one half per cent basis) at the end of the year in which the loan is made.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding on the company unless it, or a duplicate thereof, be filed at the home office, on blanks furnished by the company. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

PLAN OF INSURANCE MAY BE CHANGED.—This policy may at any anniversary of its date of issue, and without medical re-examination, be exchanged, according to the rules of the company, for any other form of policy issued by the company, provided the amount of insurance under such policy be not greater or the rate of premium less than under this policy. Such exchange must be made while this policy is in full force and effect.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—For instalment options see page four (4) hereof.

MODIFICATION.—No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this, or any, policy of insurance, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representations or information. These powers can only be exercised by the president, one of the vice-presidents, actuary or secretary of the company, and such power will not be delegated.

In witness whereof, the company has, by its president and secretary, and under its seal, executed this policy at its home office in Ottawa, Ill., this first day of May A. D., 1910.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid: (1) In cash; or, (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years (5, 10, 15, or 20), the first instalment being payable immediately, on approval of proofs of death of the insured, in accordance with Table One below, for each one thousand dollars of said sum; or, (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments payable so long as the beneficiary shall live, first payment immediately on the approval of the proofs of death of the insured, based on beneficiary's age at nearest birthday, in accordance with Table Two below, for each one thousand dollars of insurance.

When the option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued.

In case Option Two is selected, and the beneficiary shall die before the twenty payments shall have been made, the remaining instalments will be paid to a new beneficiary or to the executors, administrators or assigns of said first beneficiary.

The company guarantees that the cash value of this policy at the end of twenty years shall be the legal reserve, which will be five thousand, six hundred and sixty-one and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars.

This insurance for the first year is term insurance, and in consideration of the premium therefor, as above required, this insurance is continued as a limited payment life policy by the payment of further premiums thereafter, as herein provided.

The benefits, agreements and provisions, written and printed on the following page, are hereby made a part of this contract.

This policy and the applications therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties.

In witness whereof, the Central Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its office in the City of Louisville, this second day of February, 1912.

BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND CONDITIONS.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy should lapse through the non-payment of premium after it has been in force two years, and provided there is no indebtedness against it, and subject to the other conditions of the policy, the company will extend, automatically, without participation, the amount insured by this policy for the number of years and days named in the table of guaranteed options. In lieu of the extended insurance, on the third or any subsequent anniversary of this policy, or within thirty days thereafter, this policy being in force, and all premiums having been duly paid, the company will grant the following options: (First) paid-up non-participating insurance payable at death for the sum named in the table of guaranteed options, upon the legal surrender of all claims hereunder to the company at its home office; or (second) will pay the cash surrender value fixed in the table of guaranteed options on surrender as aforesaid.

METHOD OF CALCULATION.—The reserve on this policy is computed by the modified preliminary term method adopted by the company, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest. The cash value at the date of default will be the reserve, less a surrender charge not to exceed one per cent of the amount insured by this policy, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. The optional values available will be found on the first page hereof.

LOANS.—After this policy has been in force two full years, and all premiums having been duly paid to the end of the next policy year, a cash loan, not exceeding the amount named in the table of guaranteed options, will be granted upon the sole security of this policy, interest being at five per cent per annum in advance. Applications for loans must be made by the insured, in writing, to the home office of the company, and the loan will be subject to the terms of the company's loan agreement. The amount of loan available includes any previous loan unpaid.

ONE MONTH'S GRACE.—One month's grace, during which time this policy will be continued in force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums after the first year, subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum. If death occur within the days of grace, the unpaid premium for the then current year policy shall be deducted from the amount payable, or any settlement hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default in the payment of premiums, upon written application by the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and if approved by the president, this policy may be reinstated together with any indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy, upon payment of arrears of premium with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be valid unless made in duplicate and both copies be sent with the policy to the home office of the company in Louisville for endorsement, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned, attached to the policy, and endorsed with acknowledgment of notification by the company. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

ERROR IN AGE.—If, in applying for this insurance, the age of the insured shall have been understated, the amount payable hereunder shall be reduced to the amount of insurance which the premium paid thereon would have purchased at the rate of this company for the correct age.

PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable annually in advance at the home office of the company, but may be paid on or before date due to an authorized agent of the company producing and delivering the official receipt signed by the president or secretary of the company, and countersigned by the agent to whom payment is made. Premiums may be paid in half-yearly or quarterly instalments in accordance with the company's semi-annual or quarterly rates for this policy. Except as provided herein, the payment of a premium, or instalment thereof, shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. If any note or other obligation given for any premium or any part thereof shall not be paid when due, this policy shall be and become null and void without any notice or action of the company, notwithstanding any receipt which may have been given for said premium.

AUTHORITY.—Only the president has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for payment of any premium, and the company shall not be bound by the promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any person other than the president.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, and if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, and while the policy is in force, the insured may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation. Every change must be made by written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by the policy, and will take effect only upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest with the insured.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In case of self-destruction within one year from the date of this policy, whether sane or insane, the sum payable hereunder shall be one-tenth of the principal sum of this policy.

MILITARY, NAVAL SERVICE, ETC.—Service in the army or navy in time of war will restrict the liability of the company to ten per cent of the face of this policy unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for and granted and the extra premium therefor paid to the company. If the insured shall die in consequence of an aerial voyage the amount payable hereunder shall be one-tenth of the face of this policy.

PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFITS.—The company, by endorsement hereon, will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, if, before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured shall furnish proofs satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation. Any premium so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under the policy, and the values in the tables of guaranteed options shall be the same. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall furnish the company at any time, on demand, satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or that it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid by the insured in conformity with this contract.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—At the time this policy becomes payable as a claim, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand dollars, may be left in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon, so long as the said amount remains with the company, interest at the rate of three and one-half (3½) per cent per annum. The trust fund, with accrued interest, may be withdrawn at any time after thirty days' notice, but if not so withdrawn shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary at his death. The trust fund privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than one thousand dollars or if the beneficiary be a corporation or a firm.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGES.—The insured, at any time, this policy being then in force, or the beneficiary, when this policy becomes a claim by death, may elect by written request accompanied by this policy for proper endorsement, that the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the beneficiary in either annual or monthly instalments, and, in such event, a table showing the number and amount of instalments will be attached hereto and made a part hereof. It is specially agreed that the company will not commute any of the instalments payable hereunder after the death of the insured without the previous written consent of the insured to such commutation.

NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy shall not participate in the profits of the company.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

On behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy that may be issued under this application, I hereby declare and agree that all the foregoing statements and answers, together with those contained in the declarations to the Central Life Insurance Company's medical examiner, to be full, complete and true, whether written by my own hand or not, and they are offered to the company as a consideration for and as a basis of the contract with said company under any policy issued under this application, which, if issued, I hereby agree to accept. I hereby agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy that may be issued under this application as follows: (1) That such policy shall be a contract made and to be performed in the State of Kentucky. (2) No contract of insurance shall be deemed made and no liability on the part of said company shall arise until a policy shall be issued and be delivered to me, and the first premium thereon be actually paid, all while I am in good health. (3) That all premiums shall be due and payable only at the home office of the company, and all payments on any policy issued under this application shall be held to have been there paid. (4) That no statement, promise or information made or given by, or to, the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by, or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statement, promise or information be reduced to writing in this application and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office. (5) That in case of self-destructon within one year, whether sane or insane, the sum payable under this policy shall be one-tenth the principal sum of the policy. (6) That in the event I engage in military or naval service in time of war this policy shall be in force for its full amount, provided a permit for such service has been secured from the company, and extra premium therefor paid in cash; otherwise, the sum payable in case I should die while engaged in such service or in consequence of having been so engaged shall be one-tenth the principal sum named in the policy. (7) It is hereby agreed that neither the applicant nor any one who is, or may be, interested in the policy hereby applied for, or in the person or estate of the one upon whose life such policy shall be issued, will at any time object to any physician testifying as to any fact he may know which may be material in any inquiry arising under or in connection with said policy.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5,000.

Central States Life Insurance Company.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.40. AGE, 35.

Central States Life Insurance Company hereby insures the life of John Doe, of Crawfordsville, Montgomery county, State of Indiana, and agrees to pay to Mary Doe, his wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness against this policy, immediately upon receipt at the home office of the company at Crawfordsville, Ind., of due proofs of the death of the insured and of the interest of the claimant while this policy is in force, subject to the conditions and privileges hereinafter set forth.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time change the beneficiary, provided this policy has not been assigned as security for debt or other legal consideration, said change to take effect only when endorsed on the policy by the insured and the secretary of the company.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After two or more full annual premiums shall have been paid (this policy being then in force, and no indebtedness against it), upon default in the payment of any premium when due, or within thirty-one days thereafter, the insured may select any one of the options in the following table. In the event of no selection this policy shall be continued in force as a paid-up non-participating policy during the term specified in the first option, and all other options shall be deemed waived. Any indebtedness against this policy, unless previously paid in full, shall reduce the cash and loan values in the table by the amount of such indebtedness, and shall reduce the value of the paid-up or extended insurance in the table, in the ratio of the indebtedness to such insurance values.

* The amounts specified in the first three options of the table above are available at the close of the year indicated in the column at the left. The amounts in the fourth option are available at any time after the full current year's premium is paid.

STANDARD OF VALUATION.—The reserve on this policy is computed on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or a part of the premium to be received during the first year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of Indiana. In every case the values in the table above are equal to the full reserve on the policy, less not to exceed one and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The cash values equal the full reserve. After the period covered by the table above the cash and loan values shall be the full reserve, less any indebtedness against the policy, and the amount of paid-up insurance, and the term of extended insurance shall be such as the cash value will purchase at net premium rates.

CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor and a premium of three hundred sixty-nine and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars to be paid to the company upon the delivery of this policy, and of a payment of a like sum on or before fifteenth of January in every year until twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid; or until prior death of insured.

CONTRACT.—This policy together with the application therefor, a copy of which application is hereby attached and made a part thereof, shall constitute the entire contract between this company and the insured. All statements made by the insured, shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. This policy shall not become binding upon the company until the first year's premium shall have been paid in full during the lifetime and good health of the insured. Only the president, vice-president or secretary (and then in writing only) shall have power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any person other than the above.

PREMIUMS. TIME OF PAYMENT.—All premiums shall be payable in advance at the home office, or to an agent of the company, upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary. The premium may be paid in two instalments of $192.10 each on the fifteenth day of the months of January and July; or in four instalments of $97.90 each on the fifteenth day of the months of January, April, July and October. Payment of any premium or instalment thereof will not maintain this policy in force beyond the date for the payment of the next premium or instalment.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge of 5 per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time this policy shall be in force. In the event of the death of the insured during this period, the current year's premium shall be paid in full in any settlement under this contract.

NOTICE.—Notice of each and every payment of premiums due or to become due is given and accepted by the delivery of this policy; and any further notice required by any statute is hereby expressedly waived.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company except such time as it may be in force under extended insurance. At the end of the second policy year and annually thereafter, that portion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy as determined by the company shall be credited to this policy, and shall be available at the option of the owner of this policy as follows: (1) Paid in cash. (2) Applied toward the payment of premiums. (3) Applied toward the payment of non-participating paid-up additions. (4) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at 3 per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, or withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company will be required for the first paid-up addition to this policy whether it be for the first or any subsequent dividend. Paid-up additions may be surrendered for cash at any anniversary. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise in writing, dividends shall be held to the credit of the policy and be payable in cash at maturity of the policy or be withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of its date. In default of payment of any premium unless the insured shall request the payment of accumulated dividends in cash, they may at the option of the company be applied toward the payment of premiums on this policy as they shall become due.

LOANS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, except such time as it may be in force under extended insurance, will loan on the execution of a proper and legal assignment and delivery of this policy to the company, and on the sole security thereof with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum in advance, a sum not to exceed the amount stated in option 4 of the table of options on the first page of policy, plus the value of any dividend additions, less any indebtedness and any unpaid balance of current year's premium. Interest at same rate will be due and payable annually in advance thereafter on this loan and if not so paid will be added to the principal and bear same rate of interest. The company reserves the right to defer making such loan for not to exceed six months from receipt of application therefor. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon when due shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse or be forfeited, it may be reinstated upon a written application therefor, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all premiums due to date with interest at five per cent per annum.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated the amount payable on this policy in the event of death will be such as the premium will purchase at the correct age. If overstated the excess premiums shall be returned to the owner of this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and bear the signature of both the insured and the secretary of the company. This company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

LIMITATION OF ACTION.—No action at law or in equity shall be commenced against the company for claim under this policy after three years from the time cause of action shall accrue; and it is agreed that in case of claim by death, cause of action, if any, shall accrue on the date of death of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable from date thereof, except for non-payment of premiums, and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without permission from the company.

RISKS NOT COVERED.—This company will not be liable for the amount insured in this policy or any part thereof if death occurs under any of the following conditions: (1) At any time, while this policy is in force, if the insured engages in military or naval service in time of war without permission of the company and without paying the additional premium required by the increased risk. (2) During the first two years of the policy if the insured, whether sane or insane, shall die by his own hand or act. (3) During the first year of the policy if the insured shall be engaged in any of the following: (a) Retailing or manufacturing intoxicating liquors. (b) Handling electric wires and dynamos. (c) Blasting or mining. (d) Aeronautic ascension. (e) Production or handling of highly explosive or inflammadle substances. (f) Switching, coupling or uncoupling cars; service on a railroad train or track except as a passenger or sleeping car conductor, mail agent or express messenger. (g) Travel or residence north of the sixtieth degree North Latitude or in the Torrid Zone. (h) Violation of law, or paying any penalty for such violation. In every and all such cases this policy shall be null and void and all payments thereon shall be forfeited.

PROOF OF DEATH.—In the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, application should be made to the company at its home office, for blank forms upon which to make proofs of death.

INSTALMENT SETTLEMENTS. INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured at any time, this policy being in force, may elect by written request on the company's form that each $1000 of insurance due upon maturity of this policy by death shall be paid to the beneficiary in accordance with either of the following instalment options, the first instalment being due in each case upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, provided, that if there be more than one beneficiary these options shall not be available without the consent of the company. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary in writing, and is endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured.

OPTION 1.—In ten annual instalments of $113.80 each, amounting to $1,138.

OPTION 2.—In fifteen annual instalments of $81.30 each, amount to $1,219.50.

OPTION 3.—In twenty annual instalments of $65.25 each, amounting to $1,305.00.

OPTION 4.—In annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the schedule below for this option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured. In case of the death of the beneficiary before twenty annual instalments have been paid, the company will pay the balance of said twenty annual instalments to the estate of the beneficiary.

OPTION 5.—In annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the schedule below for this option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured.

INSTALMENT COUPONS.—Should this policy become a valid claim by death, and the insured has selected either the first, second or third of the instalment options as above provided, the company will upon surrender of the policy, issue to the beneficiary its instalment contract with coupons attached, numbered consecutively according to the number of such instalments under the option selected, and each coupon providing for the payment of one of the annual instalments, and should the fourth or fifth option be selected, the company will upon such surrender of the policy, issue to the beneficiary its annuity contract, providing for the payment of annual instalments, in accordance with the terms of the option selected.

In witness whereof, the Central States Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its office in the city of Crawfordsville, State of Indiana, this fifteenth day of January, 1910.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I, John Doe, apply to the Central States Life Insurance Company, of Crawfordsville, Ind., for insurance on my life in the amount of ten thousand dollars on the twenty payment life participating plan, the annual premium to be payable in advance, and each insurance year to end on the fifteenth day of January and, as an inducement to said company to make said insurance and as a consideration therefor, I agree, (1) That all the following statements and answers, and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner, in continuation of this application are true, full and complete, and are offered to the company as an inducement to issue the proposed policy, which I agree to accept. (2) That there shall be no contract of insurance unless and until the first premium shall have been paid during my continuance in good health, and unless also the policy shall have been issued during my continuance in good health; except in case a binding receipt shall have been issued as hereinafter provided. (3) That during the period of one year following the date of issue of the policy of insurance for which application is hereby made, I will not engage in any of the following extra hazardous occupations or employments: Retailing or manufacturing intoxicating liquors, handling electric wires and dynamos, blasting, mining, sub-marine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture of highly explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or track, or in switching or in coupling cars, or any steam or other vessel; nor travel or reside north of the sixtieth degree of north latitude, or in the Torrid Zone. (4) That active service in the army or navy, in time of war, shall invalidate said contract of insurance, unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for in writing and endorsed upon the policy by the company, and such extra premium paid therefor upon notification as the then rules of the company may provide. (5) That I will not die by my own act, whether sane or insane, during the period of two years next following said date of issue,

Central States Life Insurance Company.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Central States Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $307.10. AGE, 35.

Central States Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., promises to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt, at its home office in St. Louis, Mo., of due proof of the death, during the continuance of this policy, of John Doe, the insured hereunder, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured.

DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The company will agree, by endorsement hereon, to pay for the insured the premiums thereafter becoming due, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish satisfactory proof to the company at its home office that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation. Any premium so paid shall not be deducted from the amount payable under this policy and the values provided under "non-forfeiture provisions" shall be the same as if the premiums had been paid by the insured. Provided that notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, the company's obligation to pay such premiums shall cease and all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

STATE OF MISSOURI.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., January 1, 1911.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate deposited with this department.

This policy is absolutely free of conditions as to residence, occupation, or travel. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service.

FACILITY IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums may be paid annually in advance, or in semi-annual or quarterly instalments thereof in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates. The company will allow a change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor by the insured on the company's form. All premiums are payable either at the home office of the company or to an authorized agent, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary and countersigned by the agent designated. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid on the date when due, this policy shall become void and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest charge, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured die within said period, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGES.—Payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim may be changed from payment in one sum to payment by instalments, as provided on the fourth page thereof.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, within thirty-one days of application therefor, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of this policy to the company upon its prescribed form and on the sole security hereof, with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable in advance, a sum not exceeding the loan value of this policy at the end of the then current policy year, as provided in the table of values herein contained, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid portion of premium for the balance of said policy year. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay such loan or interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and any assignee of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and after giving such notice, shall render this policy void.

BENEFICIARY—CHANGE OF.—Provided the insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary in the application herefor, the insured may at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its home office, change the beneficiary, such change to take effect only upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease; provided that no such change of beneficiary shall be valid if the policy or any interest therein be assigned at the time of such change. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

POLICY MAY BE REINSTATED.—In event of default of premium payments, unless the cash surrender value has been paid, it is agreed that this policy may be reinstated upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premium and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, with interest at a rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—After premiums shall have been paid hereon for three full years, in case of default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof on the date when due, the owner shall, within sixty days from such due date, have the choice of one of the following:

OPTIONS.—(1) (Paid-up insurance). Upon written application therefor and legal surrender of this policy to the company at its home office, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up policy, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for such an amount as the cash surrender value of this policy at date of default will purchase, as hereinafter provided; or, (2) (self-acting extended insurance) to have the insurance hereunder automatically extended in force from such due date as term insurance, without participation and without the right to loans, for its face amount for the number of years and days which the cash surrender value at date of default will purchase, as hereinafter provided; or, (3) (cash surrender value) to receive the cash surrender value at date of default, within thirty-one days of application therefor, upon legal surrender of this policy to the company at its home office. Said cash surrender value at date of default will be the full reserve on this policy, which is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum having a maximum at the end of the third year, not in excess of seven-tenths of one per cent of the face amount of this policy, and thereafter decreasing, and less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby. After the ninth policy year, said cash surrender value will be the full reserve, less any indebtedness as aforesaid.

TABLE OF VALUES.—The values in the following table are for full paid policy years, in the absence of any indebtedness and will be adjusted proportionately for additional instalments of premiums beyond the full paid policy years.

NOTE.—A statement of the values for succeeding years will be furnished upon application to the company.

* Loan values are the same as cash values, and subject to the provisions of the "cash loans" clause, are available at any time after three full years premiums have been paid.

The amount of paid-up insurance or the term for which the insurance will be extended will be such as the cash surrender value at time of default will purchase applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

(1) Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and both copies sent to the home office, one to be retained by the company for a record and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity or sufficiency of any assignment and the claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (2) This policy and the application herefor taken together constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. (3) This policy is payable at the home office of the company in St. Louis, Mo., and proof of interest of any claim will be required; any indebtedness to the company hereon, or secured hereby, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder. Any unpaid balance of the current year's premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy as a death claim. (4) Only the president, a vice-president or secretary has power, on behalf of the company, to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premiums, or to waive any forfeiture, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless made in writing by one of the said officers. (5) In case of suicide of the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of the premium paid hereon. (6) This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid and the policy actually delivered to the insured during the lifetime and good health of the insured. (7) This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or divisible surplus of the company. (8) If the age of the insured was misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred seven and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars, being the premium for term insurance for the first policy year ending on the first day of January, 1912.

This contract will be continued as a limited payment life policy upon the payment of the annual renewal premium of three hundred seven and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of January, 1912, and of the payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the first day of January, in every year during the continuance of this policy until premiums for twenty years from the date hereof shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

After delivery of this policy to the insured, it takes effect as of the first day of January, 1911.

In witness whereof, the Central States Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed this first day of January, 1911.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death-claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If payment is to be made by 20 instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $65.2 for each $1000 of insurance.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—Twenty-five annual instalments at least to be paid, but instalments to continue during entire lifetime of beneficiary. If payment by continuous instalments be selected and there is more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid, unless otherwise directed by the insured, shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined in accordance with the following table, for the age attained.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43.91 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors or administrators of the beneficiary.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly. The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

In behalf of myself and of any person having or claiming any interest in a policy issued in consequence of this appl cation I hereby agree: (1) That all statements and answers contained in either part of this application are full, complete and true: (2) That this application and the policy or policies issued in consequence thereof, shall constitute the entire contract of insurance, and the company shall not be bound in any way by any promise or statement made by or to any agent or other person, unless such promise, statement or information be reduced to writing and submitted to the company in this application: (3) That no policy issued in consequence of this application shall go into effect until it shall be actually delivered to me; and the first premium thereon shall be actually paid to the company, all during my life and good health.

Cherokee Life Insurance Company.

Extra Dividend Reducing Premium Twenty-Payment Life Policy.

Amount, $10.000 Annual Premium, $383.40. Age, 35.

Cherokee Life Insurance Company, Rome, Ga., promises to pay, at its home office in the city of Rome, Ga., upon the receipt of due proofs of the fact and cause of the death of Robert Roe, Rome, county of Floyd, State of Georgia, hereinafter called the insured, occurring while this policy is in force, ten thousand dollars to Mary Elizabeth, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as the insured may hereafter designate in writing as hereinafter provided; and

Double Indemnity for Accidental Death.—Promises to pay to such beneficiary under like conditions, a like additional sum, making a total sum of twenty thousand dollars, in the event such death of the insured shall have been occasioned solely by external, violent, accidental means, resulting in such death within three monthes thereafter, and

Monthly Income During Disability.—Promises to pay at its home office in the city of Rome, Ga., in lieu of all other benefits, upon receipt of due proof that the insured, while this policy is in force and the insured has not attained the age of sixty years, shall have become totally and permanently incapacitated by accident or disease to pursue any gainful occupation, the sum of fifty dollars at the end of each month during the continuance of such total incapacity, but not exceeding two hundred such monthly payments, during which period the payment of premiums shall not be required; provided that, in case the insured shall die before two hundred such monthly payments shall have been made, the remaining payments thereof shall be made to the beneficiary of the insured.

The loss of both legs above the ankle, or both arms above the wrist or of one leg and one arm in such manner or of the sight of both eyes shall be taken, without further proof, to constitute total and permanent incapacity.

Should the insured, after the approval of the proofs of total and permanent incapacity, notwithstanding recover therefrom, this policy may be restored to full force, by the payment of premiums thereafter becoming due hereon; provided that the sum so paid in disability benefits and all premiums so foreborne, accumulated at four per cent interest per annum, annually compounded, shall be a charge upon this policy, to be deducted in any settlement thereunder.

Privileges.

No Restriction.—From date of issue policy is subject to no restriction as to travel, residence, or occupation or cause of death; provided, however, that in the event of suicide while sane or insane, during the first year, the amount payable shall be the reserve upon this policy.

Incontestability.—After one year in force, this policy shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premium.

Grace in Payment of Premiums.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted for the payment of each premium upon this policy, after the first year, during which grace this policy shall remain in full force, subject to the deduction of the foreborne premiums.

Automatically Non-Forfeitable.—If any premium shall not have been paid at the expiration of the grace, and if no application shall have been made for one of the non-forfeiture options, hereinafter set forth, the company will first apply the extra dividend then earned, to the payment of such premium and if such be insufficient to pay the same, the company will charge the remainder thereof against this policy, as a loan bearing interest at four per cent, per annum, annually compounded, provided the then loan value, over and above all previous loans then outstanding and interest thereon to date, shall be sufficient to enable such advances, or, if insufficient to cover the entire premium then due, the company will so charge the remainder of an instalment thereof for a shorter period but not for less than one-quarter year. Notice of such automatic application or charge shall be mailed to the insured. At any time while the policy is thus maintained in force, the payment of premium may be resumed and, subject to such indebtedness, this policy shall remain in full force as if all premiums had been paid in cash. When the total indebtedness to the company hereon shall exceed or equal the loan value, this policy shall be void thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the insured, unless during such period the indebtedness shall be reduced to an amount not exceeding the loan value.

Period after which Company will Advance All Premiums.—At any time after eight annual premiums shall have been paid on this policy, provided there is then no indebtedness thereon to the company, the insured may at his option cease the payment of premiums; in which event the company agrees to pay all further reduced renewal premiums, as they shall become due, by first applying the extra dividends hereon thereto and if such be insufficient to pay the same the company will then charge the remainder against this policy, as per the foregoing provisions.

Re-Instatement.—At any time after this policy shall have ceased to be in force by failure to pay any premium or premiums, after the first, the company will re-instate the same upon application by the insured, accompanied by proof of good health satisfactory to the company and by the tender of all arrears of premiums, accumulated at interest at four per cent per annum, annually compounded.

Non-Forfeiture Options.—This policy, at any time after the first annual renewal premium shall have been paid, may be surrendered to the company while in force for: (1) Cash surrender value; or (2) paid-up insurance; or (3) extended insurance. The amount of the cash surrender value and of the paid-up insurance and the term of extended insurance (for which the insurance upon the life of the insured would be continued for the full amount of this policy but without non-forfeiture and loan options and without participation) shall be as per the following table:

The values and terms of extension available at the end of each succeeding year will be computed on the same basis. If there is indebtedness, the same shall be deducted from the cash surrender value and the amount of the paid-up insurance and of the extended insurance shall be reduced pro rata.

Cash Loans.—After two full annual premiums have been paid, at any time the company will advance against this policy the amount of its then cash surrender value, less all indebtedness upon this policy and interest thereon, the same to bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum, payable annually in advance; provided that the company may require not to exceed three months' notice prior to making any such cash loan.

Misstatement of Age.—If the age of the insured be mis-stated in the application for this policy, the insurance hereunder shall be the amount which the premiums actually paid would have purchased at the published rate of the company at the true age of the insured.

Assignment.—The company shall not be deemed to have any knowledge of any assignment of this policy, unless the same, together with a copy thereof, shall have been delivered to the company at its home office, together with this policy for endorsement. The company will not be responsible for the validity of any assignment and due proof of interest must be tendered by the assignee on making claim.

Change of Beneficiary.—Upon the written application of the insured to the company at its home office, while this policy is in force, accompanied by the policy, the company will at any time by endorsement hereon change the beneficiary to such person or persons as the insured may so designate, subject, however, to any assignment thereof. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

Reducing Premiums—Increasing Dividends.—The payment of the first annual premium on this policy (or of all quarterly or semi-annual instalments thereof as the same become due) continues the insurance thereunder for the term of one year from the date hereof, i. e., until noon, January 1, 1912, from which date it will be renewed as an extra dividend reducing premium limited payment life policy by the payment of an annual renewal premium as specified hereinafter, in advance and thereafter on each anniversary of the date of this policy during the life-time of the insured, until twenty annual premiums hereon shall have been paid, or until such earlier date as this policy shall have been endorsed fully paid as provided herein.

The renewal premiums, payable after the first year, shall be reduced 17 per cent. below the premium for the first year.

Further Reduction of Premiums by Extra Dividends.—There shall be a further reduction of each annual renewal premium, after the first, by an extra dividend upon the increasing mean reserve of this policy, equal to the net earnings of the company over three and one-half per cent (the rate required to maintain the reserve) upon assets equal to such reserve (less any indebtedness on this policy to the company), increased by a proportionate share of a fund to which the entire net earnings of the company over three and one-half per cent upon assets equal to the total mean reserves of its non-participating policies shall be credited. The net earnings are the total earnings upon the investments of the company (exclusive of policy loans) during the next preceding calendar year, less the actual investment expenses and losses and taxes.

Option of Increasing Insurance.—The insured may, upon payment of the first renewal premium hereon, elect to pay renewal premiums equal in amount to the first year's premium (herein after known as full renewal premium), in which case the sum payable upon proof of death of the insured and the cash or loan value, the paid-up insurance and the extended insurance available on surrender, shall each year be increased for each such premium paid as per the following table: but such election shall not deprive the insured of the right to pay the reduced renewal premium instead of the full renewal premium, when any subsequent premium shall be payable, without prejudice to additional insurance and values, already secured by such payments.

If the insured continues the payment of full renewal premiums, the extra dividends shall be applied proportionately further to increase the amount of insurance. All additions to the amount of insurance shall be fully paid and non-forfeitable. The extra dividend shall be increased by an amount proportionate to the unencumbered mean reserve thereon. The insured may at any time surrender any or all of such additions for a cash surrender value equal to the full net reserve thereon, computed according to the American experience table and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less any indebtedness thereon to the company.

Fully Paid Policy in Seventeen Years or Earlier.—Provided full renewal premiums shall have been paid as above provided, the company guarantees to endorse this policy, if written request be made therefor at the home office accompanied by the policy, fully paid for at least the face amount of ten thousand dollars, at the expiration of seventeen years from this date, or of such shorter period as the increased amount of paid-up insurance shall equal or exceed such face amount by reason of the application of extra dividends.

Privileges of Premium Payment.—The annual premiums upon this policy may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance as per the table of premiums endorsed hereon; and a change in the method of payment may be made on any anniversary of this policy. The table of premiums endorsed hereon shows the amount of the full annual premiums for the first and subsequent years and of the reduced annual renewal premiums (to be further reduced by extra dividends) and of the semi-annual and quarterly instalments in which such premiums are payable at the option of the insured.

The payment of a semi-annual or quarterly instalment of the annual premium shall not have the effect to continue the insurance in force beyond the time when the next instalment shall become due and payable. In payment of a claim on this policy, an amount equal to the then unpaid portion of the full annual premium will be deducted. All premiums are payable at the head office of the company in the city of Rome, Ga., but may be paid to an agent in exchange for a receipt signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary or the treasurer of the company and countersigned by the agent.

Provisions and Conditions.—No agent has authority to amend or modify any of the terms of this policy or to waive any provision thereof or the payment of any premiums thereon. The printed and written application of the insured and his answers to the medical examiner, a copy of which is attached to this policy, are hereby accepted as the warranties of the insured as to all material facts stated therein and are made a part of this contract. In case the insured shall have paid in advance upon making application herefor the first annual premium (or the first semi-annual or quarterly instalment thereof) in exchange for the binding receipt of the company, this policy shall, upon approval of such application by the company, take effect as of the date thereof, in accordance with the terms of the company's binding receipt; if a premium or instalment thereof shall not have been so paid in advance, this policy shall not take effect until the delivery of the same to the insured and the payment of the first annual premium (or the first semi-annual or quartery instalment of the same) during the lifetime and good health of the insured.

In witness whereof, the Cherokee Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed at its home office, in Rome, Ga., by its president and secretary, this first day of January, 1912, and couutersigned by its registrar.

Modes of Settlement.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by this policy for endorsement, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon its maturity by reason of the death of the insured (or its maturity as an endowment, if so provided) paid, instead of in one sum in cash, in instalments in manner and amount, as follows:

The instalments corresponding to an amount of insurance, larger or smaller, will be pro rata; provided that the privilege of monthly instalments will not be available for amounts of insurance less than $2,500; of quarterly instalments, less than $2,000; of semi-annual instalments, less than than $1,500; or of annual instalments, less than $1,000.

If written request therefor be made by the insured to the company at its home office, the instalments payable to the beneficiary will not be commuted by the company after the death of the insured during the lifetime of the beneficiary and during such period the company will not consent to any assignment thereof.

Agreement in Application.

Part I.—I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application that: (1) No statement, information or agreement made or given by or to any person soliciting or taking this application, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, unless reduced to writing, and then only if presented to and approved by the executive officers of the company at its home office. (2) Every statement made herein and in my answers to medical examiners is true, and that no information affecting the insurance sought has been withheld. (3) The insurance herein applied for shall not be in effect until the premium has been paid in full in cash, and the policy delivered to me during my good health. (4) If, the premium be paid with this application, such payment is made subject to the conditions in receipt hereto attached. (5) All my declarations herein made and my statements to the medical examiner, together with the policy, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

Part II.—I warrant, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, each of the above answers to be full, complete and true, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief I am a proper subject for life insurance. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself, and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he hereby acquired.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25 000.

Citizens National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—DISABILITY BENEFITS—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $302.60 AGE, 35.

Citizens National Life Insurance Company, Anchorage, Ky. agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company as follows: to the beneficiary Mary Doe, wife of the insured, beneficiary by revocable designation upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured John Doe, of Louisville, county of Jefferson, State of Kentucky.

PREMIUMS.—This contract of insurance is issued in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part hereof, and of the annual premium of three hundred two and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars, and a like sum on the twenty-eighth day of September of every year until pemiums for twenty years, including the first, have been paid or during the continuance of the contract.

The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above as follows: $157.40, semi-annually on each twenty-eighth day of September and March or $80.20, quarter-annually on each twenty-eighth day of September, December, March and June, provided such change is made on any anniversary of the date of this policy, upon written notice theretofore received, and provided further that the portion of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, if any, at the death of the insured, shall be deducted in any settlement under the policy. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof, shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. If any note or obligation given for any premium or any part thereof shall not be paid when due, the policy shall be and become null and void, except as herein provided. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company, but may be paid on or before date due to any agent of the company producing and delivering a receipt signed by the president or secretary of the company and countersigned by the agent to whom payment is made. One month (not less than thirty days) of grace during which time this policy shall be continued in force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums after the first, subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum. If death occurs within the days of grace the unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy made as hereinafter provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without the right of revocation. Every change must be made by written notice to the company at its home office accompanied by the policy, and will take effect only upon endorsement on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after it has been renewed beyond the first year, if the premiums have been duly paid.

This policy is free from any restrictions as to residence and travel.

THE COMPANY WILL PAY PREMIUMS AS FOLLOWS.—First: In case of disability of the insured as provided on the second page hereof. Second. Upon written request of the insured, before the expiration of one month (not less than thirty days) from the due date of any premium on this policy, the premium or premiums thereafter falling due, and not paid when or before due, will, until such request be revoked, be charged as a policy loan, with annual interest at five per cent in advance, so long as the then cash value as hereinafter set forth, shall be sufficient to cover such loan; and the policy shall continue in force until the cash value shall have been exhausted. At any time while the policy is thus in force, payment of premiums may be resumed and the accumulated debits, if not repaid, may be continued as a loan against the policy, with interest as aforesaid.

This insurance is based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest and for the first year is preliminary term insurance, and in consideration of the premium therefor, as above required, this insurance is continued as a whole life policy by the payment of future premiums as herein provided.

The benefits, agreements and provisions, written and printed on the following pages and endorsed hereon are hereby made a part of this contract.

BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND CONDITIONS.

DISABILITY BENEFITS.—If, after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured, before attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish to the company satisfactory evidence that he has become totally disabled and will be permanently, continuously and wholly disabled for life in consequence of bodily injury or disease, and thereby prevented from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company, by an endorsement hereon, will agree to pay the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter fall due under this policy during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on the policy and the available loan and surrender values of the policy as set out in the following table shall increase in the same manner as if such premiums were paid by the insured. Should the company assume the payment of premiums as herein provided, the insured shall furnish proof of continued disability, if called for, as each succeeding premium falls due, and within the "grace" period provided in the policy and failure to submit such proof shall render the policy null and void except as herein provided unless within said "grace" period the insured shall pay the premium then due; after which he shall continue to pay recurring premiums subject to the right again to make proof of disability as hereinbefore provided.

CASH LOANS.—The company, at any time after the end of the second year, will lend upon the sole security of this policy, at five per cent per annum, payable in advance, the amount of loan set out in the table below, deducting therefrom all other indebtedness to the company, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or interest shall not render the policy void, unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value of the policy hereinafter specified and until one month after notice thereof shall have been mailed by the company to the last address of record of the insured and of any assignee of record under the policy.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—Upon any default in payment of premium, this policy may be surrendered to the company prior to the expiration of the period of grace. Thereupon, (1) provided there is no indebtedness to the company, the insured may, (a) after the end of the first year, have the insurance continued in force, as hereinafter provided, for the full amount of the policy without the right to loans or surrender values; or, (b) after the end of the second year, procure paid-up insurance payable at the death of the insured; or, (c) after the end of the third year, receive the cash value of the policy. The periods for which the insurance shall be continued and the amounts of paid-up insurance are set out in the table of loan and surrender values, and the cash value at the end of any year is the same as the loan value at the end of the preceding year. (2) If there be any indebtedness to the company, provided the policy shall have been in force for three full years, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the amount which would otherwise be available as a cash value, and the insured may have the remainder applied (a) to continue the insurance in force, as hereinafter provided, without the right to loans or surrender values, for the full amount of the policy, less the indebtedness; or, (b) to procure a proportionate amount of paid-up insurance payable at the death of the insured; or, (c) to receive such remainder as a cash value.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

If the annual premium on this policy be paid in instalments, allowance will be made in computing benefits from the table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the number of full years' premiums indicated.

The loan and surrender values under this policy shall be based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest per annum, and the net value thereof is the entire reserve, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by the policy. After the twentieth year the table of loan and surrender values will be extended on request.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If the insured shall fail to pay any premium or any indebtedness hereunder, when due or within the period of grace, if any, and shall not have exercised any of the foregoing options, the company, subject to the other conditions of the policy, shall grant the continued insurance hereinbefore provided.

REINSTATEMENT.—Unless the cash value has been paid or the continued insurance has expired, this policy, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated by the insured at any time within three years from date of default, by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at five per cent per annum; any loan which existed at date of default together with interest at the same rate to the date of reinstatement, to be, on application for such reinstatement, either repaid in cash or continued as an indebtedness against the policy.

NON-PARTICIPATION.—This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or divisible surplus of the company.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In case of self-destruction within one year from the date of this policy, whether sane or insane, the sum payable hereunder shall be one-tenth the principal sum of the policy.

OCCUPATION.—This policy is free from restriction as to any occupation except military or naval service in time of war; provided, however, a permit for such service may be procured from the company upon the payment of an extra premium therefor, in which event the policy shall remain in force for its full amount Otherwise, if death occur during such service, or in consequence of such service, the sum payable hereunder shall be one-tenth the principal sum named in the policy.

AUTHORITY.—Only the president or secretary has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any other person.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the sum payable hereunder shall be such amount as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be valid unless made in duplicate and both copies be sent with the policy to the home office of the company for endorsement, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned attached to the policy and endorsed with acknowledgment of notification by the company. The company shall assume no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

INDEBTEDNESS.—All indebtedness to the company on account of this policy whether of the insured, the beneficiary or any assignee, shall be deducted from the proceeds thereof in any settlement thereunder.

TRUST FUND.—The proceeds of this policy may be paid in instalments as provided on the back hereof; or may be placed in trust with the company to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, interest on such proceeds at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, such proceeds to be paid to the beneficiary at the termination of the trust or to the estate of the beneficiary in the event of death prior to such termination.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This instrument contains the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defense to a claim under the policy unless it be contained in the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the death of the insured may elect, by written request upon the company's forms, that the proceeds of the policy shall be paid in a specified number of annual or monthly instalments, (any instalments remaining unpaid at the death of the beneficiary to be paid to the estate of the beneficiary), or in annual or monthly instalments to continue throughout the lifetime of the beneficiary. In the event the proceeds are directed to be paid in continuous instalments and the beneficiary should die before the payment of instalments for twenty years, then the company shall continue payments to the estate of the beneficiary until instalments for twenty years in all have been paid. These options shall not be available if there be more than one beneficiary, nor if the amount payable hereunder be less than $1000. If the insured shall have elected that the proceeds of this policy be paid in instalments, the beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given the beneficiary in writing and endorsed on the policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured. The tables are based on annual instalments for each $1000 payable hereunder; and the monthly instalments are one-twelfth of the annual instalments.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Cleveland Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $305.10. AGE, 35.

The Cleveland Life Insurance Company, Cleveland, O., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Esther Cleaveland, the beneficiary, with right of revocation, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured at the home office of the company at Cleveland, O., upon receipt at said home office of due proofs of death of Moses Cleaveland, of Cleveland, county of Cuyahoga, State of Ohio, herein called the insured, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

The stipulations, privileges and conditions recited on the following pages of this policy are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the Cleveland Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at Cleveland, O., this fifteenth day of June, 1911.

1. THE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties.

2. CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application and the payment in advance of a premium of three hundred five and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars and the further payment of a like premium on the fifteenth day of June in each year, beginning one year from date hereof, until twenty full years' premiums have been paid, including the first, or until the prior death of the insured.

3. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue for the amount due, except for non-payment of premium. All statements made by the insured in the application herefor shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

4. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest, from the date when it would otherwise be payable, will be granted for the payment of any premium after the first, during which time of grace the insurance shall continue in force.

5. REVIVAL AND REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium it will be revived any time after the date of lapse upon written application and payment of arrears of premium with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, together with the reinstatement of all indebtedness, provided such indebtedness be not greater than the loan value of this policy at the time of application for such revival, and provided, evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to the company be furnished.

6. AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE; CASH SURRENDER, PAID-UP, OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the owner may, within thirty-one days after default in payment of any premium due hereon, elect (a) to surrender this policy for cash for the amount provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, less any indebtedness to the company on this policy, provided, that the company may defer payment thereof for not more than ninety days after the application therefor is made; or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for the amounts provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full; or (c) to have this policy extended as term insurance, without the right to loans, for the period provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full. If the owner shall not within thirty-one days after such default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office and select one of the options above provided, insurance will be extended as provided in option (c). Should there be any indebtedness to the company on this policy, the amount of paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), or the term for which insurance will be extended as provided in option (c), will be such as the cash surrender value provided in said table of guarantees opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, less such indebtedness, will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

7. LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, the amount specified in the table of guarantees herein opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, at a rate of interest not greater than five per cent in advance, which interest if not paid annually in advance, will be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, and the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year; provided, that such loan may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

8. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums under this policy are due and payable annually in advance at the home office of the company, at Cleveland, O., but may be paid on or before the due date at such other places as the company may designate; or may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance, at the rates endorsed on the cover of this policy, in exchange for the company's official receipt signed by its president or secretary, and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof, shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. Failure to pay any note or other obligation, when due, given for a premium or any part thereof on this policy, shall render this policy null and void except as herein provided. This policy is not in force until the first premium or agreed instalment thereof has been paid while the insured is alive and in good health. In event of the death of the insured there shall be deducted from any sum payable hereunder any unpaid portion of the current year's premium and any other indebtedness of the insured to the company.

9. PRELIMINARY TERM AND RESERVE.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance. The subsequent premiums will accumulate the reserve required by the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest per annum beginning one year later than the date of this policy. The cash surrender and loan values, paid-up and extended insurance referred to in the table of guarantees herein, are equal to the reserve on this policy according to the foregoing standard, less a percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the amount insured by this policy.

10. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY; ASSIGNMENT.—No change of beneficiary or assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any change of beneficiary or of any assignment. When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

11. CHANGE OF FORM.—Upon written application to the company, this policy will be exchanged at any anniversary of its date of issue, without medical re-examination, for any other form of policy issued by the company; the amount of insurance under such new policy shall not be greater nor the premium less than under this policy and the first premium on the new policy shall be paid while this policy is in force.

12. SUICIDE.—Self destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue of this policy is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.

13. AGE.—If the age of the insured shall have been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

14. GENERAL.—This policy of insurance is a contract issued by a purely stock company. The holder by its acceptance neither assumes responsibility for any part of the company's liabilities, nor becomes entitled to any participation in its surplus. The place of this contract is expressly agreed to be Cleveland, O. No agent is authorized to make, alter or discharge contracts, grant credits, waive forfeitures or extend the time for payment of premiums. No such act shall be valid unless in writing and signed by the president or secretary of the company. Neither is any agent authorized to receive or collect any except the first year's premium, unless there shall have been previously delivered to him the company's official receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by such agent.

After this policy has become fully paid up for life the cash and loan values shall be the entire reserve hereunder at the end of the current policy year. The figures in the table of guarantees above are computed in accordance with the provisions of this contract, and upon the assumption that there be no indebtedness on this policy.

16. INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, or in case the insured shall not have so elected, the beneficiary after the death of the insured by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, may elect to have the total net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured, if said total net sum is not less than one thousand dollars, paid either in cash or as follows: (First) By the payment of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum on such total net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said total net sum, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (Second) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the first instalment being payable immediately. (Third) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years thereafter as the beneficiary may survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the first instalment being payable immediately. (Fourth) By the payment of an annual income for life to the beneficiary in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the first instalment being payable immediately. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the legal representatives or assigns of the beneficiary. Unless otherwise specified by the insured or beneficiary in making such selection, the beneficiary may at any time surrender the agreement for the payment of an annuity or such instalments, for the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the basis of three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent interest compounded annually; provided, that such surrender and commutation will not be made under (3) or (4) unless the good health of the beneficiary is shown to the satisfaction of the company.

Guaranteed Protection Provision.

1. Premium.—The Cleveland Life Insurance Company, of Cleveland, O., in consideration of five ($5.00) dollars additional annual premium to be paid with each and every annual premium on Policy No. 09876 issued by said company, insuring the life of Moses Cleaveland, of Cleveland, O., for ten thousand ($10,000) dollars.

2. Disability before Age 60.—Hereby guarantees that after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty (60) years, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by indorsement in writing upon said policy, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on said policy and the values stated in the table of guarantees in said policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

3. Disability after Age 60.—If the insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of like total and permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate without interest, as an indebtedness on said policy. In such case the values stated in the table of guarantees in said policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

4. Recovery of Insured.—If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with the provisions of said policy from the first premium due date following such recovery.

5. Termination at Option of Insured.—On any anniversary of the due date of the annual premium on said policy this agreement may be terminated by the insured, in which event the subsequent annual premiums will be reduced fifty cents for each one thousand dollars insurance under said policy and such reduction will be endorsed thereon.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true to the best of my knowledge and belief, and I agree that the foregoing, together with Part 2, application, and with this declaration, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for; and I hereby further agree that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and that said policy shall not take effect until the application shall be approved by the said company, and the first premium paid in full while my health is in the same condition as described in this application.

Colonial Life Insurance Company.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $221. AGE, 35.

The Colonial Life Insurance Company of America hereby agrees to pay ($10,000) ten thousand dollars immediately on receipt of due proof of the death of John Alden, the insured, of Plymouth, in the county of Plymouth, State of Massachusetts, to his wife, Priscilla Alden, or in the event of her prior death to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, at the home office of the company in Jersey City, N. J., at which place the annual premium of ($221) two hundred and twenty-one dollars shall be paid to the company in exchange for the company's receipt on the delivery of this policy, and on or before the twenty-ninth day of January in each year during the life of the insured.

This policy, subject to the provisions on the following pages, is issued in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in the manner specified of the premium above stated.

In witness whereof, the Colonial Life Insurance Company of America, has caused this policy to be signed by its president, and vice-president or secretary at Jersey City, N. J., and dated the twenty-ninth day of January, 1910.

PROVISIONS.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed herein, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements purporting to be made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium, it will be revived upon written application with evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

GRACE.—A grace of one month, during which time this policy will remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of any premium after the first, subject to a charge, except for the first seven days, at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided that the minimum charge shall be five cents.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After two years from its date, this policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premium and for violation of the condition relating to military and naval service in time of war, in which latter case the liability of the company shall be limited to the full legal reserve for this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy or any interest therein be not assigned, the insured may at any time during its continuance, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are endorsed upon this policy at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—At the time this policy becomes payable as a claim the proceeds, or any portion thereof (provided such amount be not less than $1000) may be left, during the lifetime of the beneficiary, in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon, so long as the said amount remains with the company, interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but, provided such amount be not less than $1000 it may, at the option of the beneficiary, be made payable instead, at its maturity, in equal annual instalments in accordance with the table below, the first instalment being payable immediately.

Number of annual instalments.....	30	25	20	15	10	5
Amount of each instalment per $1000.....	$ 53	$ 59	$ 68	$ 84	$ 116	$ 214

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1). If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof. (2) Any indebtedness to the company, including any instalment of premium necessary to complete the full year's premium for the current policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy, or of any benefit thereunder. (3) Only the president, a vice-president or the secretary, has power on behalf of the company, to make or modify this or any other contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless in writing signed by one of the aforesaid officers, which shall be the only admissible proof of such action. (4) Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the dates when due, in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by a manager or general agent of the company. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided. (5) Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate, and both copies sent to the home office. One copy will be returned with the company's acknowledgment endorsed thereon, which shall be the only admissible evidence of compliance herewith. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and any claim thereunder shall be subject to proof of interest.

NON-FORFEITURE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the following options, based on completed policy years, will apply, provided there be no outstanding indebtedness hereon. Any indebtedness on account of this policy will be deducted from the cash value, and will reduce by the amount of said indebtedness, the value for paid-up or extended insurance.

CASH VALUE (Option 1).—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company by the insured with a written request before the days of grace have expired, a cash value will be paid as indicated in the following table (1), subject to the right of the company to defer payment for ninety days thereafter.

EXTENDED INSURANCE (Option 2).—Or, upon written application accompanied by the legal surrender of this policy to the company by the insured before the days of grace have expired, with evidence satisfactory to the company of the good health of the insured, extended insurance will be issued for the full amount of this policy, less any outstanding indebtedness, for a term as shown in the following table (3), reckoning from the day the unpaid premium first became due.

PAID-UP INSURANCE (Option 3).—If this policy be not surrendered for its cash value or for extended insurance, the company will issue in lieu of this policy, without action on the part of the insured, a policy for the amount of paid-up insurance indicated in the following table (2), to mature in the same manner as this policy, had it been continued in force. The paid-up policy will be delivered upon the legal surrender of this policy.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will loan, subject to its right to defer payment for ninety days after proper assignment of the policy, and on the sole security hereof, the amount indicated in the following table of loans (1), less any other indebtedness hereon; interest will be at the rate of five per cent payable annually in advance, and if it be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal, but should the total indebtedness become equal to the cash value, the policy shall be forfeited and void, unless such indebtedness shall be paid to the company within one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the person to whom said loan was made.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—After three years' premiums have been paid, then, upon the written request of the owner of this policy, if received before default in the payment of any premium, the company will loan each premium payment as it becomes due (if it be not paid in cash) and will charge the same as an indebtedness against this policy, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, until all accumulated indebtedness with interest equals the cash value hereunder, when this policy shall immediately cease and become void, subject to notice as hereinbefore provided. While this policy is thus kept in force, the payment of premiums and interest on indebtedness may be resumed, without medical examination, at any time.

The above tables are for a policy of $1,000; other amounts will be proportionate. The values in the above tables are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest per annum, and are at least equal to the entire reserve of this policy, by the foregoing standard, less a percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the amount insured by the policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and agree that they together with this declaration, shall form the basis and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for. And it is agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted, subject to the provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium thereon paid to and accepted by the company while my health and occupation are as described in this application. And it is further agreed that the policy shall be void for such period only if within two years after its date I shall without a written permit from the company, reside or travel in the Torrid Zone, or north of the parallel of sixty degrees north latitude; or engage in blasting, mining, or any underground or submarine labor, aerial voyages, explorations, handling electric wires or dynamos, the manufacture of highly explosive or inflammable substances, the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, or in service upon any railroad train or track, or on any steam or other vessel. Also, that the liability of the company shall be limited to the full legal reserve for the policy, should I, within two years after the date of said policy, die by my own act, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of my criminal action, or should I, at any time during the continuance of said policy, engage in any military or naval service in time of war, without first obtaining a written permit from the company at the company's regular rate for the extra risk.

Columbia Life and Trust Company promises to pay, at the home office of the company, in Portland, Ore., upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of Iam A. Sample, of Portland, county of Multnomah, State of Oregon, herein called the insured, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, to Mary Sample, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary, as hereinafter provided.

This contract of insurance is made in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached, and which application is hereby made a part of this contract, and in consideration of the first annual premium of three hundred nine and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, for insurance as herein provided terminating on the second day of January, 1910, and in consideration of the further payment of three hundred nine and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars, to be made on or before every second day of January hereafter during the first twenty years of the continuance of this policy.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured. No premium after the first shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor, signed by the president, a vice-president or secretary, and countersigned by an agent authorized to receive such premium nor shall any premium payment have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than for the period covered by such payment, except as otherwise provided herein. Agents are not authorized to make, alter or discharge contracts, or to waive forfeitures, or to waive or postpone payment of premiums.

GRACE IN PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which the policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums, except the first, subject to an interest charge of not to exceed six per cent per annum.

CHANGE IN MODE OF PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The mode of premium payment may be changed on any anniversary date, from annual to semi-annual, or quarterly, or vice versa, at the premium rates in use by the company at the date hereof.

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in the payment of any premium hereon, this policy may be reinstated upon evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured, and by the payment of all past due premiums, with interest thereon at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum. The policy reinstated will be subject to any unpaid indebtedness.

ERROR IN AGE.—Should there be any error in the statement of the age of the insured, it will be adjusted by the payment of such amount of insurance as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, unless a copy of such statement is contained in or attached to this policy when issued, and no such statement shall be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the written application therefor.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premium.

RESTRICTIONS (FIRST YEAR ONLY).—If, within one year from the date hereof, the insured shall pass South of the Tropic of Cancer, or be personally engaged in mining (except as superintendent, owner, or surface employee), blasting, or submarine operations, or in the production of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or in electrical employment where the voltage used is over 600, or in switching, or coupling or uncoupling cars, or be employed in any capacity on the trains of a railroad (except as passenger or sleeping car conductor, mail agent, express messenger or baggage master) or in the sale of intoxicating liquors as saloon-keeper, or bar-tender, or in ocean navigation, or within said year enter or be engaged in any military or naval service (except in time of peace), without the written consent of the company, or undertake an aerial voyage, or whether sane or insane, commit suicide, this policy shall be null and void.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless a duplicate thereof be filed with the company, forthwith upon its execution, at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest must be produced on making claim.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, may nominate a beneficiary or beneficiaries, provided none be herein named, or may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time and from time to time during the continuance of this policy, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy; such nomination or change to take effect upon the indorsement of same on the policy by the company.

LOANS.—At any time, while this policy is in full force upon the sole security of this policy, the company will loan up to the limit of loan values as indicated in the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values on page one hereof, upon receipt of the policy with a full and valid assignment of same in accordance with the rules of the company. The rate of interest charged shall not exceed six per cent per annum.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, it may be surrendered on any anniversary prior to any default in premium payment, or at any time within three months after default in premium payment, and, thereupon, (1) if there be no indebtedness to the company hereon, the owner may elect either (a) to receive the cash surrender value of this policy; or (b) to extend the insurance in force for its face amount, and without the right to loans; or (c) to purchase paid-up life insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The amount of cash surrender value obtainable, the period for which the insurance will be extended, and the amount of paid-up life insurance which will be allowed, are shown in the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values on page one hereof, which are hereby made a part of this contract, the same as though stated over the signatures hereto, and apply, provided this policy is free from indebtedness to the company. (2) If there be any indebtedness hereon to the company, it shall be deducted from the amount which otherwise would be applicable as a cash surrender value, and the period of extended insurance, or the amount of the paid-up policy, shall be such as the cash surrender value, less the indebtedness, will provide upon the same basis as is used in computing the guaranteed values given in the table on page one hereof. In the event that no election is made by the insured and other interested parties, if any, within three months after default in premium payment, and after this policy has been in force three full years, then the paid-up insurance option shall automatically become effective.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured, or the owner, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the amount payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of an annuity equal to three and one-half per cent of such amount, payable at the end of each year during the life of the beneficiary, and by the payment at the death of the said beneficiary of the said amount, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified term of years, the first instalment to be paid immediately, in accordance with the following table, for each $1000 of such amount. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments, payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years and as many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table, for each $1000 of said amount. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. If any option calling for instalment payments is selected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity by the death of the insured. Unless otherwise specified by the insured, or by the owner, in making such election, the beneficiary may at any time commute the remainder of the unpaid instalments, the value of such remainder to be computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under Option 3, except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $352.50. AGE, 35.

The Columbia Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, in consideration of the statements contained in the application for this policy, which are hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of the sum of three hundred and fifty-two and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars, January 30, 1909, hereby insures the life of James Smith (hereinafter called the insured), of Cincinnati, in the county of Hamilton, in the State of Ohio, for the sum of ten thousand dollars, for the term of one year ending on the thirtieth day of January, 1910, at noon. And the company hereby agrees to pay at its home office, immediately on receipt of due proof of the death of the insured within the said period, during the continuance of this contract, the said amount of insurance to his estate, or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured; any unpaid portion of the year's premium and any other indebtedness to the company being first deducted.

At the expiration of the first year of this policy, provided it has been duly maintained in force, and in consideration of the payment of three hundred fifty-two and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars, on or before the thirtieth day of January, 1910, and of the payment of a like premium on the thirtieth day of each January thereafter during the continuance of this contract, until, and including the thirtieth day of January, A. D., one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (1929), or until the prior death of the insured, the company will continue the insurance hereunder for the whole term of life, and will pay said insurance in amount and manner as hereinbefore provided.

The conditions and benefits on the second page hereof are hereby made a part of this contract.

This contract shall be held to have been made in the city of Cincinnati, and subject to the laws of the State of Ohio.

In witness whereof, the Columbia Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary, or actuary, this twenty-seventh day of January, 1909.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

1. All payments due on this policy are payable at the office of the company in the city of Cincinnati, or to its authorized agent, on production of the company's receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent.

2. A grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance hereunder shall remain in force; provided that if the insured shall die during the said month of grace, the overdue premium shall be deducted in the settlement under the policy.

3. This policy, together with the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, shall constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. Any endorsement, waiver, or modification to be valid must be signed by the president, secretary or actuary, whose authority for this purpose shall not be delegated.

4. This policy shall be free from restrictions as to travel and residence from its date.

5. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

6. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

7. If this policy has not been assigned, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, on filing written request with the company, accompanied by the policy, such change of beneficiary to take effect on the endorsement thereof on the policy by the company.

8. The insured may at the end of any policy year, all premiums being fully paid to date, exchange this policy, without medical re-examination, for insurance of an equal or less amount under any other form of policy issued by the company on which the annual premium is not less than that on his present policy, dating the new policy back to the same date and age as the old one, and paying the difference of premiums from said date with interest at five per cent per annum.

9. Upon satisfactory proof, the company will admit the age of the insured, by endorsement upon the policy. If the age shall have been misstated, the amount of insurance payable hereunder shall be the amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the true age, or the premium may be adjusted and credit given to the insured or to the company, according to the company's published rate at date of issue.

10. If the insured should die by self-destruction, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, this policy shall be null and void.

11. The company will not take cognizance of any assignment of this policy until at duplicate thereof shall have been filed at the home office. Proof of interest must be produced when the policy becomes payable. The company does not guarantee the validity of any assignment.

12. No suit to recover under this policy shall be brought after five years after the cause of action accrues.

13. This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning at the end of the second policy year, the company will annually account for and determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy.

14. Dividends shall, at the option of the owner of this policy, on the twentieth day of January of each year after the first policy year be either: (1) Paid in cash, or (2) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy.

15. The accumulated dividends may on any anniversary of the policy be applied to the purchase of an annuity for the reduction of all future premium payments.

16. Whenever the dividends accumulated under option (4) shall at the end of a policy year equal or exceed the value of all future premiums on the policy commuted by the American Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, they may be applied to the payment of said commuted value, and the policy will become fully paid up from that date, the cash or loan values being correspondingly increased.

17. The insured may at any time pay to the company any sum not less than twenty dollars, to be applied to the reduction of all subsequent premiums by a fixed amount, which amount will be stated to him at his request, or to reduce the total number of premiums to be paid.

18. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise, within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions.

19. After three full years' premiums shall have been paid upon this policy, and while it is in full force, upon legal assignment of said policy to the company, and on the sole security thereof, and execution of a note or loan agreement, the said company will loan at five per cent per annum, for a definite period, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the entire reserve held by the company on the policy, and on the dividend additions thereto, if any, at the end of the current policy year, according to the American Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent. From the aforesaid loan value will be deducted the value of any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Interest will also be collected in advance to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy, unless the total indebtedness to the company thereon shall equal or exceed such loan value of the policy at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. Any such loan may be repaid by the insured at any time, and any unearned interest will be returned to him.

20. At the end of the second policy year, the company will, at the desire of the insured, loan to him in the manner set forth in Section 19. the cash value for the third year, or such portion thereof as may be necessary, for the sole purpose of paying the third annual premium on the policy.

21. After three full years' premiums shall have been paid upon this policy, provided there is no outstanding indebtedness, upon the failure to pay any subsequent premium;

(I) The company will extend the insurance hereunder as paid-up, participating term insurance for the period stated in Table C below, the net value of such term insurance being at least equal to the entire reserve on the policy at default, and on dividend additions thereto, if any, according to the American Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent; or,

(II) The company will, upon written request of the insured and the surrender of this policy within two months of default in the payment of premium as aforesaid, issue a paid-up, participating policy, payable as herein provided, for the amount named in Table B below, the net value of such paid-up insurance being at least equal to the entire reserve on the policy at default, and on dividend additions thereto, if any, according to the American Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent; or,

(III) The company will upon surrender of the policy within two months of default of premium payment as aforesaid, pay to the insured the cash value of the same as stated in Table A below, which value is hereby guaranteed to be at least equal to the net value of the paid-up insurance in Sections (I) and (II) above.

If there should be any indebtedness to the company at the time of such default, the benefits under (I), (II) or (III) shall be reduced in the proportion which said indebtedness bears to the reserve value of the benefits by the American Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest.

(IV) If the insured shall have accepted paid-up insurance under option (II), the company will loan him at five per cent per annum the reserve value of such paid-up insurance by the American Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, or, on surrender of the policy, will pay to him the said reserve value in cash.

(V) If default should occur in payment of a premium due at a date intermediate between the beginning and end of a policy year, the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the reserve at date of default on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the year last expired.

(VI) In case of default in premium payments, as stated above, if the value of the policy shall have been applied to the purchase of other insurance, and if such insurance shall be in force, and the original policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, the policy may be reinstated within five years from such default, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and payment of arrears of premiums with interest.

At the end of any policy year on surrender of this policy to the company, the cash value thereof may be applied to the purchase of an annuity on the life of the insured or the beneficiary, or both jointly.

23. INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—(a) The company will upon written request from the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, agree to pay the amount of the insurance under this policy in annual instalments, instead of a single sum, according to the following table. The exercise of this option shall be evidenced by endorsement upon the policy, which shall be forwarded to the home office for this purpose. These annual instalments as they become due shall be increased by an equitable sharing in the surplus earnings of the company. At the time when any annual instalment falls due, the company will, on the written request of the payee, pay in cash, in a single payment, the value of all unpaid instalments discounted at three per cent. (b) In lieu of (a) above the company will on written request of the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, pay the amount of the insured in twenty equal annual instalments of $50.00 per $1,000 of insurance, and in addition one-half the amount insured in a single payment, twenty years from the date of payment of the first instalment.

24. When the insurance under this policy becomes due by the death of the insured the beneficiary may allow the amount due, or any portion thereof, which is a multiple of $100.00, to remain with the company at interest, the rate of which is guaranteed to be not less than three per cent per annum. Such deposit shall participate annually in the surplus earnings of the company in addition to the three per cent guaranteed.

The above options do not apply to policies for less than $1000.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—If proof is received by the company that, by reason of bodily injuries or disease occurring after the issue of this policy, the insured shall have become wholly, continuously and permanently unable to perform any work or follow any occupation for compensation or profit, the insurance under this policy will, if all premiums previously due shall have been paid, continue in full force for twelve months from the time the next premium falls due without payment of premium. At the expiration of that time, the company will, upon the request of the insured, and assignee, if any, either (a) Pay in full settlement of this policy and in lieu of all other benefits and privileges herein provided, one-twentieth of the entire sum insured and the same amount annually thereafter until the entire sum insured shall have been paid; or (b) Carry this policy as if fully paid up, requiring no further premium payments by the insured; or (c) Pay to the insured in cash a sum mutually agreed upon but not exceeding one-half the amount insured under the policy, the company being thereby released from all liability under the policy. Provided, however, that any indebtedness to the company against the policy shall reduce the annuity payment by the company under option (a) in the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the sum insured; or shall be deducted from the insurance payable under option (b). If the policy has reached the condition where, by its terms, it has become fully paid up at the expiration of the twelve months specified above, the insured shall then become entitled to the benefits under option (a) or (c). If the insured shall recover from the total disability above described before the expiration of the said twelve months, the payment of premiums hereon may be resumed with the premium falling due next after such recovery, and the insurance will continue as originally issued; or, if such recovery occurs and premiums are not resumed, then the policy shall be regarded as lapsing with the non-payment of the first premium due after such recovery and the legal holder thereof shall be entitled to the non-forfeiture values set forth therein, subject to the total indebtedness thereon. If, at the expiration of the aforesaid twelve months, the insured shall have chosen the continuance of the insurance under option (b), and shall thereafter recover from the total disability above described, then (unless the policy has become by its terms fully paid up), the payment of premiums shall be resumed by the insured, beginning with the first premium falling due subsequent to such recovery, and if such payment be not resumed the policy shall be deemed to lapse with the non-payment of said first premium. If he shall have selected option (a), then on recovery from the total disability as above described, any instalments of the insurance under that option unpaid at the time of the recovery shall remain with the company and will be paid in a lump sum to the beneficiary at the death of the insured. Should the disability as above stated occur after the insured shall have reached the age of 60 option (b) only will be granted, and all subsequent premiums as they become due shall be accumulated without interest, and will be an indebtedness against the policy. Any benefit for total and permanent disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured whenever it shall deem such examination necessary. If, at the end of any policy year, the insured shall request, in writing, the annulment of the above total disability provisions, the annual premium payments on this policy shall be reduced by twenty-five cents per thousand of insurance.

Part I.—I hereby agree for myself or for any person who may have or claim any interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application, as follows:—1. That all the foregoing statements and answers and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner, in Part II of this application, are full, complete and true, and are offered to the company as a consideration for the policy, which I hereby agree to accept. 2. That no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to, the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office, in this application. 3. That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect unless the first premium is paid and the policy delivered to me during my lifetime and good health. 4. That in any distribution of surplus, the principles and methods which may then be in use by the company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount proportioned to such policy shall be, and are hereby ratified and accepted. 5. That any payment on acc unt of first premium, before delivery of the policy, shall be binding on the company only in accordance with the company's receipt therefor on the coupon receipt, form duly filled out and detached from this application, which is the only authorized receipt for such policy. 6. That the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by such policy.

Part II.—I hereby declare that I have reviewed and understand all of the above questions and answers thereto and they are hereby made part of my application for insurance in the Columbia Life Insurance Company, and that said answers and each of them, as written are full, complete and true; that I am the person described above and in Part I of this application signed by me and that each of the questions in Parts I and II of my application was answered in writing before I signed the same.

Columbian National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000 ANNUAL PREMIUM, $295.20. AGE, 35.

The Columbian National Life Insurance Company of Boston, Mass., in consideration of the application, copy of which is hereto attached and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract, and of the payment of the annual premium of two hundred ninety-five and $^{20}/_{100}$ dollars on the twentieth day of February in every year until twenty full years' premium shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, does covenant and agree that, it will pay on receipt of due proof of the death of the insured John Doe, of Boston, State of Massachusetts, the sum insured ten thousand dollars, to the beneficiary Mary Doe, wife of the insured hereunder, with right of revocation. If there be no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured the proceeds hereof shall be payable to his executors, administrators or assigns.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, subject, however, in case of misstatement of age, to an adjustment of the insurance proportionate to the premium at the true age.

The benefits and provisions printed on the second and third pages hereof are part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the company has, by its president and secretary, signed this policy at the city of Boston, this twentieth day of February, 1911.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office in Boston, but may be paid to an agent of the company in exchange for a receipt signed by the president or secretary. No modification of this contract shall be made except over the signature of one of such officers.

THIRTY-ONE DAYS' GRACE.—Thirty-one days' grace is allowed for the payment of all premiums after the first, during which period the policy remains in full force. Upon default in payment of any premium the company's only liability shall be such, if any, as is hereinafter provided.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse, it may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all past due premiums with interest at five per cent per annum and payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness hereon with interest at said rate, unless the cash value has been paid or the extended insurance period has expired.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be effectual against the company unless it is made in duplicate and one copy filed at the home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If there be no existing assignment of this policy, the insured may designate a new beneficiary by filing at the home office written notice thereof on forms provided for this purpose.

PROTECTION BY STATUTE.—All statements made by the insured in the application are, in the absence of fraud, representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim under it unless contained in the written application and a copy of the same attached hereto.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction during the first policy year, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; in such case only the net reserve on the policy will be paid.

PAID-UP VALUE.—In the event of the lapse of this policy after the premiums for three full years have been paid, the policy shall become effective automatically for paid-up insurance payable at the same time as this policy, the amount granted being as stated in the table endorsed hereon for the number of years the policy has been in force. This paid-up insurance shall have increasing cash and loan values.

CASH VALUE OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In lieu of said paid-up insurance, the insured on satisfactory release and surrender of this policy within the days of grace, may procure either the cash value or extended term insurance as similarly stated in the table endorsed hereon.

LOANS.—After three years' premiums have been paid hereon, the insured, on the sole security of this policy properly assigned, may borrow at the interest rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, an amount not exceeding the loan value shown in the table endorsed hereon, interest to the next anniversary of the policy being payable in advance. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the existing loan and bear interest at the same rate. Non-payment of loan or interest shall not void the policy until the total indebtedness exceeds the cash value hereunder, nor until thirty-one days after the company has mailed notice of such termination to the insured and assignee of record if any, at their last known address. Payment of cash or loan values may be deferred for thirty days after the application therefor.

DEDUCTION OF INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy, including any unpaid premium or portion thereof for the then current policy year shall be deducted upon settlement of any claim hereunder. If there be any such indebtedness, the cash and loan values will be diminished thereby, and the paid-up or extended insurance will be proportioned to the cash value so diminished.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent. The cash or loan value is the same as the net value of the paid-up and extended insurance provided for herein and equals such reserve less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES which at least equal those required by the statutes of Massachusetts.. Payment of an instalment of the premium between anniversaries will proportionately increase these values.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby make application for insurance in The Columbian National Life Insurance Company, of Boston, Mass., and I certify that all the statements and answers appearing herein and in Part II hereof are full, complete and true, and agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect until the issuance and delivery of the policy, and the payment of the first premium thereon while I am in sound health.

TWENTY-YEAR TERM POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $134.50. AGE, 35.

The Columbian National Life Insurance Company of Boston, Mass., in consideration of the application, copy of which is hereto attached and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract, and of the payment of the annual premium of one hundred thirty-four and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars on the first day of July in every year during the continuance of this policy, does covenant and agree that it will pay, on receipt of due proof of the death of John Quincy Adams, of Boston, State of Massachusetts, while this policy is in force and within twenty years from the date hereof, ten thousand dollars, to the estate of the insured with right of revocation. If there be no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured the proceeds hereof shall be payable to his executors, administrators or assigns.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, subject, however, in case of misstatement of age, to an adjustment of the insurance proportionate to the premium at the true age.

The benefits and provisions printed on the second and third pages are part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the company has, by its president and secretary, signed this policy at the city of Boston, this first day of July, 1911.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

For premiums, thirty-one days' grace, reinstatement assignment, change of beneficiary, protection by statute, self destruction, cash value and extended insurance, see preceding policy.

PAID-UP VALUE.—In the event of the lapse of this policy after the premiums for three full years have been paid, the policy shall become effective automatically for paid-up insurance, payable at the same time as this policy, the amount granted being as stated in the table endorsed hereon for the number of years the policy has been in force. This paid-up insurance shall have a cash value.

EXCHANGE OR RENEWAL PRIVILEGE.—On the surrender at any time during the first fifteen years of this policy and while it is in force the owner may exchange it, without medical examination, for one of equivalent amount on any plan of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by this company, provided the insured has not passed his sixty-fifth birthday, the new policy to bear date of such exchange and to be written at the rated age of the insured at such time; or, if the insured has not passed his sixtieth birthday, such change may be to another twenty year term policy containing similar privileges of exchange. The company will grant a similar exchange privilege during the last five years of this policy provided it is furnished with satisfactory evidence of insurability of the insured. If this policy is so exchanged at any time during its term, the full reserve at time of exchange by the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table will be applied in permanent uniform reduction of the premiums under the new policy.

PRIVILEGE OF CONVERSION AS OF ORIGINAL DATE.—On its surrender at any time during the first fifteen years hereof and while it is in force, the owner may change this policy, without medical examination, to one of equivalent amount on any plan of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by this company, such new policy to bear the date and rated age of this policy. In event of change during the first five years, the difference between the premiums paid hereunder and those that would have been paid under the new policy, with three and one-half per cent interest compounded annually, shall be paid, and in event of change after five years, the difference in the reserves under the two policies shall be paid.

DEDUCTION OF INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy, including any unpaid premium or portion thereof for the then current policy year, shall be deducted upon settlement of any claim hereunder. If there be any such indebtedness, the cash values will be diminished thereby, and the paid-up or extended insurance will be proportioned to the cash value so diminished.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent The cash value is the same as the net value of the paid-up and extended insurance provided for herein and equals such reserve less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured. The values stated herein at least equal those required by the statutes of Massachusetts.

Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $370. AGE, 35.

The Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Company of Columbus, O., in consideration of three hundred and seventy dollars, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and of the payment of a like amount upon each tenth day of January hereafter until twenty full years' premiums have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay upon receipt at the home office of the company in Columbus, O., of due proof of the death of Christopher Columbus, of Columbus, county of Franklin, State of Ohio, herein called the insured, to Mary Columbus, beneficiary, without right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the insured, his executors, administrators or assigns.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above as follows: Semi-annually, one hundred ninety-two dollars and forty cents, or quarterly, ninety-eight dollars and ten cents. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery, of a receipt signed by one or more of the following officers of the company: President, vice-president, secretary, treasurer or cashier, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder. This policy shall not take effect unless the insured is alive and in good health, at the time of its delivery.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured in said application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

CONDITIONS.—Death by suicide, or self-destruction in any manner, whether sane or insane, or death as the result of any violation of law, are risks not assumed within one year after the issuance of this policy. Residence or travel south of the Tropic of Cancer, or north of sixty degrees of North Latitude, within one year; engaging in any of the following occupations within two years—blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture of highly explosive or inflammable substances, handling electric wires or dynamos, services on any railroad train or track, or on any steam or other vessel, or handling or selling intoxicating liquors, and any military or naval service in time of war at any time, are risks assumed only by special permit of company.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning not later than the end of the second policy year the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon.

DIVIDENDS.—Beginning with the payment of the third annual premium, dividends at the option of the owner of this policy shall annually as long as this contract is in force be either: (1) Paid in cash, or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half (3½) per cent per annum, and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Whenever the accumulated dividends together with the reserve on this policy shall amount to not less than the net single premium at the attained age, the insured shall have the option of converting this policy into a paid-up annual dividend participating policy for the full amount insured hereby, or may continue the payment of premiums until such time as the reserve and the accumulated dividends amount to not less than the principal sum insured by this policy, whereupon this policy shall mature as an endowment and the principal sum named herein shall be paid to the insured. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise, within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions.

PREMIUM REDUCTION OPTION.—The company will at the end of the first policy year reduce the amount of annual premiums payable hereon to $331.20, provided the insured so selects and the policy be returned to the company for proper endorsement. The rate after such reduction will be practically as low as a non-participating rate and the dividends thereafter will pe apportioned in accordance with the reduced rate.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the cash value of the policy at the end of the current policy year. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTION ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of his policy in cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without future participation and without the right to loans, for its face amount, including any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent per annum less a sum not more than two per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any dividend additions thereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. Payment of such cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after application therefor is made. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per cent per annum. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value, or for paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b).

TABLE OF GUARANTEES.

The figures in the following table are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy and that there are no outstanding dividend additions.

*Loan values. The loan value at the end of any year is the cash value at the end of the next succeeding year. Figures for later years will be furnished upon request.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance under the above provision this policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum.

SPECIAL ACCIDENT AND TOTAL DISABILITY.

SPECIAL ACCIDENT.—After one full annual premium has been paid, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the company agrees to pay the beneficiary named herein an additional amount of ten thousand dollars, in the event of the death of the insured, resulting within sixty days, solely and independently from all other causes, from accidental bodily injuries sustained through external and violent means by the insured, while riding as a passenger on a regular passenger elevator, or in or on a public conveyance provided by a common carrier in a place therein or thereon regularly set apart for passengers, or in consequence of the burning of a public hotel, opera house or other place of public amusement in which the insured shall be at the commencement of the fire.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—Should the insured become totally and permanently disabled through bodily injury or disease, and the same shall not have been caused or sustained in any act of violation of law or by intemperance in any form, and is thereby prevented from performing any and every kind of duty pertai ing to his occupation or any other occupation or gainful pursuits, and evidence satisfactory to the company shall be furnished by the insured within three months of the date of the beginning of such condition, the insured may select one of the following benefits: (First) This policy to become paid up in full for ten thousand dollars, requiring no further premium payments, and payable at the death of the insured o' (second) payable to the insured in ten equal instalments of one thousand dollars each, the first instalment thereof to be paid upon satisfactory proof of permanent disability and the others annually thereafter. The annual premium for these special accident and total disability clauses is fifteen dollars and is included in the whole premium charged for this policy. This special accident and total disability insurance shall terminate when the insured shall reach the age of sixty-five, and it may be canceled at any time prior thereto by the insured, and thereupon in either case the premium on this policy shall be reduced by the amount named herein, provided the policy be returned to the company for proper endorsement. In all other cases this special accident and total disability insurance is limited to the number of years premiums are payable.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half (3½) per cent per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3), which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under option (1) and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under option (3), except after the death of the payee occuring within the aforesaid twenty years

TEN-YEAR TERM POLICY—CONVERTIBLE AND RENEWABLE.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $151.30. AGE, 35.

The Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Company of Columbus, O., in consideration of one hundred fifty-one and $^{30}/_{100}$ dollars receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of July thereafter until ten full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay upon receipt at the home office of the company in Columbus, O., of due proof of the death of John Doe, of Columbus, county of Franklin, State of Ohio, herein called the insured, within ten years from the date hereof, ten thousand dollars less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, at said home office, to his beneficiary, Mary Doe with right of revocation.

Provisions as to change of beneficiary, payment of premiums, incontestability, conditions, assignment, special accident and total disability and options at maturity are the same as given in preceding policy.

This policy shall not take effect unless the insured is alive and in good health at the time of its delivery.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning not later than the end of the second year the company will annually determine and apportion the surplus accruing to this policy. This surplus shall be accumulated during each renewal period and at the end of the period shall be applied as an annuity in the reduction of premiums for the next succeeding renewal period, or in the event of change at any time to any other form of policy the accumulated surplus at the time of change shall be applied in the reduction of premiums.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse because of default in payment of premium, or any note or interest thereon, it may be reinstated at any time, upon payment of overdue premiums with interest compounded at six (6) per centum per annum, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company.

PRIVILEGE TO CHANGE TO OTHER FORMS OF POLICIES.—The owner of this policy may at any time during its continuance, without a new medical examination, exchange this policy for a participating policy for the same amount or any less amount upon the ordinary Life, limited payment life, or endowment plan upon any anniversary of the policy, or within the month of grace, by surrendering the policy to the company at the said home office with written notice of the election and by paying the premiums to be fixed by the age on the birthday nearest to the date of such exchange, according to the rates of the company then in force; or at any time within ten years the owner of this policy may, by paying the difference in premiums with interest at six per cent. per annum, exchange this policy for one for the same amount on any of the said forms and retain the original date and age at issue.

PRIVILEGE OF RENEWAL.—The owner of this policy, if the insured be not over the age of fifty years, may renew this policy for further terms of ten years each by written notice to the company at its said home office accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement on or before the expiration of the insurance hereunder and by paying the premiums due at his attained age according to the following table: Annual premium for second ten years $205.10.

* Adopted July, 1910.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Commercial Life Insurance Company (Indiana).

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.70. AGE, 35.

The Commercial Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis, Ind., will pay ten thousand dollars (less any indebtedness due the company on this policy, together with the residue, if any, of the current year's premium) at its home office in the city of Indianapolis, within sixty days after receipt and approval of due and satisfactory proofs of the interest of the claimant and of the death of John Jones, the insured, of Indianapolis, in the county of Marion and the State of Indiana, while this policy is in force, to Mary Jones, wife, if living; otherwise, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, or to such other beneficiaries as may be designated by the insured, subject to the privileges and conditions stated on the second and third pages hereof, which are made a part of this contract. This policy is granted in consideration of the application, which is made a part hereof and a copy of which appears hereon, and the payment of a premium of three hundred seventy-nine and $^{70}/_{100}$ dollars in advance, and will be renewed upon the further payment of a like sum on or before the twenty-sixth day of January every year thereafter until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof The Commercial Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its office in the city of Indianapolis, this twenty-sixth day of January, 1911.

PREMIUMS AND THEIR PAYMENTS.—This policy does not go into effect until the first premium hereon has been actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured. All the premiums are due and payable in advance at the office of the company in the city of Indianapolis, Ind. They may, however, be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the date when due, but only in exchange for a receipt signed by the president or the secretary and countersigned by the agent.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty days will be allowed in the payment of premiums hereafter due on this policy during which time the insurance shall continue in force, but in case the premium is not paid in the said thirty days, according to the terms of this policy, this policy shall cease and terminate, except as otherwise herein provided. If death shall occur during the period of grace, the unpaid premium for the current policy year will be deducted by the company in any settlement under this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of lapse or forfeiture of this policy for nonpayment of premiums it may be reinstated at any time during its term, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

NOTICES.—The insured shall give prompt notice to the company of any change of residence or postoffice address. Notice of each and every premium due, or to become due hereon at the date named is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and any future notice required by law is hereby expressly waived.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for fraud in its procurement, for the amount due, providing the premiums are duly paid as set forth herein, except that military or naval service in time of war without a permit, are risks not insured by this company at any time.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which appears hereon, taken together, constitute the entire contract. Agents are not authorized to make, alter or discharge this policy or to waive any forfeiture thereof, or to extend this insurance, or to grant permits, or to bind the company in any way.

AGE AND PROOF OF DEATH.—Due proof of the age of the insured and of the interest of the claimant must be submitted with due proof of death, and if the age has been understated in the application the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premiums paid on this policy would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT AND CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Permission is given the insured to assign this policy or change the beneficiary providing it has not already been assigned, but no notice of assignment or change of beneficiary will be taken by the company until the original or certified copy thereof is filed with the company at its home office; but the company shall not be responsible for the validity of any assignment.

DIVIDENDS.—At the time of paying the third and subsequent annual premiums on this policy, this policy will share in such distribution of dividends, arising from the surplus of the company, as may be apportioned by the directors, and the owner of this policy shall have the privilege of withdrawing such dividend under any one of the following options: (1) To withdraw such dividend in cash. (2) To apply such dividend toward the payment of the premium then due. (3) To apply such dividend toward the purchase of paid-up additions to this policy. (4) To leave such dividend with the company at three and one half per cent interest to be applied toward the payment of any future premiums, or to be withdrawn in cash on any anniversary of this policy, or to be withdrawn in cash at the maturity of this policy. If the owner of this policy makes no election of options, dividends will be applied under option 4. If such dividend shall be left with the company, at the expiration of any policy year when the accumulated dividends, together with the reserve under this policy, shall equal the net single premium for this insurance at the then age of the insured, a paid-up participating policy will be issued for the full amount insured hereby upon the surrender of this policy to the company.

PERSISTENCY FUND.—It is agreed with the insured that the sum of one dollar per thousand of insurance written on this plan and in the calendar year hereof shall be set aside from the second and subsequent annual premiums paid on such policies and accumulated in a fund at three and one half per cent interest, compounded annually. At the expiration of twenty years from the date of this policy said fund shall be divided among the surviving insured under such of said policies as have continued in force under their original premium paying conditions during the said period of twenty years, in proportion to the amount of insurance held by each.

ANNUAL MEETINGS.—The insured is hereby notified that by virtue of this policy while the same remains in force, he is a member of The Commercial Life Insurance Company, and is entitled to a vote at its annual meetings, which are held at its home office in the city of Indianapolis, Ind., on the second Monday in January of each year at ten o'clock a. m.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After three years from the date of this policy, all premiums having been paid and the same being in full force and effect, or within thirty days after failure to pay any premium when due, three or more annual premiums having been paid, the owner may elect any of the options in the following table according to the number of full annual premiums paid; and in case of failure to pay any premium when due, three or more annual premiums having been paid, no election having been made as herein provided, the company will continue this policy in force for the face value for the number of years and days specified in the third option of said table, subject to the conditions regarding proof of death, specified in the first and second pages of this policy, provided that any unpaid note given for a premium and any existing indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy shall be deducted from the cash value then available, and shall reduce the amount of the paid-up insurance and the term of extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such insurance. The cash values in the table herein are equal to the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance, and are payable within six months after written application therefor is made.

PRELIMINARY TERM.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

BASIS OF RESERVE.—The reserve under this policy shall be computed upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and values for years subsequent to those covered by the above table shall be equivalent to the full reserve thus computed.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—At any time, this policy being in force, the insured may elect by written request on the company's form that each $1000 of insurance due upon maturity of this policy by death, shall be paid to the beneficiary in accordance with either of the following instalment options, the first instalment being due in each case upon receipt and approval of proofs of death of the insured while this policy is in force, provided, that if there be more than one beneficiary these options shall not be available without the consent of the company. The beneficiary shall neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary in writing and is endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. Option 1. In ten annual instalments of $113.80 each, amounting to $1138. Option 2. In fifteen annual instalments of $81.30 each, amounting to $1219.50. Option 3. In twenty annual instalments of $65.25 each, amounting to $1305.

POLICY LOANS.—After three full premiums have been paid, the company will loan, upon the sole security of this policy while in force, within six months from date of written application for such loan, any sum not in excess of the amount stated in the above table of options to be loaned at the end of the current policy year, plus the value of the reserve on additions hereto, provided that there shall first be deducted from such loan value any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy and any unpaid balance on the premium for the current policy year, and interest at the rate of five per cent per annum on the total amount of the loan in advance to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company for principal of the loan, interest, unpaid premiums and other liabilities shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and not then until thirty days after notice thereof shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address.

DOUBLE INDEMNITY.—If death shall occur on account of an injury sustained by the insured while riding as a passenger in or upon a regularly licensed passenger elevator or public passenger conveyance provided by a common carrier for regular transportation of passengers, and such injury is due directly to an accident happening to such elevator or conveyance or if death shall occur on account of the burning of a building while the insured is therein, the amount payable to the beneficiary under this policy shall be double the amount that would otherwise be payable thereunder, provided death occur within ninety days after such injury or such burning, but double indemnity shall not apply to any fatal injury sustained while getting on or off or while being upon the step or steps of any conveyance referred to herein.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—Should the insured suffer an injury through external, violent and accidental means, resulting in the severance of both hands at or above the wrist; or the severance of both feet at or above the ankle; or the severance of one hand and one foot at or above the wrist and ankle; or the total loss of the sight of both eyes; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one hand at or above the wrist; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one foot at or above the ankle; the insured shall be deemed totally disabled, and the full amount insured by this policy shall be payable to said insured upon due proof of such disability and the surrender of this policy for cancellation.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not become binding upon the company until the first premium due thereon has been actually received by said company or its authorized agent, during my lifetime and good health; and that I will not during one year from the date hereof personally engage in the manufacture, handling or transportation of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or service upon any vessel, boat or railroad, or other hazardous occupation, except upon the written permission of the company in every such case; that self-destruction, whether sane or insane, voluntary or involuntary, or death resulting from actual or attempted violation of the law, are risks not assumed by the company within one year; that the proofs of death required shall be made upon the blank forms furnished by the company, and shall include all the information required thereby; that all provisions of law forbidding any physician who has or shall attend me or whom I may have consulted, from disclosing any and all information which he acquired by such attendance or consultation, together with any such provisions affecting the uses which shall be made of this application or any part thereof are hereby expressly waived. I hereby declare on behalf of myself and any person who shall have any interest in any policy issued under this application that all the statements contained in Part I and Part II of this application by whomsoever they may be written, are full, true and complete, and with the stipulated premiums shall be the sole consideration of the contract with the company if any policy or policies be issued, reinstated or renewed thereon; and that if any concealment, or fraudulent or untrue statement be made, or if at any time any covenant or agreement herein made shall be violated, said insurance shall be null and void, and all payments made or accepted on account thereof shall be forfeited to the company except as provided in the policy. I do hereby constitute and appoint Albert J. Heliker, my sole, true and lawful attorney and agent, for me and in my name, place and stead to vote as my proxy at any and all meetings whatsoever of the Commercial Life Insurance Company or of the members thereof, upon any matters that may there arise in the same manner as I might do were I there personally present, giving to my said attorney and agent full power of substitution and revocation. This power of attorney and proxy shall continue in full force and effect, for a period of five years from this date and thereafter, until revoked by me by at least thirty days notice in writing and served upon such attorney in person.

* Adopted July, 1911.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company (Ky.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE PLAN POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $382.40. AGE, 35.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Ky. will pay at its home office in the city of Louisville, Ky., the sum of ten thousand dollars immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe, the insured, of Louisville, in the county of Jefferson, in the State of Kentucky, unto Mary Doe, wife, the beneficiary, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy is issued on the annual dividend plan, and the dividends are guaranteed to be not less than the amounts shown on the coupons hereto attached. The additional earnings over and above the amounts guaranteed will be apportioned at the end of each ten years from the date hereof in accordance with the provision on the second page referring to surplus.

Values for future years furnished on request.

SPECIAL PROVISION.—The company guarantees that this policy will become fully paid up after payment of not more than fifteen full annual premiums, and that the cash surrender value at that time shall be not less than $5080; providing the insured at the time of making application or within one year from date hereof, shall elect in writing to pay the premiums in full and allow all coupons to remain attached to the policy (said notice of election to be endorsed by the company on this policy and the coupons hereto attached). Should the insured die before the policy becomes paid up, then the amount of such coupons, with three per cent compound interest as had become due prior to the death of insured, will be paid in addition to the sum insured.

This contract is made in consideration of the application for this policy, hereby made a part thereof, and the payment of the first premium of three hundred, eighty-two and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars, and the payment of a like amount at the home office of the company on or before the twenty-ninth day of July of each year during the continuance of this policy, or until twenty annual premiums have been paid.

The benefits and provisions stated on the second page hereof form a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In testimony whereof, said Commonwealth Life Insurance Company, of Louisville, Ky., has by its president and secretary, signed this contract the twenty-ninth day of July, 1911.

The guaranteed cash value of this policy is deposited in approved interest bearing securities with the treasurer of Kentucky, in compliance with the provisions of the compulsory deposit law of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, under which this company operates.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If this policy should lapse by the non-payment of any premium after three full years' premiums have been paid in cash, the company, upon legal surrender of the policy within sixty days from such non-payment, will grant the following options: (1) The cash surrender value shown in Table A. (2) Paid-up non-participating insurance, payable at the same time as this policy for the sum shown in Table B. (3) If neither of the foregoing options shall have been applied for as above, this policy shall continue automatically as term insurance, without participation in surplus, for the full amount insured thereby, and for the number of years and months as shown in Table B. If any indebtedness be due the company, the values will be decreased in the proportion such indebtedness bears to the cash value.

LOANS.—The company will lend upon satisfactory assignment and delivery of this policy, as sole security, the loan values as shown in Table A, upon payment in advance of the premium for that year and interest at five per cent per annum on said loan. No loans will be made for a less sum than twenty-five dollars nor to mature upon any other date than the anniversary of this policy. Failure to repay any loan shall not void the policy, unless such loan with interest shall equal or exceed the then cash value, and then not until after one month's notice has been mailed the insured.

SURPLUS.—In addition to the amounts guaranteed, while this policy is in full force and before default in payment of premium, it shall share in the surplus of the company in accordance with its contribution thereto, as determined by the directors of the company. Such dividends will be declared and become payable only at the expiration of each ten year period from the date hereof, but after the policy becomes fully paid-up, dividends will be declared and paid annually.

OPTIONS.—Should the insured not make the election in writing as provided on the first page, then all dividends may be used in reduction of the premium then due, or if the premium be paid in full may be used to purchase paid-up additions payable with the policy, or left with the company to accumulate at interest. Should the premiums be paid in full and the dividends allowed to remain with the company at interest, then said unpaid dividends, with compound interest at the rate of three per cent per annum for each full year after the dividend was due, will be added to the face of the policy in event of the death of the insured, or paid in cash upon presentation to the company. Paid-up additions shall be non-forfeitable and will participate in the surplus as provided above. Such additions may be reconverted into cash at the end of any anniversary upon request by the insured, while this policy is in full force.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse by non-payment of premium, it may be re-instated at any time upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and the payment of past due premiums with five per cent interest thereon, and should the company require it, any other indebtedness of the insured to the company.

UNRESTRICTED.—From date of issue, this policy shall be without restriction as to travel, residence, occupation or place of death.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be absolutely incontestable for any cause after one year from the date of issue, except non-payment of premium. In case of self destruction within one year from date of issue, whether the insured be sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of premium paid hereon.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—Any error in stating the age of the insured will not vitiate this policy, but will be adjusted by the payment of such an amount as the premiums actually paid would purchase at the correct age, according to the table of rates in use by the company at the date of issue of this policy.

GRACE.—In case of default in the payment of any premium when due, this policy will be continued in force for the full amount for one month, subject to a charge for interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, and payment of premium may be made during that time without evidence of insurability.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless the original or a duplicate-original be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If this policy has not been assigned, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, by filing with the company a written request, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect when endorsed hereon by the company.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The first premium must be paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured and upon delivery of this policy. All premiums are due and payable annually in advance, but they may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, at the home office of the company in the city of Louisville, Ky., or they may be paid elsewhere to authorized agents on or before the dates when due, in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by such agent. If any premium, or note given therefor, be not paid when due, this policy shall become null and void, subject to the non-forfeiture provisions in the tables hereon. Any unpaid portion of the current year's premium together with all indebtedness shall be deducted from any claim hereunder. This insurance is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and for the first year is term insurance, and in consideration of the payment of the subsequent premiums, as herein provided, it shall be continued as an ordinary life policy.

ALTERATION OR WAIVER.—No alteration of this policy or waiver of any of its conditions shall be valid, unless made in writing and signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer of the company.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—In settlement of any claim under this policy, the beneficiary shall have the choice of taking same in 10 equal annual instalments of $116; or 15 of $84; or 20 of $68; or 25 of $59; or 30 of $53, for each $1000 to be paid the beneficiary, or the amount to be paid can be used to purchase an annuity during the life of the beneficiary, if the beneficiary at that time is more than ten years of age.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after July 29, 1911, Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Ky., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No..... (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned), a dividend of three and $^{82}/_{100}$ dollars, provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office. The second coupon is for $4.78, the third for $5.74, the fourth for $6.69, the fifth and all others for $7.65.

The sum payable in event of death will, if the insured, or after his death, if the beneficiary so elect, be used to purchase an annuity, payable at the end of each year for twenty years certain, and thereafter during the lifetime of the beneficiary.

ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty-five years of age last birthday the amount of each annual instalment will be $52.90 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare, that I am now in good health and generally have good health; that I am temperate in my habits and that my statements in this application and the medical-examination made thereon are true and that same shall constitute the basis of this contract. I also declare that it is understood on behalf of myself and any beneficiary under any policy issued by the said company, on my life upon this application, that the company shall not be liable until the application has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered to me and premium paid during my good health or unless I have actually paid full premium in cash at time of application and received therefor the binding receipt attached to the application, countersigned by the soliciting agent in which event the liability of the company shall be from said date, provided the application be approved at the home office. The place of contract shall be the city of Louisville, State of Kentucky. I agree that in any distribution of surplus or apportionment of profits the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be binding and conclusive upon the insured under the said policy and upon all parties having or claiming any interest thereunder.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $15,000.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company (Neb.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—FIVE-YEAR DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $365.50. AGE, 35.

The Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Nebraska hereby promises to pay ten thousand dollars, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Henry Wilson, the insured, to Mary Wilson (wife) or to such other beneficiaries as may have been duly designated by the insured.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, and is hereby made a part of the contract, and of the payment in advance of the sum of three hundred sixty-five and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars, being the annual premium for one year's term insurance from the date hereof and the payment of the same sum on or before the first day of August in every year thereafter for nineteen years of the life of the insured as renewal premiums to complete the contract. The privileges, provisions and conditions, loan and surrender values stated on the following pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto.

Omaha, Neb., August 1st, 1912.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

A GRACE OF ONE MONTH without interest charge shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon.

THIS POLICY IS INCONTESTABLE after one year from date of issue, except for the non-payment of premiums, or violation of the terms of this policy as to military or naval service in time of war.

RENEWAL PREMIUMS may be paid annually, semi-annually, or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the rates endorsed hereon, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor made to the home office of the company. Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company in the city of Omaha, Neb., or at the pleasure of the company, to a designated collector, but in any case, only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by such collector. If any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall be ipso facto null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

DIVIDENDS.—If this policy is in force at the end of five years from the date hereof, and at the end of each five year period thereafter, during the continuance of this policy, the company will pay the insured as a cash dividend, such an amount as its board of directors apportions to policies of the same class from the surplus.

THIS POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE as follows: If any premium after the first policy year shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insurance, together with any outstanding dividend additions will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, be continued as paid-up non-participating term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in Column 2 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full, but without cash or loan values.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, if any premium shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness hereon, upon written request made by the insured within six (6) months from said due date, and the legal surrender of this policy, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in Column 3 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full.

SURRENDER FOR CASH.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, if any premium shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness hereon, upon written request of the insured within six (6) months from the said due date, and the legal surrender of this policy, the company will pay in cash therefor the amount specified in Column 1 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full together with any unpaid dividends.

THE INSURED IS ENTITLED TO CASH LOANS ON THE SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY AT ANY TIME AFTER THE PAYMENT OF THREE FULL YEARS' PREMIUMS.—The aggregate loans hereunder shall not exceed the sum stated in Column 1 of the accompanying Table A for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full together with any unpaid dividends. Any unpaid balance of the current year's premiums will be deducted from such loan value. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured. Interest will be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the legal reserve of this policy, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

THIS POLICY MAY BE RE-INSTATED (unless previously surrendered) at any time within five years after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due; and provided also, that any indebtedness hereon to the company at date of default with interest thereon to date of re-instatement shall be a first lien against this policy.

THIS POLICY IS UNRESTRICTED AS TO TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION of the insured. In case of death of the insured by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, a sum equal to the premiums actually paid hereon, and no more, shall be paid, but if at any time he engage in military or naval service in time of war (the militia not in active service excepted), he shall secure the company's written consent and pay the extra premium therefor.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. Only the president or secretary has power on behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.

2. If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured.

3. Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for validity of any assignment.

4. This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Omaha, Neb. Before any amount shall be paid hereunder, due proofs of the death of the insured must be furnished, and any indebtedness hereon to the company, including the amount necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year, must be settled. Due proofs of death of the insured must be furnished to the company at its home office. No suit or action shall be maintained on this policy unless it is commenced within three years from the time cause of action accrues.

5. This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application, and a copy of such application shall be endorsed hereon or attached hereto.

6. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value is equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder, and it is at least equal to the present value of the extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options are equal to the said reserve at the time of extension or surrender less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The loan value is equal to the said reserve at the end of the year to which premium shall have been paid, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereonto.

7. This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

Any unpaid indebtedness on account of this policy, will correspondingly decrease the values of the above table. In case of default in payment of a premium due at an intermediate period the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for full year's premiums paid. Loan and cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy; figures will be furnished on request by the home office of the company.

Disability Benefits.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this policy, and provided it is continued under its original premium paying conditions, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently and wholly prevented for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company will pay the insured one-tenth of the face amount of this policy annually until he shall have attained to the age of sixty, or the full amount shall have been paid, and each such payment shall reduce to the extent the amount of insurance then in force, and in the proportion of such payments to the amount originally insured, shall reduce the loan and non-forfeiture values as set forth in the table on page two, and after and when the payments made shall together with any indebtedness to the company equal the amount originally insured, the company's obligation under the contract shall be fully satisfied and discharged. In addition to or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability, the company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of one eye, or the severance of one hand, at or above the wrist, or one foot, at or above the ankle, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

Instalment Options.—The insured may at any time change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy, if the policy is not then assigned, from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments. On this plan the company will pay in lieu of each one thousand dollars insurance provided for on first page hereof: ($1,360) One thousand three hundred and sixty dollars in twenty equal annual instalments, or ($1,260). One thousand two hundred and sixty dollars in fifteen annual instalments, or ($1,160) One thousand one hundred and sixty dollars in ten equal annual instalments. The payment of the first instalment shall be made at the time the whole amount would have been payable, and subsequent instalments shall be payable annually thereafter. The insured may change his selection under the above options; he may also revoke all selections and make the policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsement on the policy by the company. After endorsement the policy will be returned to the insured. The beneficiary cannot commute unpaid instalments, unless given such right by the insured at the time payment by instalments is directed. If the beneficiary should die before the full amount of instalments called for under the selection made by the insured shall have been paid, the remainder of the instalments will be commuted on the basis of three and one-half per cent, compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If this policy be on the endowment plan, and the insured survive the endowment period, but die before receiving all the instalments called for hereunder, the remainder of the instalments will be commuted as above and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

Declaration in Application.

I declare on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any insurance made hereunder, that I have carefully read each and all of the above answers, that they are each written as made by me, that each of them is full, complete and true, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief I am a proper subject for life insurance. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

Confederation Life Association.

20-PAYMENT LIFE. UNCONDITIONAL ACCUMULATION POLICY.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.50. AGE, 35.

The Confederation Life Association by this policy of Assurance, in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of the premiums as herein mentioned, doth insure the life of the person named and described herein as the insured in the sum set out below, which shall be payable at its head office, Toronto, Can., in accordance with the terms and provsions of this policy, which are as follows.

1. THE INSURED.—Richard Roe, of Toronto, Ontario, merchant.

2 KIND OF POLICY.—Life twenty premiums, with profits apportioned as stated on page two hereof.

3. PREMIUM.—Three hundred and sixty-nine and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars payable on the first day of January, 1911 and the yearly payment of a like sum on the first day of January in each and every year hereafter until twenty full year's premiums shall have been paid.

4. SUM INSURED.—Ten thousand dollars.

WHEN PAYABLE.—Upon due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy.

TO WHOM PAYABLE.—To his wife Susan if living; if not, then to the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns.

INDISPUTABILITY.—After this policy shall have been in force for one full year, it shall, subject to the due payment of the premium, be thenceforward indisputable.

No RESTRICTIONS are placed upon the insured under this policy as to residence, travel or occupation.

REINSTATEMENT of this policy in the event of lapse, may be secured at any time upon the submission of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the association and the payment of the past due premiums with interest thereon at five and a half per cent per annum, and the payment or reinstatement of any loan and the interest thereon.

THE BENEFITS, privileges and provisoes printed or written by the association on the second and third pages hereof, form a part of this contract as fully as if they were stated at length over the seal and signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof these presents are sealed with the common seal of the said association, and signed by the president and managing director or secretary thereof, at Toronto, this first day of January, 1911.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISOES.

DAYS OF GRACE.—Thirty days' grace is allowed for the payment of renewal premiums under this policy, during which time the insurance shall continue in force.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable at the head office of the association in Toronto, Can., but may, with the assent of the association, be paid elsewhere. No receipt for any premium shall be valid unless on the association's printed form signed by the managing director, secretary, or actuary, and countersigned by the agent, or cashier. If default be made in the payment of any premium, note, or cheque, should one be given and accepted therefor, whether notice of such payment falling due was received by the insured or not, then, and in every such case, this policy shall cease and determine, except as herein otherwise provided. This policy does not take effect until the first premium has been actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured.

PROFIT ACCUMULATION BENEFITS.—The accumulation period under this policy ends on the first day of January, 1931. If this policy is then in force, and all premiums have been duly paid as provided herein, but not otherwise, the insured or owner of this policy will be entitled to share in the accumulated profits as apportioned hereto by the association and to select any one of the following benefits:

First.—To continue the policy, on which future profits will be declared quinquennially, and receive the accumulated profits, either (1) in cash, or in the purchase of (2) a bonus addition to the sum insured, or in the purchase of (3) a life annuity; or,

Second.—To surrender the policy and receive its entire value, consisting of the guaranteed cash surrender value indicated in the table below, together with the accumulated profits either (4) in cash, or in the purchase of (5) a paid-up policy, payable at death, without profits or in the purchase of (6) a life annuity. The right to select benefits No 2 and No. 5 is subject to the proviso that notice in writing shall be given by the insured to the association at its head office, not less than two years prior to the expiry of the accumulation period, otherwise evidence of insurability satisafctory to the association will be required. The association will send to the insured at the expiry of the accumulation period a statement of the results under the six accumulation benefits, and if a selection is not made within one month thereafter, the association will be entitled to apply the profits under benefit No. 3.

Non-Forfeiture and Loan Benefits.

Automatic Premium Loan.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid on this policy it shall not lapse by reason of the non-payment of any subsequent premium so long as the cash surrender value thereof, according to the table given below or the excess of such cash surrender value over and above any indebtedness charged against the policy is not less than the amount of such premium then due, but such premium shall, without any request or action of the insured, be advanced by the association as a loan against the policy, and it shall become a first charge thereon in favor of the association in priority to the claim of any assignee or other person. Should, however, the cash surrender value over and above any accumulated indebtedness be less than the amount of any unpaid premium when due, or should such accumulated indebtedness at any time exceed the cash surrender value, this policy shall thereupon become void. In calculating the cash surrender value, account only shall be taken of complete years' premiums paid, including the premium then being advanced, and not of a payment made for any fraction of a policy year. The rate of interest chargeable upon automatic premium loans will be seven per cent per annum to be compounded yearly on the first day of October in each year, this rate includes a charge of one and one-half per cent for expenses and for the privilege secured to the insured of having the policy automatically continued in force. A loan may at any time while the policy is in force be paid off in whole or in part.

Extended Term Insurance.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid upon this policy, it may upon payment of all indebtedness, if any, charged against this policy and subject to the due surrender thereof before the date upon which any subsequent premium shall become due or within the period of grace, be exchanged for a policy of extended term insurance for the full amount insured under this policy, but without profits, for such further period of time as is stated in the following table. Should the substituted extended term policy become a claim by death within three years from the date of issue thereof, but not otherwise, the association shall be entitled to deduct from the amount of the claim a sum equal to the premiums which would have become due on this policy if it had been continued in force with interest thereon at six per cent per annum.

Paid up Policy.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, it may, subject to the due surrender thereof before the date on which any subsequent premium shall become due, or within the period of grace and the payment or adjustment of any indebtedness, if any, which may be charged against this policy, be exchanged for a paid-up policy, without profits, for the amount indicated in the following table.

Cash Surrender Value.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy and subject to the due surrender thereof before the date on which any subsequent premium shall become due or within the period of grace, a cash surrender value will be granted for the amount indicated in the following table.

Loans.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, the association will lend thereon an amount not exceeding ninety-five per cent of the cash surrender value thereof, as indicated in the following table, provided this policy is duly assigned as security therefor. The rate of interest will not exceed five and one-half per cent per annum.

Note.—The granting of a cash surrender value or loan is subject to the proviso that there are no statutory or other legal restrictions.

Policies which may be continued after the twentieth year will be entitled to non-forfeiture and loan benefits calculated according to the rules of the association.

Payment of Claim.—Upon the death of the insured the claimant shall furnish to the satisfaction of the association complete proofs duly verified by affidavit or otherwise of the death and the cause thereof and also of the age of the insured, unless previously given. Any deferred half-yearly or quarterly premium or other unpaid balance of the current year's premium, or any other indebtedness, if any, will be deducted from the amount of the claim.

PROOF OF AGE.—If it should appear that the age of the insured was understated in the application for this policy, the amount of the insurance payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium actually paid would purchase at the true age of the insured; or, if the age was overstated, a refund of the excess paid will be made. Age will be admitted at any time during the lifetime of the insured, upon submission of satisfactory proof.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The association will not recognize any assignment or transfer of this policy until the original, or duplicate thereof, shall be filed in the head office of the association. The association assumes no responsibility for the validity or sufficiency of any assignment or transfer.

ENTIRE CONTRACT—NON-VARIABLE.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto annexed, constitutes the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall, in the absence of fraud, be used in defence of a claim under this policy. This contract cannot be altered or varied in any way except in writing by one of the following executive officers of the association, viz.: the president, managing director, secretary, or actuary.

WARRANTY IN APPLICATION.

I agree to accept the policy when issued on the terms mentioned in this application and to pay the association the premiums thereon as and when the same fall due, and I further agree that should a policy be executed under this application, the same shall not be delivered or binding on the association until the first premium thereon shall be paid to a duly authorized agent of the association, during my lifetime and good health. In consideration of the policy being placed in the accumulated dividend class, I waive all right to withdraw, or use before the expiration of the dividend period above stated, any profits which may be allotted for that period; and unless the policy shall at the expiration thereof be in full force, no profits shall be payable under said policy.

Connecticut General Life Insurance Company,

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $345. AGE, 35.

The Connecticut General Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the annual premium of three hundred and forty-five dollars, to be paid on or before the twentieth day of June in every year during the lifetime of the insured, until twenty full annual premiums have been paid, does promise, on receipt of due proofs of the death, during the continuance of this contract, of Richard Rowe, herein called the insured, of Hartford, county of Hartford and State of Connecticut, to pay at its home office in Hartford, Conn., to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured; subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid premium or portion of the premium for the current policy year.

CONDITIONS AND PRIVILEGES.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and all statements made in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No statement shall be used in defence to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of the application is attached to the policy when issued. Only the president vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this contract of insurance.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect unless nor until the first premium is actually paid while the insured is in the same condition of health as described in the application; and if the second annual premium be not fully paid when due, or within thirty-one days thereafter, this policy and all claims under it shall be void, and the premiums already paid shall be forfeited to the company. In case of default in payment of any premium after the second year this policy shall thereafter be in force only to the extent of and subject to the company's non-forfeiture provisions. All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, but will be accepted elsewhere, if paid to a duly authorized agent in exchange for its receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated therein.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force, but in case the policy becomes a claim during the period of grace, before the overdue premium or the deferred premiums of the current policy year, if any, are paid, the amount of such premiums will be taken from the face of the policy in settlement.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The company will not be bound nor in any way affected by any assignment of this policy, or of any interest thereunder, until the original assignment or certified copy thereof shall be delivered at its home office; and the company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

REVIVAL IN EVENT OF LAPSE.—This policy, if not surrendered for cash, will be reinstated on written application therefor at any time after non-payment of any premium if evidence of good health satisfactory to the company is furnished, and premiums to date of reinstatement and any other indebtedness to the company are paid with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

SUICIDE, sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof is not a risk assumed by the company.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from its date of issue, if the premiums are duly paid, this policy is incontestable. If the age of the insured be misstated, the liability of the company shall be the amount of insurance which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age on a similar plan.

DIVIDENDS.—Reduction of premiums as determined by the company will be made annually beginning at the second year, or the insured may pay the full premium and instruct the company to apply the amount of reduction apportioned to him in any one of the following plans: (1) To purchase additional full-paid participating insurance which may be surrendered at any time for a cash value of the full reserve. (2) To purchase participating pure endowment which may be surrendered at any time for a cash value of the full reserve. (3) As a deposit with the company at not less than three and one-half per cent compound interest, computed annually. Such deposit may be withdrawn at any time. (4) To convert the policy into an endowment payable at a gradually decreasing age. (5) To shorten the premium-paying period.

This policy, after full payment of all premiums as therein provided, will participate in an annual division of surplus earnings as apportioned by the company, such dividends to be applicable under any one of the first four options named above, otherwise payable in cash. The insured may by written notification to the company change the method of dividend application to take effect on any anniversary of the policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The right to change the beneficiary under this policy, provided it be not assigned, is reserved by the insured, but such change shall only be made by the return of the policy to the company with a written request therefor on a form provided by the company, and no change shall be operative until the policy is duly endorsed therewith by the company.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—This policy is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The extended insurance, which is the automatic value hereunder, is purchased by a net single premium equal to the cash value hereof, consisting of the full reserve on this policy according to the above mentioned table, less a surrender charge of a percentage of the amount insured as follows: Second year, 1.5 per cent; third year, 1.4 per cent; fourth year, 1.3 per cent; fifth year, 1.2 per cent; sixth year, 1.1 per cent; seventh to twentieth years, 1 per cent; twentieth and subsequent years, no charge.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—On default in the payment of any premium after the second year, if there is no indebtedness against the policy and if no other option is called for, the insurance will be automatically extended for the full face of the policy, without participation in surplus, for the term set forth in the table below. If there be an indebtedness, the amount thereof will be subtracted from the amount otherwise available as a net single premium, and the balance will be applied as a net single premium to purchase non-participating extended term insurance for the face of the policy less the indebtedness

CASH VALUE.—On default in payment of any premium after the second year, or within thirty-one days thereafter, on legal surrender of the policy at the home office, the company will pay a cash value consisting of the net single premium available for the purchase of extended insurance.

LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid, the company will loan, upon satisfactory assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, up to the amount of the cash value at the end of the policy year for which the premiums have been duly paid. Such loan is to include all prior indebtedness, if any. Upon making the loan, interest will be deducted for the unexpired portion of the policy year, at the rate of five per cent per annum, and will thereafter be payable annually in advance. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

PAID-UP POLICY.—Upon written request of the insured within three months from the date of default in any premium after the second year, if the policy has not been surrendered, the company will apply the cash value plus one-half the surrender charge set forth above, as a net single premium to purchase a participating paid-up policy, payable at a like time and in like manner with the original. The amount of such paid-up policy is set forth in the table below

EXTENDED OR PAID-UP INSURANCE taken as above described may be surrendered at any time for a cash value consisting of the full reserve. Loans will be granted on such paid-up insurance on the same terms as stated above in the case of the original insurance.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon written request of the insured and assignee, if any, made prior to default in payment of any premium, the premiums thereafter coming due, if not paid, will be charged against the policy as a loan bearing compound interest at the rate of five per cent per annum until such time as the accumulated loan together with any other indebtedness with interest thereon shall equal or exceed the cash value hereof, in which case this policy shall thereupon become null and void and be surrendered to the company in consideration of the cancellation of the indebtedness, subject however to the notice of termination as set forth in the loan clause herein.

If at any time the equity in the policy is not sufficient to continue the insurance in force for a full year, then in that case it will be kept in force for such portion of a year as the remaining equity will allow.

TABLE OF NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS REFERRED TO ABOVE.

These figures apply to the original sum insured and to full-paid policy years only. The payment of any semi-annual or quarterly instalment of an annual premium will proportionately increase the values. Dividend accumulations will increase and indebtedness will decrease the values

Options on Settlement.

Instalments.—In any cash settlement of this policy its proceeds will be paid upon written request of the then legal owner in instalments certain, as follows: For each $1000 deposited, five annual instalments of $214 each, or ten annual instalments of $116 each, or fifteen annual instalments of $84 each, or twenty annual instalments of $68 each, or twenty-five annual instalments of $58 each, or two hundred and forty monthly instalments of $5.75 each, the first instalment payable immediately.

Annuities.—In any cash settlement of this policy, the privilege is hereby granted the then owner to deposit the proceeds in a sum of not less than $1000, or in multiples of $500, which sum will be applied to the purchase of a guaranteed life annuity upon his or her life in an amount set forth in the table below. The annuity contract in addition to providing for the payments as stated therein yearly until the death of the annuitant, will also provide that should he or she die before the sum of the payments made shall have amounted to the original deposit, the amount of the difference between the sum of the payments made by the company and the deposit will be payable in one lump sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant.

In any settlement of this policy under any one of the instalment or annuity options above described the amount of the instalment or annuity due at the end of any year will be increased by such annual division of surplus as may be apportioned by the company.

In witness whereof, the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its office in the city of Hartford, the twentieth day of June, A. D. nineteen hundred and ten..

Agreement in Application.

I hereby covenant and agree that all the foregoing statements and answers as written, and those contained in Part II made, or to be made, to the medical examiner, are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract applied for, and that they are full, complete and true, and the only statements made to the company in reply to its inquiries.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $358.20. AGE, 35.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the application for this insurance which is the basis of and a part of this policy, and of the payment to it of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-eight and $^{20}/_{100}$ dollars on the seventeenth day of August, 1910, and of a like annual premium on or before the anniversary of the same date in every year during the continuance of this policy until twenty annual premiums shall have been paid, hereby insures the life of John Doe, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, for the term of life, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and agrees to pay said sum, less any unpaid instalments of the annual premium last due as above provided, (subject to the right of the insured as hereinafter reserved to change any beneficiary) to his executors, administrators, or assigns, within thirty days after proof of the death of the insured shall have been received at the office of the company in Hartford, Conn.

SUICIDE AND WAR SERVICE.—In the event of the death of the insured within one year from the date hereof either by self-destruction, while sane or insane, unless it be determined by the company that the insured was so far insane as to destroy his responsibility therefor, or while in any military or naval service in time of war within said year without the company's written consent to such service signed by an executive officer thereof, the company insures said life in, and shall be liable only for, a sum, payable as above provided, equal to the premiums paid hereon.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium.

POLICY SETTLEMENT.—Any and every sum due under this policy shall be payable only at the company's office in Hartford, Conn., and from any sum payable hereunder there shall be deducted any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy.

The provisions, benefits, agreements and tables on the following pages are hereby made a part of this policy.

In witness whereof, the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed and delivered this policy in the city of Hartford, State of Connecticut, this seventeenth day of August, A. D. 1910.

PROVISIONS, BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND TABLES REFERRED TO ON THE FIRST PAGE AND MADE A PART OF THIS POLICY.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy, upon payment of the second annual premium and during its continuance thereafter either as a premium-paying or a paid-up policy, will participate annually in the divisible surplus which shall be determined and apportioned by the company. The dividend (1) shall be payable in cash to the insured or his assigns, or, at the option of the payee thereof, if the company be directed in writing by said payee prior to the expiration of thirty-one days after such dividend becomes payable, may be (2) left with the company, subject to withdrawal, to accumulate at such rate of interest, credited annually at not less than three per centum, as the company may determine, or (3) applied on a premium due hereon, or (4) converted into a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder. Any such additions will participate annually in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company and at the maturity of the policy will be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance; but any such additions may at any time during the lifetime of the insured be surrendered by the insured or his assigns to the company for cash either in an amount equal to the then reserve thereon or in an amount equal to the dividends converted into such additions, whichever may be the greater. Any dividends due and unpaid at the maturity of this policy shall be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance.

APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS TO MAKE POLICY FULLY PAID-UP OR TO ACCELERATE MATURITY.—Whenever the reserve hereon, with any accumulated dividends credited and the cash value of any paid-up additions hereto, shall equal the reserve on a fully paid-up policy of this same kind and amount for the then age of the insured at nearest birthday, upon request by the insured or his assigns and release of such dividends and paid-up additions, if all premiums then due shall have been paid as herein provided, the company will endorse this policy as fully paid-up upon presentation hereof at its office in Hartford, Conn. Whenever the cash value of this policy and of any paid-up additions hereto, together with any accumulated dividends credited hereon, shall equal the full amount of this policy, then or thereafter, during the lifetime of the insured, upon surrender hereof and release of such dividends and paid-up additions at such office, the company will pay to the insured or his assigns the face of the policy as a matured endowment, less any indebtedness to the company on or secured hereby.

OPTIONAL PAYMENT OF PREMIUM BY DIVIDENDS.—If any premium or instalment of premium be not paid as herein provided and if there be at the expiration of the time herein provided for such payment accumulated cash dividends credited on account of this policy at least equal to the payment required, if the company be so previously directed in writing by the payee of such accumulations, said payment shall be made by the application of an equal amount of such credit, or if such credit be less than the required payment then out of such credit, if sufficient, shall be paid a semi-annual or quarterly instalment of the annual premium.

Automatic Paid-up Insurance.—If, after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, a premium or instalment of premium be not paid as herein provided, the company insures said life for the remainder of the term of this policy in the amount specified in the table of values hereon increased by the sum of any paid-up additions hereto, payable as herein provided.

Extended Insurance upon Surrender.—If, after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, payment of any subsequent premium or instalment of premium be not made as herein provided, and if there be no indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy and the insured be living, then upon its surrender with satisfactory release at the company's office in Hartford, Conn., either within the thirty-one days of grace allowed for such payment or within thirty-one days thereafter, or within one year after the expiration of such days of grace upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of insurability, the company will issue a paid-up policy of term insurance either for the full amount of this policy and for the term specified in the table of values hereon reckoned from the due date of such unpaid premium or instalment of premium, or, if duly requested, for a less amount of insurance and for a longer term, based upon the same method of computation, subject, in either case, to an adjustment of the term by the company on account of the payment of any additional instalment of premium and of any paid-up additions hereto. Any paid-up policy of term insurance so issued will participate annually on each anniversary of its issue while it remains in force in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company, and may be surrendered within thirty-one days after any such anniversary for cash equal to the reserve thereon on such anniversary.

Cash Surrender Value.—After due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, and on surrender at the company's office in Hartford, Conn., of this policy while in force and (1) within the thirty-one days of grace allowed for the payment of an unpaid premium or instalment of premium or within thirty-one days thereafter and during the lifetime of the insured, the company will pay the cash value specified in the table of values hereon; or, (2) if this policy shall have become a policy of paid-up insurance, on surrender hereof at said office while in force and within thirty-one days after any anniversary of the due date of the last annual premium paid and during the lifetime of the insured, the company will pay, as a cash value, the reserve hereon on such anniversary; less, in either case, any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy; and any such cash value payment shall be increased by the cash value as herein provided of any paid-up additions hereto and shall be made to the insured or his assigns, and shall be in full settlement of the company's liability under this policy.

Policy Loan.—After due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, the company will loan, within thirty-one days after written application received at its office in Hartford, Conn., on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security thereof, (1) at any time while this policy is in force as a premium-paying policy on or before the expiration of the thirty-one days of grace allowed for payment of a premium or instalment of premium, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner, less than, the amount specified in the table of values hereon increased by the then cash value as herein provided of any paid-up additions hereto, but the current annual premium or any instalments thereof, if unpaid, shall be paid out of the proceeds of such loan, and such payment shall be included in determining the number of annual premiums paid, or, (2) if this policy shall have become a policy of paid-up insurance, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner, less than, the amount of the cash value of this policy next thereafter payable as herein provided and the then cash value of any paid-up additions hereto; less, in either case, any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy. Any such loan shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable in advance to the end of the then current policy year, and in advance for each year thereafter, principal and interest to be payable at said office. Any interest due and unpaid shall increase the amount of the existing loan by the amount then necessary to provide such unpaid interest. In case the total indebtedness secured by this policy, excluding unearned interest, shall at any time exceed its then loan value as herein provided, such loan value shall thereupon be deemed to be applied in payment of such loan, and all liability on account of this policy shall forthwith cease and determine; but failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any; and failure to pay interest as herein provided shall be deemed to be a failure at the time such total indebtedness, excluding unearned interest, equals such loan value. The company will credit upon such indebtedness payments made at any time at its home office and will refund any unearned interest upon the amounts so paid.

Table of Values.

The cash and loan values and the net values of automatic paid-up insurance and optional term (extended) insurance, as guaranteed by and subject to the provisions and conditions of this policy, are equal to the terminal reserves hereon less a charge per $1000 insured under this policy which, if not more than five full annual premiums are paid, shall be $10 and thereafter shall be reduced by $1 for each full annual premium paid after the fifth and until fifteen are paid when the charge is eliminated. The cash or loan value and the amount of paid-up insurance, for each $1000 insured hereunder (exclusive of any paid-up additions hereto), and the period of term (extended) insurance are stated in this table, for the first twenty years, opposite the number of annual premiums paid.

A proportionate adjustment will be made on account of the payment of any instalment of any annual premium hereon.

The cash or loan value for later years is the reserve and will be stated upon request.

Reserve.—Reserves are to be computed upon the basis of the American Table of Mortality and three per centum compound interest.

Premium Payments.—All premiums hereon shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by its president or secretary and countersigned by the agent; and the possession of such receipt shall be the sole evidence of the authority of any agent to receive any premium on account of this policy. If any premium or instalment of premium on this policy be not paid as herein provided, then all liability on account of this policy shall wholly cease and determine except as otherwise herein provided.

Premium Instalments.—The annual premium, with an addition of two per centum thereof if paid in semi-annual instalments or three per centum thereof if paid in quarterly instalments, may, on written request, be paid in such instalments beginning with the due date of the annual premium.

Grace in Payment of Premium.—After payment of the first annual premium hereon, payment of any subsequent premium or instalment of premium may be made within thirty-one days after the same shall have become due, subject to a charge on the cash payment required at the rate of five per centum per annum for the period of delay, the policy meanwhile continuing in force; but in the event of the death of the insured during said thirty-one days, the premium, if unpaid, with the said charge for delay computed to the date of death, shall be deducted from any sum payable on account of this policy.

Reinstatement.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, or canceled on account of any loan indebtedness hereon, will be restored to full force at any time after default in premium payment upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum.

Admission and Correction of Age.—The age of the insured will be admitted by the company at any time upon satisfactory proof. If the age has been misstated the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

Change of Beneficiary.—The insured, if of lawful age, may, at any time while this policy is in force and if no interest herein under any assignment by him be then outstanding, change any beneficiary by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company on the company's form therefor, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon, such change to become effective only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

Assignments.—Any claim under an assignment of this policy shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest. Originals or duplicates of all assignments are to be filed at the company's home office. The company will in no case be responsible for the validity of any assignment.

Instalments and Annuities.—Upon application by the insured with the beneficiary or assignee, if any, during the continuance of this policy the company will agree to issue at its maturity, or upon application by the payee at its maturity the company will issue, upon surrender and satisfactory release hereof, a contract to pay, in lieu of the amount then due in a single sum (or any fractional part thereof) as herein provided, (1) instalments as specified in the table of instalments hereon; or (2) interest at the rate of three per centum per annum upon such amount to such payee or payees jointly or successively as shall be designated by name in such application, payable during the life or lives of such payee or payees or for such shorter period as may be requested therein; said amount to be thereafter payable to such payee or payees as shall be designated by name therein either in a single sum or in instalments as specified in said table, or partly in each way, as may be requested in such application. If the amount be made payable in a single sum such contract shall also provide that when it is due a payee, if then of legal age, may require the company (a) to retain the amount to which such payee is entitled (or any part thereof not less than $1000) during the pleasure of such payee and to pay interest thereon at the rate of three per centum per annum; or (b) to issue to such payee a contract to pay in lieu of the amount to which such payee is entitled (or any part thereof not less than $1000) instalments as specified in said table.

Any contract issued pursuant to the foregoing provisions shall provide for annual participation through any interest paying or instalment certain period in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company, the first dividend to be payable one year after the issue of the contract.

If requested in such application, instalments or interest payments will be made in equal parts semi-annually, quarterly or monthly.

Any agreement to issue a contract as above provided shall contain provision for revocation by the insured and for avoidance in case of assignment, change of beneficiary, or death of the payee or payees before the maturity of this policy.

If no such agreement be outstanding at the maturity of this policy the amount due hereunder at such time may be used to purchase a life annuity contract according to the then published annuity rates of the company.

If there be more than one beneficiary or payee under this policy these privileges shall be available only with the company's consent.

For Tables of Instalments see final page.

EVIDENCE OF CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy whereof is hereunto annexed, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defence to a claim under this policy unless contained in said application and a copy of the application shall be attached to the policy when issued. Agents of the company have no power or authority to alter or modify any of the terms, conditions, or agreements of this policy, or to waive any of the provisions thereof.

NOTE.—When making application for a policy the applicant has the option of selecting either paid-up insurance or extended insurance as the automatic feature. The above policy provides for automatic paid-up insurance while the following clauses are used in the policy when automatic extended insurance is desired.

DIVIDENDS converted into a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder. Any such additions will participate annually in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company and at the maturity of the policy will be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance; but any such additions may at any time during the lifetime of the insured be surrendered by the insured or his assigns to the company for cash in an amount equal to the then reserve thereon or, during the continuance of this policy as a premium-paying policy or as a full paid-up policy by the payment of all premiums as stipulated herein, in an amount equal to the dividends converted into such additions, whichever may be the greater; and if this policy shall become a policy of extended insurance, any such additions then existing shall not be affected thereby except as hereinafter provided.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If, after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, a premium or instalment of premium be not paid as herein provided, the company insures said life for the full amount of this policy, exclusive of any paid-up additions hereto, and for the term specified in the table of values hereon reckoned from the due date of such unpaid premium or instalment of premium, adjusted, if any instalment of the then current annual premium shall have been paid, by a proportionate part of the increase or decrease of the term of extended insurance which would have resulted from the payment of such annual premium; provided that any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy shall reduce the amount of such extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the reserve of such extended insurance, and in the event that such indebtedness equals or exceeds the reserve of such extended insurance said reserve shall be deemed to be applied upon such indebtedness and the balance if any of such indebtedness shall reduce the amount of any paid-up additions hereto in the ratio of such balance to the reserve of such paid-up additions; but if this policy be reinstated, as hereinafter provided, any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy existing at the due date of such unpaid premium or instalment of premium will be reinstated with interest thereon from such date.

PAID-UP INSURANCE UPON SURRENDER.—After due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, upon surrender of this policy with satisfactory release thereof at the company's office in Hartford, Conn., within thirty-one days after the due date of the first unpaid premium or instalment of premium or within thirty-one days thereafter, the company will issue a policy of paid-up insurance for the remainder of the term of this policy in the amount specified in the table of values hereon increased by the sum of any paid-up additions hereto, payable as herein provided; provided that any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy shall reduce the amount of such paid-up insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the reserve of such paid-up insurance. Such policy of paid-up insurance will participate annually on each anniversary of its issue while it remains in force in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company, and will provide for cash values equal to the reserve thereon at the beginning of each policy year respectively and for loan values equal to the cash value next thereafter payable, subject to the conditions provided for cash and loan values hereon, such cash values to be available within thirty-one days after any anniversary of the issue of such policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—After due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, and on surrender at the company's office in Hartford, Conn., of this policy while in force and (1) within the thirty-one days of grace allowed for payment of an unpaid premium or instalment of premium or within thirty-one days thereafter and during the lifetime of the insured, the company will pay the cash value specified in the table of values hereon; or, (2) if this policy shall have become a policy of extended insurance or of full paid-up insurance by the payment of all premiums as stipulated herein, on surrender hereof at said office while in force and within thirty-one days after any anniversary of the due date of the last annual premium paid and during the lifetime of the insured, the company will pay, as a cash value, the reserve hereon on such anniversary; less, in any case, any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy; and any such cash value payment shall be increased by the cash value as herein provided of any paid-up additions hereto and shall be made to the insured or his assigns, and shall be in full settlement of the company's liability under this policy.

POLICY LOAN.—After due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, the company, at any time while this policy is in force otherwise than as extended insurance, will loan, within thirty-one days after written application received at its office in Hartford, Conn., on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner, less than, the amount specified in the table of values hereon increased by the then cash value as herein provided of any paid-up additions hereto, but the current annual premium or any instalments thereof, if unpaid, shall be paid out of the proceeds of such loan, and such payment shall be included in determining the number of annual premiums paid; or, if this policy shall have become a policy of full paid-up insurance by the payment of all premiums as stipulated herein, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner, less than, the amount of the cash value of this policy, and of any paid-up additions hereto, next thereafter payable as herein provided; less, in either case, any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy. Any such loan shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the then current policy year, and in advance for each year thereafter, principal and interest to be payable at said office. Any interest due and unpaid shall increase the amount of the existing loan by the amount then necessary to provide such unpaid interest. In case the total indebtedness secured by this policy, excluding unearned interest, shall at any time exceed its then loan value as herein provided, such loan value shall thereupon be deemed to be applied in payment of such loan, and all liability on account of this policy shall forthwith cease and determine; but failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy (except as above in case it becomes a policy of extended insurance) unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any; and failure to pay interest as herein provided shall be deemed to be a failure at the time such total indebtedness, excluding unearned interest, equals such loan value. The company will credit upon such indebtedness payments made at any time at its home office and will refund any unearned interest upon the amounts so paid.

TEN-YEAR TERM POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $169.90. AGE, 35.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the application for this insurance which is the basis of and a part of this policy, and of the payment to it of the annual premium of one hundred sixty-nine and $^{90}/_{100}$ dollars on the first day of March, 1908, and of a like annual premium on or before the anniversary of the same date in every year during the continuance of this policy, hereby insures the life of Richard Rowe, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, for the term of ten years from and after the date above written, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and agrees, if the insured shall die during said term, to pay said sum, less any unpaid instalments of the annual premium last due as above provided, (subject to the right of the insured as hereinafter reserved to change any beneficiary) to Martha Rowe, his wife, if living, otherwise to his executors, administrators or assigns, within thirty days after proof of the death of the insured shall have been received at the office of the company in Hartford, Conn.

For provisions, benefits, agreements, etc., as to suicide and war service, incontestability policy settlement, optional payment of premium by dividends, premium instalments grace in payment of premium, admission and correction of age, change of beneficiary assignments, instalments and annuities, table of instalments, and evidence of contract see preceding policy.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy, upon payment of the second annual premium and during its continuance thereafter, will participate annually in the divisible surplus which shall be determined and apportioned by the company. The dividend (1) shall be payable in cash to the insured or his assigns, or, at the option of the payee thereof, if the company be directed in writing by said payee prior to the expiration of thirty-one days after such dividend becomes payable, may be (2) left with the company, subject to withdrawal to accumulate at such rate of interest, credited annually at not less than three per cent as the company may determine, or (3) applied on a premium due hereon, or (4) converted into a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder. Any such additions will participate annually in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company and at the maturity of the policy will be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance; but any such additions may at any time during the life time of the insured and prior to the expiry of the policy be surrendered by the insured or his assigns to the company for cash in an amount equal to the then reserve thereon Any dividends due and unpaid at the maturity of this policy shall be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums hereon shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by its president or secretary and countersigned by the agent; and the possession of such receipt shall be the sole evidence of the authority of any agent to receive any premium on account of this policy. If any premium or instalment of premium on this policy be not paid as herein provided, then all liability on account of this policy shall wholly cease and determine except as to paid-up additions as herein provided.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, will be restored to full force at any time prior to the date of expiry of the policy and after default in premium payment upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

SURRENDER AND CHANGE.—The insured, if not then over sixty years of age, may, at any time while this policy is in force and prior to the due date of the last annual premium hereon, release this policy in accordance with the form of "release and agreement" printed on the fourth page hereof, and, on its surrender at such time so released, may receive a new policy of any form of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by the company, for any amount not in excess of the sum insured hereby, at the company's then rates for the age attained, or, in case of such surrender upon a due date of the annual premium hereon, a new policy for such amount of any form of whole life or endowment insurance in use at the date of issue of this policy at the rates in use at said last named date for the age rated herein upon payment to the company of a sum equal to the then net reserve, computed upon the American Table of Mortality, and three per cent compound interest, on such life or endowment policy, assuming it to have been issued at the date hereof, together with any dividend then applicable on the premium due thereon, less a sum equal to the then net reserve similarly computed upon this policy and such dividend as may then be applicable in part payment of the premium hereon.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Conservative Life Insurance Company (Ind.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $303. AGE, 35.

Conservative Life Insurance Company of Indiana agrees to pay at its head office in the city of South Bend, Ind., ten thousand dollars, upon receipt of due proof of the death of Welcome Stranger, the insured, of South Bend, State of Indiana, this policy then being in full force, to Anna Stranger, his wife, the beneficiary, if then living, but if not then living, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as may have been designated by the insured as hereinafter provided.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, and the payment of the sum of three hundred and three dollars, being the premium for term insurance for the period of one year from the date hereof, and of the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of February in every year during the lifetime of the insured until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, after which no further premiums will be required.

This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, together with the benefits, privileges and conditions, written and printed on the second and third pages hereof, constitute the entire contract between the parties, and are hereby made a part of the policy as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Conservative Life Insurance Company of Indiana, has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its office in the city of South Bend, Ind., this first day of February, 1912.

PRIVILEGES, BENEFITS AND GUARANTEES.

PREMIUMS.—The payment of the first annual premium hereon is a condition precedent to the taking effect hereof, and this policy shall not become binding upon the company until such premium is actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured; and the delivery of this policy without such payment shall not be a waiver of such precedent condition. All premiums are due and payable annually in advance at the head office of the company at South Bend, Ind., but for the convenience of policyholders, may be paid to agents producing receipts signed by the president, a vice-president, or secretary, and countersigned by such agents. After the first year, premiums may be paid semi-annually or quarterly in advance at the company's rate therefor, if the insured shall, in writing, request such change; but no premium or instalment thereof shall continue this policy in force beyond the period for which such payment is made. If any premium (or note or other obligation given for any premium), or part thereof, is not paid on or before the date when due, this policy shall become void, and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein provided. Any indebtedness to the company hereon will be deducted in any settlement of this policy, or of any benefit thereunder; and in the event of a claim by reason of the death of the insured (this policy being then in force), any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year will be deducted.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per centum per annum, during which time the policy shall remain in full force. Should the death of the insured occur during the period of grace, the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

GUARANTEED VALUES.

The figures in this table are on the supposition that there is no indebtedness to the company on this policy.

Values after years shown in this table will be furnished upon request.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If any premium on this policy shall not be paid in cash on or before the date on which it is due, or within the period of grace, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash), with six per cent per annum interest in advance, against the then loan value of this policy as stated below, provided that any such loan value is sufficient, and provided that written request to that effect has been made by the owner hereof at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the section for "loans." Such request may be revoked at any time in writing by said owner, provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan that may have been previously made under this privilege.

NON-FORFEITABLE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, it shall be non-forfeitable, and the insured may avail himself, within sixty days after any default in the payment of a subsequent premium, of one of the following options; reference being made in each case to the above table of values.

CASH VALUE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, should the holder hereof so elect in writing within sixty days (including days of grace) after default in the payment of any premium, the company will, upon surrender of this policy, pay to the insured within six months of date of such default the cash value specified in the table above, which shall not, in any event, be less than the sum available for the purchase of extended insurance as above.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, if default be made in the payment of any premium, upon written request by the insured, within sixty days (including days of grace) of such default, the company will, upon surrender of this policy, issue a paid-up non-participating policy which shall be subject to all the conditions of this policy, except the further payment of premiums, for the amount stated in the table above.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, if default be made in the payment of any premium, the insured may exchange this policy for a non-participating policy for paid-up term insurance; subject to all the conditions of this policy except the further payment of premiums to cease after the number of years and days stated in the table above.

Unless the holder within sixty days from default shall surrender this policy for cash, or elect, by a writing, filed with the company at its head office, to have the premium paid as provided by the "automatic premium loan" provision, or take a paid-up policy, this insurance will be binding upon the company from the date of default, without any further stipulation or act, as extended term insurance, for the number of years and days as set forth in the table above.

RESERVE BASIS.—This policy is issued on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}$) per centum per annum, and the values shown in the above table are for the end of the respective policy years. For fractional parts of a year, in addition thereto, the values shall be proportionately increased. Should there be any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy; if not paid in cash, it will reduce the amount of the values indicated in the table of values in the ratio of such indebtedness to the cash values as calculated in accordance with said table of mortality.

CASH LOANS.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, no default having been made in the payment of any premium due hereunder, the company will loan, within six months after written request, upon the sole security of this policy, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table above as stipulated to be loaned at the end of the last preceding year for which complete annual premiums have been paid; provided, (1) that this policy be duly assigned to the company as collateral security for such loan; (2) that interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be paid in advance for the remainder of the current policy year; (3) that in determining the amount available there shall be deducted from the amount specified in the table above opposite the numerical year then past, all existing indebtedness on, or secured by this policy, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year; (4) that in any settlement of this policy, any outstanding loans, together with accrued interest thereon, must be paid; (5) that failure to repay said loan or interest thereon when due shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any; (6) that nothing in this clause shall be construed to waive any forfeiture because of the non-payment of any premium when due, nor in any way affect the provisions of this policy concerning paid-up or extended insurance. After this policy shall have been in force two full years, the company will loan any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table above, stipulated as the "cash or loan value" after two years, upon the terms and conditions as stated in the preceding paragraph; provided, however, that such loan shall not be made except for the purpose of paying the premium then due.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its head office, elect to have the net one sum payable under this policy, upon the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy, paid either in cash, or as follows: (1) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with printed table of instalment payments. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the printed table of instalment payments. (3) By the payment of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum of said one sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment, upon the death of the beneficiary of the said one sum, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the insured's legal representatives or assigns. Any instalments payable under (1) or (2) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the insured's legal representatives or assigns. In case of election of instalments, if the beneficiary is the widow or minor child of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be held by the company as trustee in trust to pay the instalments, free from all claims and demands, interference, and control of the creditors of the insured.

OLD AGE ANNUITY.—Upon reaching the age of 70 (all premiums having been paid in accordance with the terms of the policy and not otherwise), the insured shall have the right upon written request of the company and surrender of this policy and in lieu of any and all other settlements hereunder, of taking a life annuity of $100 dollars, payable to him for life, upon the date of each succeeding anniversary of this policy.

CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, with the consent of the company, and provided this policy has not been assigned, and subject to the rules of the company regarding assignments and beneficiaries, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time during the continuance of this policy, by filing with the company a written request, duly witnessed and acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, in which case it is understood that such change will take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from the date hereof, this policy, which, with the application therefor, constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premium and except for violation of the conditions of this policy relating to age and to military and naval service in time of war, and except as to suicide within one year of the date hereof. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it be contained in the written and printed application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto, and made a part hereof. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated on written application therefor, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and payment of unpaid premiums to date of reinstatement, with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.

POWERS OF OFFICERS.—No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying the premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise or making or receiving any representation or information. These powers can only be exercised by the president, a vice-president, or the secretary of the company and will not be delegated.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Any assignment of this policy must be duly certified to, and made in duplicate, and both sent to the head office, one to be retained by the company, and the other returned. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

Self-destruction or death in consequence of violation of law, the insured being sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, are risks not assumed by the company in this contract, but in such case, the full premium payments made on this policy to the time of such death only will be paid.

In case of death from service in war without permission from the company, the full premium payments made on this policy to the time of such death only will be paid.

The reserve on this policy is secured by approved securities deposited with the Auditor of State of Indiana under the provisions and in accordance with the compulsory reserve deposit law of Indiana.

Continental Life Insurance and Investment Co.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $417. AGE, 35.

Continental Life Insurance and Investment Company of Salt Lake City, Utah, promises to pay ten thousand dollars, to Mary Ann Doe (wife of the insured), beneficiary, immediately upon receipt at the home office of the company of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured, during the term ending on the fifth day of January, 1912; and the consideration for the above contract shall be the application for this policy, a copy of which application is attached hereto, and the sum of four hundred seventeen dollars paid to the company on or before the delivery hereof; and the company agrees to continue the above insurance, payable to the beneficiary under the conditions hereinbefore stated, until the death of the insured, upon payment to the company of the annual premium of four hundred seventeen dollars, on or before every fifth day of January hereafter until full annual premiums have been paid for twenty years from the date of this policy, or until the prior death of the insured.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—After one full annual payment shall have been made and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium hereon, if the insured shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he is wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which thereafter shall become payable during the continuance of such disability, provided that the insured, whenever requested by the company shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company of the continuance of such disability. In any such case the premiums so paid shall not be an indebtedness on this contract, and the "table of values" shown on page two shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this contract, on the first premium due date following such recovery.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

1. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date hereof. If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

2. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—For the payment of every premium under this policy after the first policy year a grace of one month will be allowed, during which time the insurance will continue in full force. If death occurs within the month of grace the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

3. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided the policy is not then assigned, the insured may at any time while this policy is in force change the beneficiary or beneficiaries hereunder by due written notice to the company at its home office, such change to take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise stated on page one hereof.

4. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse or become void by reason of the non-payment of any premium or of any indebtedness or interest thereon, said policy may, unless previously surrendered to the company, for cash, be reinstated at any time after such non-payment of premium, upon the insured furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and paying all indebtedness and arrears of premiums with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

5. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated herein as follows: Semi-annually, $216.10 on the fifth day of January and July of each year, or quartely, $110 on the fifth day of January, April, July and October of each year. Any change in the method of payment is subject to the written approval of the company and the payment of semi-annual or quarterly premiums will not continue this policy in force longer than the fractional period so paid for, subject to the month of grace. The failure to pay when due any premium or any part thereof or any indebtedness secured by this policy, or any interest thereon, shall void this contract except as herein otherwise provided. No forfeiture for failure to repay any loan on this policy or interest thereon will occur while the total indebtedness hereon is less than the loan value or until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

6. GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) This policy and the application therefor contain the entire contract between the company and the insured. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defense of a claim under or shall void this policy unless said statement is contained in the written application herefor. (2) Premiums hereon, after the first, are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in Salt Lake City, Utah, but may be paid to agents of the company in exchange for receipts signed by the cashier of the company and countersigned by such agents. (3) A duplicate of any assignment of this policy shall be filed immediately with the company. The company assumes no responsibility for the legality of any assignment, and any claim made thereunder shall be subject to any indebtedness to the company hereon. (4) All endorsements, agreements or modifications of any privileges or provisions in this policy must be in writing and signed by the secretary or assistant secretary of the company. No agent or any person other than the officers stated may alter or waive any of these privileges or provisions or make any agreement binding upon the company. No statement made to or by any such agent, examiner or other person, not contained in the application, shall be taken or considered as having been made to or brought to the notice or knowledge of the company, or as charging it with any liability by reason thereof. (5) Any indebtedness of the insured to the company hereon, including, except in the case of lapse, any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, shall first be deducted from any money payable or in any settlement under this policy. (6) The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance and this policy shall be so valued for all purposes.

7. Rights of Insured.—The insured, without the consent of the beneficiary, may exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon said insured in this policy.

8. Dividends.—At the end of the second policy year and at the end of each subsequent policy year, if this policy is in force and the insured is living, said insured shall receive the apportioned earnings hereon and may at that time choose any one of the following benefits: (a) Continue this policy and receive the apportioned earnings (1) in cash, or (2) converted into paid-up life insurance, or (3) applied to the reduction of premiums payable on this policy, if any, during the succeeding policy year, or (4) left with the company to accumulate at three and one-half per cent compound interest and payable at death or withdrawable in cash at any time. (b) Surrender this policy and receive its entire cash value, being the sum of the guaranteed cash value and the apportioned earnings (1) in cash, or (2) converted into an annuity payable during life or a specified term of years, or (3) converted into paid-up life insurnce upon proof of insurability satisfactory to the company. If no choice is made by the insured within one month after the end of any policy year, the company shall have the right to make the selection.

9. Accelerated Maturity Privilege.—If at the end of any policy year during the period for the payment of premiums, the reserve hereon, plus this policy's share of the apportioned earnings, with interest, if any is due, shall equal or exceed the net single premium at the attained age of the insured, this policy will, at the option of said insured, be endorsed by the company as a fully paid-up policy with annual dividends and without any further payment of premiums. This privilege shall be subject to any indebtedness to the company then existing hereon.

10. Additional Death Benefits.—If the insured shall die after the end of the second policy year, and while this policy is in force, the beneficiary shall be paid in cash any apportioned and unused earnings hereon, with interest, if any is due, in addition to the amount of insurance stated on the first page hereof.

11. Loans.—After three full annual premiums have been paid hereon the insured may, upon a proper assignment of this policy to the company and the deposit of the policy with the company as security, borrow at any time from the company a total sum not greater than the cash surrender value hereof, including the value of any dividend additions then in force, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. Interest at a rate not greater than six per cent per annum will be charged in advance to the next anniversary of the policy and annually in advance on that date and thereafter.

12. Privileges on Surrender or Lapse.—After three full annual premiums have been paid hereon, this policy may be surrendered to the company by the insured within the month of grace allowed for the payment of premiums. Thereupon, (1) if there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insured may elect (a) to receive in cash the surrender value of this policy, including the value of any dividend additions then in force, or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, in addition to any dividend additions then in force, or (c) to continue the insurance in force for its face amount, and any dividend additions then in force, but without future dividends and without the right to loans. The cash surrender or loan values, paid-up insurance and continued insurance are shown in Columns 2, 3 and 4, respectively, of the table herein. (2) If there is any indebtedness to the company hereon it shall be deducted from the cash surrender value and the insured may elect (a) to receive in cash the surrender value of this policy less such indebtedness, or (b) to apply the remainder to purchase a proportionate amount of non-participating paid-up insurance, or (c) to apply the remainder to continue the insurance in force without dividends and without the right to loans, for its face amount and for the period which the aforesaid remainder will purchase at the then age of the insured.

13. Automatic Premium Loans.—If this policy is not surrendered as provided above, said policy shall not lapse nor become void, provided that the then loan value hereon shall exceed the amount of any premium then unpaid and of any indebtedness of the insured to the company. In such event the company will, without request, charge the amount of such premium with interest thereon in advance at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, as a loan against the policy, thereby continuing said policy in force, subject to such indebtedness, and this policy shall otherwise be entitled to all the privileges herein the same as if the premium had been paid in cash. Such loan shall be increased by the amount of subsequent premiums and interest as stated, as said premiums fall due and remain unpaid, and this policy shall remain in force and effect as long as the increasing loan value is sufficient to pay for insurance for one additional day, and to secure all existing indebtedness hereon with interest. At any time while this policy is in force under the preceding paragraph, the insured may reinstate said policy without medical examination and may thereupon resume payment of premiums as provided herein. The existing indebtedness may be either paid in whole or in part or allowed to remain as a loan on the policy, subject to interest.

PROVISIONS FOR ANNUAL INCOME TO THE BENEFICIARY.—Provided the proceeds of this policy be not less than $1000, and payable to one beneficiary, and provided the policy or any interest therein shall not have been assigned, the insured may, at any time while this policy is in force, change the mode of payment from one sum, as provided on page one, to payment by annual instalments as stated below, upon giving written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by the policy for endorsement; or, by like notice and endorsement, may at any subsequent time change the number of instalments, entirely revoke any change, or again direct payment in one sum. Unless the insured shall have so directed in writing, the beneficiary (other than the legal representatives of the insured) may not change the mode of payment to payment other than by annual instalments, as elected by the insured. The first instalment will be payable on the date when this policy would have been payable in one sum, and subsequent instalments on the succeeding anniversaries of such date. If the beneficiary shall die before all instalments shall have been duly paid, the commuted value of the remaining instalments shall be paid to the legal representatives or assigns of the beneficiary in one sum. At the time of any settlement under this policy, the insured may convert the proceeds of any benefit payable to himself, if not less than $1000, into instalment benefits as herein provided. If continuous instalments be selected, the amount of each instalment is to be determined by the age of the insured at the time when such benefit would be payable in one sum. The following tables are based upon an insurance of $1000, and will apply pro-rata to the amount payable under this policy.

Illustration: If, when the policy is payable, the age of the beneficiary is thirty years, each instalment will be $45 for each $1000 insured, payable during the lifetime of the beneficiary. If the beneficiary should die before receiving twenty instalments the commuted value of the remainder of such twenty instalments shall be paid to the legal representatives or assigns of the beneficiary in one sum.

SUPPLEMENTAL AGREEMENT FOR ACCIDENT AND HEALTH INSURANCE.

Continental Life Insurance and Investment Company, of Salt Lake City, Utah, issued in combination with policy No.....(herein designated as the principal contract,) on the life of John Doe.

During the premium paying period, and during the continuance of this supplemental agreement, if the principal contract is in full force under its original conditions, the insured will be indemnified against loss of time, resulting from bodily injuries or from disease, as follows, to wit:

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

TOTAL LOSS OF TIME.—For the period during which the insured shall, directly and independently of all other causes, be immediately, continuously and wholly disabled, by bodily injury effected through external, violent and accidental means, from transacting any and every kind of business, but not exceeding in all twenty-six weeks, in any policy year, the company will pay a weekly indemnity of fifty dollars, ($50) per week, in any case continuous indemnity not to exceed twenty-six weeks.

DOUBLE INDEMNITY.—The indemnity to be thus paid for accidental bodily injuries shall be double the sum above specified, if such injuries are sustained while the insured is riding as a passenger in or upon any railway passenger car using steam, cable or electricity as a motive power, or in a passenger elevator, or while traveling as a passenger and on board a steam vessel of any regular line for the transportation of passengers, or if such injuries are caused by the burning of a building or the destruction thereof by cyclone or tornado, while the insured is therein.

HEALTH INSURANCE.

TEMPORARY DISABILITY.—For the period of not less than seven days and not more than twenty-six weeks in any policy year during which the insured shall directly and independently of all other causes, be continuously and wholly disabled and prevented by bodily disease from transacting any and every kind of business, the company will pay a weekly indemnity of fifty dollars, ($50) per week, in any case continuous indemnity not to exceed twenty-six weeks.

No liability shall attach to the company for injuries received by the insured while under the influence of intoxicating liquors; or for injuries due to exposure, without the company's written consent, to the risks specified in Section 3 in the application for the principal contract and for this supplemental agreement, or for bodily disease resulting from any such cause.

No claim shall be made or paid, both for disability arising from accident as set out above and also for disability arising from any other cause and covering the same period of time.

Immediate written notice of any accident and injury, and of any illness for which claim is made, shall be given to the company at its home office in Salt Lake City, Utah, and proof of disability shall be given at the termination of each thirteen weeks' period of continuous disability, and at the termination of such disability, if the full period is more or less than thirteen weeks. Claims for temporary disability shall be payable at the end of each such period.

Any medical examiner of the company shall be allowed, as often as required by him or by the company, to examine the person or body of the insured, in respect to the cause, origin or continuance of any alleged disability or bodily injury. Refusal or neglect on the part of the insured to comply with the above provisions, as to notice, proof or medical inspection, shall invalidate and forfeit any and all claims for indemnity under this agreement.

The insurance under this supplemental agreement, as to accidental injuries, and as to disease, may be canceled at any time theretofore, as to either or both, by the insured sending written notice to the company at its home office in Salt Lake City, Utah, or by the company sending a like notice to the insured at his last known post office address. In the event of such cancellation, the premium upon the principal contract thereafter shall be reduced by the sum of twenty dollars annually as to accident insurance, and by the sum of twenty dollars annually as to health insurance.

No discontinuance of either accident or health insurance, or both, shall in any way whatsoever affect the principal contract, except in the matter of reduction of premium, as above provided. The non-forfeiture provisions and the provisions for incontestability, on page two of the principal contract, do not apply to accident or health insurance.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree: (1) That this application, and policy hereby applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto; that all statements and answers made herein, and all those made to the company's medical examiner, are represented to be true; that I have not been declined or postponed by nor have I an application now pending in any life company, or received a policy different in any respect from the one originally applied for, nor have I been intemperate, nor had any serious illness or disease, except diseases incident to childhood, and there is no history of consumption or insanity or hereditary disease, in my family, i. e., among parents, brothers or sisters, uncles or aunts. (2) That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received and approved, the policy issued hereunder by the company and delivered to the insured, and the premium actually paid to and accepted by the company, during my lifetime and good health, except that when the premium has been paid in advance to the authorized agent of the company and a binding receipt on the company's authorized form has been given by such agent, the liability of the company shall be as stated in such binding receipt. (3) That if, within one year from the date of this policy I shall engage, without the company's written consent, in blasting, underground mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascension, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train (except as conductor, baggage master or express agent on passenger trains), or in switching or coupling or uncoupling cars, or in service on a steamboat, or any vessel or boat, or in service in connection with any saloon or barroom, or shall reside or travel outside the Temperate Zones, or shall die by suicide, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of my own criminal action, the liability of the company shall be only the amount of premiums paid on the policy. (4) That if, at any time during the continuance of any agreement for accident and health insurance, issued in combination with this policy, I shall be disabled by reason of engaging, without the company's written consent, in any of the occupations or residence or travel specified in Section 3 preceding this, or in military or naval service in the time of war, or by reason of the use of intoxicating liquors, or by reason of the attempted suicide, whether sane or insane, or by reason of my own criminal action, any such agreement for accident or health insurance shall immediately become void and the company shall not be liable for the payment of any indemnity thereunder. (5) That, for the first year succeeding the date of the policy, if it so provides, its reserve value may be computed for one year, term insurance; for subsequent years, such valuation, for the age at issue advanced one year, shall be made, as will provide for the benefits and guarantees stipulated in the policy.

CONSERVATIVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY (IND.).

Agreement in Application.

I hereby make application for insurance in the Conservative Life Insurance Company, of Indiana, and I certify that all the statements and answers appearing herein and in Part II hereof are full, complete and true, and that the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect until the issuance of the policy, and the payment of the first premium while I am in sound health. I hereby expressly agree: That my death from suicide, while sane or insane, within one year from date of any policy issued hereon, shall reduce the company's liability thereunder to the amount of cash premiums paid thereon. And, I further agree not to engage in any of the following occupations or employments within one year from the date of policy: Handling electric wires or dynamos, in the making or use of explosives, blasting, mining, tunneling, aeronautic ascensions, or as an employee on any railroad train or engine, or in coupling cars, or in switching cars, or on a steamer or sailing vessel, bartender or dealer in intoxicating liquors, without the consent in writing of an executive officer of this company; that military and naval service in time of war are risks not assumed by this company, unless a written permit therefor, at a rate of extra premium to be fixed by the company, shall be granted by an executive officer of the company.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Empire Life Insurance Company (Ga.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $357.60. AGE, 35.

Empire Life Insurance Company, Atlanta, Ga., hereby insures the life of John Wellington, of Atlanta, Ga., and agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, at its home office in the city of Atlanta, Ga., to Julia Wellington, wife, or if the insured survives the aforesaid beneficiary, to the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of death of the above named insured, while this policy is in force.

This policy is free of conditions as to occupation or mode of death and is incontestable after one year from date of issue, provided the premiums have been duly paid and the provisions regarding military and naval service in time of war have been observed.

GUARANTEED NON-FORFEITABLE PROVISIONS.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—If any premium hereon shall not be paid in cash when due, the company shall first apply any withdrawable surplus to pay the same and the remainder of the premiums due, if any, shall be charged against this policy as a loan, if the loan value specified herein be sufficient to cover such advance, in addition to any existing liens and accrued interest, provided, that if the credits be not sufficient to cover the entire premium then due, the company shall apply the same, if sufficient to pay the premium for a shorter period, but not less than a full quarterly premium. At any time while this policy is thus sustained in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical examination and the accumulated premiums, with interest at five per cent per annum, may be paid or allowed to stand as a lien against the policy.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—If default in payment of premiums on this policy has occurred and the loan value has been consumed in the payment of premiums as described above, or if this policy upon request of the insured has been extended as a term policy; or if this policy has been surrendered by the insured for a paid-up policy, payment of premiums may be resumed at any time and this policy will be reinstated upon payment of premiums then due with interest at five per cent per annum for the time elapsed, subject to a satisfactory evidence of good health furnished on the company's blanks.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which this policy will remain in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums after the first year, subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum for the number of days payment is deferred.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time and from time to time, provided this policy is not then assigned, by written notice to the company at its home office; such change to take effect only upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. The insured may declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable. If any beneficiary, whether revocable or irrevocable, dies before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, unless the insured shall have otherwise provided when the beneficiary was designated.

APPORTIONMENT OF SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate annually in the surplus of the company as apportioned by the board of directors, at each distribution, after two years from the date hereof. Dividends, at the option of the owner of this policy, may be taken annually, in cash; or applied toward a reduction of the premium for the current policy year; or to purchase non-participating paid-up additions to the policy; or allowed to accumulate at three and one-half per cent compound interest for any number of years, not exceeding the time of the maturity of the contract.

REDUCING PREMIUM PAYING PERIOD.—Whenever the accumulated surplus added to the reserve shall equal the net single premium, at the age attained, the insured shall be notified, and may, at his option, apply the entire sum to purchase a paid-up policy.

WHEN POLICY MATURES AS AN ENDOWMENT.—Whenever the accumulated surplus added to the reserve shall equal the face value of the policy, the insured shall be notified and may, at his option, withdraw the entire sum in cash.

SURPLUS PAID WITH SUM INSURED.—In event of the death of the insured, any withdrawable surplus will be paid with the sum insured.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid upon this policy, no default having been made in the payment of any premium hereunder, the company will, within sixty days after application therefor, lend upon the proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, any sum not exceeding the cash value stated in the table below, plus the reserve on any dividend additions hereto, less any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, provided interest at the rate of five per cent per annum on the whole amount of the loan is paid in advance to the end of the current policy year, and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to pay any such loan or interest thereon shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the amount available hereunder, nor until one month after notice thereof shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee, if any.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER VALUES.—This policy may be surrendered upon the date when any premium hereunder falls due, or within thirty-one days thereafter, for any one of the values shown in the following table according to the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full. Dividend accumulations, paid-up additions or the payment of a fractional part of a year's premium will increase the values shown in this table. Any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy will be deducted from the cash value and will reduce the amount of paid-up and extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the cash value. The values shown in this table are equivalent to the full reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less a sum of not more than two and one-half per cent of the sum insured.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

AUTHORITY OF AGENTS.—No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any forfeiture, to bind the company by making any promise or making or receiving any representation or information. These powers can only be exercised by the president or secretary and will not be delegated.

OCCUPATION, TRAVEL, RESIDENCE, MODE AND PLACE OF DEATH.—If the insured shall within one year from the date hereof, die by his own hand or act, whether sane or insane, or as the result of the violation of law, the only amount payable hereunder, shall be a sum equal to the premiums paid hereon, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum. Heading electric wires or dynamos, or blasting, mining or submarine labor, aeronautic ascension, the manufacturing, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train, or switching or coupling cars, or on any steamboat, within one year from the date hereof, are not risks assumed by the company; military or naval service in time of war requires the written consent of the president or secretary and the payment of an extra premium when deemed necessary.

PREMIUMS, WHEN AND WHERE PAYABLE.—The premiums hereon may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, but in any event this policy shall continue in force only during the time actually paid for, except as herein provided; the unpaid portion of the year's premium, if any, and any indebtedness of the insured or the beneficiary to the company on account of this contract, or otherwise, shall be deducted from any settlement on this policy or any benefit hereunder; notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereon is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy; all premiums are due at the principal office of the company, but suitable persons may be authorized by it to receive such payments at other places, on production of receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by such person; if any premium is not paid on or before the day it is due, or if any note or other obligation that may be accepted by the company for the whole or any part of the first or any subsequent premium or any other payment under this policy be dishonored or not paid on or before the day when due, this policy shall, without any affirmative act on the part of the company or any of its officers or agents, be null and void except as herein provided; the reserve maintained hereon and required by law is to be accumulated year by year out of the second and subsequent premiums, based upon an age one year greater than the age of entry; the first year is to be considered term insurance, the single premium for which is the first premium called for under this policy.

In the event of the death of the within named insured, the claimant shall promptly give notice thereof and furnish the necessary proofs, which shall comprise satisfactory statements under oath or affirmation, on the company's blanks, establishing the validity of the claim; the place of this contract is expressly agreed to be in the city of Atlanta, State of Georgia; in any distribution or apportionment of profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution or apportionment, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to this policy, shall be conclusive upon the insured and upon all parties having or claiming any interest hereunder. The company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of any assignment of this policy unless such assignment is endorsed hereon by the company.

This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the application, a copy of which is attached hereto.

This contract is made in consideration of the payment in advance to the company of three hundred fifty-seven and $^{60}/_{100}$ ($357.60) dollars, on the delivery of this policy to the insured while in good health and the payment of a like amount thereafter to the company at its home office in the city of Atlanta, Ga., upon the twenty-second day of July in each and every year until premiums for twenty (20) full years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, The Empire Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its home office in the city of Atlanta, Ga., this twenty-second day of July, 1911.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that active service in the army or navy in time of war shall invalidate the insurance unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for and granted by the company, and the extra premium paid on notification, and it is agreed that at any time within one year after the date of issue of the policy, travel and residence in the Torrid Zone, and engagement in any of the following occupations or employments: Heading electric wires or dynamos, working in or about a saw or planing mill, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascension, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train, or in any switching or in coupling cars, or on any steamboat, without first obtaining written permission of the company, will render the policy, and any and all renewals thereof, void; and that self destruction, sane or insane, and death in consequence of violation of law within the above period, are not risks assumed by the company, in the contract or any renewal thereof, and that any contract based upon this application shall at all times and places be held to have been made at Atlanta, Ga., and shall in all respects be determined in accordance with the laws of the State. I further agree that in any distribution of surplus the principles and methods which may then be in use by the company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to such policy shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim an interest in the contract. I hereby appoint the board of directors of the said Empire Life Insurance Company my proxy and attorneys in fact to vote for me in my stead as fully as if I was personally present at the annual policyholders' convention, which meets on the last Saturday in January, at noon, of each year, and at any and all meetings of said policyholders. It is hereby agreed that all the foregoing statements and answers, and also those I make to the company's medical examiner, are warranted to be full, complete and true, and are offered to the company as a consideration for the contract, which shall not take effect until this application has been accepted by the company at the home office, in Atlanta, Ga., and the first premium shall have been paid to and accepted by the company or an authorized agent during the life and good health of the person herein proposed for a policy. I have read a sample blank form of the policy applied for, to be issued on the above named plan, and I hereby accepted the conditions of the same, and I agree that no statements, promises or information made or given by the person soliciting or taking this application shall be binding on the company unless such statements, promises, or information be reduced to writing and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office. This application, and the policy hereby applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. I hereby waive my privilege to have my physician refuse to answer questions respecting my health.

Empire Life Insurance Company (Wash.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT-RETURN PREMIUM LIFE POLICY—
NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $310.10. AGE, 35.

The Empire Life Insurance Company, Seattle, Wash. agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt at its home office in Seattle, Wash. of satisfactory proofs of the death of Emil Empire the insured, to Emily Empire, beneficiary if then living, if not to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured subject to the terms and provisions hereinafter contained.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved and no assignment of this policy exists, the insured may from time to time change the beneficiary named herein, whether original or substituted, without his or her consent, provided that any proposed beneficiary shall have an insurable interest in the life of the insured. The right, however is given the insured to surrender said power and to declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable, in which event said insured shall not have the right to change that beneficiary without his or her consent. Every change or irrevocable designation must be made by filing a written notice of the same at the home office of the company and shall not take effect until endorsed upon this policy by the president or secretary of the company.

The conditions, benefits and privileges, written and printed on the following pages, are hereby made a part of this policy as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Empire Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed and executed this contract at Seattle, Wash. this first day of March, 1911.

PREMIUMS.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the application hereto attached, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred ten and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars being the premium to provide the legal reserve and term insurance for one year from March 1, 1911 to March 1, 1912 which is the first policy year, and of the further payment in advance of the renewal premium of three hundred ten and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of March until twenty full years' premiums have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

CONDITIONS, BENEFITS AND PRIVILEGES.

WHERE PAYABLE.—Premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company at Seattle, Wash., but may be paid to an agent of the company authorized to receive such premiums in exchange for the company's receipt therefor signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by said agent. Failure to pay any premium when due will void this policy without further notice and forfeit all payments to the company, except as herein provided. All premiums are payable annually in advance, but they may be paid semi-annually, quarterly or monthly, according to the company's rates therefor, if the insured shall in writing request such change; but no premium or instalment thereof shall continue the policy in force beyond the period for which said payment is made.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of one month after the first policy year, will be allowed for the payment of renewal premiums during which period this policy shall remain in full force.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If any premium on this policy be not paid in cash on or before the date on which it is due or within the month of grace, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash), with interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum in advance against the then loan value of this policy as stated below, provided that any such loan value is sufficient, and provided that written request to that effect has been made by the owner hereof at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the section for "loans." Such request may be revoked at any time in writing by the said owner, provided, however, that such revocation shall not effect any loan that may have been previously made under this privilege.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After the premiums have been paid on this policy in full for a period of three years, the insured may avail himself within thirty days after any default in the payment of a subsequent premium, of one of the following options; reference being made in each case to accompanying tables of values:

CASH SURRENDER.—(a) To surrender this policy, properly assigned, and receive its value in cash. The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less not more than two and one-half per cent of amount insured by this policy, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy.

PAID-UP POLICY.—(b) To exchange this policy for a paid-up policy, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for such an amount as the cash value, less any indebtedness thereon or secured thereby, would purchase as a net single premium, computed by the above described method, at the attained age of the insured.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(c) To have the insurance continue in force from the premium due date last past for its face amount, but without the right to loans, for such term as the cash value, computed by the above described method, less any indebtedness thereon or secured thereby will purchase as a net single premium, at the attained age of the insured. Unless the holder within thirty days from default shall surrender this policy for cash, or elect, by a writing filed with the company at its home office, to have the premium paid as provided by the "automatic premium loan" provision, or to take Option (c), this insurance will be binding upon the company from the date of default, without any further stipulation or act, as provided in Option (b).

Value for years not given, computed on basis above mentioned, will be furnished on request.

If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, the values given in the table will be proportionally increased for such portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of year's premium indicated.

RETURN OF PREMIUMS.—In the event of the death of the insured after the second policy year, during the period of premium payment and while this policy is in force, it is mutually understood and agreed that the amount of premiums actually paid in cash in excess of the amount which would have been paid under an ordinary life contract will be paid in addition to the face of this policy in accordance with the following table:

Policy Year.	Excess Premium.	Policy Year.	Excess Premium.	Policy Year.	Excess Premium.

REVIVAL OF POLICY.—The holder of this policy shall be entitled to have the same revived at any time after the date of default of said policy, unless the cash value has been duly paid or the extension period has expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to said company and the payment of all overdue premiums and other indebtedness to said company upon said policy with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

LOANS.—After three full annual premiums have been paid, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy while continued in force and properly assigned, up to the limit secured by the specified loan values at the end of the policy year within which application for loan is made. The rate of interest on such loan shall not exceed six per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its home office and assented to in writing by the president or secretary. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment, and the claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest.

INCONTESTABILITY AND LIMITATION OF ACTION.—This policy, if once in force, shall be incontestable after one year from date of its issue, except for non-payment of premiums. Engaging in military or naval service without the consent in writing of an executive officer of the company is not a risk assumed by said company. No suit, however, shall be brought on any claim under said policy unless commenced within two years from the time the right of action accrues.

MISTAKE IN AGE AND SUICIDE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be only such amount as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured. Self-destruction within one year from the date hereof, whether sane or insane, is not a risk assumed by said company hereunder, but in such event it will pay the amount of the net reserve under this policy.

POWERS OF OFFICERS AND AGENTS.—All agreements made by said company must be in writing and signed by the president or secretary; no agent or person other than said officers has authority to add to, alter or waive any of the provisions of this policy or to make any agreement or waiver that shall be binding on said company.

TERMS OF CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall be used in defense of a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to said policy when issued.

CONDITIONS.—Provided, however, that no obligation is assumed by said company prior to the date hereof, nor unless on said date the insured is alive, in sound health and actually under sixty-one years of age, nor until this policy is delivered and the first premium actually paid to said company and its official receipt signed by its president or secretary given therefor.

SPECIAL PROVISION.—If any of the provisions of this policy are in conflict with the laws of the State in which it shall be issued, then and in that case said provisions shall be null and void, and the laws of said State shall govern.

METHODS OF SETTLEMENT. INSTALMENT OPTION.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but, if the amount payable be not less than $1000 it may be made payable instead in equal annual instalments in any number from two to twenty-five, or may be made payable to the beneficiary, if such beneficiary be one natural person, in equal annual instalments to continue for twenty years and so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live. The amount of such instalments shall be based upon the amount insured under this policy and shall be determined from the tables below:

TRUST FUND OPTION.—At the time this policy becomes payable as a claim the amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than $1000, may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon, so long as the said amount or said portion thereof remains with the company, interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest. The trust fund option shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than $1,000 or if the beneficiary be a corportaion or a firm.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application.

PART II.—I hereby certify that I have read all of the statements and answers noted on this examination blank, and declare that no circumstance or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past or present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers as well as those made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, are true and shall be the basis of the contract applied for.

Equitable Life Assurance Society.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $281.10. AGE, 35.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States hereby insures the life of Richard Roe of Albany, N. Y. (hereinafter called the insured) and agrees to pay at its home office in the city of New York, ten thousand dollars to his wife, Margaret H. Roe, beneficiary (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, provided this policy is then in force and is then surrendered properly released.

There are no restrictions under this policy on travel, residence, occupation, or military or naval service.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, provided premiums have been duly paid.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate annually in the distribution of the surplus of the society as ascertained and apportioned by it.

Dividends, at the option of the insured (or of the assignee if any) shall in each year, on the anniversary of the register date hereof, be either: (1) Paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additional insurance; or, (4) left to accumulate at three per cent, compounded annually, and payable at the maturity of this policy, but wtihdrawable at any anniversary of its register date. Unless the insured (or the assignee if any) shall elect one of the foregoing options within three months after the mailing by the Society of a written notice requiring such election, the dividend shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additional insurance (Option 3). This additional insurance may be surrendered at any time for the amount of the original cash dividend.

BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, and there is no written assignment of this policy on file with the society, the insured may from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by a written request, upon the society's blank filed at its home office, but such change shall take effect only upon the endorsement of the same hereon by the society. If there be no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the society unless in writing and until filed at its home office. The society assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse in consequence of the non-payment of any premium when due, it may be reinstated at any time upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the society and the payment of all overdue premiums, with interest at five per cent per annum and upon the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the society, secured by this policy, with interest at the same rate.

AGE.—The amount of insurance payable under this policy, if the age has been misstated, shall be the amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the society's rates in use at the register date hereof, for the insured's correct age.

THE CONTRACT.—This policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto. Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of issue hereof, is a risk not assumed by the society under this policy.

AGENTS are not authorized to modify, or in event of lapse, to reinstate this policy or to extend the time for payment of any premium or instalment thereof.

PREMIUMS.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the payment in advance of two hundred and eighty-one and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars and of the payment annually thereafter of a like sum upon each second day of January until the death of the insured.

PAYMENT.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to any agent or agency cashier of the society, upon delivery on or before their due date, of a receipt signed by an executive officer of the society (the president, a vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, comptroller, deputy comptroller, treasurer, or an assistant treasurer) and countersigned by said agent or agency cashier. This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually; but, premiums may be paid, subject to the society's written approval, in semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the society's adopted rates for fractional premiums, provided that in the event of the death of the insured any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount of the death claim payable hereunder.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which period the insurance hereunder shall continue in force. If death occur within the days of grace, the premium for the then current policy year or any unpaid instalments thereof shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. Except as herein expressly provided, the payment of any premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the succeeding premium or instalment thereof becomes payable.

These values are exclusive of dividend additions, and are for completed policy years. They will be reduced, if there is any indebtedness hereon. If there are any dividend additions to this policy, these values will be increased thereby. The loan obtainable at the end of any given year may be secured during that year, if the premium for the entire year has been paid. Values for later years will be on the same basis, and will be furnished on request.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE FOREGOING TABLE.

LOANS.—At any time, while this policy is in force, after three full years' premiums have been paid, the society will advance on proper assignment and delivery of this policy, and on the sole security hereof a sum not exceeding the loan value at the end of the then current policy year as stated in the above table (increased by the cash value of dividend additions to this policy if any) less any indebtedness to the society hereon, provided all premiums or instalments of the same have been fully paid. Interest at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be payable in advance upon such loan to the end of the then current policy year, and annually in advance thereafter at the same rate. Unless the loan is for the purpose of paying premiums due the society, the granting of the same may be deferred by the society for a period not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal the total loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the insured, and to the assignees of record if any, to their addresses last known to the society.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon any subsequent default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof, and within three months after such default, this policy may be surrendered by the insured (or assignee if any) who may elect one of the following options: (a) To receive the cash surrender value of this policy, the payment of which may be deferred by the society for a period not exceeding ninety days after the receipt of the application therefor; or (b) to continue the insurance for its face value (and any outstanding dividend additions) as paid-up extended term insurance for the period shown in the above table, or for such further period, as the dividend additions (if any) will purchase, but without future participation, or right to loans; or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up life insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. In the event of default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof after this policy has been in force three full years, if the insured (or assignee if any) does not select one of said options within three months of such default, the insurance shall be continued as provided under option (b). If there be any indebtedness against this policy, the cash surrender value shall be reduced thereby, the paid-up insurance shall be reduced proportionately, and the extended term insurance shall be for the face value of the policy less the indebtedness and for such period as the reduced cash value will purchase.

BASIS OF COMPUTATION.—The values stated in the foregoing table are mathematical equivalents and each is equal to the full reserve as computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three per cent interest at the end of the then current policy year, less a surrender charge of not more than one and one-half per cent of the face of this policy until the completion of the tenth policy year, at which time and thereafter there is no deduction made as a surrender charge.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY OF POLICY.—The insured (or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election) may, by written notice to the society at its home office, elect to have the net sum due under this policy upon the death of the insured, either: (Option 1) Paid in cash; o', (Option 2) paid in a fixed number of annual instalments as set forth in the following table; or, (Option 3) converted into a fixed income to the beneficiary for life, by the payment of a fixed amount annually for twenty years certain, said payments to be continued thereafter during said life as shown by the following table, provided that if this option be availed of, the society will require satisfactory evidence of the age of the payee. If Option 2 or 3 is elected, this policy must be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract issued for the purpose of carrying out said option.

Executed, this second day of January, 1911, at the home office of the society in New York.

OPTIONAL CLAUSES FOR INSERTION IN POLICY WHENEVER REQUESTED BY APPLICANT.

A. PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORMS.—This policy may be exchanged at any time prior to default in the payment of the premium hereon, without medical re-examination, for a policy for the same amount on any plan issued by the society (at the register date hereof) at a higher rate of premium than that charged on this policy, provided the age of the insured at the nearest birthday does not exceed sixty. Such change shall be effective upon the surrender of this policy, and upon the payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums on this policy, and those on the new policy, with compound interest at five per cent per annum, from the due date of each payment to the date of the change; the new policy to take effect as of the register date hereof. Past dividends will be re-adjusted to correspond with the terms of the new policy.

B. PRIVILEGE TO CHANGE TO CHEAPER FORM.—This policy may be exchanged at any premium date prior to default in the payment of the premium hereon, subject to a satisfactory medical examination, for a policy for the same amount on any plan other than term issued by the society (at the register date hereof) at a lower rate of premium than that charged on this policy. Such change shall be effective upon the surrender of this policy, and due allowance on account of the difference between the reserves under the old and the new policies will be made, provided that the old policy has been in force for at least three years.

C. PRIVILEGE OF CONVERSION INTO PAID-UP INSURANCE.—This policy will be converted into a fully paid-up policy for its full amount, as soon as the reserve on it and on any dividends to its credit equals the net single premium (based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with three per cent interest at the insured's attained age) on a policy for the said amount, subject to written application therefor and the return of this policy for endorsement. Any indebtedness to the society existing against this policy will continue as a lien against the paid-up policy.

D. PRIVILEGE OF CONVERSION INTO ENDOWMENT INSURANCE.—As soon as the reserve hereon, and on any dividend additions, (less any indebtedness) equals the face value hereof, the society will regard this policy as a matured endowment, and on surrender with due release, will pay the amount of the insurance hereunder.

E. INSTALMENT CLAUSE for insertion in policy when an instalment settlement is selected at date of application under a policy not written on an instalment form. . The society agrees to pay the equivalent of $7662 in twenty equal annual instalments of $500, the total of said instalments to be $10,000, to his wife, Jane Roe, beneficiary, (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary) the first instalment to be payable upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, provided this policy is then in force and is then surrendered properly released, and subsequent instalments annually thereafter. When option to commute is to be granted, continue; or in lieu of said instalment settlement, the society will pay $7662 in a single sum.

F. RATED-UP CLAUSE for insertion in a policy where the age is rated-up, but for which case the rated-up policy form is not appropriate. Age thirty-five. Rated-up age forty. The premiums, loans and surrender values of this policy are on the basis of the rated-up age of forty years, which is five years in excess of the age stated by the insured. The amount of insurance payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the society's rates in use at the register date of this policy for the insured's correct age rated-up by five years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that the policy issued hereon shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. I have not been declined or postponed by any life company or been limited to a policy different in form from the one originally applied for, nor have I been intemperate, or had any serious illness or disease, except diseases incident to childhood, and there is no history of consumption or insanity in my family, i. e., among parents, brothers or sisters, uncles or aunts, except as herein stated.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE OPTION POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $351.80. AGE, 35.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached, and made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred fifty-one and $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars, on or before its delivery, such payment to be made while the insured is in good health, and the payment thereafter of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-one and $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of November in every year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay, at its office in the City of Des Moines, Iowa, with the insured's right to change the beneficial interest, as hereinafter provided, unto Jane Doe, wife of John Doe, herein called the insured, of Des Moines, in the County of Polk, State of Iowa, the sum of ten thousand dollars together with the sum of all paid-up additions, if any, upon receipt, at its head office, of due proofs of the death of said insured, and the legal surrender of this policy, it then being in full force, any unpaid part of the then current year's premium, and other indebtedness to the company on account of this policy being first deducted therefrom.

If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, then such payment shall be made to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured.

The proceeds of this policy at the time of settlement may, as hereinafter provided, be paid in one sum, or applied under any one or more of the following methods: (1) Left with the company at annual interest. (2) Paid in a specified number of equal annual instalments. (3) Paid in equal annual instalments for twenty years, and for as many years thereafter as the payee shall live.

The reserve on this policy shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with 3½ per cent interest, and the full amount of such reserve shall be secured by deposits of interest-bearing securities with the Insurance Department of the State of Iowa, as required by law.

This policy is issued and accepted by all parties in interest with the express understanding that the contents of all of its pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa has, by its president or vice-president, and secretary, signed and delivered this contract, in the city of Des Moines, Iowa, this first day of November, A. D., 1907.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums after the first, are payable in advance at the company's home office, but may be paid elsewhere to collecting agents in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, or secretary and countersigned by such agents. Failure to pay any premium, or any note accepted therefor, when due and payable, shall cause this policy to cease and determine, and unless reinstated, all payments made thereon shall remain the property of the company, except as hereinafter provided. The mode of premium payments may be changed, on any anniversary of the policy, from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa, at rates now in use; but the payment of any premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date on which the next payment is due.

GRACE IN PAYMENT.—A grace of one month, during which the policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium, after the first policy year, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum; and if death occurs within the one month of grace, the unpaid portion of the then current year's premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT OF POLICY.—In case of default in the payment of any premium before three full years' premiums shall have been paid, this policy may be reinstated within one year from the date of such default, or in case of such default after three years, it may be reinstated to the original amount and plan at any time, if not previously surrendered, upon furnishing evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured, and the payment of all premium arrears together with the payment or reinstatement of all indebtedness existing against the policy at the time of such default, with interest thereon at not to exceed six per cent per annum; except, that if the policy is running as non-participating term insurance, such reinstatement must be made, if at all, within the first three years of the extended term.

DIVIDENDS AND HOW APPLIED.—Upon payment of the third annual premium, and annually thereafter, this policy shall, at the end of each year to which premiums have been fully paid, be credited with a dividend from the surplus as apportioned by the company to policies of the same age and class. Dividends, at the option of the owner of this policy, may be either: (1) Applied to purchase paid-up additions to the policy, or, (2) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or, (3) paid in cash, or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, and payable at the maturity of the policy but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. If the first method is adopted and followed continuously, no evidence of good health will be required, but will be required in case of change from either of the other methods to the first, and, unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash. Paid-up additions, while the policy is kept in full force, shall share in the surplus as apportioned, but not otherwise, and may be surrendered at any time and their cash value applied to pay running premiums.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or, in case of the death of any beneficiary, under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured may, subject to the rights of any assignee, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Any designation or change by the insured must be completed during the lifetime of the insured, and if more than one beneficiary shall survive the insured, their shares in the proceeds of this policy shall be considered as equal, unless otherwise directed by the insured.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—If, within two years from the date hereof, the insured shall travel or reside in any part of the torrid zone; or shall be personally engaged in blasting; underground mining; or submarine operations; aerial ascensions; climbing poles; or electrical employment, where the voltage used is over 600; or in ocean or lake navigation; or working upon railroad trains as engineer or fireman; or in switching or coupling cars, or as conductor or brakeman upon freight trains; or in the production or transportation of highly explosive substances; or the manufacture, or sale, of spirituous or malt liquors (except as druggist); or shall engage in the military or naval service in time of war, this policy shall become null and void, and all payments thereon forfeited.

SUICIDE.—If, within the said two years, the insured shall commit suicide, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of cash premiums paid on the policy.

THE POLICY CONTRACT.—This policy together with the application shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and, in the absence of fraud, the statements made in the application shall be considered as representations and not warranties.

INCONTESTABLE AFTER TWO YEARS.—After two years from the date hereof, the only conditions binding upon the owner of this policy, are that the premiums shall be paid as required and that if the age of the insured has been misstated, upon discovery of the true age, the difference between the premiums paid and the premiums at the correct age, with interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, shall be paid on demand to the company or to the owner of this policy, as the case may be, and if not so paid shall be deducted from, or added to, any sum payable under the policy. In all other respects the payment of any sum due under this policy shall be incontestable.

NON-FORFEITURE, LOAN AND CASH SURRENDER PROVISIONS.

1st. AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If, after the payment of premiums for three or more full years, default is made in the payment of a subsequent premium, this policy shall, without action on the part of the insured, continue as a reduced, paid-up non-participating policy for the amount stated in Table "A," herein set forth; or,

2d. EXTENDED INSURANCE ON APPLICATION.—Upon written application of the insured and assigns, if any, and the presentation of this policy at the home office for endorsement, within three months after the date of such default, the company will extend and continue the full amount of this policy as non-participating term insurance for the time stated in Table "A," herein set forth, counting from the anniversary date to which full years' premiums have been paid; provided, that any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, if not paid, will reduce the amount of paid-up or extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the reserve on this policy.

3d. POLICY LOANS.—After the payment of premiums for three or more full years, there being no default in any premium payment, the company will, at any time, loan, on proper assignment and deposit of this policy, and on the sole security thereof, at not to exceed six per cent per annum interest, which interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of this policy, less than, the amount stated in Table "A," herein set forth, deducting therefrom, interest in advance to the end of the current policy year, and all other indebtedness to the company hereon. In case this policy shall, according to its terms, become a reduced, paid-up non-participating policy, its cash and loan value shall be the full reserve, less not to exceed two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. Failure to repay any such loan and interest shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the cash value hereunder in which case the policy shall immediately cease and become void; but such termination shall not take effect until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and assigns, if any. Such loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made

4th. CASH SURRENDER.—Upon the request of the insured and assigns, if any, and the legal release and surrender of this policy, at its home office, at the end of the third or any subsequent policy year, or within the one month's grace provided above, premiums having been paid in full to the end of such year, the company will pay in cash to the legal owner hereof the amount stated in Table "A," herein set forth, deducting therefrom any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Payment of such cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after application therefor is made.

INTERMEDIATE VALUES.—If after the payment of premiums for three or more full years, default is made in the payment of a premium due, at an intermediate period, the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the reserve, at the date of such default, upon the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired.

TABLE "A."—The figures set out in the following table show the minimum values guaranteed under this policy, for the years stated, upon the assumption that all premiums have been fully paid in cash, and that there is no indebtedness on the policy.

Figures for other and later years will be furnished upon request. At the end of the twentieth year or of any year thereafter the cash or loan value shall equal the full reserve on this policy. Paid-up additions will increase, or indebtedness, unless paid, will diminish the benefits in the above table.

NOTE.—While any owner of this policy (either as beneficiary or by assignment) is a minor, no loan can be made by the company, except for the purpose of paying current premiums; and before the cash surrender value can be paid, the interest of such minor must be released by a duly appointed legal guardian.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.

Whenever this policy becomes due and payable either by maturity, surrender, or by death of the insured, and there be no existing assignment, the insured, or the beneficiary after the death of the insured, in case the insured shall not have otherwise directed, may by written notice to the company and due surrender of this policy at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable hereunder paid in cash in one sum, or applied in one or more of the methods described in the following options, provided the amount to be applied under any one of such options is not less than $1,000.

1. GUARANTEED INCOME.—The payment of interest at the rate of three per centum of the amount left with the company as a principal sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee, and the payment upon the death of the payee, of said principal sum together with any accrued interest for the then current year, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's executors, administrators or assigns.

2. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—The payment of a specified number of equal annual instalments, the first being payable immediately, and subsequent instalments on the anniversary of the first,—the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the amount set out in Table "B" herein set forth for each $1,000 to be applied under this option, corresponding with the number of instalments so to be paid.

3. CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—The payment of equal annual instalments for twenty years, and for as many years thereafter as the payee shall live, the first being payable immediately, and subsequent instalments on the anniversary of the first,—the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the amount set out in Table "B," herein set forth for each $1,000 to be applied under this option, corresponding with the attained age of the payee.

SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT ISSUED.—A supplementary, non-participating contract shall be issued for each option elected, and any instalments payable under options 2 and 3, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's executors, administrators, or assigns.

CONTRACTS MAY BE SURRENDERED.—Unless otherwise specified in said notice, the payee may, at the end of any year, surrender any contract issued under option 1, and withdraw said principal sum and accrued annuity thereon; and the payee, or, after the death of the payee, his or her executors, administrators or assigns, may, at any time, surrender any contract issued under option 2, and receive the commuted value of the instalments yet to be paid, computed upon the basis of three per cent interest; and any contract issued under option 3 may, after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years, be surrendered upon the same basis as under option 2.

General Provisions.

Powers of Agents.—No agent has power in behalf of the company to make, alter, or discharge contracts, waive forfeitures, name an extra rate for special risks, nor bind the company in any way.

Indebtedness.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will first be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit thereunder.

Assignments.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until the original, or a duplicate, or a certified copy thereof, shall be filed in its home office. The original assignment and due proof of interest must be produced when the policy is presented for payment. The company will assume no responsibility for the sufficiency or validity of any assignment.

Proofs of Death.—In the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, application should be made to the company, or to one of its agents, for blank forms upon which to make proofs, which proofs must be furnished to the company, at its home office, within six years after the beneficiary or other persons entitled to make claim under the policy have knowledge of such death, and no action to recover on this policy shall be sustainable after the expiration of said six years.

Policy Year to Begin.—Unless otherwise herein especially stipulated, the first policy year shall begin upon the date stated on the first page hereof.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby agree that, if within two years from the date of any policy issued hereon, I shall travel or reside in any part of the torrid zone, or shall personally engage in blasting; underground mining; submarine operations; aerial ascensions; climbing poles; or electrical employment where the voltage used is over 600; or in ocean or lake navigation; or working upon railroad trains as engineer or fireman; or in switching or coupling cars; or as conductor or brakeman upon freight trains; or in the production or transportation of highly explosive substances; or in the manufacture or sale of spirituous or malt liquors (except as druggist); or shall engage in the military or naval services in time of war, any policy issued hereon shall become null and void and all payments made thereon be forfeited to said company.

I further agree, that if within the said two years I shall commit suicide, whether sane or insane the liability of the company under any policy issued hereon shall be limited to the amount of cash premiums paid on the policy.

I also agree, that any policy issued hereon shall not take effect until the first premium is paid while I am in good health.

I hereby declare the foregoing statements and repersentations, together with those I shall make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application, to be true without evasion or concealment.

Equitable Life Insurance Company (D. C.)

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $297.70. AGE, 35.

Equitable Life Insurance Company, of the District of Columbia, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is made a part of this contract, and of the payment of premiums as hereinafter provided, hereby insures the life of George Washington, of the District of Columbia, (herein called the insured), in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the term of life, payable at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., to Mary Washington, his wife, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. Any error made in stating the age of the insured will be adjusted by paying such amount as the premium paid would purchase at the correct age. Any indebtedness to the company on this policy and any unpaid instalments of the then current year's premium will be deducted from the sum insured.

The annual premium of two hundred and ninety-seven dollars and seventy cents will be payable by the insured on delivery hereof and on the first day of January in each year at the company's office in Washington, D. C., or to agents in exchange for receipts signed by the president or secretary, until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the death of the insured, should that event sooner occur. In lieu of the annual premium the company will accept one hundred and fifty-four dollars and eighty cents semi-annually in advance, or seventy-eight dollars and ninety cents quarter-annually in advance.

Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable.

This policy together with the application, a copy of which is attached hereto, contains the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used as a defence to a claim thereunder unless it be contained in the application for the policy. The provisions and benefits printed or written by the company on the following pages hereof, are a part of this policy.

After delivery of this policy to the insured, it takes effect as of January 1, 1911 and said date shall be taken as the beginning of the first policy year and of the insurance hereunder.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—Self-destruction within one year from the date hereof, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; but in such case the company will pay the amount of the net reserve held against this policy. This policy will be incontestable after two years from the date hereof, except for non-payment of premium.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to do so has been reserved in the application for this policy, the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon, such change to take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease; provided, however, that the insured shall have attained to majority, according to the laws of the state or territory in which the insured resides. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without interest, will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force. If the death of the insured occur during the days of grace, the sum necessary to complete payment of premium for the then current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of lapse of this policy, provided it has not been surrendered to the company for its cash value, it may be reinstated at any time upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and the payment of all arrears of premiums, with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum on such premiums and on any indebtedness to the company existing against this policy at time of lapse, which indebtedness and arrears of premiums and interest, at the option of the owner, shall be repaid in cash, or, to the extent allowed by the loan value, remain as an indebtedness against this policy.

LOAN PROVISIONS. CASH LOANS.—After two full years' premiums shall have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will loan up to the limit secured by the cash surrender value, upon receipt of the policy and a certificate of loan satisfactory to the company. The rate of interest charged shall not exceed six per cent per annum.

The loan may be paid off at any time while the policy is in force. If interest be not paid when due it shall be added to the principal provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value; otherwise non-payment of interest shall render the policy null and void after one month's notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—After two full years' premiums shall have been paid, then, upon the written request of the owner hereof, if received before default in the payment of any premium, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash), with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, against the then loan value of this policy, as stated above, provided that the then loan value shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan value of this policy, shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the provision "cash loans." Such charging up of premiums will be discontinued at any time on receipt of a satisfactory request therefor. While this policy is thus kept in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed, without furnishing any evidence of the good health of the insured.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS. CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—If this policy is legally surrendered to the company within three months after the end of the second year from its date or of any year thereafter, and all premiums, required by the terms of this policy, to the end of that year have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor the sum indicated by the accompanying table, less any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY.—If default be made in the payment of any premium after two full years' premiums shall have been paid, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash surrender value, the company will issue a paid-up life policy as specified in the accompanying table, upon the legal surrender of this policy within three months after the date to which premiums shall have been duly paid; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up life policy will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the then cash surrender value of this policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If default be made in the payment of any premium after two full years' premiums shall have been paid, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash surrender value or for a paid-up life policy, the company will write in lieu of this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, a paid-up term policy for the full amount insured by this policy, such paid-up term policy to be dated on the day to which premiums shall have been paid, and to continue in force for the term indicated by the accompanying table; provided, however that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up term policy shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of such indebtedness and the term for which such paid-up term policy shall run shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, after deducting such indebtedness, will carry the modified amount at single premium term rates according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. The paid-up term policy will be delivered on the legal surrender of this policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP LIFE AND PAID-UP TERM POLICIES.—If there be default in any premium payments, as above, and a paid-up life policy or a paid-up term policy be issued in lieu thereof, such paid-up life or such paid-up term policy may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

INCREASED VALUES FOR SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS.—As the payment of an annual premium increases the non-forfeiture values herein described, so the payment of each semi-annual or quarterly premium, due after two years from the date hereof, will make a proportionate increase in the values (all fractions being omitted) which the company will allow at the end of any full paid half or quarter of a partially paid policy year.

NOTE.—While any owner of the policy (either by the terms thereof or by assignment) is a minor, no loan can be made by the company, except for the purpose of paying current premiums; and before the cash surrender value can be paid the interest of such minor must be released by a duly appointed legal guardian.

CONVERTIBLE INTO OTHER FORMS OF POLICY.—At any time within five years from the date hereof this policy, if in force and not assigned, may be surrendered by the insured to the company at its office in Washington, District of Columbia, for a new life or endowment policy of equivalent amount, requiring the payment of a higher rate of premium yearly, without re-examination. The new policy will bear the date of the surrender of this policy and the premium thereon will be according to the tables then in use and the attained age of the insured. If upon surrender of this policy as above the insured shall pay to the company the difference between the premiums which would have been payable on the new policy if it had been issued at the same time as this policy, and the premiums paid hereunder for the same amount of insurance, with interest on such difference at not to exceed six per cent yearly, the new policy will be treated as if it bore the date of this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its head office. The company assumes no liability as to the validity of any assignment. Satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest must be produced on making claim.

ALTERATION AND ENDORSEMENT.—No modification or alteration hereof or endorsement hereon will be valid unless made by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, or the actuary, and no other person is authorized on behalf of the company to make, alter or discharge this contract or to waive forfeiture. Agents are not authorized to modify or waive any of the terms and conditions of this policy nor to extend the time for payment of premiums or other moneys due to the company, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

OPTIONS AT SETTLEMENT.—Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee under this policy, whether the claim is on account of the death of the insured or the surrender of the policy, may elect to have the net sum payable hereunder paid or applied in any method described in the following options:

1. CASH.—The payment in cash.

2. GUARANTEED INCOME.—The payment of interest, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, on the amount left with the company as a principal sum, which interest is to be payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee, and the payment of said principal sum, with any accrued and unpaid interest thereon, on the death of the said payee, to his or her executors, administrators or assigns. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may secure the payment of the principal sum in cash at any time upon satisfactory release therefor.

3. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—The payment of a specified number of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately), the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the following table of rates, which table gives the amount of the instalments promised for each $1000 left with the company for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may commute in one payment, discounting at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum, any of the unpaid instalments. If the payee should die before all of the specified number of instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of said specified number of instalments, or their commuted value, shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

4. CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—The payment of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately) for twenty years and as many years thereafter as the payee shall live, twenty such instalments being paid whether the payee lives or dies, the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the following table, which table gives the amount of the instalments promised for each $1000 left with the company for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may commute in one payment, discounting at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, any of the unpaid instalments certain; subsequent payments being in no wise affected by such commutation. If the payee should die before twenty such annual instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of said twenty instalments, or their commuted value, shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. At any time while this policy is in force and unassigned the company, upon written request of the insured, will by endorsement limit the payment of any claim by death to any one of the above described "options at settlements." If the policy is assigned, the signature of the owner will be required. Revocation of such limitation may be similarly secured.

Under either instalment option, annual instalments may be taken in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $8.45 paid monthly.

ILLUSTRATION.—The equivalent of $214 in annual instalments is ($214 x .0845) $18.08 paid monthly.

OPTION 3. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.

PREMIUMS ON POLICY WILL BE PAID BY COMPANY IF INSURED IS WHOLLY DISABLED.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty years shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured the subsequent premiums, if any, as they shall become due. In any such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy and the values provided for under non-forfeiture provisions of this policy in the table on the second page hereof shall be same as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If the insured shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company of like total and permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will allow the subsequent premiums, if any, to accumulate, without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In such case the values provided for under non-forfeiture provisions of this policy in the table on the second page hereof shall be same as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. Provided that, in any case, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. In addition to or independent of all other causes of total and permanent disability, the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. On any anniversary of this contract this provision may be cancelled by the insured, in which event subsequent annual premiums will be reduced $5.00 and such reduction shall be endorsed hereon.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true and I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the provisions and benefits therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application, and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted as having become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

Equitable Life Insurance Company (Tex.).

Twenty-Payment Life Policy—Non-Participating.

Amount, $10,000. Annual Premium, $303. Age 35.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company of San Antonio, Tex., promises to pay ten thousand dollars, which is the face amount hereof, upon receipt of due proof of the death of David Crockett, herein called the insured, while this policy is in full force, to Alice Crockett, wife of the insured.

Life Annuity.—The insured may surrender this policy within thirty days after the end of the twentieth policy year, provided all premiums theretofore falling due shall have been paid, and receive an annual cash income for life of $411.40.

Incontestability.—This policy is incontestable after one year from date of issue, for any cause except non-payment of premium. It contains no restriction whatever upon the insured, in respect to travel, residence or occupation.

Change of Beneficiaries.—Provided the insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary in the application herefor the insured may, subject to the rules of the company regarding beneficiaries, and at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided this policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary by written notice to the company at its home office on the company's form therefor such change to take effect on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

Facility in the Payment of Premiums.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in San Antonio, Tex., on the date or dates named herein, but may be paid to an authorized agent producing receipts therefor, signed by the president, or by a vice-president or secretary, and countersigned by such agent. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid on or before the day when due, this policy shall become void and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise provided. Premiums may be paid annually in advance, or in semi-annual or quarterly instalments thereof in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates. The company will allow a change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor by the insured.

Period of Grace.—In the payment of the second or subsequent premiums, a grace of thirty-one days will be allowed, without interest charge, and if the insured die within said thirty-one days, the unpaid premium will be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

May be Reinstated.—If any premium is not paid on the date when due or within the days of grace and this policy has not been surrendered, the company will reinstate the policy as of said due date at any time thereafter, upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and payment of all arrears of premiums with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, together with the reinstatement or payment of any indebtedness on this policy at said due date, with interest.

Plan may be Changed.—At any time while this policy is in full force, it may be changed, without medical examination, to any other form of policy in use by the company at the time this policy was issued, provided the rate of premium be not diminished thereby, upon the payment of such an amount not to exceed the back differences in premiums with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum and the execution of such papers as the company may require to effect such changes. The new policy shall be for the same amount, bear the same number and date, and be written at the same age as this policy.

Instalment Privilege.—The mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim may be changed from payment in one sum to payment by instalments, as provided below.

Cash Loans on the Sole Security of this Policy.—At any time after three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, within thirty-one days of application therefor, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of the policy to the company upon its prescribed form, and on the sole security hereof, with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable in advance, a sum not exceeding the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the then current policy year, as stated in the table of values herein contained, less any inbedtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid instalments of premium for the balance of said policy year. If interest is not paid when due it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay such loan or interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and any assignee of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and, after the giving of such notice, shall render this policy void.

Non-Forfeiture in Event of Non-Payment of Premium.—This policy, after payment upon it of three full annual premiums, shall not be forfeited or become void by reason of the non-payment of premium, but, if any subsequent premium or instalment thereof is not paid on the date when due, and remains unpaid during the period of grace, the owner shall, during the period of grace, have the choice of one of the following Options.

Self-Acting Paid-up Insurance.—The company will, if the owner shall not have made choice of the option to surrender this policy for its cash surrender value, or if the insurance under this policy shall not have been extended as term insurance, as herein provided, automatically continue the insurance under this policy as paid-up life insurance, for such an amount as is stated in column 1 of the table of values for the end of the year for which premiums shall have been paid (with the right to cash and loan values equal to the amount of the entire reserve thereon); or,

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Upon written request therefor by the owner, the company will extend the insurance under this policy for its face amount from such due date, as term insurance, for the period stated in column 2 of the table of values for the end of the year for which premiums shall have been paid (but without the right to loans thereon); or,

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—The company will, upon written request of the owner hereof, purchase this policy within thirty-one days of such request, and pay therefor, upon surrender with release of this policy, its cash surrender value as stated in column 3 of the table of values for the end of the year for which premiums shall have been paid. From said cash surrender value any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby will be deducted.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—Instalment benefits will be substituted for payment in one sum as follows:

A. TWENTY-FIVE INSTALMENTS, AND CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS THEREAFTER.—The whole or any part not less than $1,000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured, may be paid in twenty-five specified annual instalments, of an amount corresponding in the following table to the then attained age of the person entitled thereto, provided that if said person shall survive to receive all of said twenty-five instalments, then similar instalments shall be continued throughout the lifetime of such person. The table shall apply pro rata per $1,000 of the amount to be so paid.

If there be more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid, unless otherwise directed by the insured, shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined in accordance with the following table, for the age attained:

AGE.	Amount of Each Annual Instalment.	AGE	Amount of Each Annual Instalment.	AGE.	Amount of Each Annual Instalment.
19 or under...	40	35 to 37.....	46	48 to 50....	52

30 to 32.....	44	44 or 45.....	50	60 or over....	56
33 or 34.....	45	46 or 47.....	51

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of the policy be $10,000 and the age of the beneficiary be 40 years (last birthday), at the death of the insured the beneficiary would be paid twenty-five annual instalments of $480 each, and thereafter annual instalments of $480 each during the remainder of life.

B. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—The whole or any part not less than $1,000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured may be paid in a specified number of annual instalments, as per the following table, which shall apply pro rata per $1,000 of the amount to be so paid:

Number of instalments.....	25	20	15	10	5	4	3	2
Amount of each instalment.....	58	68	83	116	214	263	344	508

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of the policy be $10,000, and if payment is made by 20 instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $680.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly.

PROVISIONS OF INSTALMENT SELECTION.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force, for an amount not less than $1,000, and not assigned, may notify the company in writing of a desire to choose one of the above-mentioned methods of settlement, and if such choice is not made by the insured, the same choice may be exercised by the beneficiary at the time this policy becomes a claim. After making selection of manner of payment, the insured can revoke his selection and select another manner by notifying the company in writing. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed. After the death of the insured (selection of instalment benefit having been made) on the payment of the first instalment under either of the above-mentioned benefits, this policy shall be surrendered to the company, and in its place the company will issue a supplementary contract in accordance with the instalment benefit selected. The first instalment shall be paid upon receipt of due proof of death by the company, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter upon the anniversary of the first instalment payment; any indebtedness to the company under this policy and any payment made under the immediate payment coupon provision hereof shall be deducted from the first instalment or instalments due. If the claim under the policy amounts to less than $1000, no settlement by instalments shall be made, and any choice of instalment settlement previously made shall be void, but the amount due under this policy shall be paid in one sum. Should the beneficiary under this policy, surviving the insured, die before receiving all the unpaid specified instalments, the then present value of all such instalments shall be paid in one sum to the executors or administrators of the said beneficiary.

DISABILITY BENEFIT.

BENEFITS IN EVENT THE INSURED BECOMES TOTALLY AND PERMANENTLY DISABLED.—At any time after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty years shall furnish the company satisfactory proof that he has become totally disabled by bodily injuries or disease and is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from performing any work for compensation or profit or from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing upon this policy will agree to pay for the insured the subsequent premiums, if any, as they shall become due. In any such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy and the cash loans and the values of this policy in the table of values on the second page hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. Provided, however, that as often as required by the company the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of the disability; that should the insured so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay further premiums shall cease and the insured shall then be required to pay all subsequent premiums as they become due as originally provided in this policy. The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or both feet above the ankles, or one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

Any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby will reduce the amount of paid-up insurance, and the amount at risk under extended insurance, in the proportion which such indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value. The reserve under this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The values in the table of values above, are for full paid policy years, and will be adjusted proportionately for additional instalments of premium beyond the full paid policy year. Any deduction from the reserve made in determining the values as stated in columns 1, 2 and 3 is in no case in excess of two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder.

If the age of the insured was misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and both copies sent to the home office, one to be retained by the company for a record and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity or sufficiency of any assignment and the claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

This policy and the application herefor taken together constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

This policy is payable at the home office of the company in San Antonio, Tex, and proof of interest of any claim will be required; any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby shall be deducted in any cash settlement of this policy or will reduce proportionately any other benefit hereunder. Any unpaid balance of the current year's premium shall be deducted in any settlement of this policy as a death claim. Only the president, a vice-president or secretary has power on behalf of this company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premiums, or waiving any forfeiture, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless made in writing by one of the said officers. In case of suicide of the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to double the amount of the premium paid hereon. This policy shall not participate in any distribution of surplus or profits.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is set out herein and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred and three dollars on June 20, 1911, being the premium for term insurance for the first policy year ending on the twentieth day of June, 1912.

This contract will be continued as a limited payment life policy upon the payment of the annual renewal premium of three hundred and three dollars, on or before the twentieth day of June, 1912, and of the payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the twentieth day of June in every year during the continuance of this policy, until premiums for twenty years from the date hereof shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, the Equitable Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary in the city of San Antonio, and State of Texas, as of the twentieth day of June, 1911.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I, the undersigned, do hereby certify, that I am the applicant for life insurance mentioned and described in the foregoing statements, representations, questions and answers; that I have read and fully understand each and every of said statements, representations, questions and answers; that said answers, statements, representations, and each and all of them as above written are the answers, statements and representations given and made by me and were written by me or under my direction and in my presence. I hereby certify that the above answers made to the medical examiner are full, correct and true, and that I am the person who signed Part I of this application. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquires. I do further agree that any policy issued upon this application and accepted by me, whether of the form or kind hereby applied for or otherwise, shall be dated as of the date of the approval of this application unless such date would increase my rated age, in which case said policy shall bear the same date as the first part of this application, but shall not take effect until actually delivered to me and the first premium actually paid the company; that in determining the due date of any premium, the reckoning shall be from the date of the policy, and that said policy by its terms shall be a term policy from the time of its taking effect to the first anniversary of the date of said policy. And I further hereby agree that this application and everything therein contained, shall be and constitute a part of any policy issued thereupon.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $20,000.

* Adopted January 1, 1908

Federal Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—DEFERRED DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $362.20. AGE, 35.

Federal Life Insurance Company, Chicago, in consideration of the written and printed application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and of three hundred sixty-two and $^{20}/_{100}$ dollars, in advance, hereby insures the life of John Blank, hereinafter known as the insured, for the term of one year from the date hereof, all premiums being duly paid, in the amount of ten thousand dollars, payable at its office in the city of Chicago, on receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured within said term, to Mary Blank, his wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

This policy will be renewed at the end of the first year, as an insurance for the whole period of life from that date, by the payment in advance of three hundred sixty-two and $^{20}/_{100}$ dollars, on or before the eleventh day of February in every year until nineteen annual renewal premiums shall have been paid, after which no further premiums will be required.

The options and provisions set forth on the second, third and fourth pages hereof, form a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed

Chicago. Ill., February 11th, 1908.

OPTIONS AND PROVISIONS.

SPECIAL NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—Should this policy lapse for non-payment of premium after having been in force one year, the company will continue the insurance in force for a period of two months from the due date of such premium, as set forth in the following table; provided, however, that if the death of the insured shall occur during such period, there shall be deducted from the amount payable thereunder the unpaid premium for the current policy year, and at any time within said two months the insured may make payment of the past due premium, and the company will accept the same without interest or medical re-examination.

PREMIUMS—WHEN AND WHERE PAYABLE.—All premiums after the first are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Chicago, or to suitable persons authorized to receive such premiums, at other places on or before the due dates, but only on the production of the company's receipt therefor, signed by its secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by the authorized person to whom the payment is made. Although this contract is based on the receipt of premiums annually in advance, the renewal premiums may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, in advance, the amount of which will be named by the company on application. If any premium or part thereof be settled by the note of any person, the same shall not be held to be a payment of such premium or part thereof, but only an extension of the time of payment, and the non-payment of any such note, or interest thereon when due, will void the policy, except as otherwise herein provided, without notice to any person interested.

FREEDOM OF TRAVEL AND OCCUPATION.—For one year after the date of issue of this policy, travel or residence outside of the temperate zone, engagement in military or naval service in time of war, or in any of the following occupations or employments: handling electric wires, blasting, mining, sub-marine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, or in switching or in coupling cars, or on any steamboat or other vessel; or death in consequence of a duel, or in consequence or as a result of any illegal act, shall render this policy void. If death occurs from suicide, sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, the liability of the company shall be limited to the premiums actually paid hereon.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from the date of issue, for the amount due, providing the premiums are duly paid.

AGE OF INSURED.—If the age was misstated in the application then the company shall be liable for the sum insured which would be purchased at the correct age by the sum actually paid.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy is issued with a dividend period covering twenty years from the date hereof, at the end of which period and annually thereafter, the apportionment of its share of surplus earnings will be made to it by the company, and when so apportioned such surplus is payable in cash unless the insured request one of the following options, viz: 1. To reduce equally all premiums payable thereafter, if any; or 2. To prepay the premiums next due, if any; or 3. To increase the amount insured hereunder; or 4. It may be applied to increase the value of the option selected, provided the total insurance under this policy will not be increased unless satisfactory evidence of good health is furnished the company.

PREMIUMS MAY BE PAID UP WITH SURPLUS.—Whenever at the end of any policy year, the surplus is sufficient to prepay all premiums, no further premiums will be required.

ENDOWMENT MAY BE MATURED BY SURPLUS.—Whenever the surplus, together with the cash value available under the table of values herein set forth, equals the face of this policy, it shall mature as an endowment and be payable at once to the insured during his lifetime.

SURPLUS TO BE PAID IN EVENT OF DEATH.—In event of the death of the insured all surplus which has been apportioned as herein provided, and not withdrawn or applied, will be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the sum insured.

POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract, which cannot be varied nor any of its terms waived except in writing indorsed hereon and signed by the president or secretary of the company at its home office, Chicago. The company shall not be bound by any promise, statement or representation made at any time by any person other than the above.

GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without interest, will be allowed for the payment of any premium hereon, except the first, and during such time this policy will continue in full force and effect.

REINSTATEMENT IN EVENT OF LAPSE.—At any time after lapse by the non-payment of any premium, this policy will be reinstated on written application therefor, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and payment of past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

BENEFICIARY MAY BE CHANGED.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, providing it has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time during the continuance hereof, by filing with the company, a written request duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take place upon the endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

ASSIGNMENT OF POLICY.—Any assignment hereof must be made in duplicate on blanks furnished by the company. Both copies, with this policy, must be sent to the home office, one of the copies to be there filed, after which this policy will be returned. The claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest, the company assuming no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—Upon default in the payment of any premium, this policy having been in force two years, upon written request therefor being made by the insured within one month from the due date of the unpaid premium, it may be surrendered to the company under one of the following options, viz: (1) A non-participating policy for the same amount, with no further premiums required, continued for the time hereinafter set forth, reckoning from the date on which the last premium became due; or (2) A non-participating paid-up whole life policy for the amount hereinafter set forth; or (3) A cash sum equal to the cash value as hereinafter set forth, not less than the value of either of the preceding options and less any indebtedness hereon. If no such request be made by the insured, the policy will be continued under option (1) above mentioned. In any settlement of this policy, or of any benefit hereunder, any indebtedness hereon will be first deducted, and the amount of the paid-up policy or the term of the extended insurance to be granted will be such as the available value of this policy, less such indebtedness, will purchase at the net single premium rate for the attained age of the insured, computed by the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. Should this policy become a claim by the death of the insured, any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year also shall be deducted in settlement of the claim.

TABLE OF GUARANTEED VALUES.

The cash or loan and paid-up insurance values stated below apply to a policy of $1000, and this policy being for $10,000, the said values available in any year will be ten times the amount stated in the table below for that year.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after premiums for two years shall have been paid hereon, and while this policy is in full force, upon proper assignment thereof and execution of proper loan agreement by the insured on forms furnished by the company, the company will loan on the sole security thereof with interest at five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, the whole or any part of the loan value of the policy, as hereinafter set forth, not less than the amount of the reserve hereon at the end of the current policy year, and of all dividend additions thereto, if any; provided that from such loan the company will deduct any indebtedness hereon and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or interest thereon, shall not render this policy void unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

The guaranteed values in the above table are equal to the reserve to the credit of this policy, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, and any dividend additions which may be made from time to time will operate to increase the values above stated. At the end of the twentieth year and thereafter, the surrender values will be equal to the full reserve according to the above standard. If this policy be continued in force beyond the twentieth year, tables of cash surrender, loan values, paid-up and extended insurance after the twentieth year will be furnished on application to the home office. If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid in addition to the full number of years' premiums paid.

Options at Maturity.—Whenever this policy matures as an endowment the insured may select one of the following options: (1) To receive the proceeds hereof in cash; or (2) to convert the proceeds of the policy into continuous instalments, payable to the insured as per table herein set forth, based upon the age of and for the life of the insured; or (3) to convert the proceeds of the policy into continuous instalments, payable to the beneficiary as per table herein set forth, based upon the age of and for the life of the beneficiary.

Instalment Benefits.—Without change of premium this policy, if not assigned, may be made payable in instalments of a definite number, or in continuous instalments, as provided in the table on the following page.

Table of Instalment Rights.—Upon written request of the insured made to the company at its home office at any time when this policy is not assigned, the insurance payable hereunder will be converted into instalments under one of the rights described below. And similarly the insured will be privileged to change the manner of payment from time to time, from one right to another, as shown below, or again have the policy made payable in one sum as originally provided. No change shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement the policy will be returned to the insured. One instalment shall be paid immediately upon the maturity of this policy or upon receipt of satisfactory proofs of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, and annually thereafter till all are paid. Unpaid instalments can neither be assigned nor commuted by the beneficiary unless such right is given by the insured in writing to the beneficiary.

Right No. 1.—In ten annual instalments of $113.80 each, amounting in all to $1,138.00.

Right No. 2.—In fifteen annual instalments of $81.30 each, amounting in all to $1,219.50.

Right No. 3.—In twenty annual instalments of $65.25 each, amounting in all to $1,305.00.

Right No. 4.—In twenty-five annual instalments of $55.75 each, amounting in all to $1,393.75.

Right No. 5.—In annual instalments to continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be as shown below, based on the age of the beneficiary at the brithday last preceding the death of the insured. Should the beneficiary die before twenty such payments shall have been made, the company will pay to the estate of the insured or of the beneficiary as requested, or to a second beneficiary if one be nominated by the insured, a sufficient number of instalments to make twenty in all; and when so paid this policy shall be surrendered to the company and be deemed satisfied in full.

Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $374.90. AGE, 35.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars upon receipt at its head office in the city of Philadelphia of due proof of the death of John Doe, of Philadelphia, county of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania, (the insured under this policy) to his wife, Mary Doe, or if the insured survive the aforesaid beneficiary to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured, subject to all the requirements, privileges and provisions stated on the following pages, which are conditions precedent, and are a material part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

This contract is made in consideration of the written application of the above-named insured, which is made a part hereof, a copy of which is hereto attached, and the payment in advance to said company of three hundred seventy-four and $^{91}/_{100}$ dollars on the delivery of this policy, and thereafter to the company at its head office in the city of Philadelphia, upon the first day of the month of February in every year during the life of the said insured until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been duly paid to the said company

In witness whereof, the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company has caused the signatures of its president and treasurer to be affixed, at its head office in Philadelphia, attested by its secretary, this first day of February, 1912.

REQUIREMENTS, PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS REFERRED TO ON PRECEDING PAGE.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, upon presentation of this policy for proper endorsement, may, with the written approval of the president or vice-president and while this policy is in force, change the beneficiary hereof. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its head office and be approved in writing by the president or vice-president. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon when the policy is issued, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, which shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid or be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in a written application, and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued.

LIMITATIONS.—Any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year of the death of the insured, and any indebtedness of the insured to the company on account of this contract, shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age. If the insured shall within one year from the date hereof die by his own hand or act, whether sane or insane, the only amount payable hereunder shall be a sum equal to the premiums paid hereon with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum. There are no restrictions under this policy as to residence or travel or change of occupation. Military or naval service in time of war at any time during the life of the insured, requires the written consent of the president and the payment of an extra premium, not to exceed three per cent of the face of the policy, otherwise the amount payable hereunder shall be such a sum as the premiums paid would have purchased on basis of the increased premiums, which sum shall not be less than the full reserve for the policy and any dividend additions. The expense of management shall not exceed, excluding the first policy year, the net premium loading plus any taxes imposed by law. Except when this policy is valued on the select and ultimate basis in accordance with Section 84, Chapter 690, Laws of New York, adopted by the company, the insurance hereunder for the first year is term insurance, and upon payment of the second and subsequent annual premiums the policy is continued as a nineteen-payment life policy at an age one year greater than the age of actual issue.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in surplus if kept in force and not otherwise, and the company will annually determine and apportion the divisible surplus accruing hereon, which shall annually on the anniversary of its date of issue, at the option of the owner of this policy, be either (1) paid in cash, or (2) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per cent per annum payable at the maturity of this policy, or on any anniversary of the policy. Notice of the amount of the said dividend shall be annually mailed by the company to the owner of this policy, which notice shall require an election by such owner, and unless such owner shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of such notice, the dividend shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy. Such paid-up additions may be surrendered at any time for a cash value which shall not be less than the amount of the original cash dividend, provided the reserve for such paid-up additions has not been applied to purchase extended insurance in accordance with the provisions of the clause entitled "options on surrender or lapse."

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums shall have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will loan upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof an amount which, with interest to the end of the current policy year, shall be equal to or, at the option of the owner, less than the cash surrender value of this policy at the end of the current policy year, deducting therefrom any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year and all other indebtedness hereon to the company. Interest at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be payable in advance upon such loan to the end of the then current policy year and annually in advance thereafter at the same rate. Unless the loan be solely for the purpose of paying premiums due upon the policy, the granting of any loan may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor. If interest be not paid when due it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate, and such loan may be repaid in whole, or in instalments of not less than five dollars, at any time while this policy is in force. Failure to repay any such loan or loans or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the person to whom the loan was made and of the insured and of the assignee, if any, of record at the head office of the company.

BASIS OF VALUES.—The loan, cash and paid-up values, and the term of extended insurance hereunder are based on and are at least equal to the entire reserve on this policy, computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three per cent interest, and on the select and ultimate basis above referred to, less a sum during the first twenty years only not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the amount of the policy. If there be any dividend additions to this policy the values shall be proportionately increased from the reserve on such additions computed on same basis. If there should be any indebtedness hereon the values shall be diminished proportionately on the same basis, and the extended insurance will be reduced in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such extended insurance.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid, the owner, at any time within three months after any default, may surrender this policy and elect (a) to receive in cash, within ninety days after date of application therefor, the cash surrender value thereof, or to have such value applied (b) to purchase paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, but without future participation in surplus, or (c) to continue the insurance in force for the face amount of this policy as non-participating term insurance and without the right to loans. If the owner shall not, within three months after any default, surrender this policy to the company at its head office, as herein provided, the insurance hereunder will be automatically continued as provided in option (c). The table of surrender values contained herein shows the minimum amount of such values at the ends of policy years, the policy being free from indebtedness. If surrender or default be at any other time than at the anniversary of the policy the values of the preceding anniversary shall be increased proportionately from any instalment premiums paid on account of the current policy year. Cash values herein are at least equal to the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Every premium is due and payable in advance at the head office of the company in the city of Philadelphia, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the date when due upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president and treasurer of the company and countersigned by said agent. The company will accept payment of the premiums hereon in semi-annual or quarterly instalments as follows: $193.10 on the first day of the months of February and August or $99.30 on the first day of the months of February, May, August and November in each year. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment of premium.

DAYS OF GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die within the days of grace the amount of such premium with interest shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of any default in payment of premium, this policy may be revived at any time within three years from the date of default, except in case the policy has been surrendered for its cash value or the term of extended insurance has expired, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all over-due premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but it will be paid in instalments if desired, in accordance with the provision endorsed hereon entitled "modes of settlement at maturity" and the instalment tables contained therein.

MATURING AS ENDOWMENT.—After twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid as herein provided the insured may continue thereafter to pay such annual premiums until such time as the additional premiums, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, compounded annually, together with the reserve upon the policy and upon any paid-up additions hereto, shall equal the face amount of the policy, at which time the company will, upon surrender of the policy and all paid-up additions, pay to the insured the sum of ten thousand dollars, or will annually thereafter pay to the insured the sum of three hundred dollars during life, and upon the death of the insured will pay said sum of ten thousand dollars to the beneficiary hereunder. If the latter option be selected, the policy shall be surrendered and a supplementary contract shall be issued. If the insured shall die before the maturity of this policy as an endowment as herein provided, all such additional premiums paid, with interest thereon at the rate of three per cent per annum, compounded annually, shall be paid to the beneficiary hereunder in addition to the sum insured hereunder and under any paid-up additions hereto. If the insured shall continue the payment of premiums after twenty years as herein provided, and there are no paid-up additions hereto, this policy will mature as an endowment on the first day of May, 1939, and prior thereto if there are any paid-up additions. If the policy be surrendered for its cash value after twenty annual premiums shall have been paid and before maturity hereunder as an endowment, the additional premiums paid, with interest thereon at the rate of three per cent per annum, compounded annually, will be paid in addition to such cash surrender value.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, the insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may elect to have the net sum payable hereunder upon the death of the insured paid in one of the following methods provided the amount payable to the beneficiary, or to each beneficiary if there be more than one, shall be at least fifty dollars annually under the method selected.

(1) By the payment of interest at the rate of three per cent per annum of said net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of said net sum, together with any accrued interest thereon for the then current year, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary or as otherwise directed in the notice of election.

(2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately and subsequent instalments on the anniversary of the first, the amount of each instalment to be in accordance with the following instalment table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum.

Any instalment payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in the notice of election, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

Such election shall be made by written notice to the company at its head office. This policy shall then be surrendered to the company and a supplementary contract shall be issued for the mode of settlement elected. The above modes of settlement are based upon an assumed interest earning of three per cent, but if in any year the company shall declare for that year on funds held by it under such modes of settlement a greater interest rate than three per cent, such excess interest over three per cent for such year will be paid in addition to the annual instalment for that year, but if settlement be made under (3) only the instalments for the fixed period of twenty years shall be so increased.

Unless otherwise specified in the written notice making such election, the beneficiary may at any time surrender the supplementary contract for the commuted or present value of the payments yet to be made, computed at three per cent per annum, compounded annually; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under mode of settlement (3) except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Instalment payments under any option will be made annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly, as the insured or beneficiary may elect, provided the amount payable be at least $50 when paid annually, $25 when paid semi-annually, $15 when paid quarterly, and $10 when paid monthly, and the total of the fractional payments each year shall be equal to the annual payment provided for by the table.

The above modes of settlement are not applicable if the beneficiary be a firm or corporation, and if there be more than one designated beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy unless otherwise therein specifically provided, shall be considered as divided into equal parts.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby agree and bind myself as follows. (1) That the truthfulness of each statement above made or contained, by whomsoever written, is material to the risk, and is the sole basis of the contract with the said company. (2) That each and every statement herein made or contained is full, complete and true. (3) That no agent of, or any other person on behalf of the company has any power or authority to make or modify any contract of insurance, to grant credit, or to extend time for paying any premium, or to waive any forfeiture, or to reinstate any policy of insurance, or to bind the company by making any promise, or by making or receiving any representation or information, it being agreed that such powers can be exercised only in writing by the president, vice-president, actuary or assistant actuary of the company at its head office, and shall not be delegated. (4) That the policy issued hereon shall not become binding on the company until the first payment due thereon shall have been actually received by the company or its authorized agent and the policy delivered to me during my lifetime and continued good health.

FIVE-YEAR CONVERTIBLE TERM POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $142.90. AGE, 35.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, Pa., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars upon receipt at its head office in the city of Philadelphia of due proof of the death of John Doe, of Philadelphia, county of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania (the insured under this policy), to his wife, Mary Doe, or if the insured survive the aforesaid beneficiary to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured, subject to all the requirements, privileges and provisions stated on the following pages, which are conditions precedent, and are a material part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

This contract is made in consideration of the written application of the above-named insured, which is made a part hereof, a copy of which is hereto attached, and the payment in advance to said company of one hundred forty-two and $^{90}/_{100}$ dollars on the delivery of this policy, and thereafter to the company at its head office in the city of Philadelphia, upon the first day of the month of February in every year during the life of the above-named insured for the period of five years.

This policy expires at twelve o'clock noon on the first day of February, 1917, but may be continued in force thereafter, either for a term of years or for life, without medical re-examination by the payment on that date and on each succeeding anniversary of the renewal premium according to the attained age of the insured as set forth on the second page of this policy.

In witness whereof, the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company has caused the signatures of its president and treasurer to be affixed, at its head office in Philadelphia, attested by its secretary, this first day of February, 1912.

For requirements, privileges and provisions as to change of beneficiary, assignment, days of grace, incontestability, limitations, payment of premiums and instalment privilege, see preceding policy with necessary modifications as to contract becoming term policy (under limitations) and payment of premiums $73.60 semi-annually or $37.90 quarterly.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in surplus if kept in force and not otherwise, and the company will annually determine and apportion the divisible surplus accruing hereon, which shall annually on the anniversary of its date of issue, at the option of the owner of this policy, be either (1) paid in cash, or (2) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per cent per annum payable at the maturity of this policy, or on any anniversary of the policy. Notice of the amount of the said dividend shall be annually mailed by the company to the owner of this policy, which notice shall require an election by such owner, and unless such owner shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of such notice, the dividend shall be paid in cash.

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of any default in payment of premium, this policy may be revived at any time within three years from date of default, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all over-due premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

First National Life Assurance Society.

Twenty-Payment Life Policy—Optional Increasing Insurance

Amount, $10,000. Annual Premium, $383.40. Age, 35.

First National Life Assurance Society of America, Tacoma, Wash., hereby insures the life of Thomas G. Brevans, hereinafter called the insured, of Tacoma, State of Washington, and immediately after receipt of due proofs of death of said insured, while this policy is in force, agrees to pay Eva D. Brevans, wife (hereinafter called the beneficiary), the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness due the company hereon.

Optional Increasing Insurance.

1. The company agrees to set aside from each annual renewal premium paid hereon in full in cash, the sum of $66.10, applicable as stated in paragraph (2) or paragraph (3) below.

2. Upon written notice to the company at any time before the end of the first policy year hereunder, the sum shown in paragraph (1) will be annually applied to the purchase of fully paid insurance additions to this policy, payable at the death of the insured. If this option is selected as above provided, the total amount of insurance payable under this policy in any policy year will be as follows:

Policy Year.....	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Insurance.....	$ 10,000	$ 10,170	$ 10,340	$ 10,510	$ 10,670	$ 10,830	$ 10,990

Policy Year.....	8	9	10	11	12	13	14
Insurance.....	$ 11,140	$ 11,290	$ 11,440	$ 11,580	$ 11,720	$ 11,860	$ 12,000

Policy Year.....	15	16	17	18	19	20
Insurance.....	$ 12,130	$ 12,260	$ 12,390	$ 12,510	$ 12,630	$ 12,750

3. If the option stated in paragraph (2) is not selected by the insured as therein provided, the sum shown in paragraph (1) will be annually accumulated by the company at three and one-half per centum (3½) compound interest, said fund, including interest, being payable in addition to the face amount of the policy, at the death of the insured, or being applicable at any time toward the payment of future premiums hereunder. If any premium hereon is not paid as provided herein, the amount of such fund will be paid to the insured in cash.

Incontestability.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premium and except for military or naval service in time of war, without a permit first being obtained from the company. Suicide, whether sane or insane, within one year from date hereof, is not a risk covered hereby for an amount greater than the actual cash premiums paid hereon.

Payment of Premiums.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon has actually been paid in cash during the good health of the insured.

Error in Age.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount of insurance payable hereunder shall be the amount which the premium would have purchased at the premium rate for the correct age.

Contract and Application.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defense to a claim hereunder unless such statement is contained in the written application herefor, a copy of which application is atttached hereto.

Alteraitons.—Any alteration or modification in this contract must be made in writing and be signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company.

Reinstatement.—This policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. Any indebtedness hereon with interest at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum, shall be paid in cash or will be allowed to remain as a loan on the policy, if less than the loan value at date of reinstatement.

Beneficiary.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred on the insured by this policy, including the right to change the beneficiary by written notice to the company on the company's form, such change to take effect, however, only upon endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company, If the last nominated beneficiary shall not survive the insured, the sum insured shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company, unless a certified copy thereof be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

TOTAL DISABILITY CLAUSE.—After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if satisfactory proof shall be furnished that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years, has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease, and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this contract on the first premium due date following such recovery.

LOAN VALUE.—At any time after the end of the second policy year and while this policy is in full force, the owner hereof may borrow from the company on the sole security of this policy, properly assigned to and deposited with the company, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner hereof, less than, the entire reserve on the face amount hereof at the end of the then current policy year, as specified in column 1 of the table on the third page hereof, and the entire reserve on any paid-up additions hereto then in force; provided, however, any indebtedness hereon and unpaid premiums for the then current policy year will first be deducted. The company will furnish the form for the assignment required hereunder and upon completion of the loan will issue its official certificate of deposit of the policy. Interest at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the then current policy year, and thereafter be paid annually in advance. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the reserve hereon, including the reserve on any paid-up additions hereto then in force, nor until at least one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any is recorded hereon.

THIS POLICY IS NON-FORFEITABLE FROM DATE OF ISSUE, AS FOLLOWS:

GRACE PERIOD.—If any premiums due hereon during the second policy year is not paid on or before the date when due, the insurance will continue in force from such due date for the term of one month (not less than thirty days); if any premium due hereon during the third policy is not paid on or before the date when due, the insurance will continue in force from such due date for the term of three months; if any premium due hereon after the third policy year is not paid on or before the date when due, the insurance will continue in force from such due date for the term of one month (not less than thirty days), during which term the payment of the overdue premium will be accepted, subject to an interest charge at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum.

CASH VALUE—PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE—EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within the period of grace, the cash value hereof will be paid for the amount specified in column 1 of the table on the third page hereof plus the cash value of existing paid-up additions; or the insured shall be entitled to a paid-up life policy payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy, for the amount specified in column 2 of the table on the third page hereof, plus the amount of existing paid-up additions; or the insured shall be entitled to an extended term insurance policy for the full face of this policy, and existing paid-up additions, the term of which is specified in column 3 of the table on the third page hereof. The amounts of the cash values and paid-up life insurance and the net value of the extended insurance shall be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy, including any paid-up additions hereto, at the date of default, without any surrender charge, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum. If no guaranteed surrender option has been chosen by the insured, as above provided, within the period of grace after default in payment of premium, the company will, without request on the part of the insured, apply to this policy the paid-up life insurance option above stated.

METHODS OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face of this policy, unless otherwise requested by the insured, will be paid in one sum as provided on page one hereof. The insured, however, during his lifetime, or the beneficiary after the death of the insured, in case the insured has made no selection, may, if this policy is not then assigned, and upon request to the company on the proper form, change the method of payment hereof, by selecting any one of the benefits shown on page four hereof.

Non-forfeiture values for this policy for years not included above will be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy, and semi-annual or quarterly premiums paid in addition to payments for entire policy years will cause an increase in the above values. All non-forfeiture values hereon are in excess of any legal requirements.

GUARANTEED FULLY PAID-UP POLICY.—If all premiums previously due hereon have been paid in full in cash and the paid-up addition option stated in paragraph (2) on page 1 hereof has been selected by the insured and is in force, the company guarantees that the fully paid-up insurance value of this policy and additions thereto will be $10,200 at th end of sixteen years from date hereof available upon surrender of this policy as elsewhere herein provided.

1. GUARANTEED OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If the sum to be set aside from each annual renewal premium hereunder has been applied annually to purchase paid-up additions as provided in paragraph (2) of the section entitled "optional increasing insurance" herein, the insured shall have the option, at the end of twenty years from date hereof, of selecting one of the following methods of settlement hereunder, providing this policy is then in full force: (a) Cash payment of $7220, upon due surrender of this policy; or (b) endorsement upon the policy of $12,750 insurance, fully paid up and payable at the death of the insured; or (c) annual income for life of $443.20, upon due surrender of this policy, said annual income to continue for at least twenty years and as many years thereafter as the insured shall survive.

2. If the sum to be set aside from each annual renewal premium hereunder has been accumulated by the company, as provided in paragraph (3) of the section entitled "Optional increasing insurance" herein, and no part of such fund has been applied toward payment of premiums before the end of twenty years from date hereof, the options of settlement hereunder at the end of said twenty years shall be as follows, providing this policy is then in full force: (a) Cash payment of $7460, upon due surrender of this policy; or (b) endorsement upon the policy of $10,000 insurance, fully paid up for life, and the cash payment of $1800; or (c) annual income for life of $458, upon due surrender of this policy, said annual income to continue for at least twenty years and as many years thereafter as the insured shall survive.

3. If the sum to be set aside from each annual renewal premium hereunder has been accumulated by the company as provided on page 1 hereof and all or any part of such fund has been previously applied toward the payment of premiums hereon, the options of settlement hereunder at the end of twenty years from date hereof, shall be as follows, providing this policy is then in full force: (a) cash payment of $5660 upon due surrender of this policy; or (b) endorsement upon the policy of $10,000 insurance, fully paid up and payable at the death of the insured; or (c) annual income for life of $347.50, upon due surrender of this policy, said annual income to continue for at least twenty years and as many years thereafter as the insured shall survive. Any balance of said fund then remaining on deposit with the company will be paid to the insured in cash in addition to one of the aforesaid options.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application herefor, and in further consideration of the sum of three hundred eighty-three and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars premium in advance, for one year's term insurance, and the further payment of a like amount on or before the fifteenth day of January in each year hereafter, until twenty full years' premiums in all have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, the First National Life Assurance Society of America has caused this policy to be signed by its president or vice-president, and secretary at its office in the city of Tacoma, Wash., this fifteenth day of January, 1912.

BENEFIT ONE. TRUST FUND.—The amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand ($1000) dollars, may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary, in trust with the company, and the company will annually pay interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, so long as the said amount insured or said portion thereof remains with the company. The said trust fund will be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary, and may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest, unless the company is otherwise directed in the request selecting this benefit. The trust fund privilege may not be selected if the beneficiary under this policy be a corporation or a firm.

BENEFIT TWO. ANNUAL INCOME FOR NUMBER OF YEARS STATED.—The following table is for each $1000 of the amount insured. To find the annual income on this policy multiply the annual income per $1000 shown in the table by the number of thousands insured by this policy:

NUMBER OF YEARS.....	30	25	20*	15	10	5	4	3	2
Annual Income per $1000.....	$ 52	$ 58	$ 68	$ 84	$ 116	$ 214	$ 264	$ 345	$ 508

*ILLUSTRATION.—If an annual income for twenty years is selected, the amount of each annual payment will be sixty-eight ($68.00) dollars for each one thousand dollars insured by this policy.

Any term of years shown in the above table may be selected.

The first income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of death of the insured, and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

BENEFIT THREE. MONTHLY INCOME DURING LIFETIME OF BENEFICIARY.—The following table is for each $5000 of the amount insured. To find the monthly income on this policy multiply the monthly income for each $5000 shown in the table by the number of times five thousand insured by this policy. Two hundred and forty monthly payments at least, will be paid, in any event, covering a period of twenty years, and the monthly income will continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, should the beneficiary survive said period of twenty years.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary shall be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each monthly payment under this policy will be nineteen dollars and twenty cents ($19.20) for every five thousand dollars insured by this policy, said monthly income continuing for at least twenty years and as much longer as the beneficiary shall survive.

The first monthly income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of death of the insured and succeeding incomes on the first day of each month thereafter. This benefit may not be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, nor if the amount insured hereby is less than two thousand five hundred ($2,500) dollars.

GENERAL.—The insured may at any time change his selection of the "Methods of Payment of death benefit" under this policy; the insured may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. If, upon the selection of benefit two or benefit three above, the beneficiary shall die before all the payments due thereunder have been made, the remainder of said payments will continue to be paid as selected by the insured under this policy, or, if the insured has made no such selection, will be commuted at three and one-half per centum compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If the insured so directs during his lifetime, the beneficiary may neither assign nor commute any payments hereunder before same are due. No selection, change or revocation of any one of the above benefits shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

*Adopted January 1, 1909.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Florida Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $317.80. AGE, 35.

Florida Life Insurance Company, Jacksonville, Fla., promises to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in Jacksonville, Fla., upon the receipt and approval of satisfactory proofs of the death of John Doe, hereinafter referred to as the insured, of Jacksonville, county of Duval, State of Florida, while this policy is in force, to Mary Doe, wife of insured, (hereinafter referred to as the beneficiary) if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, subject to any change of beneficiary as provided on the third page hereof.

This policy is issued in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application and medical examination which are hereby made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred seventeen and $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars in advance, being the premium for one year term insurance for one year from the date hereof; upon the payment in advance of a like amount each year for nineteen years on or before the 29th day of January as a renewal premium, the insured may continue this policy after the first insurance year without medical re-examination as a nineteen payment life policy in conformity with the requirements hereof.

The privileges, conditions and provisions set forth on the following pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto attached.

Dated at Jacksonville, Fla., this twenty-ninth day of January, 1909.

PRIVILEGES, CONDITIONS AND PROVISIONS.

1. TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION.—From the date of issue this contract shall be without restriction as to travel, residence and occupation.

2. INCONTESTABILITY.—Suicide, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company during the first year of this policy. With this exception the policy will be incontestable from any cause from the date of its issue provided the premiums required have been duly paid.

3. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse for non-payment of premiums within three years from the date of its issue, it may at any time within two years of due date if premiums be reinstated upon the insured furnishing satisfactory evidence of good health, and the payment of past due premiums and any indebtedness with five per cent interest thereon.

4. AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—If after three years from the issue of this policy any premium hereon shall not be paid when due, the same shall be charged against the policy as a loan at five per cent interest if the loan value be sufficient to provide for it after deducting existing loans and accrued interest. If after deducting same the balance is not sufficient to cover one annual premium, a premium for a shorter period but not less than a quarterly premium shall be charged. Notice of such advance shall be mailed to the insured, and at any time while this policy is thus kept in force the payment of premiums may be resumed.

5. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy has been in force one year, thirty days of grace will be allowed on payment of premiums, without interest, during which time this policy will remain in force for the full amount. An additional thirty days will be granted the insured upon application, with five per cent interest.

6. TOTAL DISABILITY.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured shall and whenever required furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled, and will be permanently, continually and wholly disabled for life, by bodily injuries or disease from pursuing any and all gainful occupation, the company by an endorsement in writing upon the contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case the paid-up values shall increase in like manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation for wages or profit during the lifetime of the insured or has the ability to pay, the obligation on his part to make payment of premiums in accordance with the contract shall recommence, but only from date of recovery, with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained herein.

7. PAID-UP AND EXTENDED INSURANCE.—At any time after this policy has been in force three full years the company will grant upon application to it and the legal surrender of this policy, non-participating paid-up life insurance for the amount stated in the table below of paid-up insurance opposite the full number of years for which premiums have been, paid or a non-participating paid-up insurance for the full amount of the original policy for a term of years shown in the same line in the table below, provided that application for these options be made within sixty days from the date of the non-payment of premium.

8. LOANS.—After this policy has been in force three full years and while it is still in full force and effect, upon written application by the insured and legal assignment of this policy to the company as collateral security, the company will loan thereon the amount of the loan value as specified in the table below; any indebtedness to the company being first deducted. The company will charge five per cent interest on all loans in advance.

9. CASH VALUES.—After this policy has been in force three full years and while still in force, upon written application by the insured and legal surrender of this policy, the company will pay therefor the amount stated in the table of cash values for the end of the last year for which complete annual premiums have been paid, less any indebtedness to the company.

Figures for later years will be supplied upon request. Should any indebtedness exist it shall be deducted from the cash value of this policy and the other values shall be diminshed proportionately.

10. INSTALMENT OPTION.—The insured may change the mode of payment of policy as a death claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. The following table is based upon a policy of $1000 and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000. These instalments do not apply to a policy for less than $1000, which is payable in one sum only.

11. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change the beneficiary at any time upon written application to the company, provided this policy has not been assigned. No change of beneficiary shall take effect until endorsed on the policy by the company at the home office.

12. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company on or before the date when due, upon production of premium receipts signed by the president or secretary. Upon failure to pay any of the premiums within the grace period herein allowed, except as herein provided, this contract shall be null and void and all payments hereunder shall be forfeited to the company. If the premiums under this policy are paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments the balance of any premiums necessary to complete the policy year will be deducted from the amount of any claim hereunder.

13. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless made in the form prescribed by the company and a duplicate filed with it, the original being attached to this policy. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

14. MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured be misstated the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount of insurance which the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

15. POLICY AND APPLICATION, THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, and the statements made to the medical examiner, taken together, constitute the entire contract, which cannot be altered, varied or modified, except in writing, duly signed by the president or secretary of the company by authority of the board of directors.

* Adopted January 1, 1912.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Fort Worth Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE COUPON POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $407.50. AGE, 35.

Fort Worth Life Insurance Company, Fort Worth, Tex., does hereby agree to pay ten thousand dollars at its home office in Fort Worth, Tex., immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of Thomas J. Jackson, Fort Worth, Tex. (the insured), provided this policy is then in force, to Julia Jackson, wife (the beneficiary) if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns. The beneficiary may be changed at any time by the insured, if this policy be not then assigned, upon written application to the company accompanied by this policy, and endorsement of the change thereon.

PREMIUM REDUCED.—If this policy is continued in full force by payment of premiums in cash, the coupons become due and payable according to their terms and may be detached and used in part payment of premiums, thereby reducing future premiums.

CONVERTIBLE—The insured may, by making written request to the company at its home office on or before the payment of the third annual premium due hereon, and surrendering this policy and all the attached coupons, convert it into a policy of the same amount and rate of premium that will become fully paid up in thirteen years from the date hereof.

COMPOUND INTEREST OR PAID-UP ADDITIONS.—If the insured retains due coupons, paying premiums in full in cash, said coupons will be paid at any time after maturity on presentaton at the home office of the company, together wth interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, compounded annually, for each full year retained during the premium-paying period. Or, in consideration of the surrender to it (without other consideration) of all said coupons, the company will increase the insurance granted under this policy, on the payment of each year's premium, commencing with the second year's and ending with the twentieth year's, by paid-up additions of amounts shown on back of coupons, making the total amount payable in the event of the insured's death the sum stated in Column 9 of the table of guaranteed values.

This policy is registered, and approved securities equal in value to the legal reserve hereon are held in trust by the commissioner of insurance and banking of the State of Texas.

CASH LOANS AFTER THE FIRST YEAR.—The insured is entitled to cash loans on the sole security of this policy at the end of the first or at any time after the end of the second policy year, if premiums are fully paid in cash to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made, upon executing a proper loan agreement and assignment of this policy on forms provided by the company, and the policy deposited with the company, or the amount of the loan endorsed hereon by the company. The aggregate of all loans or indebtedness to the company account this policy shall not exceed the sum stated as loan value in the table of guaranteed values for the end of the policy year last completed. The loan shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not void the policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed its loan value.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium or premium note after payment of premiums for three full years, then, on the legal surrender of this policy to the company at its home office within sixty days from the date of such default, together with all coupons and paid-up additions not previously surrendered, the company will:

1. CASH VALUE.—Pay the cash value named in table of guaranteed values, less any indebtedness to the company hereon; or,

2. PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—Issue the insured in place hereof a paid-up non-participating life policy; or,

3. PAID-UP TERM INSURANCE.—Issue the insured in place hereof a full-paid non-participating term insurance policy, of the face amount hereof, less any indebtedness to the company hereon; provided, that should the total sum available for paid-up term insurance exceed the net single premium for whole life insurance at the attained age of the insured, the excess shall be applied to purchase a survivorship benefit, payable to the insured if living at the end of twenty years from date hereof. The duration of the paid-up term insurance, to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium, and the amount of the paid-up life policy under the above options, provided there be no indebtedness hereon, is shown in the table of guaranteed values. Any indebtedness against this policy will operate to decrease the paid-up life policy and the duration of the paid-up term insurance. In case of default in the payment of a premium due at an intermediate period the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired. Loan and cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—This policy is non-lapsable after three years' premiums have been paid, as follows: In the event the insured fails to pay any subsequent premium, and does not elect one of the guaranteed surrender options hereunder, the company will charge the unpaid premium against the cash value hereof, as a loan, continuing the policy in full force the same as if the premium had been paid by the insured in cash.

Such premium loans shall be continued as long as the cash value, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, will meet the premiums as they fall due, and interest thereon at six per cent per annum. The policy shall not lapse while the cash value, less all prior loans or indebtedness and accrued interest, so applied will suffice for a quarterly premium. At any time while the policy is thus in force the insured may pay all loans with interest, or continue such loans as a lien against this policy, and resume the payment without medical examination.

THIS POLICY COVERS death from any cause, but in case of the death of the insured by self-destruction, whether sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, a sum equal to the total premiums paid by the insured, and no more, shall be paid.

THIS POLICY MAY BE REINSTATED (unless previously surrendered) at any time after default in the payment of any premium, provided the insured applies therefor on the company's form and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from date when due; and provided, also, that any indebtedness to the company at the date of default with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum to the date of reinstatement shall be a first lien against this policy.

THIS POLICY IS INCONTESTABLE after one year from date, if all premiums have been duly paid.

THIS POLICY IS FREE FROM CONDITIONS as to residence, travel and occupation, and no extra premium will be required for military or naval service.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. Only the president or secretary has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing, executed at the home office of the company) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than above, or by any information possessed by, or any statement made to any other person at any time heretofore or hereafter.

2. If the age of the insured was under-stated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured.

3. Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one copy to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

4. Before any amount shall be paid under this policy, proof of the interest of the claimant must be furnished the company and any indebtedness to the company, including any instalment or balance of the premium for the current insurance year remaining unpaid, must be settled.

5. This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

6. No suit shall be brought against this company, under the terms of this policy, after two years from the time the cause of such action shall have accrued.

7. The reserves on this policy and all the net values mentioned herein will be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, and it is agreed that, in computing the reserve on this policy, it shall be considered as a one year term contract during the first year from its date, and the premium for the first year is to be treated as a premium for such.

8. All statements made by the insured in the application herefor shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

TABLE OF GUARANTEED VALUES.—This table shows the loan and other guaranteed values that will be available on this policy at the end of each policy year, provided there is no indebtedness to the company upon the policy.

THE PREMIUM.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is attached to and made a part of this policy, and of the payment in advance of four hundred, seven dollars and fifty cents, and of the payment of a like amount on or before the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this policy until premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

Premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. Premums must be paid at the home office of the company in Fort Worth, Tex., on or before the dates specified in the policy, or, at the pleasure of the company, to a designated agent or collector; but in any case only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by such agent or collector. No notice of a premium, and no acceptance of a premium after maturity, or elsewhere than at its home office, is to be deemed a waiver of any provision of this policy, no matter how often repeated. If any premium shall not be paid when due, or if any note or part thereof or interest thereon, or any bill of exchange, or writing of any character whatsoever, given in payment or part payment of a premium, is not paid when due, this policy shall be null and void, except as provided in the guaranteed surrender options hereof, and all premiums forfeited to the company.

A GRACE OF ONE MONTH will be allowed in the payment of any premium except the first, interest to be charged therefor at the rate of six per cent per annum, during which month this policy will remain in full force.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS.—If all premiums have been duly paid, and if the insured is living at the end of twenty years from the date of issue hereof, the insured may select one of the following options: If all coupons have been used to purchase paid-up additions. (1) Paid-up insurance value, $14,340; (2) cash value, $8280; (3) life annuity, $645.

If all of said coupons have been previously surrendered to the company : (1) Paid-up insurance value, $10,000; (2) cash value, $5660; (3) life annuity, $450.

Coupons and interest, end of twenty years, if all are accumulated at interest, $2886.20.

This policy is issued at age thirty-five and the insurance begins January 1st, 1912, and the insurance year, the provisions for cash and loan values, paid-up and term insurance, all relate back to that date and age.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him or her by this policy.

In witness whereof, the Fort Worth Life Insurance Company has caused this policy of insurance to be signed by its president or vice-president and its secretary, at Fort Worth, Tex., as of the first day of January, 1912.

PROVISION FOR INCOME TO BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this contract as a death claim, at any time if not then assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. The following tables are based upon a contract of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this contract, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but the proceeds of this contract will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INCOME.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below, any number from five to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

Amount of each instalment	$ 58	$ 68	$ 70	$ 73	$ 76	$ 79	$ 83	$ 88	$ 93

* ILLUSTRATION.—If payment is to be made by twenty instalments the amount of each instalment will be $68 for each $1000 of insurance; total amounts paid being $1360.

LIFE INCOME TO BENEFICIARY.—Twenty-five annual instalments at least to be paid, but instalments to continue during entire lifetime of beneficiary. (Payment in this manner cannot be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this contract.)

Age of beneficiary at death of insured	24 and under	25 to 27	28 to *30	31 & 32	33 to 35
Amount of each instalment	$ 41	$ 42	$ 43	$ 44	$ 45

Amount of each instalment	$ 51	$ 52	$ 53	$ 54	$ 55

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary is thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary; the total amount thus payable cannot therefore be less than $1075.

The insured having changed the mode of payment to annual instalments, may at any time subsequently change the number of instalments, entirely revoke any change, or again make the proceeds of this contract payable in one sum. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. If the beneficiary should die before all instalments have been duly paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be paid thereafter to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary. No change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, shall take effect until endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary in writing, and is endorsed on this contract, by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after January 1st, 1913, Fort Worth Life Insurance Company, Fort Worth, Tex. will pay to the order of the insured under policy No..... (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned), the sum of one hundred five and eighty cents, provided all of the premiums due up to and including said date have been paid.

PAID-UP ADDITION FOR THIS COUPON.—Two hundred eighty dollars, payable at death along with principal sum insured but reconvertible at any time, on surrender of coupon, into its net value in cash. The paid-up additions for subsequent years are shown in the table of values.

Four States Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE GUARANTEED COUPON POLICY WITH SURVIVORSHIP ACCUMULATION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

The Four States Life Insurance Company, Texarkana, Ark., will pay at the home office of the company in Texarkana, Ark., upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of John Doe, of Texarkana, Ark., herein called the insured, ten thousand dollars less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current year, upon surrender of this policy, properly receipted, to Mary Doe, wife, beneficiary of the insured, provided such death shall occur while this policy is in force.

DOUBLE INDEMNITY.—But if the death of the insured be the result of bodily injury effected exclusively by external, violent, and accidental means, and occurring within ninety days after such injury, then the amount payable hereunder, as above shall be double the amount payable in the event of death from other cause.

PERMANENT DISABILITY.—Should the insured become totally and permanently disabled from any cause whatsoever, so as to prevent him from pursuing any and all gainful occupations and upon furnishing due proof to the company of such disability, and provided such disability occur before attaining the age of sixty-five years, then in lieu of all other benefits, the amount of this policy shall be payable to the insured in ten equal annual instalments, the first, such instalment being payable immediately upon due proof of such claim for disability, and subsequent instalments will be payable on the anniversary of the first instalment, provided satisfactory proof is furnished company of the continued disability of the insured. Provided also that if the insured should recover sufficiently, so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the obligation of the company to pay any further instalments shall cease, and the insured shall be required to pay all premiums coming due hereon after such recovery.

This policy contains all the standard legal reserve provisions and the company has complied with the standard of safety imposed upon domestic legal reserve life insurance companies of the State of Arkansas.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER VALUES.—Premiums having been paid for two full years, and this policy being free from indebtedness, the insured, upon surrender and cancelation thereof, within sixty days after default in payment of any premium, or instalment thereof, will be entitled to withdraw, in cash, the amount designated in Column 1 of the above table of guaranteed values opposite the year corresponding to the whole number of full years for which premiums have been paid. Or, in lieu of cash, may exchange this policy for a paid-up participating, whole life policy, for the amount designated in Column 2 of said table of guaranteed values opposite the year corresponding to the whole number of years for which premiums have been paid.

CASH LOANS.—On demand in writing, to the home office of the company at any time, the insured may borrow on the sole security of this policy, the amount designated in Column 1 of the table of guaranteed values for the end of the policy year in which the loan is taken, subject to interest, in advance, to the end of the current policy year, at the rate of six per cent per annum. All premiums must be paid to the end of the current policy year, and this policy shall be assigned to the company as security for said loan, according tothe terms of the company's loan agreement. Provided, that in determining the total loan value of this policy, any premium reduction coupon left with the company, with interest thereon, shall be added to the amount otherwise available. If no coupons have been surrendered when application is made, then the insured may borrow the amount designated in Column 3 of the above table of guaranteed values for the policy year in which the loan is taken. Any previous unpaid loan and accrued interest thereon shall be deducted from the total loan available hereunder at any time. If the interest on said loan is not paid annually, it shall be added to the face of the loan and become a part thereof.

AUTOMATIC EXTENSION.—Should the insured fail to pay any premium hereon, after two full annual premiums have been paid, this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, will be extended for the sum first named herein, for the period of time designated in Column 4 of the above table of guaranteed values, if the policy be free from indebtedness at the time of default in payment of such premium.

* Indicates the value of coupons, with compound interest, if left with the company.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable from its date, except for non-payment of premium; and provided, that in the event of the death of the insured by his own hand or act, whether sane or insane, within fourteen months from date hereof, the liability of the company hereunder is expressly limited to the premiums paid hereon, which amount shall be in lieu of all other benefits payable hereunder.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Grace of thirty days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, will be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first, during which thirty days the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the thirty days of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount due hereon in any settlement hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, provided it has not been surrendered to the company, may be reinstated at any time on application to the company and upon approved evidence of the insurability of the insured to the company, and upon the payment of all arrears of premiums and indebtedness thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured hereunder reserves the right of revocation and change of beneficiary, and if this policy is not assigned, the insured may, at any time while the same is in force, designate a new beneficiary by filing a written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect only upon approval of the application therefor by the company and the endorsement of same on the policy. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTIONS.—This policy is issued on the guaranteed premium reduction plan. The attached premium reduction coupons may be applied by the insured in any of the following ways: (First) The amount called for by each coupon, as it becomes due, may be applied in part payment of the premiums hereon from year to year. (Second) The insured may elect to pay all premiums in full and leave with the company the amounts represented by the coupons on this policy, in which case the company guarantees that this policy will be fully paid-up, as a participating whole life policy, after paying premiums in cash for fifteen full years, and the delivery of all the attached coupons to the company. (Third) All coupons left with the company, and before their surrender for cash or paid-up insurance, shall be payable at any time on presentation, with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum for each full year such coupons are left with the company. (Fourth) In the event of death of the insured the amount of any coupons not yet cashed or surrendered, and bearing date prior to said death, shall be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, in addition to the sum insured. (Fifth) The insured may elect to pay all premiums in full without reduction for the full premium paying period, leaving with the company the amounts represented by the coupons on this policy, in which case the insured shall be entitled to select any one of the optional settlements enumerated below.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS AT THE END OF PREMIUM PAYING PERIOD.—If the premium reduction coupons hereto attached are left with the company, the insured hereunder paying all premiums in full, then at the end of the premium paying period the insured, upon surrender of this policy and all attached coupons thereto, shall be entitled to the selection of any one of the following:

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS.—(First) Receive a paid-up, participating, whole life policy for $10,000, and withdraw in cash the sum of $2,106.10. (Second) Receive a paid-up, participating, whole life policy, subject to satisfactory evidence of insurability, for $13,720. (Third) Surrender this policy for an annuity guaranteeing to the insured an annual income during his natural lifetime, of $600. (Fourth) Surrender this policy and withdraw, in cash, the sum of $7770.

SURVIVORSHIP ACCUMULATION.—Should the insured be living at the end of ten years from the date of this policy, and all premiums having been duly paid thereon, the insured shall at the end of the said ten-year period, and annually thereafter, be entitled to this policy's share of the divisible surplus which may have accumulated during the first ten-year period of this policy's history as apportioned by the directors of this company. This surplus will be paid in addition to the reduction coupons hereto attached and the amount of said surplus is to be determined by the directors of said company. Said surplus may, at the option of the insured, be paid as follows: (First) In cash. (Second) To the payment of any premium or premiums on this policy. (Third) To the purchase of paid-up additions to this policy. (Fourth) Left to accumulate to the credit of this policy with interest at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum, payable at the maturity of this policy or on any anniversary thereof. If no other option is selected, the said surplus will be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to this policy as mentioned in the third option.

PREMIUMS—HOW PAYABLE.—All premiums hereon are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, in Texarkana, Ark., but may be paid to any one duly authorized to receive the same, in advance, in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by an executive officer of the company, and countersigned by the agent or person authorized to receive the same. A premium other than an annual will be accepted according to the table of payments endorsed hereon and made a part hereof; provided, that the receipt of any such premium, less than a full annual, shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than three months in case of a quarterly premium, or six months in case of a semi-annual premium. Notice of every premium that may become due or payable hereunder is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and any further notice is expressly waived by the insured. Failure to pay any premium when due, or any note or interest thereon, given in payment of any premium on this policy, except as herein otherwise provided, shall void this policy and forfeit all premiums paid hereon to the company, and terminate and forfeit the insured's right to pay any further premiums hereunder; provided, however, that such termination shall not relieve the insured from payment of said note and interest. It is specifically understood, however, that failure to pay any premiums, or note given for same, will not interfere with the right of the insured to avail himself of any of the privileges to which he is entitled under table of guaranteed values, as stated on page two of this policy.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. This policy and the application therefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract and the same cannot be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president or secretary, whose authority will not be delegated.

2. If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured.

3. No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company immediately upon its execution. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

4. Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder.

5. The insured may, without consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit and exercise every right and enjoy every privilege granted the insured by the terms of this policy.

6. The reserve on this policy during the first year shall be computed on the basis of one year term insurance.

7. The special benefits of double indemnity, and permanent disability, shall not apply or be payable on any policy which is automatically extended, nor shall any such special benefits be included in any paid-up policy that may be issued in lieu of this policy, and the double indemnity shall cease entirely at the termination of the premium paying period of this policy.

8. The premiums and guaranteed values of this policy are computed on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

This policy is issued in consideration of the payment of ($383.40) three hundred eighty-three and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars in advance, before the same shall take effect, being the premium for term insurance for the first policy year, ending on the tenth day of March, 1911. After the first year the insurance will be continued as whole life insurance upon the payment of an annual premium of a like amount as the first, on or before the tenth day of March in every year until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, The Four States Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at Texarkana, Ark., as of the tenth day of March, 1911.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured or the owner, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent of such net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued for the option elected. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the beneficiary may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table; provided, that no such surrender and commutation will be made under Option 3, except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years:

COUPON OPTIONS.—If premiums under attached Policy No. 000 are paid in full and the coupons hereunder are not cashed, the guaranteed premium reductions will be accumulated at 3½% compound interest and held to the credit of the policy. In event of a claim arising by death the amount thus accumulated to the date of death will be payable as an addition to the face value. At the option of the insured, the accumulated premium reductions may be applied to cancel the later premiums under this policy.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after March 10th, 1912, The Four States Life Insurance Company will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 000 (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned) the sum of $43 provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. The coupons for successive years are $47.20, $51.50, $55.80, $60.10, $64.40, $68.70, $73, $77.30, $81.60, $85.90, $90.20, $94.50, $98.80, $103.10, $107.40, $111.70, $116 and $120.30.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby certify that I have read all statements and answers in this application, and agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any contract issued hereunder: That no material circumstance or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, are true and shall be the basis of the policy hereby applied for; that there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been issued and delivered to me and the premium thereon paid to the company, or its authorized agent, during my lifetime and good health.

Franklin Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $382.60. AGE, 35.

The Franklin Life Insurance Company, of Illinois, hereby promises and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Benjamin Franklin, the insured, to Deborah Franklin (wife), as beneficiary, subject to the terms and provisions hereinafter contained.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred eighty-two and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars, being the premium to provide term insurance for one year from January 1, 1911 to January 1, 1912, which is the first policy year. The insured is entitled to continue this contract thereafter as a limited-payment life policy upon payment in advance of the annual renewal premium of three hundred eighty-two and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of January in every year until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

DIVIDENDS AFTER FIRST POLICY YEAR.—Upon payment of each renewal premium this policy shall participate in the company's surplus by annual apportionment therefrom of dividends by the company. Such dividends shall be paid in cash. Or, if the insured so elects, the dividends may be (1) applied toward payment of premiums, or (2) left on deposit with the company (payable on demand) at not less than three per cent per annum interest, or (3) applied to purchase paid-up participating additions to this policy at the company's single premium rate for participating insurance for the attained age of the insured. After payment of all premiums provided for by this policy, it will continue while in force to participate in like manner in the surplus of the company and dividends thereafter apportioned shall be paid in cash, or, at the election of the insured, may be used as provided in options 2 or 3 above.

STATE OF ILLINOIS—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

SPRINGFIELD, January 1, 1911.

This policy is registered; and approved securities equal in value to the legal reserve hereon are held in trust by this department.

RENEWAL PREMIUMS may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company in the city of Springfield, Ill., or at the pleasure of the company, to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by such collector. If any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall be ipso facto null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

A GRACE OF ONE MONTH (without interest charge) will be allowed for the payment of renewal premiums, during which month this policy will remain in full force.

THIS POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE, as follows: If any renewal premium is not paid before the expiration of the month of grace herein allowed, this policy will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values, as follows:

1. If there is no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will be for the term specified in column two of the table on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium. In lieu of such term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within one month from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in column three of said table, or (b) pay the cash value specified in column four of said table.

2. If there is any indebtedness to the company, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the net value of the term insurance provided for in paragraph 1 above, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, and the insurance will be for such term, reckoning from the due date of the unpaid premium, as the excess of such net value over the indebtedness will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid. In lieu of such term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within one month from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for such amount as the excess referred to will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid, or (b) pay the cash value specified in column four of the table on the third page hereof, less such indebtedness.

THIS POLICY MAY BE REINSTATED (unless previously surrendered) at any time after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor on the company's form and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due; and provided, also, that any indebtedness to the company at date of default, with interest thereon to date of reinstatement, shall be a first lien against this policy.

THIS POLICY IS UNRESTRICTED as to travel, residence and occupation of the insured in time of peace or war, and after one year from date of issue is incontestable if all premiums shall have been duly paid. This policy covers death from any cause, but in case of death by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, a sum equal to one-tenth of the principal sum insured, and no more, shall be paid.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof.

CASH LOANS AFTER THE FIRST YEAR.—The insured is entitled to cash loans on the sole security of this policy at any time after the first policy year if premiums are paid in cash to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made. The aggregate loans hereunder shall not exceed the sum stated in column one of the table below for the end of the policy year last completed. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured on forms provided by the company, and the policy deposited with the company, or the amount of the loan endorsed hereon by the company. Interest shall be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the legal reserve of this policy and of the dividend additions hereto, if any, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last-known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

TABLE OF LOAN AND NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.

The amount of the loan, paid-up life insurance and cash values and the term of continued insurance shown in the following table will be increased by the application of the reserve of any dividend additions made hereto in accordance with dividend option No. 3 on the first page hereof. The American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum will be used in calculating any such increase in the term of continued insurance and in the amount of paid-up life insurance.

*In case of default in the payment of a premium due at an intermediate period the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired. Loan and cash values after the 20th policy year will be the full reserve of this policy and of the dividend additions thereto, if any; figures will be furnished on request to the home office of the company.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. Only the president or secretary has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.

2. If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured.

3. Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

4. This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Springfield, Ill. Before any amount shall be paid hereunder, proof of the interest of the claimant must be furnished and any indebtedness to the company, including the amount necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year, must be settled.

5. The reserve basis of this policy during the premium-paying period is the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Thereafter the larger reserves required by the same Mortality Table, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, will be maintained.

6. This policy and the application herefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in such application.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death-claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below.

The following tables are based upon a policy of $1,000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1,000; if the amount is less than $1,000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only.

*ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be 30 years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43.91 for each $1,000 of insurance, payable during the entire life-time of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the 25 instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the 25 instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

WARRANTIES IN APPLICATION.

I declare on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereon, that each of the statements and answers contained herein is full, complete and true.

I agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereon, (1) that the company shall not incur any liability upon this application until the policy has been issued by the company and the first premium has actually been paid to and accepted by the company, or its authorized agent, and the policy has been delivered to and accepted by me during my lifetime and good health; (2) that the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for apportionment by way of dividends or otherwise to any policy issued upon this application of its share of the company's divisible surplus arising from participation therein are hereby accepted and ratified; (3) that if within one year from the date of any policy issued hereon I shall die by self-destruction, sane or insane, there shall be payable one-tenth of the principal sum insured under such policy and no more; (4) that this instrument marked Part I and the "answers made to the medical examiner" marked Part II, together form the application for and shall be construed as a part of any policy issued thereon.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Gem City Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $296.20. AGE, 35.

The Gem City Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made part of this contract, a copy of which application is attached hereto, and of the payment of two hundred and ninety-six dollars and twenty cents, first annual premium, in advance, insures the life of John Doe, of Dayton, county of Montgomery, State of Ohio, hereinafter called the insured, for the amount of ten thousand dollars, payable at the home office of the company, in Dayton, O., less any indebtedness to the company, immediately upon the receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, during one year from the date hereof, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, or in the event of her prior death, then to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

And, in further consideration of the first year's premium and of the payment of the amount set forth above upon each fifteenth day of November after the first year, until twenty full years' premiums in all shall have been paid, from date of this policy, or until the prior death of the insured, will renew said insurance after the first year, as a limited payment life policy, and promises to pay to the beneficiary above named, immediately upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of the insured the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

PREMIUMS ON THIS CONTRACT WILL BE PAID BY THE COMPANY IF INSURED IS WHOLLY DISABLED.—After one full year's premium has been paid, and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and thereby will be totally and permanently prevented from pursuing any gainful occupation, he shall, from the date of said proof, and during the continuance of such disability, be released from all premium payments under this policy, and the insurance shall continue in force for the full amount, and the cash loans and other values of this contract shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured, provided that evidence satisfactory to the company of the continued total disability of the insured shall be furnished annually.

Should the insured at any time recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, his obligation to pay the regular premiums according to the terms of this policy shall immediately take effect for all future premiums upon the actual amount of insurance then in force.

On any anniversary of this policy, this disability provision may be canceled by the insured by returning this policy to the company for endorsement, in which event all subsequent annual premiums will be reduced twenty-five cents for each $1000 of insurance hereunder.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to the benefits, stipulations and provisions on the following pages, which are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this fifteenth day of November, 1911.

PROVISIONS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above, as follows: Semi-annually, $154, May fifteenth and November fifteenth; quarterly, $78.50, February fifteenth, May fifteenth, August fifteenth and November fifteenth, except herein provided the payment of the premiums or instalmens thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president and secretary of the company, and countersigned by said agent.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any payment or payments or in any settlement under this policy.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an endorsement hereon signed either by the president or the secretary, and the actuary. No modification or change shall be made in this policy except such as is in accordance with the law of the State in which the same is issued. No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any other contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representation or information.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

SUICIDE.—If within one year from the date hereof the insured shall die by suicide—whether sane or insane—or in consequence of his or her own criminal act, the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of the premium paid on this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured be misstated the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

ENTIRE CONTRACT CONTAINED IN THIS POLICY.—This policy (together with the copy of the application attached hereto) contains the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall void the policy or be used as a defense to a claim thereunder unless it be contained in the application for the policy.

PRIVILEGES.

CASH LOAN OR PREMIUM LOAN.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than five per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a pre-requisite to any such advance.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If any premium due hereon be not paid before the expiration of the grace for payment of same, it shall be charged against the policy as a loan, with interest in advance at five per cent per annum, provided the loan value, as stated herein, at the due date of the premium, less any existng loan or other indebtedness, with accrued interest, shall be at least equal to the amount of said premium and interest. If the loan value of balance hereof shall not be sufficient to pay the entire premium due and interest, then it shall be used, if sufficient, to pay the premium for a shorter period, but not less than an entire quarterly premium, and if not sufficient to pay a quarterly premium, this policy shall cease to be in force, and any excess of the cash value hereon over the indebtedness shall be paid in cash on surrender of this policy. This provision is automatic and will be carried out by the company without any action on the part of the insured. Any indebtedness thus created shall constitute a first charge against the policy in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee; and at any time while the policy is thus maintained in force the insured may, without medical examination, resume payment of premiums and continue the policy in force.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without interest will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force.

REVIVAL OF POLICY.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium it will be revived any time after the date of lapse upon written application and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, together with the reinstatement of all indebtedness, provided such indebtedness be not greater than the loan value of this policy at the time of application for such revival, and provided evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to the company be furnished.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time while this policy is in force by written notice to the company at its home office, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy, such change to take effect only upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease; provided, however, that the insured shall have attained to majority according to the laws of the State in which the insured resides, and that no such change of beneficiary shall be valid if the policy or any interest therein be assigned at the time of such change.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments, payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (1) or (2) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise, the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (1) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under option (2) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

NON-FORFEITURE PRIVILEGES.

POLICY NON-FORFEITABLE AFTER FIRST YEAR'S PREMIUM HAS BEEN PAID.—If this policy after being in force one full year or two full years shall lapse for non-payment of premium, the company will continue in force the insurance under the policy for a period of two months or of four months, respectively, from the due date of such premium, as specified on the first page hereof, as indicated in the following table; provided, however, that if the death of the insured shall occur during the period of continued insurance herein defined, there shall be deducted from the amount payable by the company any premium that would have become due on this policy up to the time of the death of the insured if the policy had been continued in force.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company within three months after the end of the third year from its date or of any year thereafter, and all premiums, required by the terms of the policy, to the end of that year have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor the sum indicated by the following table, less any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY.—If this policy, after being in force three full years, shall lapse or become forfeited for the non-payment of any premium on the date when due, as specified on the first page hereof, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash value, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up life policy as specified in the followign table, upon the legal surrender of this policy within three months after the date to which premiums have been duly paid; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up life policy will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the then cash surrender value of this policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy, having lapsed or become forfeited as specified in the clause, paid-up life policy, above, be not surrendered for its cash value or for a paid-up life policy, the company will write in lieu of this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, a non-participating paid-up term policy for the full amount insured by this policy, such paid-up term policy to be dated on the day to which premiums have been duly paid, and to continue in force for the term indicated by the following table; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up term policy shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of such indebtedness, and the term for which such paid-up term policy shall run shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, after deducting such indebtedness, will carry the modified amount at single premium term rates according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. The paid-up term policy will be delivered on the legal surrender of this policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP LIFE AND PAID-UP TERM POLICIES.—If this policy shall lapse, as above, and a paid-up life policy or a paid-up term policy be issued in lieu thereof, such paid-up life or such paid-up term policy may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

* Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid. † See first paragraph for non-forfeiture privileges, above.

The surrender values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest per annum, and the net value of any such surrender value, for the first fourteen years, is at least equal to the entire reserve on this policy, according to the foregoing standard, less a percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the amount insured by the policy; thereafter, such net value is the full reserve by said standard.

If this policy be continued in force beyond the twentieth year, a table of cash surrender and loan values, as above, after the twentieth year, will be furnished on application to the home office.

If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of year's premium paid over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy based upon this application as follows: That no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to, the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and presented to the company, at the home office in Dayton, Ohio, in this application, and that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by such policy, and I further agree that should any policy based upon this application be issued on the non-participating plan, as applied for, that whereas, only the officers at the home office of the company in Dayton, Ohio, have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue upon this application, and as they must act on the within written statements, answers and agreements herein made. I further declare, that the foregoing statements and answers to the medical examiner are correct and wholly true, and that they shall form the basis of the contract of insurance if one be issued and the policy herein applied for shall be accepted by me subject to the conditions and agreements therein contained, and the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved, and the policy issued and delivered, and the first premium as stated in the policy has actually been paid to, and accepted by the company, or an authorized agent, during the lifetime and good health of the life proposed.

Georgia Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $346.70. AGE, 35.

Georgia Life Insurance Company, Macon, Ga., will pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, the beneficiary, at its home office in the city of Macon, Ga., on receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured, of Macon, county of Bibb, State of Georgia, while this policy is in force, if said beneficiary is living at that time, otherwise to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured.

This is a twenty payment life policy, and is issued in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application (Parts I and II), which application is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy being endorsed hereon, and of the payment of the first annual premium of three hundred forty-six and $^{70}/_{100}$ dollars in advance and the payment in advance of a like amount on or before the fifteenth day of August of each year until premiums for twenty full years have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

This policy and the application therefore constitute the entire contract between the parties, and is subject to the conditions, privileges, restrictions and other provisions set forth on the following pages, which form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto.

Dated at Macon, Ga., this fifteenth day of August, 1909.

CONDITIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year, if the premiums are duly paid, this policy will be incontestable except for fraud in the application.

FIRST PREMIUM.—This policy shall not take effect unless the first premium is actually paid while the insured is in good health.

SUBSEQUENT PREMIUMS.—In case any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy shall be void, and all premiums paid shall be forfeited to the company, except as herein agreed.

WHERE PAYABLE.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Macon, Ga., but will be accepted elsewhere, if paid to a duly authorized agent, in exchange for the company's receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated therein.

GRACE IN PAYMENT.—Thirty-one days' grace will be allowed in payment of any premium after the first year, the policy to remain in force for its full amount during such period; but interest on such premium shall be paid, at the rate of five per cent per annum, from the date when the premium became due.

OCCUPATION.—This policy does not restrict the insured as to occupation, residence or travel, from date of issue, except as to service in the army or navy in times of war, for which a written permit must be obtained at the company's regular rates.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, is a risk not assumed by this company; but in such case it will pay the amount of the premium received on this policy.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstate the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy shall be void, unless assented to in writing by the president or secretary and endorsed hereon and a duplicate filed with the company; but it will not, by receiving or filing any assignment hereof, assume any responsibility for the validity thereof.

CHANGES AND WAIVERS.—At the option of the insured this policy may be changed at any time without medical examination for any other form calling for a higher premium rate which this company issues at that time, but no change will be made whereby the amount of insurance for which this company may become liable is larger than that contained in the original contract; at the time of making this change the insured shall pay the difference between the premiums required under the two contracts, from the date of the old policy, in cash with interest at four per cent per annum. No change in, addition to, waiver of or permit under this contract shall be valid unless signed by the president or secretary and endorsed hereon.

POLICY CLAIMS.—Proofs of death or application for any other settlement hereunder, except for paid-up insurance or cash surrender values, must be furnished to the company at its home office, within one year after the death of the insured or the time when the right to such settlement accrued, and shall be upon the forms supplied and then in use by the company. The premiums on this policy being due annually, the unpaid instalments of any policy year and any other indebtedness to the company will be deducted in any settlement under this policy.

STATEMENTS OF INSURED NOT WARRANTIES.—All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

ACTION.—No action shall be brought against the company, hereunder, unless commenced within five years from the time when the right of action accrues.

PRIVILEGES.

BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary shall not, by virtue of the terms of this policy, have any vested interest hereunder; and the insured may, before the maturity of the policy, change the beneficiary named herein, if this policy is not then assigned and if there be no vested right to the proceeds of this policy arising otherwise than under the terms hereof, upon filing a written request with the company at its home office in such form as it may require; but no change shall take effect unless endorsement thereof shall have been made hereon by the president or secretary.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse it may be reinstated at any time within three years, or thereafter by special arrangement, upon evidence of continued good health being furnished by the insured satisfactory to and approved by the company at its home office in Macon, Ga., and the payment of premiums and all other indebtedness past due with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of the second policy year, if the third annual premium is paid in cash, and at the end of each subsequent policy year, the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy which may thereafter be used by the insured for any one of the following purposes: (First). Withdrawn in cash or applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (Second) applied to the purchase of paid-up non-participating life insurance additions to the policy; or (Third) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy; or (Fourth) used to convert this policy into a paid-up life insurance policy for $10,000 whenever the cash value of this policy, together with the cash value of any dividend additions thereto less any outstanding indebtedness, will purchase said paid-up life insurance if used as a net single life premium according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum at the attained age of the insured; or (Fifth) used to mature this policy, provided there is no indebtedness hereon to the company, as an endowment for $10,000 whenever the cash value of this policy together with the cash value of any dividend additions thereto shall equal said sum. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise, within two months after any dividend is due, the same shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

At the end of the third or any subsequent policy year, during the whole of which this policy shall have been in force, or within three months from default in premium payments, the insured shall have the following options:

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Without any action on the part of the insured the insurance will be automatically extended from date of default in premium payments, without participation in surplus, for a sum equal to the amount of the policy and existing dividend additions, if any, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The term of extended insurance will be such as the cash surrender value will purchase at net single premium rates according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum at the attained age of the insured, as shown in column 2 of the "table of guarantees."

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Upon the written request of the insured and the surrender of this policy the company will issue a paid-up non-participating policy, payable as herein provided. The amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash surrender value will purchase at net single premium rates, according to the attained age of the insured, and if there be no indebtedness the amount of said paid-up policy will be shown in column 3 of the "table of guarantees." The extended insurance or the paid-up policy will be entitled to cash surrender values according to the reserve thereon at time of surrender, computed upon the basis hereinbefore mentioned, less any indebtedness.

If policy is continued beyond the twentieth year the guarantees will be computed upon the same basis as above table. If the sum insured is increased by surplus accumulations the above guarantees will be increased, but any indebtedness placed on the policy will operate to reduce said guarantees.

CASH VALUE.—To surrender the policy to the company at its home office for its cash value, which shall be equal to the entire net reserve on this policy on the modified preliminary term basis less a surrender charge not in excess of two and one-half per cent of the face of this policy in any year. If there be no indebtedness on this policy the cash surrender value will be as shown in column 4 of the table of guarantees.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while the policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof, a sum not exceeding the amount specified in column 4 of the "table of guarantees," and on any additions thereto, with interest at five per cent per annum, payable in advance, deducting therefrom all indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of insured and of assignee, if any.

INSTALMENT AND ANNUITY OPTIONS.

AGREEMENT.—The insured, at any time while this policy is in force, for an amount not less than $1000, and not then assigned, upon request in writing to the home office of the company, may substitute, for payment in one sum as provided in the first page payment by instalments, as stated below, under any one of the following options, provided there shall be but one beneficiary hereunder:

OPTION 1. Payment of the face of the policy, plus any dividend additions then in force, in twenty equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured) and a further amount equal to one-half of the face of the policy twenty years after the payment of the first instalment.

OPTION 2.—Payment immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured, or any part of the face of the policy, plus any dividend additions then in force; and commencing one year thereafter payment of the remainder (if not less than $1000) in 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 equal annual instalments as shown in the following table:

Number of instalments	30	25	20	15	10	5
Amount of instalment for each $1000 remaining	$ 54.37	$ 60.27	$ 70.36	$ 86.83	$ 120.24	$ 221.47

OPTION 3.—Payment of a limited number of instalments (the first instalment payable immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured), for the number of years chosen, as shown in the following table:

Number of years chosen	30	25	20	15	10	5
Amount of instalment for each $1000 of insurance	$ 52.53	$ 58.62	$ 67.98	$ 83.88	$ 116.17	$ 213.99

UNDER OPTIONS 1, 2 AND 3.—Should the beneficiary die before all instalments are paid the company will pay the remaining unpaid instalments to the executor or administrator of said beneficiary as they mature, or, if so directed by said beneficiary in writing, will pay to said executor or administrator the amount unpaid in one sum, discounted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

OPTION 4.—Payment of an annuity during the life of the beneficiary (the first instalment payable immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured), of an amount to be determined by the age of the beneficiary at last birthday preceding the death of the insured, as shown by the following table, for each $1000 of insurance:

Age of beneficiary	10 & 11	24 to 27	36 & 37	45 & 46	54 to 56
Amount of instalment	$ 38	$ 42	$ 46	$ 50	$ 54
Age of beneficiary	12 to 16	28 to 30	38 to 40	47 & 48	57 to 60
Amount of instalment	$ 39	$ 43	$ 47	$ 51	$ 55
Age of beneficiary	17 to 19	31 to 33	41 & 42	49 & 50	61 or
Amount of instalment	$ 40	$ 44	$ 48	$ 52	$ 56
Age of beneficiary	20 to 23	34 & 35	43 & 44	51 to 53	over.
Amount of instalment	$ 41	$ 45	$ 49	$ 53	$

UNDER OPTION 4.—Should the beneficiary die before twenty-five instalments have been paid, the balance of the twenty-five instalments remaining unpaid will be commuted and their present value paid to the executor or administrator of said beneficiary. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, so as to affect payment hereunder during the life of the beneficiary, unless such right is given by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office during the life of the insured. Should this policy mature as an endowment for not less than $1000, the insured may, upon written notice as hereinbefore provided, elect to receive the amount in instalments as provided in any one of the foregoing instalment options, subject to their respective terms. Any indebtedness of the insured under this policy will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder, before any one of the foregoing instalment or annuity options become operative.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

I, John Doe, hereby apply to Georgia Life Insurance Company, of Macon, Ga., for insurance on my life for the benefit of Mary Doe, my wife, if living at my death, otherwise to my executor, administrator or assigns, expressly reserving the right to change any beneficiary named by me, by filing with the company a written request in the form required by the company, such change to be in effect only when endorsed on the policy at the home office if such policy is not then assigned. I declare that the above statements and representations have been read by me, and hereby warrant them to be true, full and correct, and agree that this portion of my application, Part I, in connection with the Medical Examination, Part II, shall constitute my complete application.

GERMANIA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby declared and agreed that all the statements and representations contained in the foregoing application and those contained in the declarations made to the medical examiner, which, together with the declaration and agreement, constitute an application to the Germania Life Insurance Company of New York for an insurance on the life of the undersigned, John Doe, in the amount of ten thousand dollars, are full, complete and true and are offered to the said company as a consideration for the contract applied for; each of which statements and answers, whether written by his or her own hand or not, every person whose name is hereto subscribed adopts as his or her own, and admits to be material and to be the only statements given to the company in reply to its inquiries, and upon which, should the insurance applied for be granted, the company's contract will be founded. And this application is submitted to the said company, with the following express covenants and agreements: (1) That inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of said company, in the city of New York, have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, and as they act on the written statements and representations referred to, no statements, representations, promises, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on said company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, representations, promises, or information be reduced to writing and presented to the officers of said company, at the home office, in this application; (2) that there shall be no contract of insurance constituted until a policy shall first have been issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium thereon actually paid to the said company during the continuance of the life proposed for insurance in the same condition of health as described in the declarations made to the company's medical examiner; (3) that if the insurance applied for be granted by the said company, the policy, if accepted, will be accepted subject to all the conditions and stipulations contained therein.

German-American Life Insurance Company (Neb.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY WITH TERM ADDITIONS.

AMOUNT: MINIMUM, $1000; MAXIMUM, $6000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $224.60. AGE 35.

The German-American Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the annual premium of two hundred and twenty-four dollars and sixty cents (the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged), and of the payment of a like amount upon the thirtieth day of October annually hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death, or total permanent accident disability of the insured, promises to pay at the home office in the city of Omaha, to Mollie Hamilton, beneficiary, wife of Geo. S. Hamilton, the insured, of Omaha, in the State of Nebraska, the sum specified in column five of the table on the third page of this policy, in accordance with the provisions and limitations therein contained, upon the receipt and approval at the said home office of due proof of the fact and cause of the death of the insured while this policy is in full force, the balance of the premium, if any, for the then current policy year, and any other indebtedness on account of or secured by this policy, being first deducted therefrom; provided, however, that if no beneficiary shall survive the said insured, then said payment shall be made to the executors or administrators of the insured.

And further promises to grant the insured, if then living, the annual coupon premium reduction hereto attached, for policy age equalization at each premium anniversary for which the annual premium is fully paid, upon surrender to the company of the said respective coupons duly endorsed by the insured as they severally become due.

This policy is incontestable from date of issue except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military and naval service in time of war, and for non-payment of premiums.

BENEFITS.—Death and permanent accident disability, minimum, $1000; maximum, $6,000.

POLICY VALUES AFTER TWENTY YEARS.—Paid-up policy, $4000 plus surplus additions, if not previously withdrawn. For additional option, see section 18, and table on page 3.

It is specifically agreed and understood by and between the company as insurer and the policy-holder as insured that:—

SECTION 1. PLACE OF CONTRACT.—This contract is issued by the company at Omaha, Neb., and shall be construed according to the laws of Nebraska.

SECTION 2. WHAT SHALL CONSTITUTE DELIVERY.—This policy takes effect and becomes binding upon the company only upon actual delivery thereof to the applicant while in life and good health, and the payment in cash to the company of the first annual premium or instalment thereof while in good health.

SECTION 3. GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) No officer nor agent of the company has any power or authority, to alter, modify, or vary, the terms of this policy, or to extend the time for paying any premium due hereon; nor shall the company be bound by any statements or representations made by any officer or agent, either prior or subsequent to date of this policy, unless such statements or representations are expressly incorporated herein. Provided, however, that the president and secretary may, at the request of the insured, alter the same for the sole purpose of carrying into effect its provisions; which alterations shall be in writing, signed by said officers, at the home office of the company, and shall in no event contravene the statutory law of the state where issued, nor extend to the insured a special privilege. (2) Premiums are due and payable at the home office unless otherwise agreed in writing, but may be paid to an agent producing receipts signed by one of the above named officers and countersigned by the agent. If any premium is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as herein provided for in such case. (3) If the age of the insured is not correctly stated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof. (4) In any distribution of surplus or apportionment of profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution or apportionment of the amount equitably belonging to this policy shall be binding and conclusive upon the insured and upon all parties claiming or having any interest under this policy. (5) Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefits thereunder. (6) Any claim under an assignment of this policy shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest. Originals or duplicates of all assignments are to be filed at the company's home office. The company will in no case be responsible for the validity of any assignment. (7) The first year's insurance and any annual excess payable in the event of death of the insured larger in amount than the guaranteed paid-up value of this policy at the completion of the policy period, as stated in column two of the table on page three, shall, in all valuations of the legal reserve liability for this policy, be computed as term insurance.

SECTION 4. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable from date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums, and military or naval service in time of war, at any time during the premium paying period, which military or naval service requires the written consent of the president and the payment of an extra premium, not to exceed three per cent of the face of the policy, otherwise the amount payable hereunder shall be such a sum as the premiums paid would have purchased on basis of the increased premiums, which sum shall not be less than the full reserve for the policy and any dividend additions. This policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto.

SECTION 5. NOTICE OF PREMIUMS.—It shall be the duty of the insured to give immediate notice in writing to the company at its home office in Omaha, of any change in residence or postoffice address, and the company shall not be held responsible for the misdirection or miscarriage of any letter or notice, caused by failure to observe this requirement. Notice is hereby given that advance premiums upon this policy will be due and payable at the time heretofore stated. It is expressly agreed that the company shall not be required to give any notice of the time when premiums become due, the policy being accepted by the insured as sufficient notice thereof. However, as a matter of courtesy only, formal or printed notice may be mailed to the insured. The insured expressly agrees that the prompt payment of the premiums, or payments, specified in this contract, must be made when due and is a condition precedent to the continuance of this insurance, the non-payment of any premium or the non-payment at the time and place specified on the face of this policy shall work an absolute forfeiture of all rights, payments, privileges and benefits, hereunder, and all payments made upon this policy shall be deemed earned as premiums during its currency, except as herein provided.

SECTION 6. PREMIUM OPTION.—The insured shall have the option, at the time any premium falls due, of paying an annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium, according to the company's schedule for this kind of a policy, and the same will continue this policy in force for the time for which premium was paid.

SECTION 7. GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty days will be allowed in the payment of premiums after this policy shall have been in force one year, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum for the number of days, not exceeding thirty (30), during which the policy remains in force. If death occur within the days of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable.

SECTION 8. REINSTATEMENT.—While the insurance under this policy will automatically continue as herein provided, if any premium or interest is not paid on the date when due, the company will restore the policy as of the date of such non-payment on payment by the insured of such premium or interest within one month thereafter with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum; or the company will restore the policy as of the date of such non-payment at any time after one month and prior to five years before the end of the policy period under the following conditions: Written application to the home office with evidence of the insurability satisfactory to the company; payment of a sum equal to all premiums that would have fallen due had all such premiums been paid on the dates when due, up to the time of reinstatement, together with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, and the payment of any loan unpaid when the automatic term extension began with interest.

SECTION 9. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, having reserved the right, may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time during the continuance of this policy, by written notice to the company at the home office, accompanied by this policy; provided there is no absolute beneficiary then living. The insured may at any time, by written notice to the company, accompanied by this policy, declare the beneficiary then named to be the absolute beneficiary under this policy. Such change of beneficiary or declaration of an absolute beneficiary, shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at the home office. During the lifetime of the absolute beneficiary, the right to change the beneficiary will not exist in the insured.

SECTION 10. PERMANENT DISABILITY.—Should the insured become totally and permanently disabled from accident while this policy is in force upon evidence satisfactory to the executive committee of such disability, the company will pay said insured, on the surrender of this policy duly receipted, the "sum payable" the same as in the event of death, as specified in Column 5 of the table on page three, according to the number of the contract year that this policy shall have entered, at the time when such aforesaid permanent accident disability takes place, deducting from the amount thereof any unpaid loan, and the balance of the premium, if any, for the then current policy year.

SECTION 11. CASH LOANS.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the company at any time within thirty days after written application, will, in conformity with its rules then in force, loan upon the sole security of this policy, amounts as stated in Column one (1) of the table on the third page of this policy, for the end of the last year for which complete annual premiums have been paid, with interest in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, provided: (1) That the total sum loaned shall not exceed the amount set opposite the numerical year and includes any previous loan then unpaid; (2) that the premium be fully paid to the end of the policy year in which the loan falls due; (3) that in any settlement of this policy all outstanding indebtedness must be paid. Failure to repay any such loan or interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed eighty per cent of the net reserve value of this policy, and thirty days' notice of said indebtedness shall have been given by the company to the insured by registered letter, mailed to last known address.

SECTION 12. PAID-UP LIFE POLICY OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy, after being in force three full years, shall lapse or become forfeited for the non-payment of any premium or note given for a premium or for any loan made in cash on such policy as security, or of any interest on such note or loan, it may be surrendered if there be no indebtedness to the company, on account of, or secured by this policy, for a non-participating paid-up life policy as specified in the following table; provided the policy be legally surrendered to the company within two months after such lapse or forfeiture. If this policy, having lapsed or become forfeited as above, be not surrendered for a paid-up life policy, the company will write in lieu of this policy, and without any action on the part of the insured, a non-participating paid-up term policy for the full amount of four thousand dollars, to continue in force for the term indicated by the table of extended insurance on page three; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company, on account of, or secured by this policy, the amount of such paid-up term policy, shall be the amount specified in this section less the amount of such indebtedness, and the term for which such paid-up term policy shall run, shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy hereinafter specified, after deducting such indebtedness, will carry the modified amount of the single premium term rates of the company. The paid-up term policy shall provide, moreover, that in case of the death of the insured within three years from the date of such lapse or forfeiture there shall be deducted from the amount payable by the company any premium that would have become due on this policy up to the time of death of the insured if this policy had been continued in force. The paid-up term policy will be delivered on the legal surrender of this policy.

SECTION 13. CASH SURRENDER VALUES.—At the end of five years from the date of this policy, and annually thereafter, the company will, upon legal surrender of this policy, pay to the insured, in cash on demand, the full cash value of this policy; which cash value will be the entire reserve computed on the combined experience tables at four per cent interest; provided, that this policy shall be in force and application be made for such cash value within thirty days from the expiration of such period.

SECTION 14. EQUALIZATION COUPON.—When matured, the sum of each coupon attached to this policy, may, on request of the insured, remain with the company, and the amount so remaining will be credited annually, at the end of each policy year thereafter, with interest at three per cent per annunm. The whole, or any part, of the accummulation from equalization coupon remaining with the company to the credit of this policy at its anniversary, may be withdrawn at that time, or thereafter, or may be applied on payment of then current premium, but if not withdrawn previously, will be paid by the company in addition to the amount, otherwise due at the time this policy becomes a claim upon the company, whether by death, total and permanent accident disability, maturity or surrender.

SECTION 15. TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—At the time this policy becomes payable as a claim the amount insured or any portion thereof not less than $1000, may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon, so long as the said amount or said portion thereof remains with the company, interest at the rate of three per cent per annunm, together with such annual dividend as may be apportioned by the company. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors or administrators of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest. The trust fund privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than $1000.

SECTION 16. INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but may be made payable instead in equal annual instalments in any number from two to twenty-five, or may be made payable to the beneficiary in equal annual instalments, to continue for tweny years and so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live; subject to the terms and conditions under the heading "instalment privilege" on the third page hereof.

SECTION 17. DIVIDENDS OF SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in surplus, at the end of the third and each subsequent policy year, while the policy is in force by payment of premiums, and thereafter when fully paid, the company will determine and account for the portion of divisible surplus accruing hereon, which dividend the company guarantees will not be less in amount, than a sum equal to seven per cent of the annual premium for the then current policy year of this policy. These dividends, at the option of the insured, will be applied in any year to reduce the premium or to increase the amount of insurance, or to accumulate to the credit of the policy at three per cent compound interest per annum, which accumulation will be payable at the maturity of this policy, or may be withdrawn at any premium anniversary. Dividends at the option of the owner of this policy shall on the thirtieth day of October of each year commencing with the end of the third policy year be either: (1) paid in full, or (2) applied towards the payment of any premium or premiums or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to this policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

SECTION 18. SETTLEMENT OPTIONS.—On the thirtieth day of October, 1931, this, policy, if still in force, can be exchanged, by the insured, for any one of the following options: First (1), to surrender this policy and withdraw, in cash, the full value, which shall be the full reserve plus all accumulated surplus dividends apportioned to this policy, not previously withdrawn; the company guarantees said cash value will not be less than the entire reserve computed on the combined experience tables at four per cent interest, or, second (2), to receive in cash the surplus dividend additions not previously withdrawn and continue this policy as a paid-up participating policy for four thousand dollars, entitled to annual cash dividends, or, third (3), to convert the reserve for this policy together with any accumulated surplus dividend additions, not previously withdrawn, into a paid-up, non-forfeitable policy, without participation in profits, payable at the death of the insured; provided, however, that the insured shall furnish evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company for a paid-up policy in excess of five thousand dollars; or, fourth (4), to convert surplus additions, not previously withdrawn, into a life annuity nad continue policy for four thousand dollars without participating in profits; or, fifth (5), to receive surplus additions in cash, if not previously withdrawn, and surrender this policy for a paid-up life policy, for the amount of cash value fixed in the table on page three, column four, of this policy, upon which the insured shall receive an annual income for life at the rate of three per cent per annum; or, sixth (6), to convert the entire cash value reserve and surplus additions, not previously withdrawn, into a life annuity.

Each instalment under this policy will be increased by such annual dividend as may be apportioned by the company. At the time any instalment is due the remaining instalments, if any, may be commuted, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing, at the rate of three per cent per annum compound interest and the equivalent value withdrawn in one sum; provided, if the instalments be continuous, those instalments payable to the beneficiary more than twenty years after the maturity of the policy cannot be commuted. The legal holder hereof at the time the policy becomes a claim shall have the privilege of having the amount insured under the policy, payable in instalments as herein provided, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing. If no one be designated as beneficiary, or if there be more than one beneficiary under this policy it cannot be made payable in continuous instalments. Proviso. The instalment privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than $1,000.

ILLUSTRATION.—A policy under which $5,000 is payable in one sum at the death of the insured may be made payable in twenty annual instalments of $325 each ($65 per $1,000), or if the beneficiary be thirty-five years of age at the death of the insured the policy may be made payable in annual instalments of $235 each ($47 per $1,000), to continue for twenty years at least and so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live. If the beneficairy die before twenty instalments be paid, the remaining instalments will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

SPECIAL DEATH OR TOTAL PERMANENT ACCIDENT DISABILITY AGREEMENT.—It is hereby agreed that if the above numbered policy, issued on the life of Geo. S. Hamilton, shall become a claim by death or total permanent accident disability within the period of twenty years from date of said policy and subsequent to the thirtieth day of October, 1911, the policy being in force under its original premium-paying conditions, all premiums that shall have become due on and after the date last named herein, shall be returned together with the amount payable under said policy, as specified in column five of the table on the third page thereof, thereby making the total amount of insurance according to the year in which death or total permanent accident disability occurs subject to the provision of said policy, as follows: First year, $1224.60; second year, $1949.20; third year, $3673.80; fourth year, $5898.40; fifth year, $6123.00; sixth year, $6347.60; seventh year, $6572.20; eighth year, $7046.80; ninth year, $7271.40; tenth year, $7496.00; eleventh year, $7720.60; twelfth year, $8195.20; thirteenth year, $8419.80; fourteenth year, $8644.40; fifteenth year, $8869.00; sixteenth year, $9593.60; seventeenth year, $9818.20; eighteenth year, $10,042.80; nineteenth year, $10,267.40; twentieth year, $10,492.00.

SAMPLE COUPON. EQUALIZATION COUPON.—On the anniversary of policy No. 000 dated October 30, 1911, the annual premium thereon for the current and prior years being fully paid, the German-American Life Insurance Company will pay to the insured at its home office in the city of Omaha, Neb eleven and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars, policy age equalization on said policy for the policy year ending October 30, 1912, on surrender of this coupon to the company duly endorsed by the signature of the insured. The subsequent coupons are for $13.50, $16.26, $17.30, $19.20, $21.14, $23.04, $24.94, $26.84, $28.94, $30.64 33.80, $35.40, $37.50, $39.58, $41.40, $43.56, $45.48 and $47.44.

Germania Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—DISABILITY BENEFITS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $364.80. AGE, 35.

The Germania Life Insurance Company of the city of New York, in consideration of the sum of three hundred sixty-four dollars and eighty cents, constituting payment of the premium for the period terminating on the twenty-second day of August, 1912, and in further consideration of the payment of a premium of like amount on said date, and thereafter on the twenty-second day of August, in every year during the continuance of this policy, until premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years from August 22, 1911, or until the prior death of the insured, with waiver of premiums in case of disability as provided in the first paragraph on the third page hereof, promises to pay at the home office of the company in the city of New York, upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of John Doe, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, to his wife, Mary Doe, beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above, as follows: $186, semi-annually, on the twenty-second day of August and February in each year; $94.80 quarterly, on the twenty-second day of August, November, February and May in each year; but any such change will be made only at the beginning of a policy year. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before the due date of a premium, of a receipt signed by an executive officer (president, vice-president, second vice-president or secretary) of the company and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the period of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy with the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after it shall have been in force for one year. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder, unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of such application is endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. If the insured shall, within one year from the date hereof, commit suicide or die by his or her own hand or act, whether sane or insane at the time, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of the net reserve for this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

PARTICIPATION.—The proportion of divisible surplus accruing upon this policy shall be ascertained and distributed as dividends annually and not otherwise.

DIVIDENDS.—Dividends at the option of the insured or the owner shall on the twenty-second day of August of each year be either (1) paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, and payable at maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Unless the insured or the owner shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends will be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions, as provided in option (3). Such paid-up additions may be surrendered at any time for a cash value which shall not be less than the original cash dividends. When the accumulations from dividends under option (4) and the cash value of any outstanding dividend additions under option (3) together with the reserve for this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum shall equal or exceed the reserve computed in like manner for a fully paid-up policy of the same amount and payable at the same time, at the age then attained by the insured, the company will make this policy paid-up in full with participation in surplus; or when such dividend fund and reserve shall equal or exceed the amount of insurance hereunder, the company will mature and pay this policy as an endowment; provided in either case that a proper request be made therefor together with a satisfactory release.

Loans.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will loan, on proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof, an amount which at the option of the insured or the owner shall be equal to or less than the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the current policy year. Any unpaid portion of the premium for said policy year together with any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy shall be paid out of the proceeds of such loan. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of five per cent per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and in advance for each year thereafter, principal and interest to be payable at the home office of the company. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash surrender value at the time of such failure, nor until one month (not less than thirty days) after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the person to whom the loan was made and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

Automatic Premium Loans.—Upon a satisfactory request therefor from the insured or the owner received at the home office of the company before default in the payment of premium, and thereafter until a written revocation of such request has been duly filed with the company at its said home office, the amount of any premium or interest not paid in cash when due, less any dividend applicable thereon, will, without further action of the insured or the owner, be loaned by the company in payment of such premium and interest if any, and charged as an indebtedness secured by this policy, subject to interest as above described, provided that the net loan value (as above described) then available is sufficient to pay the premium and interest then due.

Assignment.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

Options on Surrender or Lapse.—After premiums shall have been paid on this policy for three full years, the insured or the owner may elect, within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, either: (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or if there be any indebtedness hereon to the company, to accept the cash value of the policy less such indebtedness, hereinafter designated as the net cash value; or, (b) to have the insurance continued in force from the date of default as non-participating paid-up life insurance of a reduced amount payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or, (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up term insurance, to be reckoned from the date of default, without the right to loans, for an amount equal to the face amount of this policy and any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness hereon to the company. The cash surrender value under option (a), after premiums have been paid for three full years or more, will be the reserve at the date of default for the face amount of this policy and for any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, less an amount equal to one per cent of the total amount of insurance hereunder up to and including the fifth policy year, after which said percentage will be reduced each year by one-tenth per cent of the total amount of insurance. The continued paid-up life insurance under option (b) or the paid-up term insurance obtainable under option (c) will be such as the cash value or the net cash value obtainable under option (a) will purchase at the attained age of the insured at the date of default when applied as a net single premium according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum. If the insured or the owner shall not within three months from default surrender this policy to the company at its home office for the cash value as provided in option (a) or for paid-up term insurance as provided in option (c), the insurance will be continued as paid-up life insurance as provided in option (b).

The values in the following table are computed in accordance with the above provisions for the face amount of the policy and on the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated below or for the number of years required by this policy if less than the number stated. The figures will be correspondingly increased by any outstanding dividend additions and modified by any indebtedness on the policy to the company, as hereinbefore provided.

Values for later years will be computed on the same basis and will be stated upon request.

The cash surrender value or the loan value set forth in the above table for the end of a policy year, less interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum to the end of such policy year, may be obtained at any time during such policy year, provided all premiums shall have been duly paid as above required.

If the policy is continued as paid-up life insurance under option (b), the cash surrender value of such paid-up insurance will be the amount of its reserve at the time of surrender less any indebtedness to the company thereon.

The right to any loan value or cash value or to any dividends paid during the lifetime of the insured shall vest in the insured; provided, however, that if the interest of any beneficiary under this policy is without revocation, such right shall vest in the insured and the beneficiary jointly.

While any owner of this policy, either by the terms thereof or by assignment, is a minor, no loan can be made by the company except for the purpose of paying current premiums; and before the cash surrender value can be paid, the interest of such minor must be released by a duly appointed legal guardian.

WAIVER OF PREMIUMS IN CASE OF DISABILITY.—If, after payment of premiums for at least one full year and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation, the company, by endorsement hereon, will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due during the continuance of such disability, and the premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under this policy. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish to the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid in conformity with this policy. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. In the event of disability as above defined any dividends apportioned to this policy from year to year shall be paid in cash, and such dividends and the values provided for in the paragraphs entitled "loans" and "options on surrender or lapse" and in the "table of loan and surrender values" shall be the same as if the premiums had continued to be paid to the company regularly when due. If the period for which premiums are payable extend beyond the year in which the insured attains the age of sixty years, the premiums thereafter required by this policy will be reduced to three hundred and sixty-two and $^{20}/_{100}$ dollars. Or the premiums may be reduced to said amount on any anniversary of the date of the policy prior to the insured attaining the age of sixty years, upon the written request signed by the insured or the owner that the benefits provided in the above paragraph "waiver of premiums in case of disability" be discontinued, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, may be restored to full force at any time after default in payment of any premium, upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum on such premiums and on any indebtedness to the company existing against the policy at date of default, which indebtedness and arrears of premiums and interest shall at the option of the insured be paid in cash, or, to the extent of the loan value at the date to which reinstatement is made, remain as an indebtedness against the policy.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the owner, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest at the rate of three per cent per annum on such net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued for the option elected. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the beneficiary may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option (3), except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

German Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $346.90. AGE, 35.

The German Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Louis by this policy of insurance promises to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in the city of St. Louis, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns upon receipt of due proof of the death during the continuance of this policy of John Doe (herein called the insured), of St. Louis, county of ....., State of Missouri.

This contract is made in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and in further consideration of the annual premium of three hundred forty-six dollars and ninety cents, to be paid to the company on or before the delivery of this policy, and of the payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the first day of February in every year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to the special benefits and provisions stated on the following pages hereof, which are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the German Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Louis has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its office in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, this first day of February, 1910.

SPECIAL BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of St. Louis, on the date or dates named on the first page hereof, but may be paid to its authorized agent producing receipts therefor, signed by the president, a vice-president or secretary and countersigned by such agent. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid on or before the day when due, this policy shall become void, and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of the second and subsequent premiums, a grace of thirty-one days will be allowed, without interest charge, and if the insured die during said thirty-one days, the unpaid premium will be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable after one year from date of issue, for any cause except non-payment of premium.

FREEDOM OF RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy contains no restriction whatever upon the insured, in respect to residence and travel.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated on written application therefor, within five years after non-payment of any premium (provided the cash surrender value shall not have been paid or its extension period expired), subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, upon payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and payment of delinquent premiums, with interest at not to exceed five and one-half per cent per annum to date of restoration.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy is written upon the annual dividend plan. Beginning with and upon the payment of the premium for the third and subsequent years, it will participate annually in profits as apportioned by the company. Dividends will be continued hereon after this policy has become fully paid up by the payment of all premiums required by the terms of this policy to be paid. Dividends may, at the option of the owner, be applied in any of the following ways: (1) To reduce the premium. (2) To purchase, without re-examination, paid-up additions to the policy payable with the policy. Paid-up additions may, at any time, be re-converted and surrendered for cash. (3) Taken in cash. (4) Dividends may be left with the company to accumulate at a rate of interest not less than three per cent per annum. Such dividend fund may be withdrawn at any time upon satisfactory release, or, if not withdrawn, will be payable with the policy. (Unless the insured or the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions as per (2).

BENEFICIARIES—CHANGE OF.—Provided the insured has, in the application herefor, reserved the right to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, the insured may, at any time, if this policy is not then assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, upon filing a written request therefor with the company at its home office, in such form as it may require; but no such change shall take effect unless and until endorsement thereof shall have been made hereon by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At any time while this policy is in full force, it may be changed, without medical examination, to any other form of policy in use by the company at the time this policy was issued, provided the rate of premium be not diminished thereby, upon the payment of such an amount and the execution of such papers as the company may require. The new policy shall be for the same amount, bear the same number and date, and be written at the same age as this policy.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, the company will loan, within thirty-one days of the application therefor, upon proper assignment to the company upon its prescribed form, and on the sole security hereof, with interest at a rate not to exceed five and one-half per cent per annum, payable in advance, a sum not exceeding the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the then current policy year, as stated in the table of values herein contained, plus the value of all paid-up additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid instalments of premium for the balance of said policy year. Failure to repay such loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and of any assignee of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan. after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and after the giving of such notice, shall render this policy void.

NON-FORFEITABLE.—This policy, after the payment upon it of three full annual premiums, shall not be forfeited or become void by reason of the non-payment of premium, but, upon the non-payment of any subsequent premium on the date when due, the owner shall have the choice of one of the following options:

PAID-UP VALUE.—(1) Upon written request therefor of the owner hereof within sixty days after such due date and the surrender of this policy, the company will issue a policy of non-participating paid-up life insurance for such an amount as the cash surrender value will purchase when used as a net single premium by the table referred to below (such commuted policy to have cash and loan values equal to the amount of its entire reserve); or,

SELF-ACTING EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(2) Without action on the part of the owner, the company will extend the insurance under this policy from such due date, by applying the cash surrender value at such time as a net single premium, by the table referred to below, to the purchase of non-participating term insurance for the face amount of this policy (but without the right to loans thereon); or,

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—(3) The company will, upon request of the owner hereof and surrender of this policy within sixty days from such due date, purchase this policy and pay therefor, within thirty-one days of such request, its cash surrender value. Said cash surrender value at date of default in payment of premium will be the full reserve on the policy and on any existing paid-up additions less a sum equal to one per cent of the face amount of the insurance hereunder, up to and including the fifth policy year, and thereafter said per cent will be decreased by one-tenth of one per cent each policy year, and less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby. After the fourteenth year, said value will be the full reserve, less any indebtedness as aforesaid.

TABLE OF MINIMUM VALUES

Guaranteed under "non-forfeitable" provisions, provided all premiums due prior to the period designated are paid and no indebtedness exists.

These values will be increased by the then value of any paid-up additions standing to the credit of this policy, and will be decreased by any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby. The insurance under Options 1 and 2, in the table above, are the mathematical equivalents of the cash surrender value as stated under Option 3 in the table. The loan value for each year is the same in amount as the cash surrender value. The reserve under this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The values in the policy under the several options, which are stated in the table of values above, are for full-paid policy years, and will be increased by payment of additional instalments of premium beyond the full-paid policy year. While any owner of this policy is a minor, no loan can be made by the company except for the purpose of paying current premiums; and before the cash surrender value can be paid, the interest of such minor must be released by a duly authorized legal guardian.

NOTE.—A statement of the values for the succeeding years will be furnished upon application to the company.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—Instalment benefits may be substituted for payment in one sum as follows:

A. TWENTY-FIVE INSTALMENTS, AND CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS THEREAFTER.—The whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured, may be paid in twenty-five specified annual instalments, of an amount corresponding in the following table to the then attained age of the person entitled thereto, provided that if such person shall survive to receive all of said twenty-five instalments, then similar instalments shall be continued throughout the lifetime of such person. The table shall apply pro rata per $1000 of the amount to be so paid. If there be more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid, unless otherwise directed by the insured, shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined in accordance with the following table, for the age attained:

AGE	Amount of each Annual Instalment.	AGE	Amount of each Annual Instalment.	AGE	Amount of each Annual Instalment.
19 or under	40	35 to 37	46	48 to 50	52
20 to 22	41	38 and 39	47	51 and 52	53
23 to 26	42	40 and 41	48	53 to 55	54
27 to 29	43	42 and 43	49	56 to 59	55
30 to 32	44	44 and 45	50	60 or over	56
33 and 34	45	46 and 47	51

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of the policy be $10,000 and the age of the beneficiary be 40 years (last birthday), at the death of the insured the beneficiary would be paid twenty-five annual instalments of $480 each, and thereafter annual instalments of $480 each during the remainder of life.

B. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—The whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured may be paid in a specified number of annual instalments, as per the following table, which shall apply pro rata per $1000 of the amount to be so paid:

Number of instalments.....	25	20	15	10	5	4	3	2
Amount of each instalment..	$ 56	$ 66	$ 82	$ 114	$ 212	$ 261	$ 343	$ 507

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of the policy be $10,000, and if payment is made by 20 instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $660.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly.

PROVISIONS OF INSTALMENT SELECTION.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force, for an amount not less than $1000, and not assigned, may notify the company in writing of a desire to choose one of the above-mentioned methods of settlement, and if such choice is not made by the insured, the same choice may be exercised by the beneficiary at the time this policy becomes a claim. After making selection of manner of payment, the insured can revoke his selection and select another manner by notifying the company in writing. After the death of the insured (selection of instalment benefit having been made) on the payment of the first instalment under either of the above-mentioned benefits, this policy shall be surrendered to the company, and in its place the company will issue a supplementary contract in accordance with the instalment benefit selected, which contract shall provide that on all instalments remaining unpaid from year to year, there will be allowed such share of interest earned in excess of three and one-half per cent as the company may from year to year apportion. The first instalment shall be paid upon satisfactory proof of claim upon the company, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter upon the anniversary of the first instalment payment; any indebtedness to the company under this policy to be deducted from the first instalment or instalments due. If the claim under this policy amounts to less than $1000, no settlement by instalments shall be made, and any choice of instalment settlement previously made shall be void, but the amount due under this policy shall be paid in one sum. Should the beneficiary under this policy, surviving the insured, die before receiving all the unpaid specified instalments, the then present value of all such instalments shall be paid in one sum to the executors or administrators of the said beneficiary.

Only the president, a vice-president or secretary has the power on behalf of the company, to make or modify this or any policy of insurance, or to extend the time for the payment of any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promises or representations heretofore or hereafter given by any person, other than the above. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid and the policy actually delivered to the insured during the lifetime and good health of said insured

Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate, and both copies sent to the home office for consent and record, one of them to be retained there; but the company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Any claim against this company arising under this policy, made by any assignee, shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest and extent thereof.

The company, upon request, will furnish blanks for proof of death under this policy, which proof must be furnished to the company at its home office, in the city of St. Louis, Mo. Any balance of the current year's premium, and any indebtedness hereunder to the company, will be deducted from the payment of benefits hereunder.

In case of suicide of the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from date of issue of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to double the amount of the premium paid hereon.

This policy and the application herefor, taken together, constitute the complete contract. All statements made by the insured in the application herefor shall be deemed to be representations and not warranties.

For one year after date of issue of this policy, engagement in any of the following occupations or employments—blasting, under-ground mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon railway trains (except as conductor, baggage master, mail or express clerk on passenger trains), or in switching or coupling of cars, or in ocean or lake navigation, or electrical employment where the voltage is over 600, will render the policy void.

If the age of the insured was misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the true age.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I do hereby agree as follows: (1) That the statements and representations contained in the foregoing application, together with those contained in the declarations made by me to the company's medical examiner, in continuation of this application, shall be the basis of the contract between me and the German Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Louis; that I hereby represent the same to be full, complete and true, whether written by my own hand or not; said representations are conditions precedent to, and the consideration for, the policy which may be issued hereon. (2) That such policy shall be accepted subject to the conditions and stipulations therein contained, and shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been actually paid thereon, and the policy delivered during my lifetime and good health. (3) That inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of said company, in the city of St. Louis, have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, and as they act on the written statements and representations referred to, no statements, representations, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on said company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, representations, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of said company, at the home office, in this application. (4) That in any distribution of surplus or profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by said company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy. (5) That the contract, contained in such policy and in this application, shall be construed according to the law of the State of Missouri, the place of said contract being agreed to be the home office of said company in the city of St. Louis. (6) That no suit shall be brought against said company under said contract after the lapse of three years from the time when the cause of action accrues.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

German National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $307.10. AGE, 35.

German National Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the written and printed application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto annexed and made a part hereof, and of three hundred seven and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars in advance, (being the premium for one year of term insurance, and the amount to be reserved to the credit hereof as required by the laws of Illinois), hereby insures the life of George Norman, hereinafter known as the insured, for the term of one year from the date hereof, all premiums being duly paid, in the amount of ten thousand dollars, payable at its office in the city of Chicago on receipt of proof of death of the insured, within said term, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

This policy will be renewed at the end of the first year as insurance for the whole period of life from that date by the payment in advance of three hundred seven and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of January in every year until nineteen annual renewal premiums shall have been paid, and after which no further premiums will be required.

The options and provisions set forth in the second, third and fourth pages hereof form a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

Chicago, Ill., January 1, 1911.

OPTIONS AND PROVISIONS.

SPECIAL NON-FORFEITURE PROVISION.—Should this policy lapse for non-payment of premium after having been in force one year, the company will continue the insurance in force for a period of two months from the due date of such premium as set forth in the following table. Provided, however, that if the death of the insured shall occur during such period there shall be deducted from the amount payable thereunder the unpaid premiums for the current policy year. At any time within such two months the insured may make payment of the past due premium, and the company will accept same without interest or medical re-examination.

PREMIUMS—WHEN AND WHERE PAYABLE.—All premiums after the first are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Chicago, or to suitable persons authorized to receive such premiums on or before the due dates, but only on production of the company's receipt therefor, signed by its president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by the person to whom payment is made. Although this contract is based on the receipt of premium annually in advance, the renewal premiums may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance, the amount of which will be named by the company on application. If any premium or part thereof be settled by the note of any person, the same shall not be held to be the payment of such premium or part thereof but only an extension of the times of payment and the non-payment of any such note or interest thereon when due shall void the policy, except as otherwise herein provided, without notice to any person interested.

FREEDOM OF TRAVEL AND OCCUPATION.—For one year after the date of the issue of this policy, travel or residence outside the Temperate Zone, engagement in military or naval service in time of war or in any of the following occupations or employments: Handling electric wires, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances or any switching or coupling of cars or on any steam boat or other vessel, or death in consequence of the above or death in consequence of any illegal act shall render this policy void. If death occurs from suicide, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof the liability of the company shall be limited to the premiums actually paid hereon.

INCONTESTABILITY CLAUSE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from the date of its issue, for the amount due, providing premiums are duly paid.

AGE OF THE INSURED.—If the age was misstated in the application, then the company shall be liable for the sum of insurance which would be purchased at the correct age by the sum actually paid.

POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor taken together constitute the entire contract, which cannot be varied or any of its terms waived except in writing endorsed hereon and signed by the president or vice-president or secretary or assistant secretary of the company at its home office, Chicago. The company shall not be bound by any promises, statements or representations made at any time by any person other than the above.

GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without interest, will be allowed for the payment of any premiums hereon, except the first, during which time this policy will continue in full force and effect.

RE-INSTATEMENT IN THE EVENT OF LAPSE.—At any time after lapse by non-payment of any premiums, this policy will be re-instated on written application therefor, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company and the payment of past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

BENEFICIARY MAY BE CHANGED.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, providing it has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time during the continuance hereof by filing with the company a written request duly acknowledged accompanied by this policy; such change to take place upon the endorsement of the same hereon by the company. Any assignment here must be made in duplicate on blanks furnished by the company. Both copies with this policy must be sent to the home office, one of the copies to be therein filed, after which this policy will be returned. The claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest, the company assuming no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—Upon the failure in the payment of any premiums this policy, having been in force two years, upon written request therefor being made by the insured within one month from the due date of the unpaid premiums, it may be surrendered to the company on one of the following options, viz.: (1) A non-participating policy for the same amount with no further premiums required continued for the time hereinafter set forth and running from the date on which the last premium became due. (2) A non-participating paid-up whole life policy for the amount hereinafter set forth, or (3) a cash sum equal to the cash value as hereinafter set forth, not less than the value of either of the aforesaid options and less any indebtedness hereon. If no such request be made by the insured the policy will be continued under option one above mentioned. In any settlement of this policy or any benefit hereunder any indebtedness hereon will be first deducted. The amount of the paid-up policy or the term of extended insurance to be granted will be such as the available values of this policy, less such indebtedness, will purchase at the net single premium rate for the attained age of the insured, computed by the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. Should this policy become a claim by the death of the insured, any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year shall also be deducted in any settlement of the claim.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after premiums for two years shall have been paid hereon and while this policy is in full force, upon the proper assignment thereof and the execution of the proper loan agreement by the insured on forms furnished by the company, the company will loan on the sole security thereof with interest at five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, the whole or any part of the loan value of the policy as hereinafter set forth, not less than the reserve hereon at the end of the current policy year. Provided that from such loan the company will deduct any indebtedness hereon and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or interest thereon shall not render this policy void unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

The guaranteed values in the above table are equal to the reserve to the credit of this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest thereon. At the end of the twentieth year and thereafter the surrender values will be equal to the full reserve according to the above standard. If this policy be continued in force beyond the twentieth year, tables for the cash surrender, loan values, paid up and extended insurance after the twentieth year will be furnished on application to the home office. If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of the year's premium paid in addition to the full number of years' premiums paid.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I represent on behalf of myself, and any person who shall have or claim an interest in any policy issued under this application, that all of the above answers, as well as those I have made or may hereafter make to the company's medical examiner, are full, complete and true. I agree to pay the first premium upon any policy issued hereon; and further agree: That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received and approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered to me, and the premium has actually been paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent, during my lifetime and present condition of health; that if within two years from date of any policy which may be issued upon this application, I shall be personally engaged (without the company's written consent), in blasting, underground mining, submarine labor, the manufacture, handling or transportation of explosives or inflammable substances or in service upon any railroad train or track (except as conductor. baggage master, or mail or express agent on a passenger train), or as an ordinary seaman, or in the handling of live electric wires, or in aeronautic ascensions, the policy hereby applied for shall thereupon become null and void; that in the event of self-destruction, whether sane or insane, within a period of one year from the date of any policy which may be issued upon this application, or if I die as a result of, or in consequence of, any violation of law, within two years from said date, the limit of liability on the part of the company shall be an amount equal to double the amount of premiums actually paid to the company under such policy.

PART II.—I warrant on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, each of the above answers to be full, complete and true, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief I am a proper subject for life insurance. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

Girard Life Insurance Company.

Twenty-Payment Life Policy—Guaranteed Premium Reduction.

Amount, $10,000. Annual Premium, $358.80. Age, 35.

Girard Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., by this contract of insurance, agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars and in addition thereto such fully paid additions as may have been credited to this policy, as provided on page three hereof, at its home office in Philadelphia, Pa, to Polly Lun Girard, wife, or to such other beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled to receive the payment (as hereinafter provided), upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured, Stephen Girard, of Philadelphia, County of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania, provided this policy is in force at the time of the death of the insured.

This Policy shall be Incontestable after One Year from the date hereof, provided the premiums shall be paid as stated herein and the condition as to military and naval service is not violated, and it is issued and accepted by all the parties in interest, subject to the conditions, privileges and benefits stated on the following pages, which are hereby made a part of this contract. No suit, however, shall be maintained under this policy unless commenced within five years from the time when the cause of action accrues.

The first year's insurance under this policy is modified preliminary term insurance.

Change of Beneficiary.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, the insured may at any time, and from time to time, during the continuance of the policy (subject to any existing assignment of the policy), make such change by filing with the company a written request, using the company's form for that purpose, duly acknowledged and accompanied by the policy; the change to take effect upon the endorsement thereof upon the policy by the company.

In witness whereof, the Girard Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary, at its office in Philadelphia, Pa., this third day of November, A. D., 1911.

Conditions, Privileges and Benefits Referred to in This Policy.

Payment of Permiums.—Premiums hereunder are payable annually in advance, but may be paid in amounts and at times other than as stated on the last page hereof, as follows: $183 on the third day of November and May, or $93.30 on the third day of November, February, May and August. After the first year these rates will be reduced as provided by the coupons on the third page hereof. Except as hereinafter provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of the official receipt of the company, signed by one or more of the following officers, viz., president, vice-president, treasurer or secretary, and countersigned by said agent.

Grace for Payment of Premiums.—A grace of thirty-one days subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the period of grace the overdue premium and interest will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

Indebtedness.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder.

Reinstatement.—Should this policy lapse by non-payment of any premium, if it has not been surrendered to the company, and, if it is not running as extended term insurance, it may be revived at any time within three years from the d te of such lapse, by the insured furnishing evidence of insurability, satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

Assignment.—The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment, and shall not be held to have notice thereof until the original assignment, or duplicate thereof, is received at the home office of the company; all assignments shall be subject to the company's interest in the policy.

Risks not Assumed.—(a) Self destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, will make it void. (b) Military or naval service of any kind in time of war by the insured without the written consent of the company is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.

Error in Age.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

Policy and Application Entire Contract.—This policy and the application herefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured as the basis for the contract shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defence to a claim hereunder unless it is contained in the written application herefor, a copy of which is attached hereto or endorsed hereon.

Modifications or Alterations.—No modification or alteration hereof will be valid unless made for the company, by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and no other person is authorized to make, alter or discharge this contract or to waive forfeiture. Agents are not authorized to waive or modify any of the terms and conditions of this policy, nor to extend the time for payment of premiums or other moneys due to the company, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, and while the policy is in full force by the payment of premiums, and provided it is not continued as extended term insurance, on a proper assignment of the policy upon its prescribed form, the company will, within thirty days of the applicaiton therefor, loan on the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum (payable annually in advance), a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured, less than, the reserve at the end of the current policy year on the policy and dividend additions thereto, if any, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder, and less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid instalments of premium for the balance of the policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee of record at the home office, if any.

PARTICIPATION.—In addition to the reduction in the premium, as per coupons attached, this policy shall participate in the surplus earnings of the company. Its proportion of such surplus shall be determined by the directors and distributed at the end of each five-year period from date hereof, and may be used as follows: (First) Withdrawn in cash. (Second) Applied to purchase additional paid-up insurance. (Third) Applied to reduce the premium hereon. (Fourth) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable, either in full or in part, in cash on demand by the owner of this policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After the payment of premiums for three or more years, if default shall be made in the payment of any subsequent premium, this policy shall secure, without action on the part of the insured, non-participating paid-up insurance, as per table below.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In lieu of the paid-up insurance, the insured, by writing filed with company at its home office within two months from the due date of the premium in default, may elect to have the policy continued in force as a non-participating extended term insurance, in accordance with the table below.

CASH VALUE.—In lieu of the paid-up and extended term insurance provisions, upon the legal surrender of the policy to the company at the end of the third or any year thereafter, or within two months from the due date of any premium in default, after the payment of premiums for three or more years, a cash value will be paid as per table below. Each of these non-forfeiture benefits shall be the equivalent of the reserve value of this policy and dividend additions thereto (if any) at the date of the default in premium payments, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder, and less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

Values for years, if any, not stated in this table will be as follows, viz.: cash value, the full reserve, according to the American Table of Mortality, with interest of three and one-half per cent per annum; paid-up insurance, the equivalent of the said full reserve; extended insurance, the equivalent of the said reserve applied according to the said Mortality Table, but with interest at three instead of three and one-half per cent per annum; loan value, the full reserve, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The above values will be correspondingly increased if there are any paid-up dividend additions to the credit of this policy, and diminished if there be any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—In lieu of the payment in one sum, the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, may elect by a writing filed with the company, with the right of revocation and re-election, to have the proceeds of this policy (including paid-up additions and dividend accumulations, if any), if not less than one thousand dollars, paid in equal annual instalments according to one of the following options, beginning upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured or at the maturity of the policy. No such instalments may be assigned, alienated, or commuted by any beneficiary, except upon the written authority of the insured filed with the company. If the insured shall not have made such election the beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled to receive said proceeds may, when the same become payable, exercise the same right of election. If no beneficiary survives the insured, said proceeds will be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. If there be more than one beneficiary, the right of any deceased beneficiary shall pass to the surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries upon satisfactory proof of such decease, except that under Option B the rights of the surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries shall be limited to such of the first twenty instalments, if any, as remain unpaid at the death of such beneficiary. At the death of the last surviving beneficiary, occurring subsequently to the death of the insured or to the maturity of the policy, any of the limited instalments under Option A, or any of the first twenty instalments under Option B, then remaining unpaid, will be commuted upon the basis of three per cent compound interest and paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of such last surviving beneficiary.

OPTION B. CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—Table of instalments payable for the amount corresponding to the age attained by the beneficiary or beneficiaries at the death of the insured or at the maturity of the policy. Amount of each instalment is guaranteed throughout twenty years and so much longer as the beneficiary or beneficiaries may live. If there be more than one beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy to be paid in instalments shall be considered as divided into equal parts, and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined by the age attained.

CONSIDERATION FOR THIS POLICY.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred fifty-eight and $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars, being the premium for a pure endowment to secure the first year's reserve hereon, and the premium for one year's term insurance for the first policy year ending on the third day of November, 1911. After the first year the policy will be continued as a limited payment life policy upon the payment of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-eight and $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars, less the amount provided by coupons on the third page hereof, on or before the third day of November in every year, until twenty full years' premiums in all, including the first year, shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.—If this policy be in force the company guarantees that the premium for the second year, and for each year thereafter, will be reduced by the amount as evidenced by the coupons hereto attached.

GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS.—In lieu of the premium reduction provided above, the company guarantees to increase the cash surrender, loan value, paid-up insurance, term of extended insurance and amount payable in event of death, to the amounts added in the following table.

Values for years, if any, not stated in this table will be as follows, viz.: cash value, the full reserve; paid-up insurance, the equivalent of the said full reserve, on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum; extended insurance, the equivalent of the said cash value, applied according to the said mortality table, but with interest at three instead of three and one-half per cent per annum; loan value, the full cash value less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The above values will be correspondingly increased if there are any paid-up dividend additions to the credit of this policy, and diminished if there be any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after November 3, 1912, Girard Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., will allow to the insured under policy No. 00,000 (or to the assignee if said policy be assigned), upon receipt of this coupon by the company, thirty-five $^{80}/_{100}$ dollars in reduction of premium due this date.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—It is hereby declared and agreed by the undersigned that all the foregoing statements and answers, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner in connection with this application are complete and true, and that if a policy of insurance shall be issued by said company under this application the same shall constitute the basis of and be a part of the contract expressed in said policy. I further agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not be in force until the acceptance and approval of this application by the company at its home office, the delivery of the policy to me, or my agent, and the payment of the first premium as required therein during my present condition of health; and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted as having become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins.

PART II.—I hereby further declare that the answers to the above questions are full, complete and true, and agree that they shall constitute a part of the contract for insurance for which I apply.

Great Northern Life Insurance Company (Ohio).

ORDINARY LIFE COUPON POLICY—OPTIONAL PREM. REDUCTION. AMOUNT $10,000. 1ST PREMIUM, $303.30; 20TH PREMIUM, $171.60; PREM. AFTER 20TH YEAR, 221. NON-PARTICIPATING. AGE 35.

The Great Northern Life Insurance Company of Toledo, O., hereby agrees to pay ten thousand dollars and in addition thereto the cash value of past due coupons, unused and attached hereto, at its home office, in Toledo, O., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of death of John Doe, of Toledo, county of Lucas, State of Ohio, (hereinafter called the insured) this policy being then in force, to Mary Doe, his wife, with right of revocation, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured, less any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, and the balance of any annual premium remaining unpaid.

This policy is incontestable after one year from date and is absolutely free from conditions and restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or peace.

Should the insured commit suicide while sane or insane within one year from date hereof, this policy shall be null and void, but the company will return the premiums paid hereon.

The provisions and privileges set forth on subsequent pages of this policy are hereby made a part of this contract.

PROVISIONS AND PRIVILEGES.

NON-FORFEITURE.—After premiums shall have been paid for two full years, and default is made in payment of any subsequent premium, if there is no indebtedness on account of this policy, it may be surrendered to the company under any one of the following options: (1) For the cash value as stated in Column 1 of the table of guaranteed values. (2) For a paid-up life policy for the amount stated in Column 2 of the table of guaranteed values. (3) For a term policy for the full amount of this policy, the term being in years and days as specified in Column 3 of the table of guaranteed values.

AUTOMATICAL NON-FORFEITURE.—Should this policy lapse for non-payment of premium, and no request be received within thirty-one days for any other form of settlement named herein from either the insured or beneficiary, the insurance will be automatically extended for the term that the net cash value will purchase, and if there is no indebtedness against this policy the extended insurance will be for the years and days stated in Column 3 of the table of guaranteed values.

REINSTATEMENT.—If, in event of default in premium payment, the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of other insurance, and if such insurance shall be in force and this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and cancelled, this policy may be reinstated within three years from such default upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premium, with interest at five per cent.

PREMIUM LOANS.—If this policy shall lapse for non-payment of premiums and written request therefor has been made by the insured prior to or after the date of this policy, any premium or instalment of premium then due will be charged as a loan on this policy, with interest at five per cent per annum, providing the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value. If said value be not sufficient to cover the entire premium then due, it will be applied to pay the premium for such shorter period as it will cover. At any time while this policy is being thus maintained the payment of premiums may be resumed.

POLICY LOANS.—At any time while this policy is in force, the company will lend, upon the sole security of this policy, and a satisfactory certificate of loan, any amount up to the limit secured by the cash value, stated in the table of guaranteed values, less any amount previously advanced or withdrawn, at a rate of interest of five per cent per annum payable in advance. Loans may be repaid at any time while this policy is in force; failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed such cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address. Any loans made by the company on this policy shall take precedence of any and all other loans and shall be a first lien upon the cash proceeds of the policy under any settlement at maturity or any option contained herein. The total amount of such loans with interest shall be first deducted from the cash proceeds and the balance of the cash value shall be applied as directed by the insured or the beneficiary.

GRACE.—This policy shall not lapse for non-payment of premium until thirty-one days after the date the premium was due, and if the insured should die during the grace, this policy will be regarded as being in force and all arrears in premium will be deducted in settlement of any claim without interest charge.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy to be valid must be executed in duplicate and forwarded to the home office with this policy for endorsement. The company will not be responsible for the validity of any assignment, or the interest of any assignee.

NON-PARTICIPATION.—This policy will not participate in the surplus earnings of the company. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, and the reserve hereon will be accumulated according to the laws of Ohio.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation by filing notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns.

EXCHANGE FOR PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Whenever the cash value of one thousand dollars insurance under this policy, together with the value of all coupons due and not used under any one of the options herein named, less any indebtedness to the company, shall equal the net single premium for one thousand dollars ($1,000) whole life insurance, at the attained age of the insured, computed on the American Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent, the company will issue a paid-up life policy for $1000 on written request of the insured and surrender of this policy with all coupons hereto attached, in lieu of a like amount of insurance covered by this policy, and a new policy for the reduced amount of insurance will be issued on the same plan at the same premium rate per thousand insurance as this policy.

EXCHANGE FOR POLICY OF ANOTHER FORM.—This policy may be exchanged at any time for a policy of the same or smaller amount of any life or endowment form issued by the company, with premium determined by the age of the insured at the date hereof. If the reserve on the new policy be greater than the cash surrender value hereof, including the value of unused coupons, the difference may be paid to the company or may stand as a lien upon the new policy. If the reserve on the new policy be smaller than the cash surrender value hereof, including the value of unused coupons, the difference shall be applied to the uniform reduction of premiums on the new policy. If said difference be more than sufficient to prepay all premiums on the new policy, the remainder thereof shall be applied to purchase a life income, payable to the insured on each anniversary of the new policy. All statements made by the insured in the application for this policy shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium purchased at the correct age.

GUARANTEED VALUES.—The cash or loan values at the ends of policy years during which all premiums have been duly paid will be as shown in the following table of guaranteed values, plus the cash value of unused coupons remaining attached hereto, and less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The amount of paid-up policy, or the term of extended insurance will be such as the cash value will purchase at the net single premium rates for the attained age of the insured, and if there be no indebtedness, and no unused coupons, will be as shown in the following table of guaranteed values. The paid-up policy, or the extended insurance will be entitled to cash surrender values equal to the reserve thereon, less any indebtedness to the company, at the time of surrender.

* Loan values are available at the beginning of policy years for which full annual premiums have been paid.

COUPONS.—Attached to this policy and a part thereof are nineteen coupons, which may be applied by the insured under any one of the following options: (First) Coupons may be applied to the payment of annual premiums as they fall due. (Second) Coupons may be applied to shorten the premium-paying period of the policy, and in such case all premiums having been paid in full for twenty years and no coupons having been used, the policy and all coupons on request of the insured may be exchanged for a full paid life policy for the original amount and payable under the same conditions as this policy. (Third) Twenty years from the date hereof, all premiums having been paid as they fall due, and no coupons having been used this policy, together with all coupons attached hereto, may be surrendered to the company and the insured shall receive on written request, in full payment of all demands hereunder the sum of five thousand six hundred sixty-one and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars in cash. (Fourth) Subject to the same conditions as to coupons and payment of premiums named in Option 3, the insured may receive in cash on surrender of all coupons twenty years from date, the sum of two thousand six hundred thirty-six and $^{10}/_{100}$ dollars and continue this policy as an ordinary life policy by the payment of the annual premium in advance, of two hundred twenty-one dollars during the lifetime of the insured, or the total cash value of the policy may be converted into an annuity of four hundred forty-one and $^{30}/_{100}$ dollars, first payment immediate, to be paid during the lifetime of the insured. Any coupon or coupons remaining unused and unassigned and attached hereto may be cashed at any time after their maturity at their accumulated value, as shown in Column D of the following table of guaranteed values if no coupons are used, at the home office of the company. The cash and loan values, and amounts of paid-up guaranteed values will be increased by the values of such unused coupons remaining attached hereto, as shown in same table of guaranteed values.

TABLE OF GUARANTEED VALUES IF NO COUPONS ARE USED.

If full annual premiums are paid continuously and all coupons are surrendered to the company the following table of non-forfeitures will apply:

* Loan values are available at the beginning of policy years for which full annual premiums have been paid.

The figures in both tables of guaranteed values are all calculated on the American Mortality Table and three and one-half per cent interest without surrender charge. If premiums are paid other than annually and lapse occurs other than at end of policy year, non-forfeiture benefits will be calculated on the reserve at the date of default.

NOTICE TO POLICYHOLDERS.—This policy does not take effect until the first premium shall have been actually paid in advance during the lifetime of the insured. The possession of this policy is not evidence that the first premium has been paid. Each premium is due, and payable in advance at the home office of the company in Toledo, Ohio, but premiums may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the agent designated therein. No agent is authorized to make, alter or discharge this or any contract, to waive any forfeitures, extend the time for paying any premium, or to assume its payment.

CONSIDERATION.—Insurance under this policy is made in consideration of the application of the insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, the application and policy being the entire contract, and of the payment in advance, at the home office of the company of the annual premium of three hundred three and $^{30}/_{100}$ dollars, and of the payment of the same premium on or before the first day of January in each year during the lifetime of the insured. In lieu of said annual premiums the company will accept instalments of one hundred fifty-seven and $^{70}/_{100}$ dollars semi-annually in advance or of eighty and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars quarter-annually in advance, but failure to pay any premium or instalment thereof in advance when due, shall forfeit all rights of the insured, the beneficiary, or any other person hereunder, except as herein otherwise provided.

OPTIONAL METHODS OF SETTLEMENTS.—When this policy shall become a claim the company will, if so requested by the beneficiary, or if so directed by the insured during his lifetime, in lieu of the payment of its proceeds in one sum, pay the same according to any of the following methods: (1) Pay the proceeds in a stipulated number (not exceeding thirty) of equal annual instalments as shown in the annexed table. (2) Pay the proceeds in equal annual instalments for twenty or twenty-five years certain and continuing during the after-lifetime of the beneficiary as shown in the annexed table. (3) Pay the proceeds as a life annuity, as shown in the annexed table. (4) Retain the proceeds, and while retained, pay the beneficiary interest at rate of three and one-half per cent for each $1000 of proceeds, and pay the proceeds on demand or as directed. The first payment under Method 1 or 2 will be made immediately on approval of claim; under Method 3 or 4, one year after such approval. If a beneficiary die before receiving all the stipulated payments under Method 1, or all the first twenty or twenty-five payments under Method 2, or without withdrawing the proceeds under Method 4, the commuted value of the remainder of such payments or the proceeds not withdrawn, will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns, of the beneficiary, unless the insured shall have otherwise directed. Under Method 2 or 3 only one beneficiary may be designated. Under Method 1 or 4 a succession of beneficiaries may be designated. The proceeds may be divided between two or more beneficiaries, or paid according to two or more methods, provided not less than $500 of proceeds be assigned to each beneficiary, or applied on each method. If the insured during his lifetime shall direct the company to pay the proceeds according to any of these methods, the same shall be paid only as the insured has directed, and the beneficiary cannot change the method of payment unless such privilege has been granted by the insured.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED ANNUAL DIVIDEND.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

The Great Southern Life Insurance Company, Birmingham, Ala., by this contract of insurance agrees to pay, at its head office in the city of Birmingham, Ala., immediately upon receipt and approval of proofs of death of John T. Morgan, the insured, ten thousand dollars, to Cornelia, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary or beneficiaries as may be designated by the insured in the manner herein provided.

GUARANTEED DIVIDENDS.—This contract is issued on the guaranteed annual dividend plan, and if kept in force by payment of premiums in cash, the company guarantees that such dividends shall be as shown on the coupons hereto attached, and the policy shall not otherwise participate in the profits. If the insured shall elect to pay premiums in full without reduction, and leave the dividends with the company, the company guarantees that after premiums have been paid for fifteen full years, the company will, upon the surrender and cancellation of all the past, present and future coupons, endorse upon the policy that it is fully paid up, and premiums shall then cease and paid up values attach. In case insured should elect to leave the coupons to make this a fully paid-up policy and should die while this contract is in force, but before it is fully paid-up, as above provided, all of the coupons bearing date prior to said death shall be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum in addition to the sum insured. In case the insured shall not elect as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, leave said dividends with the company, the same shall be payable, on presentation of the coupons at any time with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum for each full year such dividends are left with the company.

STATE OF ALABAMA.—Department of insurance. This is to certify that this policy is registered by the insurance department, and that the legal reserve hereon is secured by bonds, mortgages and other approved securities certified to and on deposit with the state treasurer, under Section 4565 of the Code of Alabama, 1907.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—This policy is issued with the understanding that the insured may, upon written request to the company, at any time while this policy is in force, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, provided this policy, or any interest therein, has not been assigned. No such change shall take effect until it has been endorsed on this policy by the company at its head office. If all designated beneficiaries die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured. The insured may exercise any right under this policy without the consent of the beneficiary.

DISABILITY CLAUSE.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premiums, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that physically he has become wholly disabled by the loss of limbs, total blindness or paralysis, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, at the end of six months from acceptance of such proofs, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree that it will advance to the insured, on account of this policy, annually one-tenth of the amount insured hereunder, less the premiums due, during such disability, until the amount insured, less premiums due, and other indebtedness, is paid in full. If, however, the insured shall recover, the annual advance shall cease and the advances already made may be returned in cash or remain charges against this policy.

THIS POLICY SHALL BE NON-FORFEITABLE AS FOLLOWS.—If premiums have been paid for two or more years, the company, upon failure of insured to pay any premiums, will charge the premiums as they fall due, as loans against this policy until the loan value and the accumulated unused coupons if any are consumed, and this policy shall thereby continue in full force. At any time while the policy is thus sustained, the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical re-examination, and the accumulated debits may be paid or stand as a loan against the policy.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The insured has the right at the time any premium falls due, after the first, to pay an annual, a semi-annual, or a quarterly premium, according to the company's schedule for the kind of policy held, and such premiums will continue the insurance in force for the time paid for in accordance with the privileges and conditions of this policy.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty days without interest, will be allowed in payment of premiums after this policy has been in force one full year.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This contract is incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, or mis-statement of age, and military and naval service in time of war without a permit.

REINSTATEMENT.—If default in payment of premiums has occurred and the loan value and accumulated unused coupons if any have been consumed in the payment of premiums as described above; or, if this policy, upon the request of the insured, has been surrendered by the insured for a paid-up policy; or if this policy has been extended as a term policy, payment of premiums may be resumed at any time and this policy will be re-instated upon the payment of the defaulted premiums with interest at six per cent, and upon complying with the company's health requirements.

PAID-UP POLICY.—The insured may leave the dividends with the company for the purpose of having the policy become paid-up, which shall occur when such dividends together with the reserve under this policy shall amount to the single premium at the attained age of the insured at the time and thereafter no payment will be required from the insured. But the insured may continue premium payment for the purpose of having this policy become paid-up as an endowment in accordance with the following privileges:

CONTINUOUS ENDOWMENT.—The dividends may be left with the company for the purpose of having this policy become paid-up as an endowment, which shall occur when the accumulations, together with the reserve under this policy, shall become equal to the face of the policy, at which time the whole amount shall become due and payable in cash, and may be paid to the insured to the exclusion of the beneficiary.

LOANS.—On demand in writing to the home office of the company, the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, borrow on the sole security of this contract the amount specified in the accompanying table for the year in which the loan is to be taken, subject to the interest, in advance, at not over six per cent per annum, provided the contract shall have been in force two years; the contract shall be assigned to the company as security according to the terms of the company's loan agreement, and the premiums on the contract shall be paid in full to the end of the next policy year. The amount available at any time includes any previous loan then unpaid.

EXTENDED OR PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three of the accompanying table; or in lieu of such term insurance, the company will endorse on this contract the amount of paid-up insurance, if any, specified in column two of the accompanying table, upon written request therefor made by the insured within three months from said due date. If there shall be an indebtedness to the company, and if any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, an amount of insurance, equal to the face amount of this contract less the indebtedness, will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance, for the term, including the period of grace, which the excess of the cash value of the contract, if any, over the indebtedness, will purchase at the then age of the insured, according to the company's present table of single premiums. In lieu of such term insurance, provided the insured shall make written request therefor within three months from said due date, the company will endorse on this contract the amount of paid-up life insurance, which said excess will purchase at the then age of the insured, according to the company's present table of single premiums.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) No agent can make, alter or discharge this contract or extend the time for payment of premiums, nor can this contract be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated. (2) If the age of the insured was incorrectly stated in the application for this contract, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof. (3) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinbefore provided. (4) No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this contract or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished forthwith to the company upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (5) Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this contract or of any benefit thereunder. (6) In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid. (7) For military or naval service in time of war a permit from the company will be required. (8) For failure to comply with any of the provisions of this policy the company will be liable for not over the reserve on the policy.

Any indebtedness existing against this policy at the time of any settlement thereof, shall be deducted from the cash surrender value of the policy, and the other values shall be diminished proportionately.

The cash value of this policy at the end of twenty years is guaranteed to be five thousand six hundred and sixty dollars.

This policy shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been paid during the life and good health of the insured. But after said event shall be considered as in force from the date hereof. This agreement is made in consideration of the payment of three hundred eighty-three and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars, constituting the premium for the period terminating on the first day of June, 1909, during which period the insurance hereunder is term insurance, and in further consideration of the renewal payment of a like sum on said date and thereafter on the first day of June in every year until twenty full payments shall have been made, or until death, should it occur sooner.

In witness whereof, the Great Southern Life Insurance Company has caused this agreement to be signed by its president, secretary and countersigned by its registrar, this the first day of June, 1908.

Sample Guaranteed Dividend Coupon.—On or after June 1, 1909, the Great Southern Life Insurance Company of Birmingham, Ala. will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 000 (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned) a dividend of forty-five and $^{31}/_{100}$ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office. The dividends run as follows, $45.30; $49.80; $54.30; $58.80; $63.40; $68; $73.40; $77.30; $82; $86.40; $90.80; $95.20; $99.60; $104.10; $108.70; $113.30; $117.90; $122.50; $127.10.

Instalment Privilege.—Written request specifying the number of instalments in which the amount insured under this policy is to be paid must be made by the insured while this policy is in force; such request may subsequently be withdrawn or the number of instalments changed at any time during the continuance of this policy upon notice to the company in writing, such request or subsequent notice to be operative only upon the endorsement by the company upon the policy. The first instalment shall be payable at the same time the original amount would have been payable under this policy and subsequent instalments shall be made payable on the succeeding anniversaries thereafter.

Amount of each.....	$ 2,120	$ 1,140	$ 810	$ 650

At the time any instalment is due the remaining instalments, if any, may be commuted, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing, at the rate of three per cent per annum, compound interest, and the equivalent value withdrawn in one sum. The legal holder hereof at the time the policy becomes a claim shall have the privilege of having the amount insured under the policy payable in instalments as herein provided, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing.

Proviso.—The instalment privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than $1000.

Agreement in Application.

I agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: Any policy issued under this application shall be governed by the laws of the State of Alabama. I. That inasmuch as only the officers at the head office of the company have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of the company at the head office, in this application. 2. That in any distribution of surplus or apportionment of profit, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution or apportionment and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be conclusive upon the insured under said policy and upon all parties having or claiming an interest thereunder. 3. That the insurance under any policy issued on this application shall take effect as of the date of this application unless otherwise agreed in writing. 4. That the insurance issued in pursuance of this application shall in no event take effect or be binding until the written policy is delivered to the assured while in good health and the initial premium paid to the president, secretary or cashier of the company at its principal office. 5. That any policy that may be issued in pursuance of this application shall be in consideration of my promises made in this application. 6. I agree that active service in the army or navy in time of war shall invalidate the insurance unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for and granted by the company, and the extra premium paid on notification; and it is agreed that the insurance with any and all renewals thereof shall become void if at any time within one year after the date of issuance of the policy the applicant shall travel or reside in the Torrid Zone, or engage in any of the following occupations, to wit: Handling electric wires or dynamos, blasting, mining submarine labor, aeronautic ascension, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or in switching or coupling cars, or on any steamboat and that self-destruction, sane or insane, and death in consequence of violation of law, within the above period, are risks not assumed by the company in the contract.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company (Texas).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $310.60. AGE, 35.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company, Houston, promises to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife (herein called the beneficiary), at its office in Houston, Tex., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death, during the continuance of this policy, of John Doe, of Houston, county of Harris, State of Texas, (herein called the insured), less any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary to the company.

This contract is made for the term of one year in consideration of the payment of the first premium of three hundred ten and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and may thereafter be renewed and continued as a limited payment life policy upon payment of a like sum on the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this contract, until the death of the insured, or until premiums for twenty years in all have been paid; but after one full annual premium has been paid, the company, by endorsement on this policy, will waive payment of premiums under the conditions stated in Section 7 on the next page, entitled "waiver of premiums."

* Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid.

The benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, Great Southern Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its authorized officers at its office in the city of Houston the first day of January, 1911.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

1. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums.

2. PREMIUMS.—All premiums on this policy shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company, and duly countersigned by such agent. Unless otherwise provided all premiums are payable annually, but, by contract in writing, they may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly instalments. Any unpaid part of the premium or premiums for the current policy year in which death occurs will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. If any premium or any note or other obligation given therefor shall not be paid when due, this policy shall thereupon cease, except as herein provided.

3. GRACE.—One month's grace is allowed for the payment of every premium after the first without interest charge, during which month this insurance shall continue in force. If the insured should die during the period of grace the entire premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

4. Reinstatement.—In the event of default in premium payments and the application of the value of this policy to the purchase of other insurance, and if such other insurance shall be in force and the original policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, this policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

5. Premium Loans.—Whenever the cash surrender value of this policy, as defined in section 9, entitled "non-forfeiture provisions," shall be sufficient to pay one full annual premium, with five per cent interest thereon for one year, the company will, before the expiration of the days of grace, accept a premium lien note signed by the insured alone in lieu of cash for premium; said note to be a first lien against the policy, and subject to the same terms and conditions as cash loans, (including the right to deduct same in ascertaining any subsequent cash surrender value) except that the policy need not be deposited with the company as a pledge.

6. Privilege of Change to Other Form of Policy.—At any time, while in full force, and provided the insured is then less than sixty years of age, this policy may be exchanged, without medical re-examination, for a policy payable in like manner as this policy and for the same amount upon any plan then issued by the company, and having a higher rate of premium. Such change shall become effective upon payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums paid on this policy and what would have been required at the said higher rate with compound interest at five per cent per annum on the difference between the two premium rates, computed from the due date of each premium payment to the date when the change is made, and upon the surrender of this policy. The new policy will take effect as of the date of this policy, and the premium will be based on the same age as this policy.

7. Waiver of Premiums.—The company, by endorsement hereon, will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit or from following any gainful occupation. The premiums so waived will not be a charge against the policy, and the values and benefits as shown in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon shall progress each year the same as if the premiums were paid in cash. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. The company shall have the right and opportuntity to examine the insured's person, in case total disability is claimed, as often as it desires. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total disability within the meaning of this provision.

8. Cash Loans.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in full force, no default in premium payments having been made, the company will advance upon proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, a cash loan not exceeding the amount named in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon, the loan to bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance; if interest is not paid when due it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. The company reserves the right to deduct any indebtedness against this policy from said loan. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not render this policy void unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall exceed its loan value. Whenever the total indebtedness against this policy shall exceed its loan value, the policy shall thereupon become void and such indebtedness shall thereby stand canceled. The company, if it so elects, may defer, as provided by law, the making of any loan, or the paying of any cash surrender value, for a period of not more than six months after application therefor is made.

Note.—The loan value of this policy equals its cash surrender value as hereinafter defined.

9. Non-Forfeiture Provisions.—If this policy should lapse on account of default in premium payments, after premiums shall have been paid for two full years, the insured may within one month from the date of such default elect; either, (a) to accept the cash surrender value, which will be an amount equal to the reserve on this policy at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy and less a surrender charge, which in no case shall be more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy; or, (b) to secure a paid-up policy payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy for such an amount as said cash surrender value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium at the age of the insured at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Loans may be obtained on such paid-up policy subject to the provisions of section 8, entitled "cash loans," or it may be surrendered to the company at any time for its cash surrender value; or, (c) to have insurance for the face amount of this policy continue in force from the date of default for such term as said cash surrender value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium, at the age of the insured at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, but without the right to loans or cash surrender value. If the insured shall not within one month after such default surrender this policy to the company at its home office, for the cash surrender value as provided in option (a), or, for a paid-up policy, as provided in option (b), the insurance will be automatically continued as term insurance as provided in option (c).

10. VALUES.—The figures contained in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon represent the amounts available after deduction of surrender charges, if any, and are computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and are based upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated in the table and that there is no indebtedness against this policy. Values for later years than are shown in said "table of values and options" will be computed on the same basis and will be furnished on request.

11. INSTALMENTS.—The proceeds of this policy may, by written request of the insured while this policy is in force, be made payable: (First) In a limited number of annual instalments, as per following Option 1:

If the insured has requested that the proceeds of this policy shall be paid in instalments, the beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless the written consent of the insured has been filed with the home office, and endorsement made on this policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

12. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, at any time and from time to time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by written notice to the company at its home office, such change to take effect on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. The right is reserved to the insured, without the consent of the beneficiary, to receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege granted by this policy. If any beneficiary should die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

13. ASSIGNMENT.—The insured has a right to assign this policy. Any assignment must be made in duplicate, upon blanks furnished by the company, and one original copy shall be filed with the company at its home office. The company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment. Any claim arising under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest. Any assignee of this policy will take same subject to any existing indebtedness against this policy, whether he has notice thereof or not, and subject to the right of the company to make loans to cover premium payments. If any such loans are thereafter made they shall be a lien against the policy superior to any rights of said assignee.

14. OTHER CONDITIONS.—(1) If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. (2) In case of the death of the insured, by his own hand, while sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the company's liability shall be limited to the amount of the premium paid hereon. (3) In case of the death of the insured while engaged in naval or military service in time of war, unless the insured has first obtained written permission from the president or secretary to engage in such service, the company's liability hereunder shall be limited to the net reserve under this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

15. POLICY ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties and is free from conditions as to residence, travel or occupation. Only the president, vice-president, or secretary has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance or to extend or change the time for paying a premium. The company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made by any person other than the above. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I represent that all of the foregoing and following statements and answers are true, full and complete as contained in this application, whether written by my own hand or not, and are offered to Great Southern Life Insurance Company as a consideration for and as a basis of the contract with said company under any policy that may be issued upon this application. That no statements, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application other than those written and contained herein shall have any binding force or in any way affect the rights of the company. That this application and the policy which may be issued hereon is to be construed under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Texas.

PART II.—I have verified each of the foregoing answers made in the application for insurance and to the medical examiner, and adopted them as my own, whether written by me or not, and represent that they are full, complete and true answers to the questions against which they are written. And I agree that their truth shall be a condition precedent to any binding contract issued upon the faith of the said answers. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Great Western Life Insurance Company.

Twenty-Payment Life Policy—Guaranteed Annual Reduction

Amount, $10,000. Annual Premium, $383.40. Age, 35.

The Great Western Life Insurance Company, Kansas City, Mo., by this contract of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company, in Kansas City, Mo., as follows: To Mary Doe, the beneficiary, wife of the insured (with right of revocation reserved in the insured), immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this policy. The insured, John Doe, of Kansas City, county of Jackson, State of Missouri.

Total Disability Benefit.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid, and before default in payment of any subsequent premium, if due proofs shall be furnished to the company that the insured has become wholly disabled by bodily injured or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company will agree, by endorsement in writing on this contract, to pay the face amount of insurance under this policy, in twenty equal annual instalments, or ninety-three per cent. of the said face amount in fifteen equal annual instalments, or eighty-five per cent. of the said face amount in ten equal annual instalments to the insured or the executors of the insured, and will continue to make annual payments of the same amounts during the life of the insured, after the said twenty, fifteen or ten instalments shall have been paid; the said instalments and payments to be in lieu of all other benefits under this policy. The first instalment shall be paid immediately on acceptance by the company of due proofs of the said total disability. Payment of premiums on this policy shall cease when endorsement of the disability benefit shall have been made hereon. It is further agreed, that should the insured subsequently recover from the said disability, so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, payment of instalments shall immediately cease. This policy may then be reinstated for the full amount, and all the original benefits thereunder restored, without medical re-examination, on payment to the company of the total amount of instalments paid and of all arrears of premiums, with compound interest at five per cent. per annum; the said payment to be made in cash, or, if not in excess of the reserve on the policy, the amount of the said payment may remain as a loan on the policy subject to other loan provisions herein. Any medical adviser of this company shall have the privilege at any time to examine the insured regarding any alleged disability. This benefit shall not be available if disability occurs after the insured shall have attained the age of fifty-five years.

State of Missouri.—Insurance Department.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate deposited with this department.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions or restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death, from the date of its issue. Neither a permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace.

Grace in Payment of Premiums.—After this policy shall have been in force one year, thirty-one days of grace (without interest) will be allowed in payment of premiums, during which time the policy shall remain in full force.

Guaranteed Values Under This Policy.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable from date of issue.

Automatic Extended Insurance.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the full amount of insurance hereunder will, without action upon the part of the insured, automatically continue from said due date as term insurance, during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three of the accompanying table.

Loans.—At any time after two full years' premiums shall have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, on the execution of a proper loan agreement and upon proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security thereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than, the cash value at the end of said year, as shown in column one of the table of values given below; any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of the premiums due or to become due during the said policy year and interest on the said loan to the end of the said year shall be paid out of such advance. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable at the end of each policy year, and this interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured or of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

Paid-up Insurance.—In lieu of the automatic term insurance, the company will endorse on this policy the amount of paid-up life insurance, if any, specified in column two of the accompanying table upon written request therefor made by the insured within six months from said due date.

Cash Value.—Upon written request, and on surrender of this policy, the company will pay the cash value, if any, specified in column one of the accompanying table, which is the net value of the extended or paid-up insurance stated above. If any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall exist at the time the above values become available, such indebtedness shall reduce the amount of the said loan, cash or paid-up values, or shall shorten the extended insurance period, which values or period shall then be adjusted on the basis originally used in their calculation. The term insurance and paid-up insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans, nor to cash surrender values. The cash value and the net value of the term insurance and paid-up life insurance specified above shall not be less, at the time the same become available, than the reserve on the policy at the end of the year for which premiums are paid, less a sum not greater than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured under this policy.

In case of default in payment of a premium due at an intermediate period, the above values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired. Values for subsequent years not shown above will be based on the full reserve on this policy, and will be furnished on request of the insured.

ANNUITY OPTIONS.—(1) At the end of twenty years from date hereof, or, (2) on the anniversary nearest the age of 65 of the insured, if this policy be then in force for the face amount of insurance hereunder, and the extended insurance provision therein shall not have become operative, and no indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall exist, an annuity policy, in lieu of all other benefits hereunder, will be issued by the company on surrender of this policy, guaranteeing an income payable annually to the insured during his or her life, of the amounts stated below, the first payment thereof to be made on the following dates: (1) $470 on the twenty-second day of February, 1931, or (2) $830 on the twenty-second day of February, 1941. No fractional part of any annuity payment hereunder shall be payable on the death of the insured.

THIS POLICY IS INCONTESTABLE AFTER ONE YEAR, if all premiums shall have been duly paid. In case of suicide of the insured, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the total amount of the premiums paid.

GUARANTEED COUPON OPTIONS.

OPTION I.—Beginning with the second year, the annual premiums payable hereon may be reduced by the amounts shown on the coupons attached hereto and the company will accept, on the dates thereon, or within thirty-one days thereafter, the said coupons in partial payment of the annual premium then due. Any semi-annual or quarterly premiums payable hereunder may, on written request of the insured, be reduced by a proportionate part of the amount on the coupon payable in the year during which said semi-annual or quarterly premium becomes due, provided that the policy, with said coupon attached, is presented to the company for proper endorsement.

OPTION II.—If the premium for the year commencing on the date of any coupon shall have been paid in full in cash without use of the said coupon, the amount shown thereon shall be placed to the credit of the policy on the said date, and interest thereon, compounded annually at the rate of three and one-half per cent shall also be credited from the same date; any part of the amounts so credited may be withdrawn by the insured at any time and interest on the amount so withdrawn shall then cease. Any balance remaining to the credit of the policy under this option shall be paid in cash by the company to the insured or beneficiary in any settlement thereunder.

OPTION III.—If all premiums due hereon shall have been paid in full in cash, and all of the amounts credited as in Option II shall have remained with the company, the insured shall have the option, at the end of fifteen years from the date of the policy, of surrendering the accumulated amount of the coupon and interest credits to the company, whereupon this policy shall become fully paid-up, and endorsement to that effect shall be made by the company on the policy on presentation thereof at its home office.

OPTION IV.—If all premiums due hereon shall have been paid in full in cash, and all of the amounts credited as in Option II shall have remained with the company, at the end of thirty-one years from the date of the policy, it shall, at the option of the insured, mature as an endowment, and the amount thereof will then be paid in cash to the insured. Any balance of coupon accumulations above the amount necessary at net single premium rates to make the policy paid-up, or to mature it as an endowment for its face amount, under the above options, shall be paid in cash to the insured.

OPTION V.—If the premium for the year commencing on the date of any coupon shall have been paid in full in cash without use of the said coupon, the amount shown thereon may then, on written request of the insured, and on surrender of the coupon, be applied by the company as a single premium, at the company's rates now in force, and at the age of the insured at that time, to purchase additional paid-up non-participating life insurance, without medical examination. Such additional insurance may be surrendered on any subsequent anniversary of the policy for its legal cash surrender value, or the said value may be applied to reduce any subsequent premium.

The said additional insurance may be applied, on any policy anniversary, to increase the paid-up value, or its cash value applied to increase the cash or loan values, under this policy. The cash or paid-up values, so increased, and the accumulated coupon amounts, under Option II, are shown in the following table:

The above cash, loan and paid-up values shall be subject to the same conditions as similar values on the second page of this policy.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT, END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If all premiums on this policy shall have been paid in full, and all coupon accumulations shall have remained with the company until the end of twenty years, as in coupon option II herein, and no indebtedness to the company on account of the policy exists, the insured may then have the choice of one of the following options, on surrender of this policy: (1) Receive in cash $7739.70, or, (2) Receive a policy of paid-up life insurance of $10,000 and cash $2079.70, or, (3) Receive a policy of paid-up life insurance of $13,670, or, (4) Receive a policy guaranteeing a life annuity, first payment at the end of one year, $650. Option Three shall be available only upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company.

REINSTATEMENT PRIVILEGE.—At any time after default in payment of any premium hereon, or after any non-forfeiture or surrender value option except cash surrender value herein given shall have been taken, this policy may be reinstated to its original form and amount on payment to the company of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum; provided, that such reinstatement shall require evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. The first year's insurance under this policy is modified term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured may at any time and from time to time, subject to any existing assignment of the policy and during its continuance, name a new beneficiary with or without right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for payment of premiums, nor can the policy be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president or secretary, whose authority will not be delegated. (2) If the age of the insured shall have been incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured, unless a different method of adjustment be required by the laws of the state in which this policy shall be delivered. (3) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall be only as hereinbefore provided. (4) No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (5) Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any cash settlement of this policy or will reduce, proportionately, any other benefit thereunder. (6) The reserve on this policy shall be computed, for purposes of policy valuation and calculation of premiums and loans and surrender value benefits, by the first year preliminary term method, on the basis required by the laws of the State in which this policy shall be delivered, and the American Table of Morality and three and one-half per cent interest. (7) This policy and application therefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto. All statements of the insured in the said application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it be contained in the written application therefor and a copy of such application be attached to the policy when issued.

PREMIUMS.—The consideration for this insurance and all benefits hereunder shall be the declarations, answers and agreements made in the application for this policy, which is made a part hereof, and the payment of three hundred eighty-three and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars in advance on the twentysecond day of February, 1910, which sum consists of the initial reserve at the date of this policy and the term premium for an insurance commencing on the said date and terminating on the twenty-second day of February, 1911. In consideration of the said application and the payment to the company of a like amount at its home office, or upon the presentation of a receipt for the said amounts signed by the secretary, and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, on or before the same day in the succeeding nineteen years or until the prior death of the insured. This contract shall be renewed and continued as a limited payment life policy, subject to all of the provisions herein.

The insured shall have the privilege, on written request and on any anniversary of the date of this policy, of paying the premiums hereon semi-annually or quarterly, and such semi-annual premiums shall be fifty-two per cent and such quarterly premiums twenty-six and one-half per cent of any annual premium payable hereunder.

In witness whereof, the Great Western Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at the home office of the company at Kansas City, Mo., this twenty-second day of February, 1910.

The proceeds of this contract may be placed in trust to secure a guaranteed annual or monthly income.

OPTIONS AT THE DEATH OF THE INSURED.—The insured, by written notice to the company, at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect that the net sum payable under this policy at the death of the insured shall be payable either in cash or as follows:

OPTION 1.—On demand of the beneficiary, as may be directed by the insured in the said notice; interest on the said net sum, at the rate of three and one-half per cent., to be paid by the company annually to the beneficiary until the said net sum is paid on the said demand.

Option 2.—By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments for a specified number of years to the beneficiary or executors thereof, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of the said net sum. (See table, Option 2.)

OPTION 3.—By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, for a fixed period of twenty years, to the beneficiary or executors thereof, the said payments to continue during the life of the beneficiary after the said fixed period. (See table, Option 3.)

Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the beneficiary may, on any interest date, receive the amount of the said net sum yet due, under Option 1, or may, at any time, receive the amountof the said net sum yet due, under Option 1, or may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3 except after the death of the beneficiary occuring within the aforesaid twenty years.

OPTION 2.—LIMITED INCOME.—Income limited to one of the periods stated below; any number of years, from five to thirty, may be selected.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare and agree, That I am temperate in my habits, am now in good health and ordinarily have good health, and that in my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner no information has been withheld touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and present and prospective occupations, employments and residence, with which The Great Western Life Insurance Company should be made acquainted; and that the statements and answers to the printed questions above, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and be the basis of this contract. It is also understood and agreed on behalf of myself and of any beneficiary under any policy issued by the said company on my life, that the company shall incur no liability until this application has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered and paid for during my lifetime and good health; that in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which the insurance begins, the limit of recovery thereunder shall be the amount of premiums paid.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $ 7,500

Greensboro Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—INCOME INDEMNITY—PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $368.70. AGE, 35.

Greensboro Life Insurance Company, Greensboro, N. C., immediately upon receipt of proofs of the death of John Doe (the insured) will pay ten thousand dollars (the face amount of this policy) at its home office in the city of Greensboro, N. C., to Jane Doe, wife (the beneficiary) of the insured, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. But the company will pay double the face amount of this policy, or twenty thousand dollars in lieu of all other benefits if, while this policy is being maintained in full force by the payment of premiums as due, death of insured result from bodily injury caused solely by external, violent and accidental means, while insured is sane and sober, within ninety days after such injury.

Or, while this policy is being maintained in full force by the payment of premiums as due, in event, within twenty years from date hereof and prior to attaining age sixty, of insured's total and permanent blindness or deafenss, or loss of reason, or if the insured, from any cause originating after delivery of this policy become totally and permanently disabled from pursuing any useful or gainful occupation for life, while such disability remains total and permanent and not otherwise, (1) the company will continue this policy in full force in lieu of all other benefits for the face amount hereof; or (2) the company will pay the insured the face amount hereof in ten equal annual instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately upon receipt by the company of satisfactory proofs of any such continued disability or incapacity. Should the insured die before all of the ten instalments shall have been paid, then any remaining instalments will be continued to the beneficiary, or may be commuted and paid in one sum.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS.—If premiums are paid for seventeen years, then (1) at the end of seventeen years the insured may return this policy to be converted by endorsement into a paid-up participating policy, for the amount specified in the table of surrender values, payable at death; or, if all premium payments be continued the sum payable in event of the death of the insured shall be the amount in the table of surrender values under the head of "paid-up policy" set opposite the year in which death shall occur; or, if premiums are paid for twenty years, then (2) at the end of twenty years, the insured, if then surviving may at his option: (a) Retain this policy paid-up for the face amount hereof, payable at death, and may withdraw $1160 in cash, provided that any cash payable under this clause, may at the option of the company, be first applied toward the reduction of any indebtedness; or (b) may surrender this policy for the sum of $6420 in cash; or (c) may surrender this policy for a paid-up participating policy, payable at death for $12,200.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The insurance provided for by this policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance but, after the first year the annual premium may be paid by instalments as follows: Semi-annually in advance, $191.70 or quarterly in advance, $97.70. The payment of any such instalment shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than until the next instalment is due. This policy does not take effect until the first annual premium shall have been actually paid and the policy delivered during the lifetime and good health of the insured. Subsequent premiums are payable to the company at its home office, but may be paid to an authorized agent in exchange for an official receipt signed by the secretary or actuary and countersigned by the agent. In any settlement under this policy the remainder of the then current year's premium, if any, together with all indebtedness will be first deducted. In case of default in the payment of any premium or note given for any premium or portion thereof this policy shall cease and determine, and the payments received hereon shall be and become the property of the company, except as specified in the "automatically non-lapsing" provisions.

This policy is incontestable for the face amount after one year from date except for non-payment of premiums.

This contract is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which is made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of three hundred sixty-eight and $^{70}/_{100}$ dollars, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, as a premium for one year's term insurance, and in further consideration of the first year's premium will be renewed after said first year and be continued in force as a limited payment income indemnity policy from that date upon the payment of a like annual premium in advance on the first day of January in each year thereafter, until twenty premiums in all shall have been paid hereon, or until prior death of insured.

The benefits, privileges and provisions on the two succeeding pages are part of this contract.

Witness the signatures of the president and the secretary and the actuary of the company at Greensboro, N. C., this the first day of January, 1910.

BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

SURPLUS.—This policy while in full force by the payment of premiums as due, shall participate in the surplus earnings of the company, contributed by policies of its class, according to its contributions thereto, and the company will determine and account for its share of surplus at the end of seventeen years and annually thereafter. The surplus may be (1) withdrawn in cash; or (2) used to purchase additional paid-up insurance, provided satisfactory evidence of insurability is given; this will not be required if written notice of election of this option is given on or before the due date of the premium preceding the distribution.

SURRENDER VALUES.—Upon legal surrender of this policy after three full years' premiums have been paid and while in force or within one month after default in payment of any premium or instalment thereof, the company will issue in exchange: (a) A paid-up non-participating life policy, for the amount specified in the following table; or, at the option of the insured, (b) a paid-up non-participating term policy, for the face amount of this policy and for the term specified in the following table; or, (c) the cash value specified in the following table:

Values for other years furnished on request.

Any indebtedness against this policy will reduce the amount insured according to option (a) or (b) in the proportion that such indebtedness shall bear to the present value of the paid-up life policy, specified in the above table, or the paid-up term policy specified in the above table, as the case may be, computed according to the company's present standard.

CASH LOANS.—Upon satisfactory assignment of this policy as sole security, the company will advance a sum or sums not exceeding, together with all existing indebtedness and accrued interest thereon, the loan value specified in the above table. Interest payable in advance shall be at a rate not exceeding 6 per cent per annum. Failure to repay any loan or other indebtedness, upon one month's notice, will void this policy when such indebtedness, with accrued interest, shall equal or exceed the then loan value of this policy.

GRACE.—In the payment of every premium on this policy, except the first, and of every semi-annual or quarterly instalment thereof, a grace of one month will be allowed subject to interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, during which time this policy will remain in full force.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-LAPSING.—When any annual premium or instalment thereof shall not be paid when due, if the loan value specified in the above table shall be sufficient, over and above all indebtedness and accrued interest, to enable the amount, to complete the payment of premium to the next anniversary of this policy, to be advanced, then such amount shall be automatically advanced by the company as a loan against this policy, bearing interest at six per cent per annum and shall be applied to complete such payment; in such case the failure to pay the premium or instalment thereof shall not constitute a default and this policy shall continue in full force subject to such advance, as if the sum to complete the payment of premium to the next anniversary had been paid by the insured in cash; provided that, in case the net amount available to be advanced is insufficient to complete the payment of premium to the next anniversary, the loan value available at the last anniversary, less all indebtedness and accrued interest to date of default, shall be applied automatically under option (b) in the "surrender values' provision, to the purchase of paid-up non-participating term insurance.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured, or after the insured's death, the beneficiary, by written notice to the company at its home office, may elect to have the total sum payable under this policy, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By payment of equal annual instalments at the beginning of each year for a specified number of years the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said total sum; or (2) by payment of equal annual instalments, at the beginning of each year for twenty years certain and as many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said total sum.

The insured may subsequently change or revoke his selection under these instalment provisions by written notice to the company; such change or revocation to take effect upon receipt of such written notice at the home office of the company in Greensboro, N. C., and the endorsement of the same upon this policy, by the company.

Change of Beneficiary.—The insured may, while this policy is in force and unassigned change the beneficiary; such change will take effect only when endorsement thereof is made by the company upon this policy.

Assignment.—No assignment of this policy shall be valid unless made in writing, and unless the original, or a duplicate-original, be filed in the home office of the company. The company will not be responsible for the validity of any assignment.

Re-Instatement.—This policy may be re-instated at any time after default, upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and payment of defaulted premiums with interest not exceeding six per cent per annum.

Understatement of Age.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the amount of premium paid would have purchased at the true age.

Double Insurance, Permanent Disability.—In event of insured engaging in military or naval service in time of war, or in event of death or permanent disability resulting from actual or attempted violation of law, all provisions for double insurance and permanent disability shall be null and void.

General Provisions.—(1) Only the president, vice-president, secretary or actuary has power (and then only in writing endorsed hereon) to make, modify or alter this contract, or to bind the company by making any promise, or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy; and no such statement shall void the policy unless it is included in the application. (2) All statements by the insured in the application for this policy shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. (3) The present mortality standard of the company is the American Experience Table of Mortality, and the present interest standard is four (4) per cent per annum. The reserve on this policy is computed in accordance therewith. (4) This policy together with application therefor constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured.

Agreement in Application.

(1) I hereby declare and agree that I will not within one year from the date of any policy issued under this application, travel or reside South of the Tropic of Cancer; and that I will not during said one year stated, engage in blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of highly inflammable or exlposive substances, or serve upon any railroad train or track, or on any steam or other vessel or in switching or in coupling cars, or other hazardous occupations, except upon the written permission of the company in every such case. (2) That self destruction whether sane or insane, or death resulting from actual or attempted violation of law are risks not assumed by the company within the said one year. (3) That the proofs of death required shall be made upon blanks furnished by the company, and shall include all information required thereby. (4) That all provisions of law forbidding any physician who has, or shall have attended me, from disclosing any and all information which he acquired or may acquire by such attendance, are hereby expressly waived, and such waiver is part of the consideration for any policy to be issued hereunder.

*Adopted January 1, 1910.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5,000.

Guarantee Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $375.60. AGE, 35.

The Guarantee Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the annual premium of three hundred seventy-five and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars, hereby insures the life of Richard Roe, the insured, of Houston, in the State of Texas, for the term ending with the first day of January one year from the date hereof, and agrees that such insurance shall be renewed for the whole period of the insured's life by the payment of three hundred seventy-five and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of January, 1911, and on each succeeding anniversary of said date until twenty full annual premiums in all shall have been paid; and by such insurance, promises upon surrender of the policy to pay ten thousand dollars, to his wife, Mary Roe, if living, otherwise to his executors or administrators, at the home office of the company in the city of Houston, Texas, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this contract.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above, as follows: $195.30 on the first day of January and July, or $99.50 on the first day of January, April, July and October, except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT—STATE OF TEXAS.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, August 10, 1907.

This is to certify that the Guarantee Life Insurance Company, of Houston, Texas, has this day deposited with this department, one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in approved legal securities for the benefit of all policy holders alike.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy may be changed by the insured at any time, and from time to time, during its continuance, unless prohibited by legislative enactment, provided the policy has not been assigned, by filing with the company the written request of the insured, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy for endorsement, such change, however, to take effect only on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary the proceeds of this policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

SUICIDE.—This policy does not insure against the death of the insured caused by his or her own hand or act while sane or insane during the first year from the date hereof.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. This policy contains the entire contract between the parties and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statements shall be used as a defence to a claim under this policy unless it be contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is paid and the policy actually delivered during the life and good health of the insured.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any balance of the premium for the current policy year and all other indebtedness to the company shall at all times be a lien upon this policy and will be deducted from any settlement thereunder. If any premium or any note given for any premium is not paid on or before the day when due, this policy shall terminate except as herein provided. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance as provided below, this policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the full net reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy, computed according to the American Exprience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee, if any. No conditions other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a pre-requisite to any such advance.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default without the right to loans, for its face amount, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the full reserve at the date of default on this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. Payment of such cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or for paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b). The figures in the following table are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy.

Values for years not specified in the above table will be based upon the full reserve on this policy according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. Figures for later years will be furnished upon request.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half per cent per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years or for so many years longer as the payee shall survive in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3), which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Agents are not authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time for paying premiums.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of January, 1910.

SURVIVORSHIP FUND.—The company agrees to create and maintain a survivorship fund by setting aside annually the sum of one dollar ($1.00) from each renewal premium paid on each one thousand dollars of insurance issued and continued in force in this class. The company also agrees to improve this fund at the average net rate of interest earned by the company upon its assets, not exceeding eight per cent per annum and compounded annually. The company further agrees to distribute the said survivorship fund among the surviving, persistent members of this class at the end of twenty years from the date of issue, in proportion to the net amount of insurance then in force on the life of each policyholder in said class. For purposes of computation and distribution, all policies containing this clause, issued during the same calendar year, shall constitute a class. Each surviving, persistent member of this class, at the end of twenty years from the date of issue, may use his or her proportion of the survivorship fund, in purchasing additional paid-up insurance, subject to satisfactory medical examination. This rider is attached to and made a part of policy No....., dated this first day of January, 1910.

SPECIAL DISABILITY FEATURE.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty years, shall furnish to the company satisfactory proof that he has become totally and permanently blind; or that he has suffered the loss of both legs, or of both arms; or that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy will agree to pay for the insured the subsequent annual premiums, if any, as they shall become due. Provided, however, that as often as required by the company the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of the disability; that, should the insured so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation he shall then resume payment of subsequent premiums as originally provided in the policy, and that, in case of such recovery the premiums so paid by the company, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the dates of the respective payments shall constitute an indebtedness on the policy and will be deducted from the amount payable in event of death or from any settlement under this policy. This rider is attached to and made a part of policy No....., dated this first day of January, 1910.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Guaranty Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $308. AGE, 35.

The Guaranty Life Insurance Company, of Davenport, Ia., hereby promises to pay ten thousand dollars, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of George Lynch, the insured, to Grace Lynch, wife of the insured, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application hereof, a copy of which application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto and is hereby made a part of the contract, and the payment in advance of the sum of three hundred and eight dollars, being the annual premium for one year's term insurance from the date hereof and the advance reserve required by law and the payment of the same sum on or before the first day of January in every year thereafter for nineteen years or until the prior death of the insured, as renewal premiums to complete the contract.

The privileges, provisions and conditions, loans and surrender values, written and printed on the following pages are a part of this contract, as fully as if they were recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In testimony whereof, the Guaranty Life Insurance Company, at its office in the city of Davenport, Ia., has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, and to be duly attested this first day of January, 1911.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY.—After three years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, and if any premiums shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness hereon, upon written request of the insured within three months from said due date and the legal surrender of this policy, the company will issue a paid-up life, non-participating policy for the amount specified in Column three (3) of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums haye been paid in full. This policy is automatically non-forfeitable as follows: If any premium after the first policy year shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insurance, without action of the insured, or payments of further premiums, will be continued as paid-up term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in Column two (2) of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full, but without cash or loan values.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, if any premium shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness hereon, upon written request of the insured within two months from the said due date, and the legal surrender of this policy, the company will pay in cash therefor the amount specified in Column one (1) of the accompanying Table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full.

TABLE OF LOAN AND NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.—The loan value in Column one (1) is available at the time of paying the premium for the year indicated.

Any unpaid indebtedness on account of this policy, will correspondingly decrease the values of the table. In case of default in payment of a premium due at an intermediate period the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for full year's premiums paid. Loan and cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy; figures will be furnished on request by the home office of the company.

THE INSURED IS ENTITLED TO CASH LOANS ON THE SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY AT ANY TIME AFTER THE PAYMENT OF THREE FULL YEARS' PREMIUMS.—The aggregate loans hereunder shall not exceed the sum stated in Column (1) of the following table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full. Any unpaid balance of the current years' premiums will be deducted from such loan value. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured. Interest will be at the rate of not more than six per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to pay ary loan or interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy, nor until one month after notice shall be mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of one month will be allowed, without interest, during which time the policy will remain in force.

REVIVAL OF POLICY.—If default be made in payment of premium, this policy, if not previously surrendered, may be restored to full force at any time within five years, upon certificate of good health being furnished by the insured and approved by the company and payment of all premiums past due, with not to exceed six per cent yearly interest.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company, at its home office, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy, such change to take effect only upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease; provided, however, that no such change of beneficiary shall be valid if the policy or any interest therein be assigned at the time of such change.

PROVISIONS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually, in advance, but may be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, in accordance with the rates endorsed hereon, and any future instalments of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid at the maturity of the policy shall be considered an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent or collector of the company on or before the date when due, in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by a general agent or collector of the company. If any premiums be not paid when due this policy shall be void, and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any payment or payments or in any settlement under this policy.

THE CONTRACT.—Agents are not authorized to make, alter, or discharge contracts, or to waive any of the provisions thereof, or to extend the insurance, or to grant permits, or to bind the company in any way.

ASSIGNMENTS.—If this policy shall be assigned, the assignment must be in writing, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such assignment unless the original or duplicate thereof, is filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

RESTRICTIONS.—This policy is free from all restrictions as to residence, travel and occupation, except that military or naval service in time of war is forbidden, unless a written permit therefor be granted by the company, which permit, if granted, will specify the extra premium charged for such service.

SUICIDE.—If within one year from date hereof the insured shall die by suicide, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of his or her criminal action, the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of the premiums paid on this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for the non-payment of premiums, or violations of its terms as to military or naval service in time of war.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured be misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount of insurance which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

NON-PARTICIPATING POLICY.—This policy is non-participating and therefore does not participate in the company's surplus.

POLICY PAYABLE.—This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Davenport, Ia. Before any amount shall be paid hereunder, due proofs of the death of the insured must be furnished. No suit or action shall be maintained on this policy unless it is commenced within three years from the time cause of action accrues.

APPLICATION.—This policy and the application therefore constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application, and a copy of such application shall be endorsed hereon or attached hereto.

RESERVE.—The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value is equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder, and it is at least equal to the present value of the extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options are equal to the said reserve at the time of extension or surrender less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The loan value is equal to the said reserve at the end of the year to which premium shall have been paid, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder.

BENEFICIARY.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—Written request specifying the number of instalments in which the amount insured under this policy is to be paid, or whether the instalments are to be continuous, must be made by the insured while this policy is in force; such request may subsequently be withdrawn or the number of instalments changed at any time during the continuance of the policy upon notice to the company in writing, such request or subsequent notice to be operative only upon endorsement by the company upon the policy. The amount of such instalments shall be based upon the amount insured under this policy together with any paid-up additions and shall be determined from the tables given below. The first instalment shall be payable at the same time that the original amount would have been payable under this policy, and subsequent instalments shall be payable on the succeeding anniversaries thereafter.

Each instalment under this policy will be increased by such annual dividend as may be apportioned by the company. At the time any instalment is due the remaining instalments, if any, may be commuted, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing, at the rate of three per cent per annum compound interest and the equivalent value withdrawn in one sum; provided, if the instalments be continuous, those instalments payable to the beneficiary more than twenty years after the maturity of the policy cannot be commuted. The legal holder hereof at the time the policy becomes a claim shall have the privilege of having the amount insured under the policy payable in instalments as herein provided, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing. If no one be designated as beneficiary, or if there be more than one beneficiary under this policy, it cannot be made payable in continuous instalments.

PROVISO.—The instalment privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than $1000.

ILLUSTRATION.—A policy under which $5000 is payable in one sum at death may be made payable in twenty annual instalments of $325 each ($65 per $1000), or if the beneficiary be thirty-five years of age at the death of the insured the policy may be made payable in annual instalments of $235 each ($47 per $1000), to continue for twenty years at least and as long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live. If the beneficiary die before twenty instalments be paid, the remaining instalments will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

PROTECTION IN THE EVENT OF TOTAL DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this contract and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of fifty-five shall immediately after the commencement of permanent total disability, furnish full particulars in writing to the company at its home office in Davenport, Ia., together with the then address and whereabouts of the insured and the medical examiner of the company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured in respect to any alleged permanent total disability in the manner and at all times as the medical examiner may require and that no claim on account of permanent total disability or for any advance payment shall arise or be valid or enforceable if there is a failure to comply with any of the foregoing provisions. If proofs, furnished satisfactorily show that insured, since such payment, has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing hereon, will continue the insurance in force during such disability without payment of premiums. If the insured shall furnish proof of like disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of fifty-five, the company will allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness on this contract. In either case, the values in the table on page two shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. But the foregoing may be modified as hereinafter provided if such disability shall commence before the insured shall have attained the age of fifty-five. Upon the written request of the insured and of the assignee and beneficiary, if any, after proof as afresaid, the company will pay in any contract year during such total and permanent disability, if there shall be no indebtedness against the contract, not more than one-twentieth of the amount originally insured as stated on the first page; or, if there shall be an indebtedness, not more than one-tewntieth of the difference between such indebtedness and the amount originally insured. Each such payment shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance then in force and the proportion of such payments to the amount originally insured shall reduce the values set forth in the table on page two. And if and when the payments so made shall together with any indebtedness, to the company, equal the amount originally insured, the company's obligations under the contract shall be fully satisfied and discharged. In addition to or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists or of both feet at or above the ankles or of one entire hand and one entire foot as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that I am in good health and of sober and temperate habits, and that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that the foregoing, together with this declaration, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract for insurance hereby applied for. And it is agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and conditions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application

Hartford Life Insurance Company.

Twenty-Payment Life—Guaranteed Additions or Cash Coupons

Amount, $10,000. Annual Premium, $379.60. Age, 35.

The Hartford Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, which is the face amount hereof, upon receipt at the home office of the company of due proofs of the death of John Doe, the insured, during the continuance of this policy to the insured's wife, Mary Doe, the beneficiary, subject to the clause entitled Change of Beneficiary.

Guaranteed Addition Option.—In addition to the face amount the company agrees to pay at the same time one hundred eighty dollars for each policy year that has been completed, not in excess of nineteen years, provided no coupons attached hereto have been surrendered and each full premium is paid when due; or Cash Coupon Option.—The insured may surrender each coupon, while this policy is in full force, on or after the date specified thereon for an amount of cash equal to the full net single premium by the American Experience Table and three and one-half per cent interest for the amount of insurance specified thereon, which at the said date is the amount written on the coupon; provided that premiums are paid in full to the end of the policy year commencing on the date specified on the coupon and that all previous coupons have been or are at the same time surrendered, and that the indebtedness against this policy, if any, does not exceed the loan value with all due coupons surrendered. When any coupon or coupons have been surrendered, any coupon thereafter becoming due, if not surrendered on the due date, will have a surrender value equal to its initial cash value with interest at three and one-half per cent.

Face Amount Paid-up in Fifteen Years.—If no coupons attached hereto are surrendered and premiums are paid for fifteen full years the company will continue this policy as a paid-up life policy for the face amount without further payment of premiums, provided there is no indebtedness outstanding against this policy.

Guaranteed Contract.—The cost of this insurance does not depend upon the profits of the company nor does this policy participate in any such profits.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is attached hereto and which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of the annual premium of three hundred seventy-nine and $^{60}/_{100}$ dollars, on or before delivery hereof (being the premium for one year's term insurance and the legal reserve required) and of a like amount on or before the seventeenth day of January, in each and every year thereafter until premiums for twenty full years have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

Payment of Premiums.—Premiums on this contract are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for a receipt signed by the president or a secretary and countersigned by said agent, if such payment is made in cash within the time limit and under the conditions hereinafter recorded. A grace of thirty-one days, without interest charge, will be allowed for the payment of all premiums, except the first, during which time the policy shall remain in force for its full amount. If any premium or note for any premium is not paid when due, the company's liability hereunder shall cease, except as provided under the clauses entitled cash surrender value, paid-up insurance, and automatic extended insurance. The payment premiums may be changed from annual, semi-annual, or quarterly payment to any other of these three modes upon the written request of the insured, except that the assent of the assignee will be required if the policy is assigned.

Incontestability.—This instrument contains the entire contract between the parties and, after one year from date hereof, shall be incontestable except for default in the payment of premiums. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. No suit shall be brought against the company under this contract by reason of the death of the insured, after six years from the actual date of said death.

Change of Beneficiary.—At any time during the continuance of this policy the insured individually with the consent of the company, shall have the right to change and successively change the beneficiary, provided said policy is returned to the company for endorsement with a duly executed request for such change upon the form furnished by the company for such purpose, and further provided that any change in benefit shall be subject to the rights of any assignee at the time of such change. If no beneficiary is living at the death of the insured, all beneficial interest in this policy shall vest in the executors, administrators, or assigns of said insured, unless otherwise stipulated herein.

Loan Value.—At any time after the premiums for three full years have been paid hereon, this policy being in full force and effect and not then assigned, the company will loan, upon the proper assignment and deposit of this policy as sole security, a sum not exceeding the amount specified for the current policy year in the table found elsewhere herein. Said loan to be subject to an interest charge in advance at the rate of five per cent per annum, and to the payment of the premium in full to the end of the current policy year, and said loan to include any unpaid indebtedness on this contract. Failure to repay this loan or to pay interest on the same shall void this policy only in case the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the total loan value at the time of such failure, provided that the policy shall not become void in any event until thirty-one days after the company shall have mailed a notice of such fact to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—After premiums for three full years have been paid, if any subsequent premium be due and unpaid, upon application within the grace period above specified and upon legal surrender of this policy, the company will pay to the insured the cash value specified in the table herein, for the last policy year for which full premiums have been paid, less any indebtedness outstanding against this policy. § The cash surrender value is not less than the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance. After this policy is paid-up in full, upon legal surrender of the policy, the company will pay to the insured the cash value thereof, which cash value shall be the entire reserve of the policy with no deductions, less any indebtedness outstanding against this policy.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After premiums for three full years have been paid, if any subsequent premium be not paid when due, and provided there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, upon application within the grace period for such option, the company will continue this contract as a paid-up, non-participating stock life policy for such amount as is specified in the table of paid-up insurance hereinafter printed, for the last year to which full premiums have been paid to the company, which amount shall constitute the company's sole liability hereunder. If, however, there is an indebtedness to the company against this policy, the amount of said indebtedness shall be deducted from the cash surrender value thereof, and the balance, if any, shall be applied as a net single premium toward the purchase of paid-up, non-participating stock life insurance.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After premiums for three full years have been paid, if any subsequent premium be not paid when due, and provided there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, this contract shall, by its own terms, become a paid-up, non-participating stock term policy, insuring the face amount for such time as is set forth in the table hereinafter printed, for the last year to which full premiums have been paid. If, however, there is an indebtedness to the company against this policy, it shall be deducted from the net value of the extended insurance and the balance, if any, shall be applied as a net single premium toward the purchase of non-participating stock term insurance for the face amount.

* Years, months and days will begin at twelve o'clock noon, standard time, where the insured dies, on the date of this policy upon which default in the payment of any premium occurs. The term of months will end at twelve o'clock noon, standard time, on that day of the last month of the term which corresponds in number to the day on which the term began, if there is such an one, and, if not, on the last day of that month.

The values stated in the above table and the options referring thereto are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent, and all are at least equivalent to the reserve for the end of the current year computed as above, less two and one-half per cent of the face amount of the policy. All value for later years, will be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve of the policy with no deductions. The total insurance payable remains at the rate of $1342 per $1000 face amount after the twentieth policy year if no coupons have been surrendered. Values for later years will be furnished upon request.

§ If premiums on this policy are paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits in addition to those stated in the above table for that portion of the year's premium that may have been paid over and above a number of full year's premiums.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time within five years from date of default in the payment of any premium, this policy, if not previously surrendered, will be reinstated as of the date of such default, provided the overdue premiums are paid to the company, together with interest on the same at the rate of five per cent per annum and evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company is submitted. Any indebtedness existing at the date of lapse, must be either paid or reinstated. Interest thereon, at the above rate, will be charged.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—This policy, while in full force, may be changed without medical examination to any other non-participating plan in use by the company at the time this policy was issued, except the continuous instalment and continuous monthly income plans, provided the rate of premium will not thereby be diminished, on the payment of such an amount as may be required by the company for such change; except that the company may demand satisfactory evidence of insurability if a disability clause is attached to this contract. The new policy shall be written at the same age, bear the same number and date, and be for the same amount as this policy, and all parties in interest must join in the request for change and execute such papers as the company may require.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company will not recognize any assignment of this policy until the original instrument or a duplicate of same be deposited with the company and the receipt thereof acknowledged. The company assumes no responsibility whatever for the validity of any assignment.

SETTLEMENT.—In any settlement under this policy any indebtedness to the company hereon will be deducted. In the settlement of this policy as a death claim any balance of the premium for the current policy year in which the insured dies will be deducted.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, with the assent of the assignee, if any, may elect, with the right of revocation, to have the proceeds of this policy, if not less than $1000, paid according to any one of Options A, B, C or D, hereinafter printed, by filing such form of request as the company may require; such election or revocation to become operative only when indorsed upon the policy at the company's home office. No instalments thus chosen may be assigned, alienated, or commuted by the recipient thereof, except upon the written authority of the insured filed with the company. If the insured shall not have made such election, the beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled to receive said proceeds may, when the same become payable, exercise the same right of election. If no beneficiary survives the insured, said proceeds will be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the person designated in this policy. At the death of the last recipient of any instalments under such options, subsequent to the death of the insured, any instalments under Option A or any stipulated instalments under Option B then remaining unpaid will be commuted upon the basis of three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators, or assigns of said recipient, and any balance under Option C will be paid in like manner. Provision may be made for the payment of a portion of the proceeds in cash and the remainder, if not less than $1000, under one of said options. Semi-annual, quarterly, or monthly instalments may be taken in lieu of annual instalments. The company may require proof at any time, when payments under these options are being made, that the beneficiary thereof is alive.

OPTION A.—A specified number of equal annual instalments, each of an amount (for each $1000 of said proceeds) corresponding to the number of instalments shown in the first table following, first payment immediate.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If payment by fifteen instalments is selected the amount of each instalment will be $83.88 for each $1000 of insurance.

OPTION B.—Equal annual instalments for a stipulated number of years and as much longer as the beneficiary shall live, each of an amount (for each $1000 of said proceeds) as shown in the accompanying table corresponding to the number of instalments selected and the age of the beneficiary last birthday at the death of the insured, first payment immediate. If said beneficiary shall die after receiving one or more instalments, the remainder of the stipulated instalments will be paid as they fall due to the contingent beneficiary or beneficiaries, if any be named.

Option C.—Equal annual instalments, each of such amount as may be elected, to continue until said proceeds, together with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, are exhausted; provided that the final instalment shall be for the balance only of said proceeds and interest.

Option D.—The proceeds of this policy, or any part thereof, but not less than $1000 may be left in trust with the company, and the company will pay interest thereon annually at three and one-half per cent, first interest payment to be made one year from the receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured. Said trust is to terminate and proceeds of this policy to be paid as provided in the election of this option, but in any case the duration of this trust shall not exceed the lifetime of the last surviving beneficiary.

Agents are not authorized to modify this policy, or to extend the time, or to pay a premium.

In witness whereof, the Hartford Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by two of its officers in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, on this seventeenth day of January, 1912.

Sample Coupon.—On or after January 17, 1913, provided the premium on Policy No..... due on said date has been paid and no coupons on said policy have been surrendered. The Hartford Life Insurance Company will credit said policy with a paid-up insurance addition of one hundred eighty dollars, payable at the same time and under the same conditions as the face amount of said policy; or the entire net value of this addition by the American Experience Table and three and one-half per cent interest, initially amounting to sixty-eight dollars, may be drawn in cash by the insured upon surrender of this coupon at the home office of the company in Hartford, Conn., under the conditions of the clause in said policy entitled cash coupon option. The initial cash value for subsequent years is as follows: $69.40, $70.80, $72.30, $73.80, $75.40, $77, $78.60, $80.30, $82.10, $83.90, $85.70, $87.60, $89.50, $91.50, $93.50, $95.60, $97.70 and $99.80.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—ANNUAL DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $353.70. AGE, 35.

The Hartford Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is attached hereto and which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-three and $^{70}/_{100}$ dollars, on or before delivery hereof, (being the premium for one year's term insurance and the legal reserve required), hereby insures the life of John Doe (the insured) of Hartford, county of Hartford, in the State of Connecticut, for one year from the date hereof in the sum of ten thousand dollars; and in further consideration of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-three and $^{70}/_{100}$ dollars to be paid to the company on or before the thirty-first day of January in each and every year thereafter, for the succeeding period of nineteen years, agrees to renew this insurance as a limited payment life policy, and continue the same so long as said premiums are paid and its several conditions complied with; and by such insurance in each case, promises to pay ten thousand dollars to the insured's wife, Mary Doe (or such beneficiary designated as hereinafter provided), if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured upon receipt at the home office of the company, in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, of due proofs of the death of the above-named insured during the continuance of this policy; subject in all cases to the conditions, benefits and privileges stated on the second and third pages hereof, all of which are made a part of this contract as fully as if written over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Hartford Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by two of its officers, in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, on this thirty-first day of January, 1909.

CONDITIONS, BENEFITS AND PRIVILEGES.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This instrument contains the entire contract between the parties and, after two years from date hereof, shall be incontestable except for default in the payment of premiums, and military or naval service in time of war without the written consent of the company. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. No suit shall be brought against the company under this contract by reason of the death of the insured, after six years from the actual date of said death.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums on this contract are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for a receipt signed by the president or a secretary and countersigned by said agent, if such payment is made in cash within the time limit and under the conditions hereinafter recorded. A grace of thirty-one days will be allowed for the payment of all premiums, except the first, during which time the policy shall remain in force for its full amount. Interest at the rate of five per cent per annum may be charged for the time taken beyond the actual due date.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—At any time during the continuance of this policy the insured, with the consent of the company, shall have the right to change the beneficiary, provided said policy is not then assigned and is returned to the company with a duly executed request for such change upon the form furnished by the company for such purpose.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time within five years from date of default in the payment of any premium, this policy, if not previously surrendered, will be reinstated as of the date of such default, provided the overdue premiums are paid to the company, together with interest on the same, at the rate of five per cent per annum and evidence of insurability, satisfactory to the company, is submitted. Any indebtedness existing at the date of lapse, must be either paid or reinstated. Interest thereon, at the above rate, will be charged.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—After premiums for three full years have been paid, provided this policy is surrendered while it is in full force and effect in accordance with its terms, the company will pay to the insured for the legal surrender thereof the cash value specified in the table herein for the end of the last year to which full premiums have been paid to the company. The cash surrender value is not less than the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance.

LOAN VALUE.—At any time after the premiums for three full years have been paid hereon, this policy being in full force and effect and not then assigned, the company will, after written application upon the form of loan agreement then in use, loan the insured, upon the assignment and deposit of this policy as sole security, a sum not exceeding the amount specified for the end of the current policy year, in the table found elsewhere herein. Said loan to be subject to an interest charge in advance at the rate of five per cent per annum, and to the payment of the premium in full to the end of the current policy year, and said loan to include any unpaid indebtedness on this contract. Failure to repay this loan or to pay interest on the same shall void this policy only in case the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the total loan value at the time of such failure, provided that the policy shall not become void in any event until thirty-one days after the company shall have mailed a notice of such fact to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

PAID UP INSURANCE.—After premiums for three full years have been paid, if any subsequent premium be not paid when due and provided there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, upon application within the grace period for such option, the company will continue this contract as a non-participating, paid-up policy for such amount as is specified in the table of paid-up insurance hereinafter printed, at the end of the last year to which full premiums have been paid to the company, which amount shall constitute the company's sole liability hereunder If however, there is an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, the amount of said indebtedness shall be deducted from the cash surrender value thereof, and the balance, if any, shall be applied as a net single premium toward the purchase of paid-up insurance.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After premiums for three full years have been paid, if any subsequent premium be not paid when due, and provided there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, this contract shall, by its own terms, become a paid-up non-participating, term stock policy, insuring the principal sum for such time as is set forth in the table hereinafter printed, at the end of the last year to which full premiums have been paid. If, however, there is an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, it shall be deducted from the net value of the extended insurance and the balance, if any, shall be applied as a net single premium toward the purchase of non-participating temporary stock insurance in the amount of the principal sum.

The cash, loan and paid-up insurance values stated in the following table, apply to a policy for $1000. As this contract is for $10,000, the cash, loan or paid-up insurance available in any year will be ten times the amount stated in the table for that year. The period of paid-up extended insurance remains the same for a policy of any amount.

*Years, months and days will begin at twelve o'clock noon, standard time where the insured dies on the date of this policy upon which default in the payment of any premium occurs. The term of months will end at twelve o'clock, noon, standard time, on that day of the last month of the term which corresponds in number to the day on which the term began, if there is such an one, and, if not, on the last day of that month.

The values stated in the above table and the options referring thereto, are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent, and all are at least equivalent to the reserve for the end of the current year computed as above, less two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy.

All values for later years, except those for extended insurance, will be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve of the policy, with no deductions. For the purchase of extended insurance, there will be deducted from said reserve one-half of one per cent of the face of the policy. These values will be furnished upon request.

If premiums on this policy are paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits in addition to those stated in the above table for that portion of the year's premium that may have been paid over and above a number of full year's premiums.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the divisible surplus accruing to participating policies, which shall be determined and apportioned by the company; and, beginning at the end of the first policy year, the dividends shall be applied annually, as the insured may elect, under one of the following options, provided that each of the first two dividends shall be contingent upon the payment of the premiums for the next succeeding year. In the event of the insured not notifying the company in writing of the option chosen, the dividends will be applied under option 1 (a). (1) (a) Dividends will be paid in cash; or, (b) said dividends be used toward the payment of the premium for the next succeeding year of insurance; or, (2) dividends may be used for the purchase of paid-up, non-forfeitable, non-participating additions to this policy, or, (3) (a) dividends may remain with the company, and draw compound interest at three per cent per annum, payable on demand or upon maturity of the policy; or, (b) when the aggregate amount of the dividends accumulated in accordance with clause (a) of this option, together with reserve, shall equal the face of the policy, said policy shall be paid as an endowment; or, (4) dividends may apply to purchase pure endowment to accelerate the premium-payment period. When fully paid up, annual cash dividends will be paid thereafter.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.—Any dividend additions to the credit of this policy may be surrendered for their cash value, which value shall be equivalent to the entire reserve for such dividend additions, and applied toward the payment of the premium for the then next succeeding year of insurance. In event of the surrender, lapse or selection of any option under this policy, the benefit available will be increased by an amount equivalent to the entire reserve of all dividend additions then standing to the credit of the policy.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) The company will not recognize any assignment of this policy until the original instrument or a duplicate of same be deposited with the company and the receipt thereof acknowledged. The company assumes no responsibility whatever for the validity of any assignment. (2) In any settlement under this policy any indebtedness to the company hereon, including any balance of the premium for the current policy year, will be deducted. (3) Agents are not authorized to modify this policy, or to extend the time, or to pay a premium.

INSTALMENT OPTION.—The insured shall have the privilege, and may subsequently revoke such choice, if made, of changing the mode of payment of the face of this policy as a claim by death, providing said policy be not then assigned, from payment in one sum to payment in from two to twenty-five annual instalments, according to the accompanying table, the first instalment to be paid upon receipt at the home office of the company in the city of Hartford in the State of Connecticut of due proofs of the death of the insured.

*ILLUSTRATION.—If payment by 15 instalments is selected the amount of each instalment will be $81 for each $1,000 of insurance.

The beneficiary shall not have the right either to assign or commute unpaid instalments unless such right is delegated to said beneficiary in writing by the insured and endorsed upon the policy at the home office of the company and during the lifetime of said insured. If the beneficiary shall die before the payment of all instalments selected under this option, the remaining instalments shall be commuted in one sum at three per cent. (3%) interest and such amount paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

This option shall not apply to any policy, all or part of which is made payable to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any contract which may be issued upon this application, as follows: (1) That no statement or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application, or by or to any other person, shall be binding upon the company or shall in any manner affect its rights, unless reduced to writing and presented to and approved by the officers of the company at its home office, and I understand that all policies and agreements made by the said Hartford Life Insurance Company, are signed by one or more of its executive officers, and that no other person can grant insurance or make any agreement binding upon said company. (2) That in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from date of issue of the contract, the limit of the recovery thereunder shall be the premiums paid. (3) That every statement and answer hereinabove contained, and every statement I make to the company's medical examiner in Part II of this application, is true. (4) That the contract issued hereupon shall not take effect unless the first premium shall be actually paid to the company while I am in good health.

Home Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY YEAR ENDOWMENT POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $498.50. AGE, 35.

The Home Life Insurance Company of New York in consideration of the application for this policy, copy of which is endorsed hereon, and of the annual premium of four hundred ninety-eight and $^{50}/_{100}$ dollars, and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of January hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay at the home office of the company in the city of New York to John Goodman, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, on the first day of January, 1932 if the insured be then living, or upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the prior death of the insured, to Jane Goodman, his wife, beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year upon the surrender of this policy, duly released.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy filed with the company as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary, under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise herein provided.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to any agent of the company upon delivery on or before date due of a receipt signed by an executive officer, to wit: President, vice-president, or secretary of the company and countersigned by said agent.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of one month (but not less than thirty days) subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the period of grace, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and the proportion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon shall be ascertained and distributed annually by the company.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—At the option of the insured or the owner of this policy such dividends shall on the first day of January of each year be either (1) paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy.

AUTOMATIC.—Unless the insured or the owner shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the options above stated, the dividends shall be applied as per Option (3) to purchase paid-up additions which may be surrendered for cash at any time. The cash value thereof shall not be less than the original cash dividend as per Option (1).

APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS.—If the dividends be left to accumulate to the credit of the policy as per Option (4) above: (a) The insured may on any anniversary apply the accumulated amount to shorten the period during which premiums are payable hereunder. (b) Whenever the accumulated dividends together with the reserve on this policy shall equal the sum insured the company will upon the surrender of this policy, accompanied by legal release of all claims hereunder, pay the amount of said policy deducting any existing indebtedness.

SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS. MODE OF PAYMENT CHANGED.—The mode of premium payments may be changed by the owner of this policy by written notice to the company at its home office not less than forty-five days prior to any anniversary date, from annual payments to semi-annual or quarterly instalments, or vice versa, at the premium rates and on the conditions in force at the date hereof. Surrender and loan values are quoted in the table below for completed years only; but if a policy be continued in force by semi-annual or quarterly payment for a fraction of an additional year, the surrender values will be proportionately increased for the additional time the policy is thus maintained in force.

LOANS AND SURRENDER OPTIONS. LOANS POLICY SOLE SECURITY.—After two full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force the company will advance, within ninety days after an application for loan is received, on the execution of a proper certificate of indebtedness and assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof, an amount which with any existing loan hereon, and with interest to the end of the current policy-year on the total loan, and with any unpaid portion of said current policy-year's premium, shall be equal to or, at the option of the owner, less than the cash value at the end of such current policy year; interest on the loan will be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance and this interest if not paid annually shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the rate at which the loan is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years, the owner, within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, may elect (a) to surrender the policy for its cash value; or, (b) to have the insurance continued in force as term insurance from the date of such default, without future participation and without the right to loan or cash values, for an amount equal to the face amount of this policy and any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, and in addition thereto, if the value be sufficient, as herein set forth to purchase non-participating paid-up pure endowment; or, (c) to purchase participating paid-up endowment insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy.

CASH VALUE.—The cash value under Option (a) after premiums have been paid for two full years or more shall be the entire reserve at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, subject to the deduction of a surrender charge which in the second and third years shall be not more than one and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy and which will diminish in subsequent years until, after premiums have been paid for ten full years or more, there shall be no surrender charge. From such cash value any indebtedness to the company existing at date of surrender shall be deducted.

PAID-UP; OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—The term for which the insurance will be continued under Option (b), or the amount of the paid-up participating endowment insurance obtainable under Option (c), shall be such as the cash value less indebtedness obtainable under Option (a) will purchase at the attained age of the insured at date of default when applied as a net single premium according to the reserve basis aforesaid. If the cash value less indebtedness so applied to the purchase of term insurance shall be more than sufficient to continue the insurance to the end of the endowment period named in this policy, the excess of the cash value over the sum of the indebtedness and the single premium for the term insurance shall be used as a net single premium according to said table of mortality and rate of interest to purchase non-participating paid-up pure endowment, payable at the end of said endowment period if the insured be then living, but not otherwise.

TABLE OF MINIMUM LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

The figures in the following table give the minimum values available at the end of complete policy years if there be no indebtedness against the policy and provided premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated. These values will be increased on account of any dividends which have been allotted and have not been withdrawn in cash up to the date of surrender or loan. If there be any indebtedness to the company the figures will be modified as hereinbefore provided.

Values for later years will be computed upon the above stated basis and will be furnished upon request.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—On default in the payment of any premium hereon the insurance shall be continued, without action on the part of the insured, as paid-up non-participating term insurance as provided in Option (b) aforesaid if the insured shall not within three months after such default surrender this policy to the company at the home office for its cash value, or paid-up insurance.

PREMIUM LIENS. UNPAID PREMIUMS ADVANCED.—In lieu of automatic extended insurance the company will, on receipt of a satisfactory request from the owner hereof at any time prior to default in payment of any premium, advance the amount of any unpaid premium as a lien on the policy with interest in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum if, after deducting from the cash value all existing indebtedness and interest thereon to the end of the period to which the unpaid premium applies, the balance shall equal or exceed the overdue premium with interest to the same date. Subsequent premiums will in like manner be advanced from time to time as they fall due until the cash value as aforesaid is not sufficient to cover the accumulated indebtedness and advance the premium. Any indebtedness thus created shall be a first charge against the policy and all proceeds thereof, ranking in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee. If the cash value or balance thereof be not sufficient to pay the entire premium and interest it shall be used to pay a quarterly premium and if insufficient to pay an entire quarterly premium any excess of the cash value hereon over the indebtedness shall be used to purchase extended term insurance as aforesaid. At any time while the policy be thus continued the insured without medical re-examination may resume payment of premiums.

REINSTATEMENT. 5 YEARS AFTER DEFAULT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within five years from the date of default in the payment of any premium, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and upon the payment of the arrears of premiums and of any cash surrender value allowed to the insured with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, and, at the option of the insured, either (a) upon payment in cash to the company of any indebtedness which existed at said date of default together with interest thereon at the above rate, or (b) upon reinstatement of such indebtedness increased by the amount of interest thereon at the above rate, provided such reinstated increased indebtedness does not exceed the loan value at the date to which reinstatement is made.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS. FREE FROM CONDITIONS.—This policy and the application herefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and is free from conditions as to residence, travel, occupation, or military or naval service. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, or be used in defence of a claim hereunder, unless contained in the written application and unless a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued. This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date of issue.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

SUICIDE.—This policy shall become null and void if within one year from its date of issue the insured shall commit suicide.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless such assignment or a certified copy thereof be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTIONAL MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable either upon the death of the insured or on survivance of the endowment term, paid as follows instead of in one sum:

1. FIXED INSTALMENTS.—In equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum; or

2. INSTALMENTS 20 YEARS CERTAIN LIFE THEREAFTER.—In equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum; or

3. ANNUITY.—As an annuity during the life of the payee, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum, the last annuity payment to be the regular payment immediately preceding the death of the payee.

SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary contract shall be issued for the option elected, which shall specify to whom any unpaid instalments shall be paid in event of the death of the payee. Supplementary contracts for fixed instalment periods shall participate in surplus annually, as apportioned by the company. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee under options (1) or (2) may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option (1) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under Option (2), except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of January, 1912.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

Do you understand and agree that no statements, representations, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights unless such statements, representations or information be reduced to writing, and presented to and approved by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company; and that the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved, and a policy issued thereon and delivered during your life and continuance in good health, and until the full premium has been duly paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent, except that when the premium has been paid in advance to an authorized agent of the company and a conditional receipt on the company's authorized form has been given by such agent, the liability of the company shall be as stated in such conditional receipt.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

Home Life Insurance Company of America.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTCIPATING
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $386.80. AGE, 35.

The Home Life Insurance Company of America by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the executive offices of the company in Philadelphia, Pa., as follows:

THE BENEFICIARY.—To the estate of the insured immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the fact and cause of death of the insured during the continuance of this contract, and upon the surrender of this policy.

THE INSURED.—John Doe, of Philadelphia, county of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania.

VALUES OF THIS POLICY AT END OF TWENTY YEARS.—The insured, if living on the third day of February, 1932, provided the premiums theretofore payable in each insurance year shall have been paid in cash, may select one of the following options: (1) Continue contract without further payment of premiums. (2) A cash payment of $5660. (3) An annual income of $441.30. Payable during the natural life of the insured.

STATE OF DELAWARE.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

This policy is registered and secured by a deposit of approved securities deposited with this department as provided by law.

PREMIUMS PAID BY COMPANY ON TOTAL DISABILITY.—If, after this policy has been in force for one full year, and provided that the insured be then under sixty years of age, in connection with the payment of any subsequent premiums, the insured shall furnish, while the policy is still in force, satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, then such premiums shall be paid by the company and not charged as liens against the policy. In such event the loan and other values of this policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover, so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums, in accordance with the terms of the policy, on the premium due date next succeeding such recovery.

CONSIDERATION.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the written and printed application for this policy, which consists of Part I, and the statements made to the medical examiner, designated as Part II, copies of which are hereto attached, and made a part of this contract, and the delivery of this policy during the lifetime and good health of the insured, and the payment of $386.80 on or before the third day of February in the year 1912, being the premium for one year's term insurance. It is further agreed that at the expiration of this period of one year, this policy shall become a limited payment life policy from that date upon the payment to the company of a like premium on or before the first day of February in each year during the continuance of this policy or until renewal premiums for nineteen complete years in all shall have been paid.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, on the basis of a one year term insurance for the first year, and thereafter on the nineteen limited payment life plan at an advance of one year in the entry age of the insured.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in full force, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of the policy, and upon the sole security thereof, an amount, which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year shall not exceed the cash surrender value, at the end of the said year; deducting therefrom any unpaid portion of the premium for said current policy year, any existing indebtedness on the policy, and interest on the loan to the end of the current policy year; interest on the loan will be at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable annually in advance. Failure to repay any of the loan, or to pay interest, shall not avoid the policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal its cash surrender value, nor until thirty-one days after notice of the fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the owner of the policy.

PREMIUM LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, if any premium on this policy or instalment thereof, be not paid when due, or within thirty-one days, the company will charge against the loan value of this policy, in accordance with the provisions for loans, such premium with interest, at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable annually in advance, provided that such loan value is sufficient. The balance of value, if any, not thus used, shall be applied in accordance with the non-forfeiture provisions in the policy. This action of the company is contingent upon the filing of a request for such premium loan by the owner of the policy at the executive offices, while there is no default in the payment of any premiums, and such request is revocable as to any future premiums.

INSURANCE BEGINS on February third, 1912, at twelve o'clock noon and the insurance years, the provisions for cash loans, cash values, paid-up and extended term insurance are computed from that date.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy shall lapse through non-payment of premium, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the company will secure to the owner of the policy, a form of insurance, the net value of which shall be the reserve on the policy at the date of lapse, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not to exceed one-fifth of the said reserve, nor one per cent of the face of the policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy. At the end of the tenth and succeeding years, said net value shall be the full reserve, without any surrender charge. The net value shall constitute the cash surrender value of the policy. This non-forfeiture value shall be secured to the owner of the policy through one of the following provisions: (First) The automatic extension of the net amount insured by this policy, is shown in the table below, for the number of years and months, at the expiration of which time the insurance shall cease, or (Second) the issue of paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for the amount shown in the table below, upon the written application therefor by the owner of the policy, and the legal surrender of all claims thereunder to the company at its executive offices, within thirty-one days after lapse, or (third) the payment of the cash surrender value shown in the table below, upon the written application therefor by the owner of the policy, and the legal surrender of all claims thereunder to the company at its executive offices within thirty-one days after lapse.

The figures in the following table are computed according to the provisions of this policy and upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated below, and that there is no indebtedness on the policy. The stipulated value shall be correspondingly increased for any fractional portion of a year's premium which has been paid. Should any indebtedness exist, it shall be deducted from the cash value of the policy and the other values shall be correspondingly reduced. The cash value of the paid-up or extended insurance granted upon the lapse of this policy will be the full reserve at the time of surrender, less any indebtedness to the company under the policy, and will be paid to the owner thereof, upon written request and proper release.

PROVISIONS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—(a) Premiums are due and payable on the first day of the month of February each year, but may be paid in semi-annual instalments of $199.10, or quarterly instalments of $102.50. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment of premium. (b) Notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereon is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Premiums are payable in advance at the executive offices, or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before the date due, of a receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer of the company and duly countersigned by said agent. (c) A grace of thirty-one days (without interest) shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occurs within the thirty-one days of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year, shall be deducted from the current amount payable hereunder. (d) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall only be as herein provided.

2. RE-INSTATEMENT.—In case of default in the payment of any premium or interest, the company will reinstate the policy at any time, upon written application by the insured to the company at its executive offices with evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, payment of all premiums that would have been paid in the intervening time, if no default had been made, with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, computed from the premium due date, and payment or re-instatement, with interest at a like rate of any indebtedness existing at the time of default, or of any sum paid as a cash surrender value.

3. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, at any time, change the beneficiary under this policy, with the written approval of the company, and with corresponding endorsement upon the policy whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there shall be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

4. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its executive offices. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignments.

5. Misstatement of Age.—If the age of the insured has been misstated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof.

6. Alteration of Contract.—No person except the president or secretary of the company has power to modify or, in the event of lapse, to re-instate this policy, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

7. Indebtedness.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit hereunder.

8. Incontestability.—This policy and the application herefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations, and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it be contained in a written application and a copy of such application endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

9. Suicide.—In case of suicide committed, while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premiums paid.

No suit or action at law or in equity shall be maintained hereon unless actually begun within two years after the cause of action shall accrue.

10. Instalment Options.—The insured may, at any time, change the payment of this policy from one sum to such instalments as are desired, with the written approval of the company, and with the corresponding endorsements upon the policy.

11. Stock Option.—An option for the purchase of shares of the capital stock of the company at twenty dollars per share (par value ten dollars) is extended to all persons who take insurance in the company; based upon the ratio of five shares for every one thousand purchased, the conditions thereof being contained in the option forwarded with the policy.

Guaranteed Cash Bonus Supplemental Agreement.—Issued with and forming part of policy No. 09876 and subject to all the conditions contained in said policy.

On payment of the second and subsequent annual premiums, the company will allow a cash bonus equal to twenty per cent of each annual premium.

The insured may select any one of the three following options: (1) To apply the bonus towards paying the premium then due, by surrendering the corresponding coupon, and paying the full premium less the bonus. (2) To apply the bonus towards the purchase of paid-up additions to the face of the policy, by surrendering the corresponding coupon, and paying the full premium. On any subsequent anniversary the insured may surrender any or all of such paid-up additions for the cash value on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent. (3) To leave the bonus with the company to accumulate at the rate of three and one-half per cent compound interest, by paying the full premium and retaining the corresponding coupon. At any time the insured may surrender any or all of such retained coupons and receive their value in cash together with the accumulated interest.

In the event of the premiums on the policy being paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, the corresponding bonus will be allowed in instalments on the following basis: For bonus on basis of semi-annual premiums, add three per cent and divide by two. For bonus on basis of quarterly premiums, add six per cent and divide by four.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any contract which may be issued upon this application, as follows: (1) That no statements or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application or by or to any other person shall be binding upon the company or shall in any manner affect its rights, unless reduced to writing and presented to and approved by the officers of the company at its home office. (2) That in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from date of the contract issued, the limit of the recovery thereunder, shall be the premiums paid. (3) That every statement and answer hereinabove contained and every statement I make to the company's medical examiner in Part II of this application is true; and that the contract issued hereupon shall not take effect unless the first premium shall be actually paid while I am in good health.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

*Adopted January 1, 1908.

Illinois Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.90. AGE, 35.

Illinois Life Insurance Company agrees to pay the principal amount of ten thousand dollars together with such fully paid additions as may have been credited to this policy, as provided on the second page hereof, to Martha Priscilla Brown, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, at the head office of the company, in Chicago, Ill., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Gordon Brown, the insured, of Chicago, county of Cook, State of Illinois, provided this policy is in force at the time of the death of insured.

YEARLY SURRENDER OPTIONS.—All premiums hereon having been paid in full in cash, and this policy being free from indebtedness, the insured, upon surrender and cancellation thereof on the second anniversary of its date of issue, or upon the date upon which any subsequent annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium may become due, a thirty days' previous notice in writing of insured's intention so to surrender having been furnished to the company at its head office, will be entitled to one of the following options, the respective values or extensions thereof being shown in the tables of values on the fourth page hereof, which said tables, with the explanation, illustration and statements prefatory thereto are a part of this policy: First option, cash; second option, paid-up insurance; third option, extended insurance.

NOTE.—The election of the second or third option will be evidenced by the issuance of a new policy in lieu of this policy.

Cash loans, after one year, as provided on second page hereof.

This is to certify that Illinois Life Insurance Company will pay to the beneficiary under policy No. ....., issued by said company, the sum of one hundred dollars within three days after the receipt of this certificate, in the event of the death of said insured while said policy is in force for the full face amount thereof; provided said certificate is accompanied by an affidavit, stating the fact of the death of the insured thereunder, and the time, place and cause thereof, duly executed by the said beneficiary and by the judge or clerk of any court of record of the county in which the said insured resides at the time of his death or by any reputable physician, clergyman in good standing, or postmaster, residing in said county. The said payment shall apply on account of any amount due under said policy and being made in advance of the receipt of the customary detailed proofs of death satisfactory to the company, is made and accepted without any admission by the company of its liability on said policy.

ONE MONTH'S GRACE.—A grace of one month from the due date of any premium, during which period of grace the insurance shall remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of premiums hereon during the second and subsequent policy years subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum. In case of the death of the insured during said month, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the proceeds hereof.

POLICY AUTOMATICALLY CONTINUED.—Should the insured fail to pay any premium hereon, after premiums for three years have been paid, without having exercised any one of the several options set forth on the first page hereof, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, grant the third option (extended insurance) mentioned on the first page hereof. The company will revive and reinstate this policy at any time within five years of the date of default, upon being furnished with evidence satisfactory to it of the then insurability of the insured and payment of arrears of premiums and payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

As provided on the fourth page hereof, the term of automatic extended insurance will be increased if, at the time of default, there are any fully paid additions to the credit of this policy.

OPTIONAL CASH SETTLEMENT.—As provided by the laws of the State of Illinois, the right is reserved to the insured hereunder to surrender this policy to the company within thirty days of default in payment of any premium and receive in cash the full legal reserve value (American Experience three and one half per cent basis) of the extended insurance automatically available under the above provisions.

CASH LOANS.—The company will make loans on the sole security of this policy at any time, and from time to time after it has been in force one full year, charging interest in advance at not to exceed five per cent per annum. The company may require a thirty days' previous notice at its head office before making any loan, and will require the execution of a proper loan agreement and a proper assignment and delivery of this policy. The amount of loan available from time to time, as indicated on the fourth page hereof, shall be increased by the amount of the legal reserve (American Experience three and one-half per cent basis) on any fully paid additions to the credit of this policy, and shall be subject to the deduction of any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy, together with any unpaid balance of the premium for, and interest in advance on the loan to the end of, the policy year in which the loan is made. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay renewal interest thereon, shall not void this policy unless the total indebtednes on said policy shall equal or exceed the amount of loan available at the time of such failure; nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of any assignee of record at the head office of the company. In computing said "total indebtedness" interest if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of such loan and shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

SUICIDE.—Death by the insured's own hand or act, whether sane or insane, within two years from the date hereof, is a risk not assumed by the company, and in event of death as aforesaid, the liability of the insurer hereunder shall be limited to an amount equal to the premiums actually paid hereon.

MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE IN TIME OF WAR.—Shall not invalidate this insurance, but the insured shall be bound to pay to the company a single extra premium of fifty dollars for each one thousand dollars insured to cover the risk of such service, which extra premium, if not paid in cash, shall be a lien upon this policy with interest in advance at five per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without expense, at any time, and from time to time, during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, change the beneficiary, or beneficiaries, by written notice to the company, at its head office, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect only upon approval of the application therefor by the company and upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If the beneficiary last designated shall not be living at the death of the insured, the amount then insured by this policy shall be paid to the estate of the insured.

PREMIUMS, WHERE AND HOW PAYABLE.—All premiums hereon are due and payable in advance at the head office of the company in Chicago, Ill., but may be paid to agents of the company, in advance, in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent. A premium other than an annual will be accepted according to the table of payments endorsed hereon and made a part hereof; provided that the receipt of any such premium, less than a full annual, shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than three months in case of a quarterly premium, or six months in case of a semi-annual premium. Notice of every premium that may become due or payable hereunder is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and any further notice is expressly waived by the insured. Failure to pay any premium when due shall, except as herein otherwise provided, void this policy and forfeit all premiums paid hereon to the company, and terminate and forfeit the insured's right to pay any further premiums hereunder.

INSTALMENT OPTION.—The insured may at any time, provided this policy is not then assigned, change the manner of payment of the insurance hereunder from one payment to instalments in accordance with the provision headed "instalment benefits" and the tables thereunder, appearing on the third page of this policy. Such change will take effect upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

YEARLY ADDITIONS TO AMOUNT INSURED.—During twenty years from the date hereof, upon renewal of this policy at the end of each year by payment of premium for the policy year then beginning, it shall be credited with fully paid additions to the amount insured hereunder payable upon receipt of due proofs of death of the insured, to the beneficiary herein, in addition to the principal amount of this policy. The amount of this policy and the fully paid additions credited thereto, from time to time, and which includes additions previously credited, is shown in the table below opposite the number in the first column indicating the full years for which premiums have been paid.

The same privileges and conditions herein that apply to the surrender of this policy for a cash value shall apply also to the surrender of the fully paid additions hereon, and upon surrender of such fully paid additions the insured shall be entitled to receive as a cash value for such additions, the then full legal reserve value thereof according to the American Experience three and one half per cent basis.

THE COMPANY GUARANTEES.—(1) That when all premiums hereon, without reduction, have been paid for sixteen years, the then fully paid-up insurance value of this policy (available upon its surrender as elsewhere herein provided) and the additions thereto, payable upon the death of the insured, shall be $10,070.. (2) That when all premiums hereon, without reduction, have been paid for twenty years: (a) The then fully paid-up insurance value of this policy and the additions thereto, payable upon the death of the insured, shall be $12,460. (b) The then total cash surrender value of this policy and the additions thereto shall be $7500.

At the option of the insured, upon a written notice to the company at its head office thirty days prior to the due date of the second or any subsequent annual premium hereon, the insured may elect to avail himself of a guaranteed reduction in future premiums in lieu of receiving any further annual fully paid addition credits, as follow:

	Annual.	Semi-Annual	Quarterly.
Full premium	379.90	197.60	100.70
Annual guaranteed reduction commencing with premium for second year	64.60	32.30	16.10
Premium after reduction	315.30	165.30	84.60

Should the insured elect the premium reduction option within the first policy year, this policy is guaranteed to become fully paid-up for its principal amount, without addition credits, when premiums for twenty years shall have been duly paid.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, taken together, constitute the entire contract, which cannot be varied, except by the president or secretary of the company, in writing, and no condition, privilege, provision or modification of this contract endorsed hereon, or attached hereto, shall control or be binding upon the company, or in any manner be regarded as a part of this contract, unless such condition, privilege, provision or modification, so endorsed or attached, be duly signed by the president or secretary. (2) All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application, copy of which is attached hereto. (3) If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the actual premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured, according to the company's published rate at the date of the issue hereof. (4) Upon the maturity of this policy by the death of the insured, any unpaid balance of the annual premium for the current insurance year, together with any and all other indebtedness hereon shall be a first lien on this policy, and will be deducted and set off against any amount becoming due hereon. (5) The tables of values on the fourth page hereof apply only to policies free from indebtedness. On policies subject to indebtedness the benefits shown in said tables of values shall be reduced in the following manner: Any indebtedness, including any loan made on the security of this policy, shall first be deducted from the net reserve value of the benefit applied for (if application be duly made), or of the automatic extended insurance (if application be not duly made), the respective benefits indicated by said tables being proportionately reduced. (6) The failure to pay any premium hereon when due, or the maturity of this policy by death or otherwise, shall render any loan hereon forthwith due and payable. (7) Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and both copies sent to the head office, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. (8) No suit shall be brought or maintained to collect under this policy unless commenced within six years from the time the cause of action accrues, and within six years from the date of death of the insured. (9) This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or surplus of the company. (10) The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. (11) The cash loan and surrender values in this policy, to but not including the twentieth year, are based on the reserve hereon, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum, and for the twentieth and subsequent years according to the same table of mortality with interest at the rate of three per cent.

This policy shall be incontestable after two years for the amount due, except for the non-payment of premiums.

This agreement is made in consideration of the written and printed application therefor, which is hereby made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of three hundred seventy-nine and $^{90}/_{100}$ dollars (said payment comprising the advance reserve hereon set apart to the credit of this policy and the premium for term insurance terminating on the third day of January, 1911), and in further consideration of the renewal of this policy for the whole life period from above date by the payment of three hundred seventy-nine and $^{90}/_{100}$ dollars on the said third day of January, 1911, and the payment of a like sum on the third day of each January thereafter, until but not including the third day of January, 1930, after which no further payment of premiums will be required.

In witness whereof, the Illinois Life Insurance Company has caused this agreement to be signed by its president and secretary, and countersigned by its recorder or assistant recorder this third day of January, 1910.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may, at any time, change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death-claim, if the policy is not then assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments as stated below. Notwithstanding such change, however, the proceeds of the policy shall be paid in one sum only, if at the time of the death of the insured, such proceeds are less than $1000. The following tables are based upon a policy, the proceeds of which are $1000, and will apply pro rata to this policy.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

The insured having changed the mode of payment to annual instalments, may at any time subsequently change the number of instalments, as may be desired, and as above illustrated, or entirely revoke any change, thereby making the proceeds of this policy again payable in one sum. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. If the beneficiary shall survive the insured and shall die before all instalments have been duly paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. Each change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, must be requested by the insured in writing, and shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at the head office. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at the head office in Chicago, during the lifetime of the insured. If, however, the proceeds of this policy or any part thereof, are payable to executors, administrators or assigns, such proceeds shall be paid in one sum.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Indemnity Life and Accident Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $301.40. AGE, 35.

The Indemnity Life and Accident Company, of Minneapolis, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at its home office in Minneapolis, Minn., as follows: To (the beneficiary) Mary Doe, wife of the insured (with right of revocation reserved to the insured), immediately upon receipt of due proofs of death of the insured, during the continuance of this policy. (The insured) John Doe, of Minneapolis, county of Hennepin, State of Minnesota.

NOTE.—In case of death of insured under this policy, the beneficiary may, if an advance payment of $100 is desired to defray expenses before due proof is furnished and accepted by the company, cut out this certificate on lines shown and forward through local bank for payment.

CERTIFICATE FOR ADVANCE PAYMENT OF $100 AT DEATH.—The Indemnity Life and Accident Company hereby agrees to pay to the beneficiary under policy No. 000, issued by the said company, the sum of $100, within three days after the death of the insured thereunder while said policy is in force for the full face amount thereof, on receipt of this certificate; Provided, that the said certificate shall be accompanied by an affidavit, which shall state the fact of the death of the insured, and the time, place and cause thereof; said affidavit to be duly executed by the said beneficiary or by the judge or clerk of court of record of the county in which the said insured shall have resided at the time of his death, or by a reputable physician, clergyman in good standing, or postmaster of any town in said county. The said payment being made in advance of the receipt of detailed proofs of death satisfactory to the company, is made and accepted without any admission by the company of any liability on account of the said policy, and shall be understood to be made as part payment of any amount due thereunder.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions or restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death, from the date of its issue. Neither a permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid, and before default in payment of another premium, if due proofs shall be furnished to the company that the insured has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company will agree, by endorsement in writing on this contract, to pay two-thirds of the amount of insurance under this policy, in twenty annual instalments, to the insured or the executors of the insured, and will continue to make annual payments of the same amounts during the life of the insured after the said twenty instalments are paid; the said instalments and payments to be in lieu of all other benefits under this policy. The first instalment shall be paid immediately on acceptance by the company of due proofs of the said total disability. Payment of premiums on this policy shall cease when endorsement of the disability benefit has been made hereon. It is further agreed, that should the insured subsequently recover from the said disability, so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, payment of instalments shall immediately cease. This policy may then be reinstated for the full amount, and all the original benefits thereunder restored, without medical re-examination, on payment to the company of the total amount of instalments paid and of all arrears of premiums, with compound interest at five per cent per annum; the said payment to be made in cash, or, if not in excess of the reserve on the policy, the amount of the said payment may remain as a loan on the policy subject to other loan provisions herein. Any medical adviser of this company shall have the privilege at any time to examine the insured regarding any alleged disability. This benefit shall not be available if disability occurs after the insured shall have attained the age of fifty-five years.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy shall have been in force one year, thirty-one days of grace shall be allowed in payment of premiums, during which time the policy shall remain in force and the premium shall be subject to an interest charge at a yearly rate of five per cent. If death occurs during the said period, the amount of the unpaid premium, with interest, shall be deducted from the amount of the claim.

GUARANTEED VALUES UNDER THIS POLICY.

This Policy is Automatically Non-Forfeitable from Date of Issue.

LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums shall have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, on the execution of a proper loan agreement and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security thereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than, the cash value at the end of said year; any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of the premiums due or to become due during the said policy year and interest on the said loan to the end of the said year shall be paid out of such advance. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable at the end of each policy year, and this interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured or of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the full amount of insurance hereunder will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three of the accompanying table.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—In lieu of such term insurance, the company will endorse on this policy the amount of paid-up life insurance, if any, specified in column two of the accompanying table, upon written request therefor made by the insured within six months from said due date.

CASH VALUE.—Upon written request, and on surrender of this policy, the company will pay the cash value, if any, specified in column one of the accompanying table, which is the net value of the extended or paid-up insurance, stated above. If any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy exists at the time the above values become available, such indebtedness shall reduce the amount of the said loan, cash or paid-up values, or shall shorten the extended insurance period, which values or period shall then be adjusted on the basis originally used in their calculation. The term insurance and paid-up insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans. The cash value and the net value of the term insurance and paid-up insurance specified above shall not be less than the reserve on the policy at the end of the year for which premiums are paid, less a sum not greater than six-tenths of one per cent of the amount insured under this policy.

In case of default in payment of a premium due at an intermediate period, the above values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired. Loan and cash values for any subsequent years not shown above will be the full reserve on this policy.

This policy is incontestable after one year, if all premiums shall have been duly paid.

REINSTATEMENT PRIVILEGE.—At any time after default in payment of any premium hereon, or after any non-forfeiture or surrender value option except cash surrender value herein given shall have been taken, this policy may be reinstated to its original form and amount on payment to the company of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum; provided, that such reinstatement shall require evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured may at any time and from time to time, subject to any existing assignment of the policy and during its continuance, designate a new beneficiary with or without right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for payment of premiums, nor can the policy be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president or secretary, whose authority will not be delegated. (2) If the age of the insured shall have been incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured, unless a different method of adjustment be required by the laws of the State in which this policy shall be delivered. (3) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall be only as hereinbefore provided. (4) No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (5 Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit thereunder. (6) In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within two years from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the total amount of the premiums paid. (7) The reserve on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method, on the basis required by the law of the State in which this policy is delivered, and the American Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, for purposes of policy valuation and calculation of premiums and loan and surrender value benefits. (8) This policy and application therefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto. All statements of the insured in the said application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it be contained in the written application therefor and a copy of such application be attached to the policy when issued.

PREMIUMS.—The consideration for this insurance and all benefits hereunder shall be the declarations, answers and agreements made in the application for this policy, which is made a part thereof, and the payment of three hundred one and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars in advance before this contract shall take effect, as the premium for an insurance terminating on the first day of July, 1910.

In consideration of the said application and the payment to the company of a like amount, at its home office in Minneapolis, Minn., or upon the presentation of a receipt signed by the secretary of the company and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, on or before the first day of July in the succeeding nineteen years, or until the prior death of the insured, this contract shall be renewed and continued until the death of the insured

In witness whereof, the Indemnity Life and Accident Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary or assistant secretary, at the home office of the company at Minneapolis, Minn., this first day of July 1909.

OPTIONS AT THE DEATH OF THE INSURED.—The insured, by written notice to the company, at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect that the net sum payable under this policy at the death of the insured shall be payable either in cash or as follows:

OPTION 1.—On demand of the beneficiary, as may be directed by the insured in the said notice; interest on the said net sum, at the rate of three and one-half per cent to be paid by the company annually to the beneficiary until the said net sum is paid on the said demand.

OPTION 2.—By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments for a specified number of years to the beneficiary or executors thereof, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of the said net sum. (See table, Option 2.)

OPTION 3.—By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, for a fixed period of twenty years, to the beneficiary or executors thereof, the said payments to continue during the life of the beneficiary after the said fixed period. (See table, Option 3.) Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the beneficiary may, on any interest date, receive the amount of the said net sum yet due, under Option 1, or may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3 except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

LIFE INCOME.

OPTION 3.—Income, to be paid for at least 20 years, but to continue during entire lifetime of Beneficiary.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

I hereby certify that I have read all the statements and answers in this application, and declare that no circumstances or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers, as well as those made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, are true and shall be the basis of the contract hereby applied for, which shall not take effect until the first premium thereon shall have been actually paid and policy delivered to me during my lifetime and sound health.

ILLINOIS LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby declared and agreed: (1) That all the statements and answers in this application (in the part marked Part I, as well as those in the part marked Part II) are true, full and complete and I agree that if any of said answers are fraudulent that any policy issued upon this application shall be null and void. (2) That this application, of which this agreement forms a part, shall with any policy (whether of the kind applied for or otherwise) issued hereunder, and the benefits and conditions therein, be the sole basis of the contract between me and the company, and shall be binding on all parties in interest under such policy. (3) That inasmuch as only the officers at the head office of the company in the city of Chicago have authority to determine the terms and conditions upon which a policy shall issue on any application, no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to, the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of the company, at the head office, in this application. (4) That the company shall incur no liability under this application until the first premium has actually been paid to, and accepted by the company or its authorized agent, and this application has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company at the head office, and said policy actually delivered to and accepted by the insured. all during my lifetime and sound health. (5) That any policy that may be issued in pursuance of this application shall be in consideration of the statements, answers and agreement by me made in this application. (6) That the whole or any part of the risk herein proposed may be reinsured. (7) That my residing or traveling outside of the Temperate Zone, or engaging in any of the following occupations or employments, within two years from the date of the ploicy issued under this application, without first obtaining the company's written permission and the payment of the extra premium required therefor, will render such policy absolutely void, viz: Blasting; mining; sub-marine labor; aeronautic ascensions; the manufacture handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances; handling electric wires or dynamos; service on railroad trains (excepting as passenger or sleeping car or parlor car conductor; or, on dining cars or as baggageman, express agent, or railway postal clerk); switching or coupling cars; service on any steamboat or other vessel or boat, excepting as officer on river steamboat; service as bartender; or dealing in intoxicating liquors. (8) I hereby expressly waive all provisions of law forbidding any physician or surgeon from disclosing any information acquired while attending me in a professional capacity, and I hereby direct and authorize any said physician to make any and all disclousres of information desired by said company upon its application therefor.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Independent Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $307. AGE, 35.

The Independent Life Insurance Company of America, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the advance payment of three hundred and seven dollars, and the payment of a like amount on or before the first day of April in every year hereafter until twenty yearly premiums shall have been paid, does insure the life of George Graham, herein called the insured, of Nashville, county of Davidson, State of Tennessee, in the amount of ten thousand dollars, for the term of life, and promises to pay at its home office in the city of Nashville, Tenn., the amount of said insurance to his executors, administrators or assigns, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy. Any indebtedness to the company hereon, and any unpaid premium or unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall first be deducted.

DISABILITY PROVISION.—The company will pay for the insured the premiums required hereon for every policy year following the date of approval by the company of proof that the insured has become totally and permanently disabled as hereinafter defined, if premiums have been duly paid in cash by the insured to the end of the policy year in which such proof is approved. The premiums paid by the company in conformity with this provision will not be an indebtedness hereon, and this policy will continue in full force towards maturity, and with loan, cash and other guaranteed values increasing and progressing from year to year, in like manner as if the premiums were being duly and regularly paid by the insured. The total and permanent disability of the insured must be due to bodily injuries or disease occurring while this policy is in full force, and must be such as to prevent the insured then and at all times thereafter from engaging in any gainful occupation; provided, that if the insured should recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay further premiums shall cease and the insured be required to pay all premiums becoming due hereon after the date of such recovery. The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes or the total and permanent loss, by removal or by disease, of the use of both hands or of both feet, or such loss of the use of one hand and one foot, will be deemed total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

This policy is issued by the company, and accepted by the insured, upon the express conditions and agreements printed on the second page of this policy. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CONDITIONS AND AGREEMENTS.

I. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, or they may be paid to agents on or before dates when due in exchange for receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by agent. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures, to make, alter or discharge contracts, or to waive or postpone payment of premium. Should default be made in the payment of any premium within three years from the date hereof, this policy shall cease and determine and unless reinstated, all payments thereon shall remain the property of the company.

II. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which the policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums except the first, subject to an interest charge of not exceeding six per cent. In the event of death during said period the overdue premium will be deducted.

III. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except for engagaing in military or naval service in time of war without a written permit from the company; but if within one year from the date hereof the insured shall, whether sane or insane, die by his own hand, the liability of the company shall be limited to the return of one-half of the first year's premium on this policy.

IV. AGE.—Any error in statement of the age of the insured will be adjusted by the payment of such amount as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age, or by return of any excess of premium which may have been paid.

V. STATEMENTS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No such statement shall avoid or be used in defense to a claim under the policy unless it is contained in the application, a copy of which is hereto attached.

VI. RESERVE.—The reserve of this policy shall be in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent.

VII. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, at any time, within three years succeeding default in payment of any premium, will be reinstated, unless previously surrendered, upon request and production of evidence satisfactory to the company of insurability, and the payment of all overdue premiums, and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy, with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

VIII. MODE OF PAYING PREMIUMS.—The mode of premium payment may be changed from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa, at the premium rates in use by the company at the date hereof, but the payment of any premium shall not have the effect to continue this policy in full force longer than for the time specified in the receipt therefor

IX. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right of revocation is reserved in the application the insured shall have full power while this policy is in force (provided it is not then assigned) to change the present beneficiary or beneficiaries. Such change shall be made in writing and shall be valid only upon its endorsement on this policy by the Company at the home office.

X. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless made in writing and attached hereto and a duplicate thereof filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment. Satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest must be produced on making claim.

XI. PREMIUM LOANS.—After the third year, upon request of the owner of the policy, in writing to the home office made prior to default in any premium and during the time such request shall remain unrevoked, premiums on this policy not paid when due or within the period of grace will be charged as a premium loan with interest at not exceeding six per cent per annum in advance, provided the net cash surrender value shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium loan may be repaid at any time prior to default in premium payment or within one month subsequent thereto.

XII. CASH LOANS.—After three full year's premiums have been paid, upon request and the sole security of the policy properly assigned, the company will advance, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent, an amount equal to (or at the option of the insured less than) the cash surrender value of the policy, as indicated in the table below, less interest to the end of the current policy year, and any unpaid premium for the current policy year. There shall also be deducted from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy. Failure to pay either loan or interest shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness to the company on account thereof shall equal or exceed the cash value of the policy, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and any assignee.

XIII. NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy shall lapse because of non-payment of premiums, after three full year's premiums have been paid, the company will secure to the insured or assignee a form of insurance the net value of which shall be equal to the reserve on this policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company, and less a surrender charge not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy. This non-forfeiture shall be secured to the owner of the policy in one of the following ways: (First) The automatic extension of the face amount of this policy as non-participating term insurance, for such length of time from date of default (see table below) as the then net cash surrender value will purchase at the net single premium rate for the attained age of the insured, at the expiration of which time the insurance shall cease; or, (second) the issuance of paid-up non-participating insurance payable at death for the amount provided in the table below, upon written application therefor by the owner of this policy and the legal surrender of all claims under this policy to the company at its home office within one month after lapse; or, (third) the cash surrender value of the policy, as stated in the table below, will be paid ugon legal surrender of the policy and all claims thereunder to the company within one month after the lapse.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—The surrender and loan values given in the accompanying table are computed on the assumption that the premiums required by the Company have all been paid in full and that there is no indebtedness to the company under this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare and agree, that I am temperate in my habits, am now in good health and ordinarily have good health, and that in my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner no information has been withheld touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and present and prospective occupations, employments, and residence, with which the Independent Life Insurance Company should be made acquainted; and that the statements and answers to the printed questions above, together with this declaration, shall constitute the application and be the basis of this contract. It is also understood and agreed on behalf of myself and of any beneficiary under any policy issued by the said company on my life, that the company shall incur no liability until this application has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered and paid for during my lifetime and good health; and that the policy applied for shall be in the form now in use by the company; and that the place of contract shall be the City of Nashville, State of Tennessee.

* Adopted January, 1911.

Maximum amount carried on on life, $10,000.

Indiana National Life Insurance Company.

Twenty-Payment Life Policy—Guaranteed Premium Reduction.

Amount, $10,000. Annual Premium, $399.50. Age, 35.

Indiana National Life Insurance Company, Indianapolis, in consideration of the application for this policy, copy of which is attached hereto and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, and of the payment in advance of three hundred ninety-nine dollars and fifty cents, hereby insures the life of John Doe, the insured, for the term of one year from the date hereof, and upon due proof of the interest of the claimant and upon approval of satisfactory proof of the death of said insured while this policy is in force, and within sixty days after receipt of said proof, agrees to pay at its head office in the city of Indianapolis, Ind., ten thousand dollars (less any indebtedness due the company on this policy), to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, if living; otherwise, to the administrator, executors or assigns of the insured, subject to the privileges and conditions stated on the following pages hereof, which are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In further consideration of the premium for the first year this contract will be renewed on like terms as a limited payment guaranteed premium reduction policy by the payment of three hundred ninety-nine dollars and fifty cents on or before the first day of July, in each and every year hereafter, until premiums have been paid for twenty years from date of issue, or until the prior death of the insured.

State of Indiana—Office of the Auditor of State.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1, 1909.

I, John C. Billheimer, auditor of the State of Indiana, do hereby certify that the Indiana National Life Insurance Company has complied with the laws of the State of Indiana, and maintains with this department a deposit of the legal reserve on each policy as required by law.

In witness whereof, the Indiana National Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary and affixed its seal hereto at its head office in the city of Indianapolis the first day of July, A. D., 1909.

Provisions, Benefits and Special Advantages.

Incontestable.—After one year from date of issue this policy shall become incontestable if the premiums have been duly paid, except in case of self-destruction within two years, whether sane or insane, and except that military or naval service in time of war without a permit from the company is a risk not assumed under this policy at any time; but the legal reserve hereunder will be due and payable in case of death while in such service.

Grace.—In payment of any premiums hereunder after the premium on this policy has been paid for one full year, a grace of thirty days will be allowed; provided, that if the insured shall die within such period of grace the unpaid premium for the current policy year may be deducted in any settlement under the policy.

Reinstatement.—Should this policy lapse for non-payment of premium, or any note or interest thereon, it may be reinstated at any time, upon payment of over-due premiums with interest at five per cent per annum, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company.

Residence and Travel.—This policy is free from any provisions as to residence and travel.

Change of Beneficiary.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by written notice to the company, at its head office; such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

Coupon Credit.—An amount equal to twenty per cent of the annual premium due and paid the previous year as provided in the coupons attached hereto may be drawn in cash or used in reduction of annual premium, or may be left with the company to accumulate, in which event interest at the rate of three per cent per annum will be paid thereon until the settlement period.

Policy Paid-up.—Should the insured elect to pay all premiums in full, without reduction, and leave with the company the credits represented by the coupons on this contract, the company guarantees that this contract will be fully paid-up after paying the premiums in cash for sixteen full years and delivering all attached coupons to the company.

Additional Surrender.—Should the insured be living, all premiums having been paid, and no indebtedness existing, the following options will be given at the end of the twentieth year hereof: (First) Surrender this policy for the cash value, including all accumulated coupons and interest thereon; or (second) surrender this policy and convert the cash value into a life annuity; or (third) continue this policy for its full amount as a paid-up policy, and convert all unused coupons to the purchase of an additional paid-up policy at the single premium rate of the company: Provided, before such policy shall be issued, the insured must furnish evidence of good health satisfactory to the company. The coupons attached hereto are in lieu of all participation in the surplus of the company.

COUPONS PAYABLE WITH INSURANCE.—If this policy becomes a claim by death, the sum insured hereunder, less any indebtedness, together with any matured but unused coupons, shall be paid the beneficiary.

FACILITY FOR MAKING PAYMENTS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the head office of the company in Indianapolis, but will be accepted if paid to an agent authorized to receive the same in exchange for receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by the agent. In case of default in payment of any premium, this contract shall cease and terminate, except as otherwise provided herein.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company declines to notice or be bound by any assignment of this policy until the original assignment, or a duplicate or certified copy thereof shall be filed in the company's head office. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

RISKS NOT COVERED.—Aeronauts are risks not covered by this policy, and should death result from or in any air vessel, the amount payable shall be limited to the legal reserve on this policy.

NOTICE.—No agent is authorized to make, alter or discharge this contract, waive any forfeiture thereof, make any contract binding on the company, accept any note in the payment of any premium, extend the time for paying the same, or to assume its payment.

FORMS.—All certificates and all surrender option applications and proofs of death shall be made upon forms prescribed and furnished by the company.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—Should the insured suffer an injury through external, violent and accidental means, resulting in the severance of both hands at or above the wrist; or the severance of both feet at or above the ankle; or the severance of one hand and one foot at or above the wrist and ankle; or the total loss of the sight of both eyes; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one hand at or above the wrist; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one foot at or above the ankle; the insured shall be deemed totally disabled, and the full amount insured by this policy shall be payable to said insured upon due proof of such disability and the surrender of this policy for cancellation. There is a charge of fifty cents per thousand included in the premium on this policy to cover this total disability clause.

RESERVE BASIS.—The reserve on this policy and all surrender values contained herein are based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

CASH VALUE.—At any time after three annual premiums have been paid hereon and while this policy is in force, the company will, upon written request by the insured with a full and valid surrender of this policy and all claims hereunder, pay a cash value as indicated in the table of guaranteed values, opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid, and at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended insurance.

LOAN VALUE.—After three years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while the policy is in force, will loan, on the execution of the proper assignment of the policy, and upon the sole security thereof, at five per cent interest, payable in advance, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the insured, less than the amount stated in the table of options to be loaned at the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void the policy unless such total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—At any time after three annual premiums have been paid hereon and while this policy is in force, the company will, upon written request by the insured, convert this policy into paid-up non-participating insurance in the sum shown in the table of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In the event of default of premium payment after premiums have been paid for three years, the insured shall be entitled, without any action on his part, to the extended insurance shown in the table of guaranteed values for the end of the last year for which full annual premiums have been paid; provided, that any unpaid note given for premium and any existing indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy shall reduce the amount or term of such extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such extended insurance; and, provided, that the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within one month of date of default for a specified cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of the extended insurance as aforesaid; and, provided further, that the company may defer payment for not more than six months after the application therefor is made.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

On behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy that may be issued under this application, I hereby declare and agree that all the foregoing statements and answers together with those contained in the declaration to the Indiana National Life Insurance Company's medical examiner are warranted to be full, complete and true, and they are offered to the company as a consideration for and as a basis of the contract with said company under any policy issued under this application, which, if issued, I hereby agree to accept. I hereby agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy that may be issued under this application as follows: (First) That such policy be a contract made and to be performed in the State of Indiana. (Second) That if the amount of the premium on the insurance herein applied is not paid when this application is made, no contract of insurance shall be deemed made, and no liability on the part of said company shall arise until a policy shall be issued and delivered to me, nor until the first premium thereon shall be actually paid while I am in good health. (Third) That all premiums shall be due and payable only at the home office of the company at Indianapolis, Ind., and all payments on any policy issued under this application shall be held to have been there paid. (Fourth) That inasmuch as only the president, vice-president or secretary of the company have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall be issued on any application, no statement, promises, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting, or taking this application for policy, or by or to any other person shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and set forth in this application. (Fifth) That all claims of every kind against the company, and all liability of the insured shall terminate whenever this policy ceases to be in force, except as otherwise expressly stipulated in the policy. (Sixth) That in case of self destruction within two years, whether sane or insane, is a risk not assumed under this policy. (Seventh) That military or naval service in time of war without a permit from the company is a risk not assumed under this policy at any time; but the reserve hereunder will be due and payable in case of death while in such service.

As a part of the application, and as the basis of the contract, which shall not take effect until a policy shall have been delivered, and the first premium paid thereon, during my lifetime, and while I am in good health, I declare to be complete and true and hereby warrant all the statements and answers herein made, and also the written statements made by me to the agent. I also agree: That the whole or any part of the risk herein proposed and contained in the policy may be reinsured by said company. That my engaging in any of the following occupations or employments within two years from date of the policy issued under this application without first obtaining the written permission of the company, or payment of the extra premium required therefor, will terminate the policy then and there as a term policy from the beginning, viz.: Blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling, or transporting of inflammables, or explosive substances, handling electric wires or dynamos, service on railroad trains (excepting as passenger or sleeping car or parlor car conductors, or in dining cars or as baggagemen, except agent or railway postal clerk); switching or coupling cars; service on any steamboat, or other vessel or boat, excepting as officer on river steamboat; service as bartender, or dealing in intoxicating liquors, or professional nurse. I hereby waive all provisions of laws preventing any physician or surgeon from disclosing information or testifying to any facts concerning me. I certify that my answers to the foregoing questions are correctly recorded by the medical examiner.

*Adopted July 1, 1909. †Renewable and convertible.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Intermediate Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $303.30. AGE, 35.

The Intermediate Life Assurance Company of Indiana hereby agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Whitcombe, wife (or to such other beneficiary or beneficiaries, as may have been designated), if living, otherwise to the insured's administrators, executors or assigns, at its home office, in the city of Evansville, Ind., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the interest of the claimant, and of the death of James Whitcombe, the insured, of Evansville, State of Indiana, while this policy is in force.

This contract is made in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and a copy of which is hereto attached, and in further consideration of the sum of three hundred three and 30/100 dollars, to be paid in advance upon the delivery of this policy, and of the payment of a like amount annually thereafter to the company, at its home office, in the city of Evansville, State of Indiana, on or before three o'clock, P. M., of the sixth day of July, in every year, during the continuance of this contract, or until twenty full years' premiums, including the first, shall have been paid.

The insured, in case of total and permanent disability, may select one of the following options:

OPTION 1.—One twentieth of the amount payable under this policy will be paid in cash to the insured immediately upon satisfactory proof of such disability, and a like amount upon each succeeding anniversary, until twenty annual payments shall have been made; or,

OPTION 2.—The company will pay all premiums thereafter becoming due on this contract; and in such event, the cash, loan and other values shall increase in the same manner, as if the premiums were paid by the insured.

The guaranteed privileges, benefits and conditions on the succeeding pages hereof form a part of this policy as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Intermediate Life Assurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its home office in the city of Evansville, State of Indiana, this sixth day of July, 1909.

The values in the above table are for the end of the respective policy years, and are based upon the American Experience Table with three and one-half per cent interest, the surrender charge in no case exceeding two and one-half per cent of the sum insured under this policy. For fractional parts of a year in addition thereto the values shall be proportionately increased. Values after years shown in table shall be equivalent to the full reserve on this policy. The first year's insurance, under this policy, is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

2. AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After premiums have been paid for not less than three years, if default be made in the payment of any subsequent premium, this policy, without action by the insured, will become a non-participating policy for paid-up term insurance for the number of years and days stated in the above table subject to all of the conditions of this policy except the further payment of premiums; provided that any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, if not paid in cash, shall be deducted from the net value of such paid-up term insurance and the difference shall be applied to purchase paid-up term insurance for such term as this difference, considered as a net single premium upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest, will buy.

3. Cash Loans.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid, no default having been made in the payment of any premium hereunder, the company will loan within six months after written request, upon the sole security of this policy, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table above, to be loaned at the end of the current policy year, for which complete annual premiums have been paid; provided (1) that this policy be duly assigned to the company as security for such loan; (2) that interest at the rate of six per cent per annum shall be paid in advance for said loan and for the remainder of the current policy year; (3) that in determining the loan available there shall be deducted from the loan value herein specified all existing policy indebtedness; (4) that failure to repay said loan or interest thereon when due shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee, if any.

4. Cash Value.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, should the holder hereof so elect in writing within sixty days (including the days of grace) after default in the payment of any premium, the company will, upon surrender of this policy, pay to the insured, within six months of date of such default, the cash value specified in the table above, which shall not, in any event, be less than the sum available for the purchase of extended insurance, as above.

5. Paid-up Insurance.—After three or more full annual premiums shall have been paid, if default be made in the payment of any subsequent premium, upon written request by the insured within sixty days (including the days of grace) of such default, the company will, upon surrender of this policy, issue a paid-up non-participating life policy payable in one sum for the amount stated in the table above for the last year for which complete annual premiums shall have been paid; provided that any existing indebtedness on account of this policy, if not paid in cash, shall be deducted from the net value of such paid-up life insurance and the difference shall be applied to purchase paid-up life insurance for such an amount as this difference, considered as a net single premium upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest, will buy.

6. Residence, Travel and Occupation.—This policy is absolutely free from restriction as to residence and travel, and after two years from date of issue there is no restriction as to occupation, except military or naval service in time of war.

7. Incontestability.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto or endorsed hereon and made a part hereof, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto and shall be incontestable after one year from the date hereof except for non-payment of premiums and except for violations of the conditions of the policy relating to military and naval service in time of war, and except as to suicide within two years after the date hereof. All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

8. Grace In Payment of Premiums.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, during which time the policy shall remain in full force. Should the death of the insured occur during the period of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

9. Reinstatement.—This policy may be reinstated on written application therefor, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and payment of unpaid premiums to date of reinstatement, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

10. Change of Beneficiary.—The beneficiary or beneficiaries designated herein may be changed at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy has not been assigned, and is returned to the company with a request for such change, duly and legally executed by the person whose life is insured. Every change, or designation of beneficiary, must be by written notice to the company, at its home office, accompanied by this policy, and will take effect only when endorsed on this policy by the president or secretary of the company.

11. Premium Option.—Upon ten days' written notice to the company, at its home office, previous to the time that any premium falls due, the insured shall have the option of paying the same annually, semi-annually, or quarterly, according to the company's schedule for this kind of policy. And the same will continue the policy in force during the time paid for, provided the receipt therefor is signed by the president or secretary of the company.

12. Payment of Premium.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, in the city of Evansville, Ind., but they may be paid to agents on or before the dates, when due, in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary. If any premium or instalment thereon, or any note or other obligation given for any premium, or part thereof, is not paid on or before the day when due or within the period of grace herein provided for, this policy and all payments made thereon shall immediately become forfeited and void; subject, however, to the company's non-forfeiture system as stated herein with the foregoing table.

13. General Conditions.—No person except the president or secretary of the company has power in behalf of the company to make, modify or alter this contract, to extend the time for paying any premium or instalment thereof, to bind the company by any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this contract. No waiver of any of the conditions thereof shall be valid unless made in writing and signed by the president or secretary of the company. Any interlineations, additions or erasures must be attested by the signature of one of the above named officers. Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement or in the payment of any benefit thereunder. Self-destruction or death in consequence of violation of law, the insured being sane or insane, within two years from the date hereof, are risks not assumed by the company in this contract, but in such case the full reserve for this policy at the time of such death only will be paid. Any assignment of this policy must be duly witnessed and made in duplicate, and both sent to the home office, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment. In case of death during service in war without permission from the company, the full reserve for this policy at the time of such death only will be paid. No action shall be brought under this contract after three years from the time when the cause of action accrues, and the failure to bring an action upon any claim under this contract within said period of time, shall be deemed to be a waiver of such claim and shall be conclusive evidence of the invalidity thereof.

14. Disability Conditions.—The agreement on the first page of this policy as to Options 1 and 2, is subject to the following conditions: The insured must become totally and permanently disabled while this policy is in full force and effect after one full annual premium has been paid and prior to default in the payment of any subsequent premium or instalment thereof and before the insured attains the age of sixty years, and the disability must be such that there is neither then, nor at any time thereafter, any work, occupation, or profession that the insured can ever sufficiently do, or follow, to earn, or obtain any wages, compensation, or profit, and immediately after the happening of such disability full particulars thereof must be given to the company, in writing, at its home office, and prior to any liability on the part of the company under either of said options satisfactory proofs of such disability must be given to the company at its home office, upon blanks furnished by the company, and the policy must be produced to the company, at its home office, and the agreement to pay the instalments of the face of the policy or the premiums must be endorsed by the company thereon in writing. If, however, the insured should so far recover, as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the obligation on the part of the company to pay the remainder of the instalments or the premiums shall immediately cease and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums beginning with the first premium becoming due after the date of such recovery. Proofs similar to those required in the first instance must be furnished of such continuous disability prior to the payment of each instalment or premium by the company, if demanded. The payment of twenty instalments is in lieu of the payment of the face of this policy at the death of the insured, and should the insured die before all instalments have been paid the remaining instalments will be paid in like manner to the beneficiary herein named, provided that the holder of the policy accepting the option of instalment payments shall not be required to pay any premium after the permanent disability arises and such option is accepted. If the insured should become disabled as hereinbefore described, after attaining the age of sixty years, said insured may have the benefit of Option 2, subject to the terms and conditions herein governing the same, with the modification that instead of being paid by the company the premium will be allowed to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness against the policy.

15. Instalment Benefits.—Upon written request of the insured, made to the company at its home office, at any time, when this policy is not assigned, the insurance payable hereunder, will be converted into instalments under one of the plans described below, and similarly the insured will be privileged to change the manner of payment from time to time from one plan to another, as shown below, or again to have the policy made payable in one sum as originally provided. No change shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. One instalment shall be paid immediately upon the maturity of this policy, or upon receipt of satisfactory proofs of the death of the insured, while this policy is in force and annually thereafter until all are paid.

Plan 1. Limited Instalments.—In ten annual instalments of $116 each, amounting in all to $1160, for each one thousand dollars of insurance. In fifteen annual instalments of $84 each, amounting in all to $1260, for each one thousand dollars of insurance. In twenty annual instalments of $68 each, amounting in all to $1360, for each one thousand dollars of insurance. Any other number of instalments can be selected by the insured on the same basis.

Plan 2. Special Limited Instalments.—In twenty annual instalments of $50 each, amounting in all to one thousand dollars, and in addition one-half the amount insured in a single payment, twenty years from the date of the payment of the first instalment, amounting to five hundred dollars, or an aggregate of fifteen hundred dollars, for each one thousand dollars of insurance. Instead of said annual payments, semi-annual payments of one-half of said amount, or quarterly payments for one-fourth of said amount, or monthly payments for one-twelfth of said amount, can be selected.

Plan 3. Continuous Instalments.—Twenty-five annual instalments at least to be paid, but instalments to continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficary. (Payments under Plan 3 cannot be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy.)

If the beneficiary should die before all instalments certain have been paid, the remainder of the instalments certain shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on the policy by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. If, however, the proceeds of this policy, or any part thereof, are payable to executors, administrators or assigns, such proceeds shall be paid in one sum. If more than one beneficiary has a right under Plans 1 and 2 such right shall be joint and vest in the survivors, and shall not be severed without the consent of the company.

Indianapolis, Office of Auditor of State—Insurance Department.—This is to certify that the Intermediate Life Assurance Company is incorporated and conducts its business under the legal reserve compulsory deposit law of 1899, and in accordance therewith is required to maintain, and does maintain, on deposit with this department securities equal to the amount of the net cash value of all of its policies as ascertained by valuations made by this department December 31, each year. Auditor of State.

Agreement in Application.

I hereby agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have any interest in any policy issued upon this application that the charter of this company and the laws of the State of Indiana shall form the basis, and be a part of the contract of insurance applied for, and that the place of the contract shall be the home office of the company in the city of Evansville, in the State of Indiana, and that the policy shall be in the form now in use by this company, and that no statement, promise, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting this application or by any other person, shall be binding upon the company, or in any manner affect its rights or obligations, unless such statement, promise, or information shall be reduced to writing and be presented to the officers of the company at the home office, and that any policy issued upon this application shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid and the policy actually delivered to the person whose life is insured, while such person is alive and in good health; but the policy when so delivered shall take effect as of the date of the application, unless otherwise agreed in writing. Any payment in advance of premium or premiums shall be binding upon the company only in accordance with the agent's or cashier's receipt therefor on the company's authorized form.

I hereby expressly waive, on behalf of myself, and of any person who shall have any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law, now existing, or that may hereafter exist, forbidding or preventing any physician or surgeon from disclosing or testifying to any information acquired while attending me in a professional capacity, and I consent that any physician or surgeon may at any time testify to any information already acquired or that may be acquired hereafter while attending me in such capacity.

*First year's premium may be paid throughout life of contract in consideration of certain options.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $50,000.

International Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

International Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in St. Louis, Mo., as follows: To (the beneficiary) Mary Doe, wife of the insured, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this policy. (The insured) John Doe, of St. Louis, county of St. Louis, State of Missouri.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

STATE OF MISSOURI.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Sept. 15, 1909.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate deposited with this department.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTIONS.—This policy is issued on the guaranteed graded premium reduction, triple option, non-participating plan, and in the use of the coupons the insured may select one of the three following options:

OPTION 1.—The insured may use the amount designated in the coupons hereto attached for the reduction of his premium payments from year to year.

OPTION 2.—The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which case the company guarantees that after paying premiums in full for fifteen years and surrendering this policy and all attached coupons to the company, a policy paid-up for life for the same amount as the one surrendered will be issued to the insured.

OPTION 3.—The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which case the company guarantees that this policy shall mature as an endowment after paying the premiums in full for twenty-four years; and on surrender of this policy and all attached coupons on the first anniversary of this policy after such payments are completed, the face amount hereof will be paid in cash to the insured. In case the insured should elect to make this policy fully paid-up, and die while this policy is in force, but before it is fully paid-up either as a life or endowment policy, as above provided, all of the unused coupons bearing date prior to said death, will be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent (3½%) per annum in addition to the sum insured. In case the insured shall not elect to make this a paid-up life or endowment policy, as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, pay premiums in full, the unused due coupons shall be payable on presentation at any time, with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent (3½%) per annum for each full year after dates thereof.

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS POLICY.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three (3) of the accompanying table.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request therefor made by the insured within six months from default in payment and on surrender of this policy, the company will issue a policy paid-up for life for the amount specified in column two (2) of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

SURRENDER FOR CASH.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request therefor within six months from such default in payment and on surrender of this policy, the company will pay in cash the net value of either the paid-up or extended insurance hereunder which is the amount specified in column one (1) of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

LOANS.—On or after the beginning of any policy year after two (2) years from date hereof, and on demand in writing to the home office of the company, the insured may borrow on the sole security of this policy an amount not to exceed that specified in column one (1) of the accompanying table for the year in which the loan is made. This policy shall be assigned to the company as security according to the terms of the company's loan agreement and the premium on this policy and interest on the loan at the rate of five per cent (5%) per annum shall be paid or deducted from the loan in full to the anniversary of the insurance next succeeding the date when the loan shall be made. The amount available at any time includes any previous loan then unpaid. Unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy and then not until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any, failure to pay any loan or interest hereon shall not avoid this policy, but in the event of such default, when the premium becomes due and is not paid an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy, less the indebtedness, shall automatically continue from the date of default as term insurance for the term, including the period of grace, which the excess of the cash value over the indebtedness will purchase at the then age of the insured according to the company's present table of single premiums; or, in lieu of such term insurance, the company will (upon written request of the insured and surrender of this policy within one month from date of default) either pay said excess in cash, or issue a paid-up policy for the amount which said excess will purchase at the then age of the insured according to the company's present table of single premiums.

RESERVE BASIS.—This policy is issued on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent 3½%) per annum, and for the first year is one year term insurance. The values used for cash surrenders, loans, extended term and paid-up insurance, shown on accompanying table, are the reserves indicated by said tables of mortality and interest less a surrender charge which in no case exceeds two and one-half per cent (2½%) of the amount insured under this policy.

ANNUITY OPTION.—At the end of twenty years, if this policy be in full force and there shall be no indebtedness to the company, upon its surrender an annuity bond will be issued guaranteeing an annual income of four hundred forty dollars to the insured during his natural life, the first payment to be made on the fifteenth day of September, 1929.

The term insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans.

This policy is non-forfeitable from date of issue and incontestable after one year.

SAMPLE PREMIUM REDUCTION COUPON.—On or at any time after September 15, 1910, International Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 000 (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned,) fifty-seven and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office.

The graded reductions are as follows: $57.40, $60.70, $64.10, $67.50, $70.90, $74.30, $77.70, $81.10 $84.50, $85.50, $86.50, $87.50, $88.50, $89.50, $90.50, $91.50, $92.50, $93.50 and $94.50.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFITS.—After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he has been wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured such premiums as become payable during the continuance of disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the cash loans and the values of this policy, in the schedule as given herein, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums will cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this policy on the first premium due date following such recovery. If the insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of like total and permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate, without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In any such case the cash loans and the values of this policy in the schedule of values hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which this policy will remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

REINSTATEMENT OF POLICY.—In case of default in the payment of any premium or interest, the company will reinstate this policy at any time, if not previously surrendered for its cash value, upon written application by the insured to the Company at its Home Office with evidence of insurability satisfactory to the Company aud the payment of all premiums that would have been paid in the intervening time if no default had been made, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent (5%) per annum computed from the premium due date, and payment or reinstatement, with interest at like rate, of any indebtedness existing at the time of default.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may, at any time and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are indorsed upon the policy, or attached thereto at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

MODIFICATIONS.—No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for payment of premium, nor can this policy be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company signed by the president or one of the vice-presidents, and the secretary or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured was incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof.

NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinbefore provided.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing indorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

SUICIDE.—In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements of the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No statement of the insured shall void this policy unless contained in the application, a copy of which is attached hereto.

PLAN OF PAYMENTS.—The plan of premium payment can be changed so that premiums may be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, or changed from such form to annual, on any anniversary of this policy by application in writing to the home office of the company; the rate when so changed shall be on basis of company's published rate for plan desired. The coupon in any event shall be available only with the payment which completes the annual premium.

PREMIUMS.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application herefor, which application is made a part hereof, the payment of three hundred eighty-three and $^{40}/_{100}$ dollars in advance on the delivery of this policy for term insurance for one year from date hereof, and the further payment of a like amount, either at the home office of the company, at St. Louis, Mo., or upon delivery of a receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, on or before the fifteenth day of September in every year hereafter during the life of the insured until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid.

In witness whereof, the International Life Insurance Company has caused this instrument to be signed by its president and secretary, at the home office of the company, at St. Louis, Mo., this fifteenth day of September, 1909.
